Dear Colleague:

The administration of Texas Christian University has made it possible for the Faculty Program Committee to bring to the campus two leaders in the field of higher education.

On Friday of this week, at 3:30 in the Little Theatre, these two leaders will be our guests. Dr. Roger P. McCutcheon, Dean of the Graduate School of Tulane University, and Dr. L. D. Haskew, Dean of the College of Education of the University of Texas will conduct a joint discussion of some of the problems related to the accreditation of institutions of higher learning.

The Faculty Program Committee is especially eager to have full faculty representation on this occasion. Will you try to clear your schedule of any conflicts which might prevent your attendance?

Cordially yours,

Faculty Program Committee
