TECH PARADES IN COW TOWN

The Matadors and their supporters received a royal reception in Panther City. The city "Where the West Begins" was very courteous to all the Techians and it was appreciated.

Forming at the terminal, the Tech eighty piece band led a parade through the down town district. The band under Director LeMaire has become one of the best in the state. They received many compliments. At the Star-Telegram building the parade stopped and the band played. Several pictures were made of the gang and then the studes scattered to meet her or him as the case might be.

The Texas Hotel was the rendezvous and great was the party therein. The lobby was full of Tech colors. Tumult and joy prevailed for everyone was full of impatience and the time of the game quickly came.

It was of course a great game. The Frogs were forced to come from behind to win. Tech rooters done them selves proud in the stands. The Toreadors were distributed at the game to boost the Tech. After the final whistle had blown the players were carried off the field.

That night the streets were full of goblins and spooks of all kinds. The Techians were among them making merry, for although the Matadors lost a hard fought game, it was all to their credit and there were none but were proud of those Bullfighters.

Tech Has Champion In Amon G. Carter

Texas Tech owes much to one man who has been instrumental in pushing each venture that we have started. He is the one that is called upon in time of need, for it is known that he will labor in the interests of Tech.

Amon G. Carter has done many things for Tech. Many things he has done of his own accord. It was he that founded the Carter student loan fund, gave the Matadors baseballs after their victorious season last year, and saw that the band got to Fort Worth. He is the godfather of the infant Tech.

Much has been said about the chairman of the Board of Regents but there is nothing that we can say that will do the spirit he performs his good Samaritan work in justice. Whatever Tech becomes, much of the credit will go to him and Tech is destined to be a shining light in the educational circles of the nation. About all we can say is that the student body swears by him and realize that he has the best interests of Tech at heart.
