Midland, Texas.

Dear Sir:

Just a note to keep my memory green with you.

I hope you and your family and the meteorite in which I am interested are all doing fine.

I still have hopes that eventually you will let me have it on some kind of terms. I have had some sad experiences with meteorites I didn't get; I go back some years later, and find something has happened to them, with the result that they are lost and nobody gets anything. I believe you treasure yours more than that.

There was a great fall in Mexico in early February; you may have read about it in the papers. It is estimated that over a ton of material fell; it was a stony meteorite and broke into hundreds if not thousands of pieces. I managed to obtain a few.

This characteristic of stones to break up as they fall is what makes me hope that some more related to yours may turn up in that region some day. But there are fewer and fewer small farmers with less people out over the land, and that's bad for meteorite finding!

Yours sincerely,
