Mr. Amon G. Carter,
c/o Star Telegram,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Carter:

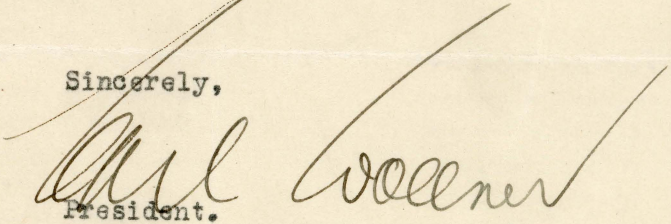

It was my good fortune and privilege to hear your talk before the Chamber of Commerce meeting today.

It has had the desired effect on me, and I am thinking more strongly right now on the thought of Fort Worth than I ever have. Hereafter I am going to be a fanatic on the subject of Fort Worth, as I ought to be, and I give you credit for that change in me, as I have been more or less one of those luke-warm Fort Worthians, too ready at times to criticize without suggesting anything constructive for the betterment of the cause.

We need the prophet to lead us out of civic apathy. We need an Amon Carter to tell us where to head in. I am sure many others feel as I do, and if you never do anything else for the good of Fort Worth for another year, I feel that if there were a medal to be awarded to the man who does the most good for Fort Worth during a year's time, Amon G. Carter should get the medal.

So, this is just a flower for you to wear on the lapel of your soul, as I feel that there should be more flowers passed to the living instead of waiting for the funeral.

Sincerely,

President.
