

NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

FACULTY LUNCHEON OFF; MEMORIAL DINNER ON JAN. 19.

Just in case you missed it, the regular faculty luncheon for next Wednesday noon has been cancelled. In its place, the Memorial Dinner honoring three distinguished faculty members who have passed on will be held in the Student Center at 5:30 p. m. that day. It will be a highlight of Ministers' Week.

Tickets for the Memorial Dinner will be $1.25 each and may be obtained at the business office. Those who bought "season" tickets to the regular faculty luncheons will be given credit for one meal on next semester's noon series as no other such events will be held before midterm exams.

To be honored at the Memorial Dinner are the late Professors Morro, Lockhard and Cheverton. It will be a very fine occasion indeed and it is hoped that every member of the faculty and staff will be present. Remember, tickets must be obtained at the business office by Tuesday, Jan. 18 so that those in charge can know how many to prepare for.

STUDENT CENTER OPEN HOUSE

Don't forget the big open house in the swank new Student Center Friday afternoon, Jan. 14, from 1 to 5 o'clock. Logan Ware and Elizabeth Youngblood have planned a fine affair and all faculty folks are especially urged to drop by for conducted tours of the fine new facilities. There'll be refreshments, too.

In order to make the open house a real affair, it is hoped that all teachers will make special announcements to their classes, especially Friday morning. Let's give the new Center a real house warming. The formal dedication will be held later in the spring.

ROTC WEAPONS EXHIBIT

An exhibition of newly arrived equipment, including 1,000-pound mortars, 16 machine guns, bazookas, recoilless guns and walkie-talkies, will be held by the Army ROTC in its Clark Hall headquarters Friday afternoon.

Lt. Col. Jim Cross has extended a cordial invitation to all faculty members and students to drop by before or after the Student Center open house and take a look. It will certainly be worth your while to know some of the training being given and equipment being used by the ROTC.

Don't forget the big show on Friday afternoon!

NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

Congrats to TROY STIMSON on being named chairman of the National Senior Advisory Board of the Intercollegiate Flying Association. Incidentally, the national air meet will be held here May 5-7 with TCU as the host.

JIM CROSS, Lt. Col. that is, has taken over sponsorship of the Vigilantes. His young son Jim is the group's mascot.

GLENN ROUTT is serving as interim pastor of the Arlington Heights Christian Church. BILL REED was named chairman of the American School of Oriental Research committee and a member of the governing group of the National Society of Biblical Literature at meetings in New York over the holidays. Congrats, William.

ROY CURTIS and ART WENGER have moved to a new office in the Ad Building across the hall from RAY LINDLEY. BEAR WOLF makes the office a triple-threat affair.

WARREN AGEE sat in on a conference of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association in Austin this week. The question: The dwindling number of journalism grads entering newspaper work.

OTTO NIELSEN, LES EVANS and BURL CROUCH attended the Texas Association of School Administrators in Austin last week.

Everyone was happy to hear that RUTH TOWNE was not seriously hurt in that car smash recently. Incidentally, HARTWELL RAMSEY had a narrow escape on his trip to Georgia. Came so close to hitting a five-year-old girl that he's still shaking from the experience.

DR. SADLER sat on the Arkansas bench during the Cotton Bowl game. Coach Bowden Wyatt kept asking for advice to help stop Georgia Tech but nothing seemed to work!

IRENE HUBER spoke Monday night to the Women's Traffic Club on "Switzerland: Four Languages Under One Roof."

FRIDAY LAST DAY FOR DROPPING COURSES

Don't forget that Friday is the final day for dropping a course, Registrar Calvin Cumbie says. The decision was made recently by the Deans Council.

TCU DELEGATION TO NCAA VISITS UN

A highlight of the NCAA meeting in New York for Messrs. Henry Hardt, Abe Martin, Dutch Meyer and Amos Melton was a visit with John McDiarmid at the UN last week. John, second son of the late and much-loved Dr. "Mac" of the philosophy department, is now deputy director of personnel for the UN.

The TCU delegation got a conducted tour of the wonderful buildings including visits on the floor of the Security Council and General Assembly. The gang met Dr. Ralph Bunche and had lunch in the dining room overlooking the East River.

FORM W-2 NOW READY

Withholding reports W-2 (for income tax that is) are now ready in the business office, Cecil White reports. Those who do not pick them up before, will find them in their pay check envelopes Feb. 1.

Don't forget the good ole income tax, folks. Them cells are cold and dank!
