ROLLING FOR EVENING COLLEGE CLASS

SMALL LOSS IN STUDENTS SEEN

Calvin Cumbie, our indefatigable registrar, predicts a spring enrollment of about 4,550 -- a fall-to-spring loss of only about 66. Considering that 88 are finishing degree work, that will be something of a record.

As of Jan. 12, Calvin's records showed a total of 102 new applications (65 transfers and 37 freshmen) as against 76 (37 frosh and 39 transfers) at the same time in 1955. Final figures, of course, will not be available until after registration Jan. 30-Feb. 1.

FACULTY LUNCHEONS TO RESUME FEB. 8

After time out for exam and registration weeks, the Wednesday faculty luncheons will be resumed in Weatherly Hall on Feb. 8. The schedule calls for a series of uninterrupted events each Wednesday for 16 weeks -- ending May 23, the week before exams.

Mrs. George Fowler, who does such a swell job on getting up the "grub" for these affairs, announces that the 16-week series can be had for $12 -- a goodly saving of $1.60 for those who want permanent reservations and like to pay in advance. Single meals are 85 cents and all faculty folks can make a "permanent" reservation and pay each week if they wish. Anyone can attend any week they wish -- but must call Mrs. Fowler in Weatherly before Monday afternoon if they don't have permanent reservations of one type or the other.

These faculty luncheons are swell affairs and it is hoped that just as many as possible will make arrangements to take part.

THOSE W-2 FORMS ARE READY

William Zorn of Business Office announces that the W-2 forms are ready for all TCU folks who want them. They are, of course, the record of salary payments and withholdings for the payment of (SOB!) the 1955 income tax.

The eager-beavers who want to file early can get the forms by calling by the Business Office. Otherwise, the W-2's will go into February pay envelopes. (Which reminds. It's shore been a long time since the third week in December.)

NOTE TO COUNSELORS OF FRESHMEN

Dr. Noel L. Keith calls attention to the fact that Religion 321, "Life and Teachings of Jesus," is NOT OPEN TO second semester freshmen. Might keep it in mind.

ENROLLING FOR EVENING COLLEGE CLASS

Dean Cortell Holsapple calls attention to procedure to be followed by students enrolling in other divisions of TCU who wish to take a class in Evening College. It is:

1. Discuss your plans with your major professor or counsellor. If he does not agree for you to take the course, you will have to change your plans, as you will not be able to take Step No. 2.
2. Secure the approval of your major professor or counsellor on the Admit-to-Class card. You should get this card from him, and list the course number, section, and time of meeting before he approves it.
3. Then go to the chairman of the academic department in which the course is given. If he approves, get him to sign the Admit-to-Class card in the proper place. (If not, go back to your advisor.)
4. Bring the Admit-to-Class card to the Evening College desk where you will be given a cross-enrollment card, and your matriculation card approved for the evening class.

All counsellors with a student who wants to take an evening class should be sure to advise the student of these steps. It saves much confusion.

A BOW TO JIM COSTY

This week's tip-of-the-hat goes to Dr. James Costy, head of radio-TV, for that swell March-of-Dimes program from Ed Landreth Sunday night. With only three days notice, Jim and his folks put on a fine, two-hour show over KFJZ-TV and raised several hundred dollars for the polio drive.

D. Ray Lindley tore himself away from the "Lassie" program long enough to give the opening welcome. Did a swell job, too. By and large the whole event did much credit to the University and that fellow who called in the bogus $100 contribution should feel ashamed. Wonder who???????

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

The Faculty Members of the Classroom Committee (Comer Clay, Ambrose Edens and Sanders T. Lyle) are working hard to get "Religious Emphasis Week" into our classrooms this year. The dates are Feb. 12-15.

The plans call for a lecture by the regular teacher or a visitor in each course, relating some phase of religion to the course itself. Sounds like a really swell idea and we know everybody will co-operate.

COURSE FOR MINISTERS' WIVES

That's an interesting new course for Ministers' wives for the spring semester. Mrs. Granville T. Walker will instruct and about 40 wives have signed up. Who dat who said ALL wives could use more training?

NOTES ON NOTABLES

After seeing LOUISE COWAN in Faculty Center recently, one of our newer (and more discerning) members asked: "Is she one of our co-eds?" Wowwy! Wouldn't Louise make a star pupil in freshman English?

GENTRY SHELTON'S young daughter was in a quandary at the Baylor basketball game. There at the last, when the official was getting hisn, she came out with: "Daddy, shall I give him a BOO or a YEA?" The BOOS had it.

LEONARD LOGAN served as judge of the art entries by gifted children staged by the Junior League Monday night. He also spoke to the Women's Medical Auxiliary at the Woman's Club last week.

WALTHER VOLBACH has received word of a monetary gift from the "artists funds" of the South German Radio Network. He doesn't know just why but at last report was planning to swing onto the swag.

In recent weeks, ELMER HENSON has spoken at four churches where he was once pastor. They are Richland Springs, Bethany of Houston, Henderson and San Angelo.

BITA MAY HALL spoke to the Dallas TCU Women's Club recently on the French novel, "The Little Prince." She reports 50 members attended and were still abuzz over the "Victory Hunch Brunch" the group served before the Cotton Bowl game. About 1,000 were served that day -- many more than expected.

Reports are that ABE MARTIN's talk before the National Coaches Association in Los Angeles went well. Abe's been named as one of the coaches for the big East-West game next winter -- if those Froggies aren't in a Bowl again. (Naw, we won't jinx 'em -- not much anyhow).

PAUL DINKINS MEMORIAL FUND

LOUISE COWAN (see above) reports that the Paul Dinkins Memorial Fund has reached $2,300. The committee has decided to put $2,000 into a Library Fund which will remain "open" and the income used to buy books of the Middle Ages (Paul's favorite literary period.) The $300 will be used at once to buy books of the Early English Text Society. Gifts will still be accepted for both areas of the Fund.

The Memorial Fund and its use has certainly been a fitting tribute to the memory of a truly great scholar. Congratulations to all who have had a part in it.

CAREER CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK

The campus will swarm Friday, Jan. 27, when some 1,500 high school seniors of this area come in for the third annual Citizenship and Career Conference.

About 50 members of our faculty will be working on the project, trying to make the young folks feel at home and, perhaps, interest them a bit in attending TCU.
