SURVIVORS OF SORORITY RUSH CITED

The first sorority "Rush" in TCU history last week saw several faculty folks doing yeoman service. Some 15 formal parties were held and hours and hours were spent making lists, explaining the rules, talking with visitors, making arrangements.

Many were involved but the Bulletin especially wishes to cite Mrs. Lilita McCorkle and Libby Youngblood. Them gals really worked -- until 4:30 a.m. the final night. (We might also put Dean T. Smith McCorkle on the list, too. Waiting for the missus, he got in less than three hours of sleep a night all week long.)

Generally speaking, the "Rush" went very well -- thanks largely to Lilita and Libby. From the experience gained, it is certain that things will be a bit easier in the future. (Dean T. Smith hopes so!)

"FREE DAYS" IN SPRING SEMESTER

Our attention has been called to the fact that the 9:30 assembly hour on Thursdays has been purposely left free on March 10, April 14 and May 5. Those would be excellent dates for any faculty members or students who would like to have organizational and other meetings at that hour. If you have need, might mark those dates on your calendar.

DON'T FORGET THE MILITARY ASSEMBLY

A special section is being reserved for faculty and staff at the big ROTC Assembly in Ed Landreth this Thursday, Feb. 10. Both cadet corps will attend in a body and Dr. Gaston Foote will speak on the "Christian Soldier."

Three of our Army ROTC grads will be formally commissioned and all told, it will be a most impressive meeting. Our Army and Air Force people are especially anxious to have the faculty attend. Tie a rope around your finger and dismiss class in plenty of time to get there. You'll be glad you did.

TROTTER EXHIBITION

McKie Trotter of Art is holding a one-man exhibition at the Ridglea Country Club during February. And speaking of our painters, Leonard Logan, Jim Sterritt and McKie are represented in the State Fair Exhibition now being shown in the new Fort Worth Art Center. Nice work, men.

EXCUSED ABSENCES

YOUNG MR. PETE WRIGHT

During recent registration, a young lady wanted to make notes for tuition and Mr. L. C. (Pete) Wright, treasurer and business manager of TCU, readily agreed. He wrote out a slip to the effect that "Miss Loretta Young" could choose that method of payment.

Only thing, when the office personnel tried to find the TCU's Loretta's papers they just wusn't. After much stewing about, it was discovered that "Loretta Young's" papers were meant for our Loretta but her name wasn't Young. Staff psychologists are trying to figure out all the implications but no report as yet. It was suggested that Dr. Wright is spending too much time at the TV (Loretta does have a fine program).

NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

An article by DEAN DeGROOT on "Nature of the Holy Communion" is being translated into Spanish for use in Paraguayan missions. ✓

New instructor in Business is FREDERICK G. DISNEY who holds M. B. A. from Harvard. He also has classes in Evening College. ✓

RUTH TOWNE is in Cincinnati for a meeting of the Christian Education Division of the National Council of Churches.

WARREN AGEE of Journalism is in the late stages of that Ph. D. dissertation. Looks like he'll make it although wife and child may feel permanently deserted. (Deserted for a dissertation, so to speak.)

That explosion in the home of BUSTER BRANNON, in which wife LYNN was painfully but not seriously burned, WAS AN ACCIDENT. Rumors that Buster had turned on the gas after that close Baylor game cannot be substantiated. Maybe that comes later.

JIM CROSS, our Lt. Col. of Army, did a swell job planning the military assembly this week. He worked things out to the last drum beat.

Coach ABE MARTIN, at the ro-da-ho last weekend, insisted on calling the judges and hazers "referees." Said he figured men who stand around looking lost and mixing in other folks affairs must be referees of some catagory or other.

TO ALL FACULTY:

The University-wide Convocation on Thursday, February 24 will be in charge of the TCU Ex-Students Association.

Two features of the program will be of unusual interest to both our faculty and students:

1. Plaques will be presented to the winners of the Association's 1954 "most valuable" and "most distinguished" alumni.
2. Mr. I. B. Hale, former All-American TCU football player and Chief Security Officer at Convair, will give his famous pistol shooting demonstration.

Please see that this Convocation is announced.

Most cordially yours,
