No. 36

THIS WEEK'S SPOTLIGHT PERSONALITY:

Artemisia B. Bryson, associate professor of English, whose retirement in September was announced at the last Board meeting. Known affectionately by many generations of TCU graduates, Mrs. Bryson completed exactly 30 years of service in January, 1954.

Born in Summitville, Ind., she graduated from Hamilton College, Ky., and later studied at Transylvania. She took her A.B. from TCU in 1924 and her M.A. from the University of Chicago in 1926. She did summer study at Harvard in 1929 and the U. of Texas 1932, 1942.

From 1919 to 1924 she worked in the office of the Texas Missionary Society. She married Prof. Walter E. Bryson, popular teacher who was head of the TCU English department until his sudden death in 1922. The Bryson Poetry Society was also named in his honor.

Mrs. Bryson is a member of the Christian Church, the Council of English Teachers, the Modern Language Association, Texas Poetry Society, the TCU Women Exes and other professional and social organizations. She traveled in Europe in 1938 and extensively in Mexico. She has published articles in the Texas Outlook, American Journal of Education, American Speech, Christian-Evangelist and book reviews in the Southwest Review, Star-Telegram and Texas Outlook. She has a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Blair, and makes her home at 2917 Princeton Street.

Mrs. Bryson became assistant professor in 1932 and associate professor in 1945. Kindly, cultured and quietly dedicated to TCU and her students, she has written a large page in the University's history. The Bulletin is most happy to salute her this week!

PLANS MADE FOR PRACTICE GYM

M. J. Neeley, chairman of the Board's building committee, huddled this week with Pete Wright, Dutch Meyer, Buster Brannon, Dr. Ray Lindley, Louis Ramsey and others on the new practice basketball gym.

Tentative plans call for a permanent style building that can be converted to a badly needed warehouse when the cage team moves into a new fieldhouse. It will be located just west of Goode, somewhat south of the old fieldhouse site. It will be used exclusively for practice. No games will be played there.

TWO NEW CATALOGUES

The handsome new catalogues of the Harris College of Nursing and Summer School came off the presses this week. They are Nos. 4 and 5 in the new list of smaller bulletins. Color of Summer School is green and for Harris College dark maroon.

The Fine Arts catalogue is now at the printers. Their color: Gold. Really neat looking booklets--all three.

A goodly supply of all these new catalogues, including the General Information bulletin, is available in the Printing & Mailing Room, administration building. Don't hesitate to use them.

RANCH WEEK REPORT GOOD

All reports on Ranch Week were good. Conduct was fine according to Security Chief Jone Prine and many faculty members took part in the events. C. J. Firkins came up with a sore arm from egg-throwing and Otto Nielsen survived Judge Roy Bean's Court. Nize work.

FIVE DAY WEEK

Once more there is campus discussion on the five-day week. It may be discussed at Deans' Council again very soon. Lots of argument on both sides.

PURELY PERSONAL

At a five-state convention of the Music Teachers National Association in San Antonio recently, Dr. Ralph R. Guenther and Prof. E. Clyde Whitlock were elected chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Theory and Composition section of MTNA. They will hold office for the next two years and be in charge of planning the next biennial meeting.

Dr. Walther Volbach spoke Tuesday at a meeting of the Fort Worth Business and Professional Women's Club. His topic was "The Origin of Drama."

Five TCU students and Prof. Warren K. Agee spent the week-end at Oklahoma A&M attending the Southwestern Journalism Congress. Students attending were Ellis Amburn, Jim Croslin, Bill Harrison, Arline Oakley and Barbara Bobo.

Hartwell Ramsey was in Childress Tuesday for the Childress Career Day program. He counseled students interested in religion and journalism.

Beta Alpha Rho members, the business women of the YWCA, heard Dr. Irene M. Huber speak at a dinner Thursday.

"Democracy and Faith" was the topic that Dr. A. T. DeGroot discussed with the Classroom Teachers Association in Irving last Friday.

Prof. Leo Hendricks and several students attended a geological field trip Friday and Saturday. The group visited the Llano Uplift of Central Texas to study rocks like those in which oil has been found recently in West Texas. The San Angelo Geological Society sponsored the trip. Over 500 geologists and friends, including many TCU ex-students, who are all successful oil-finders for their various companies, made the trip. Also on the trip was Senator Carlos Ashley, TCU ex and member of the Board of Trustees.

Dean Colby D. Hall has an article entitled "Barton W. Stone and the name 'Christian'" in the Christian-Evangelist this week. Good reading.

YMCA MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The annual Y membership drive is on for the next two weeks. The TCU-Southside Branch, organized a year ago, has already done some fine work in our section. TCU folks can help by becoming Friend of Youth members. Just see Dr. Robert Robertson, Dr. Karl K. Snyder or Amos Melton who are helping in the drive. It's worthwhile!
