Mr. Amon G. Carter, Publisher,
Star-Telegram and Record Telegram,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Carter:

Just a word to tell you how much the writer appreciated your remarks at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday.

We have always admired the way you get action when you set out to do anything and if we had about a dozen more men as powerful as yourself and as willing to work for the upbuilding of our city there is nothing that could not be accomplished.

We may have been more or less luke warm and thought we could not help but after hearing your remarks we are more determined to put our shoulder to the wheel. If at any time you need any information or data that we can furnish please call upon us for it.

We, ofcourse, agree with you that Fort Worth needs national publicity and your suggestion that the City Council adopt a budget for this purpose is a sound one.

With no intent to flatter but believing it better to give flowers to the living I hope that we may have the pleasure of hearing you again soon along the same line.

Most sincerely yours
