

A WORD REGARDING CHANGES IN THE SPRING SCHEDULE:

Dean Moore has made every possible effort to secure an accurate schedule of classes for the spring semester and we hope there will be as few changes in this schedule as possible. If any department head finds it necessary to change this schedule, any change or changes must be sent to Mrs. McNutt in the IBM office not later than the morning of January 14 for the class cards must be sent downtown for processing and we cannot do this if these changes come in after January 14. We will appreciate your co-operation in this matter.

ITEMS OF INTEREST:

January 14 is the final date for dropping a course for the fall semester. All of these items must be out of the way for proper processing in all offices concerned before the beginning of the new semester.

Copies of the registration instructions for the spring semester are now available. Every faculty member is requested to read the instructions and be prepared to follow them carefully during the time of registration, January 30, 31 and February 1.

Registration instructions and also the spring schedules are available in the Registrar's Office for use of faculty and students.

Please refer to the Faculty Bulletin of December 14 for the final examination schedule and all items relating thereto. There will be no special examinations for Seniors who are completing their work at the end of the fall semester for the degrees are not to be conferred until the end of the spring semester and there is no reason for making exceptions for these students in the schedule for the fall finals.

S. W. Hutton, Registrar

FACULTY MEETING:

At our next faculty meeting we shall have the pleasure of hearing Dean T. Smith McCorkle who will speak on "Education in Fine Arts." The meeting will take place in the Little Theatre on Tuesday, January 17, at 11 A.M. We hope that you can attend.

Joseph Morgan, Chairman
Faculty Program Committee
