WANTED: DATES FOR 1956-1957 CALENDAR

Miss Libby Youngblood, social director and keeper of the huge date book of all campus events, is most anxious to get down to writing all major events now scheduled for the next school year. She has some now, such as football games, but needs to get as many others as possible to prevent major conflicts. As you know, the old committee on Student Assemblies and Public Meetings (which usually met once a year in the spring) has been abolished. So Libby's date book serves as the "clearing house" for all events -- at least where dates are concerned.

So won't you take a moment right now, think over next year's schedule and if your office, department and student club has a major event already slated, drop Libby a line through inter-office mail? It will help.

(Aside to Miss Youngblood: Please put down Friday, Jan. 25, as the date for our annual high school Citizenship and Career Conference for 1957).

WRIST WATCH FOUND

A Hamilton wrist watch, found on the desk in Room 302 of Ad Building, has been turned in to the Business Office.

Mrs. M. B. Scott theorizes that it belongs to some faculty member who is so absorbed in his or her subject, the timepiece hasn't been missed.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE "VENUS"

Saturday night, April 21, will be the last chance to see Fine Arts' fine production of "One Touch of Venus." The final performance is set for Ed Landreth Auditorium that evening at 8 o'clock.

The tour through West Texas was fairly successful. Biggest crowd was reported at Lubbock, a new stop on the tour.

Incidentally, the attention of all is called to the list of students who made the junket which appeared in last week's Bulletin. Since the young people were on official university business, every effort should be made to let them make up any work missed.

Incidentally again, the women of the Fine Arts Foundation Guild really did a good job of supporting the "Venus" performances here. Monday night's crowd was good.

A TIP-OF-THE-HAT TO:

DEATH OF LEW FALLIS SADDENS CAMPUS

The unexpected death Monday night of Lew D. Fallis, emeritus professor of speech, took another of TCU's grand veterans from the campus.

Born in Ontario, Canada, in 1877, he came to TCU in 1925 as head of the Speech Department. For two decades, he was identified with work in debating, oratory, and other forms of speech all over the Southwest. Kind, gentle and yet most effective, he will be fondly remembered by many generations of students. His faculty friends will never forget.

MRS. HARMON DIES

Mrs. Dora C. Harmon, former hostess of Reed Cottage for girls and mother of Lide Spraggins who used to be on the faculty, died in Dallas just before Easter.

Miss Ella D. Hogan sent the word, knowing that many staff veterans would be interested.

LIBRARIANS TO AUSTIN

Glenn Sparks and three members of the library staff were in Austin several days last week for the meeting of the Texas Library Association. They report a productive session.

Also attending were Mrs. Rothrock, Emily Garnett and Bon-Jean White.

WHERE'S THEM BLUEBIRDS? AND THAT WOODPECKER?

A letter from an El Paso lady addressed to "Central Office" TCU, reports having seen two beautiful bluebirds and a woodpecker in a flower show in Dallas. Further, she says, said birds were loaned by TCU and she wants to know if she can borrow same for a show.

Mr. Cecil White, who received the epistle, quickly shoved it along to Mary Beth Scott, who started a search. No luck. Anybody knowing the whereabouts of TCU's bluebirds and woodpecker will please communicate with Mary Beth at once. It's for the birds.

A TIP-OF-THE-HAT TO:

Allan MacLaine for his fine discussion of the Lewis Collection to the Southeast Side Lions Club during their campus visit last week.

Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Lisle who guided the annual junket of the Chemistry Club to major plants in South Texas this week. Twenty-six students went along.

Dutch Meyer on the fine standing of the Frog baseball team. Feeling now is that if the boys can take SMU in one of the two remaining games with the Mustangs we may win our second SW Conference diamond title. (Dutch coached the last winning team in 1933).

Troy Crenshaw on becoming a grandfather Monday morning. The new youngster is John Knox Burgin and son-in-law Albert was a member of the football squad in 1951-1952. The Burgins are now in the armed forces and stationed in the Carolinas.

J. Eddie Weems on the very good showing of the track team this spring. The Frogs have finished well in several meets.

Leon Lichtenwalter for leading our Army ROTC gang on the annual visitation to the New Orleans Port of Embarkation this week.

Edward Dale for his fine presentation of Texas wildflowers on Telerama, TCU's weekly TV program over Channel 11, on Sunday afternoon.

Oscar Causey for editing "Exploring the Goals of College Reading Programs," just published by the TCU Press. It is the fifth yearbook of the Southwest Reading Conference held on campus in December. A very good job. Some copies are available for official uses.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS

SCIENCE OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY NIGHT

The annual "Open House" of our Science Division will be held Friday night from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Everybody's cordially invited, not only to come but to bring friends and others interested.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENT

Both the Science Building and Sterling House will be open to visitors. There'll be light refreshments, too, to sustain folks awed by the wonders on exhibit.

Reverend Roy W. Ford, minister of Monte Vista Christian

Morris College, biology-geology, physics, chemistry and home economics are making presentations, including such diverse things as cancer cells, snakes and lizards of our area, measuring calories

Church, Albuquerque, New Mexico, will be the chapel speaker on Tuesday, April 24. Mr. Ford's subject will be

"The Church's Word For a Puzzled Generation."

WANTED:

Mr. Hart has an idea that faculty and staff could greatly aid his office by being on the lookout for addresses

lot and one of Hart-well's most time-consuming jobs is trying to keep his mailing list up-to-date. For instance, he's had over 1,900 changes and corrections since Jan. 1.

Says Brother Ramsey: "It occurs to me that our faculty could greatly assist if, when they hear from former students, they would send the envelope containing the return address to us. Just drop it in the inter-office mail."

Makes sense and we hope that all faculty and staff folks will be alert to render this help. It surely will be appreciated.

LIBBY STILL WANTS DATES

Miss Elizabeth Youngblood is still looking for dates. Not the social kind--necessarily-- but those of major campus events for the 1956-1957 school year.

As you know, the big date book in Libby's office is now the "official calendar" for the university and the more entries she can make therein now, the less chance of conflicts next year. If you have any knowledge of a major event coming up, please inform Libby now. Thanks.
