TO THE COUNSELORS:

Your counseling of students at designated hours this week for the Fall program is greatly appreciated. As soon as possible after the special counseling period, while the experience is still vivid in your mind, please write me a brief statement giving your evaluation of the procedure we have followed this week.

Jerome Moore, Director
Summer School.

BALLET BOOKLET OUT

A striking, 24-page booklet on the TCU Fine Arts Ballet is just off the presses. It was compiled and edited by David Preston, ballet master, and is an outstanding job. Made up mostly of striking pictures, it takes the reader from practice to makeup, from design to actual production. It's a top job and can be had from David for 60¢. Congrats, you ballet folks!

THE FAMILY IS GROWING

Mrs. Nina Hight Bennett joins the TCU family this fall as instructor in home economics. Mrs. Bennett, who has been a home demonstration agent in McClean County, Ky., for the past eight years, will teach the classes of Mrs. Fae Bass Brown who has been given a year's leave of absence.

HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN ?

In case you have forgotten, here are the plans for commencement again. For the Baccalaureate Service, Aug. 30, the faculty will assemble at 9:00 a. m. on campus north of Jarvis Hall. For Commencement that evening, faculty members are requested to assemble at north end of Jarvis at 7:30 p. m. IN CASE OF BAD WEATHER: The assembly point will be Fellowship Hall in the basement of University Christian Church in the morning and in South Hall, first floor, Fine Arts Building for Commencement.

DON'T MISS THIS!

The School of Fine Arts will present "Post Road," a mystery-comedy in two acts by Weber Dean Steele and Norma Mitchell, Aug. 27-29 at 8 p. m. in the Little Theater. William J. Noltner is doing the directing.

HELP FOR CONGREGATIONALISTS

During the vacation of Dr. Will Burton, pastor, three TCU folks are filling the pulpit of nearby Congregational Church. They are Dr. Ray Lindley, Dr. Otto Nielsen and Dr. Bob Robertson. And speaking of pulpit filling, Dr. Lindley, Glenn Routt, Ralph Stone and Art Wenger are helping out Dr. Granville Walker at University Christian Church. Doing a swell job, too.

DR. PORTERFIELD BLASTS

If you missed Dr. Austin L. Porterfield's blast at the Commies in last Sunday's Star-Telegram -- don't. Get a copy. On the editorial page, it was a fine statement of an American teacher's position. ✓

A CORRECTION, PLEASE - VERY IMPORTANT

In the Faculty Bulletin of last week you will find the statement, "Grades on August graduating students are to be sent direct to the Registrar's Office not later than 9:00 A. M. Thursday, Aug. 28." This should read August 27, at 9:00 A. M. Please pardon this error. We, as you can readily see, need the grades in time to record them and get the proof copy back to the printer by the next morning (Friday), for the Commencement programs must be printed Friday. Printers are off duty Saturday.

S. W. Hutton, Registrar

NOTES ON FOLKS: Prof. Warren Agee of Journalism will speak at the convention of the Association for Education in Journalism in East Lansing, Mich., next week. Warren has spent most of the summer working on his Ph. D. dissertation. Topic: Life in the Texas Cattle Country in the 1880's.

Faculty Bulletin, Aug. <sup>20</sup>30, Page 3.

Get Roy Curtis to tell you of the expedition to Point Barrow to erect the Will Rogers-Wiley Post Memorial in 1938. A thriller.

Mrs. Artemisia Bryson's family visited from Denton this week.

During the recent rain storms, Veep Ray Lindley twice left the windows wide open at home while Mrs Ray was away. 'Tis said the living room rug was deep enough to float a small sailboat.

A TCU FIRST

The first Th. M. degree ever given by TCU will be awarded to Summer Commencement, Aug. 30, to Olin B. Pendleton, son-in-law of Pat Henry, ex-secretary of the Texas Christian Missionary Society. The new degree represents one year's work beyond the three-year B.D. degree. We're hoping others will take advantage of the new degree plan.

PROMOTIONS AND HONORS

Congratulations are in order for: Dr. Noel Keith, new chairman of the department of religion in AddRan; Cecil L. White, new assistant business manager and cashier; Harold Atkins, new auditor.

Coach Abe Martin's East team won the All-Star high school game at Childress, 7-6. "We flat wore them fellers out," says Abe modestly.

TALL TALES FROM ALASKA

Dear T. F. Richardson is back from that 15,500-mile automobile trip to Alaska. His best part is about the time he burned out a bearing in the wilds. It took 197 miles, got the car fixed and rolling again—all within 24 hours. The mechanic who did the work thought Dean was a minister—until he started describing the rock that had bounced up, broken off the valve on the oil pan. No minister would talk like that, said the man.

TWO NEW FACES

Two new faces will be seen around the campus this fall. They are Barbara Lewistree Smith, Jr., new assistant professor of French, and Arthur L. Cheney, instructor in trumpet and French horn. Both of these folks will be around after Sept. 1, so drop by and let them know we're glad to have them.

Lorraine Shirley DA Lacey

Miss Lorraine Shirley of the English Department has been given leave of absence for the 1953-54 school year to continue special research at the University of Edinburgh in England. Her address: Told Hotel, Park St., Stratford-on-Avon at the last report. That's real Shakespeare's country.
