DR. SADLER, TCU TO BE HONORED

On Thursday, Nov. 5, Magruder Ellis Sadler✓ reaches his 68th birthday. That evening in the Fort Worth Club, the Newcomen Society in North America will hold a black-tie reception and dinner honoring him and the University for which he has done so much. It will be a most fitting tribute.

Named for Thomas Newcomen, British pioneer in the mechanical arts in the 18th century, the Society centers its interest on the beginnings, growth and contributions to the progress of mankind of industry, education, law and other fields. The leading men over the country are members and those from an 11-state area have been invited to the event here. More than 300 are expected to attend.

It will be the first time that a school of the Southwest has been so honored. President Charles Penrose, Jr., of Philadelphia will be in general charge. As the feature, Dr. Sadler will give a main address on the history, development and goals of TCU. Later, it will be printed for distribution to the 18,000 Newcomen members and to all major libraries of the country. The Chancellor has been working on the address for several weeks. It should be a really grand night for him--and TCU.

"ANGEL" TO OPEN L.T. SEASON FRIDAY

Friday evening, the Little Theatre season opens with the first performance of "Look Homeward Angel", Ketti Frings' three-act drama based on Thomas Wolfe's famed autobiographical novel. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. Other performances are set for Saturday night and Oct. 28-29-30-31. Hope you can catch one.

Dr. Walther Volbach, that grand young fellow who will oversee all, requests that TCUers make an attempt to see an early performance. Also he reports they may attend a special performance on Monday, Nov. 2 for V-C Larry Smith and his colleagues. Henry Hammack is directing, Dolores Tanner did costumes, Harold Blackwelder designed sets. Enough said. It should be an outstanding show.

210 ENROLLED IN TCU-SMU COURSE

Calvin Cumbie reports there are some 210 students enrolled in the TCU-SMU Grad Engineering Program this Fall. All classes are held on our campus with 84 students taking math and physics taught by our faculty and 128 enrolled in the engineering courses taught by SMU profs. This joint venture (leading to a Master's in engineering) was started last Spring and is the "show piece" of the new Inter-University Council of the Dallas-Fort Worth Metropolitan Areas. It seems to be going very well.

BETTER GET HOPE-MANCINI TICKETS

Be reminded that tickets for the big show featuring Bob Hope and the Henry Mancini orchestra, a top feature of Homecoming this year, are now on sale at Libby Proffer's office in Student Center. The event is set for the Coliseum the evening of Oct. 30. While seats will NOT be reserved, only so many will be sold to TCU folks (including Exes) and the general public.

For TCU students and faculty, tickets are $2.50. They are $3 for Exes ordering in advance by mail and $3.50 for the public. About 7,800 seats will be available and when the maximum is reached, the sale will be cut off. Generally speaking, 'tis the biggest "show package" ever offered on campus. So don't wait too long.

OCT. 31 W.W. NOMINATION DEADLINE

Our nominations for Woodrow Wilson Fellowships must be in by Saturday week--Oct. 31. Call Paul Wassenich (Ext. 428) if you have a question on procedure, etc. DANFORTH NOMINATIONS must also be received by him by October 30.

STATE SCHOOLS MAY DOUBLE TUITION

That is an interesting development in the matter of State school tuition. The Texas Commission on Higher Education has asked the legislature to double charges--from $100 to $200 a year for residents and up to $500 for out-of-state residents. Strong opposition to the change can be expected as usual.

A revealing part of the report was that the per-student costs (from taxation) at State schools is now $578 per year and will climb to $815 unless the increase is allowed. This would bring the state tax share for each student to 85%--an alltime high. At our Fall Convocation, Dr. Hans Rosenhaupt pointed out that per-student costs at some tax-supported schools are often higher than tuition at high-quality independents. Seems he had his figures pat. And, that his contention the State should make grants to its resident students for use at the school of their choice is well justified indeed. For each student the independents can educate, the tax burden can be lowered so much. Too bad more people are not informed on this.

2,356 RESIDENCE HALL STUDENTS ✓

Dr. L. C. Smith of Student Life reports we have 2,356 young people living in dorms this Fall. That's an increase of 271 over 1963 and an alltime record. Waits Dorm (capacity 208) is not being used this year. We had hoped to close Pete Wright too for a time, but it is two-thirds full (157 students). But we still have some room to take new resident students in upcoming years. Here's Larry's chart:

Dormitory	Capacity	Vacancies
Worth Hills (Women)	340	0
Hall Dorm	302	6
Sherley Dorm	352	4
Jarvis Hall	128	1
Foster Hall	206	12
Worth Hills (Men)	272	0
Milton Daniel	318	3
Tom Brown	128	2
Pete Wright	157	46
Totals	2,438	74

Interesting enough, of the 271 increase this Fall, no less than 220 were men and 51 women. Yet there are only 23 vacancies in the womens' dorms (not counting Waits) and 59 in the male halls.

DIGEST OF EDUCATIONAL COMMENT

Articles and addresses on what's right and what's wrong with U.S. education continue to flood publications and banquet halls. There's so much being said that last year the American College Public Relations Assn. began to issue a folder called "Education Abstracts" to digest most of the material. Right interesting reading. For instance, the first issue of Vol. 2 contains these:

"Our colleges are stagnant from lack of imaginative ideas and their faculties are full of deadwood. Administrators repeat familiar platitudes. No fresh breeze has ruffled the educational waters for more than two decades", says an article in Saturday Review. Foundations are blamed for their constant harping on "excellence" and more funds should be directed toward new programs to help the average or regular student, says the Educational Record. Foundations also catch it over their use of tax loopholes in Science but two new books, on the Guggenheim and Rockefeller Foundations, are a bit kinder.

Louis Benezet, the articulate prexy of Claremont Grad School, demands a new "report card" for colleges in the L.A. Times that would include: Library circulation of books not assigned, number of grads in civic affairs, percentage of freshmen graduating, average student attendance at non-compulsory cultural events. And here's a good one: Wall Street Journal said faculty salaries and fringe benefits have risen so much the campus can now compete with industry for top hands. By 1970, total costs to attend a private school will be $2,780 and those at public colleges $1,840 annually, U.S. News and World Report projects.

And there's much more. P.R. has a file of these "Abstracts" if anyone would like to check them. 'Tis a pretty good bibliography of current comment.

AVERAGE LOAD THIS FALL: 10.56 HOURS

Our 6,855 students this Fall are carrying an average load of 10.56 hours, Calvin Cumbie reports. Last Fall it was 10.54. For undergrads in Day Schools and Colleges, the average is a large 14.43; in Grad School is 5.97; in Brite 10.62 and in Evening College 4.07. In all, our students are signed for 72,456 semester hours of work.

FACULTY BULLETIN/5

GOOD FIRST FACULTY MEETING

Last week's first faculty meeting was well attended and developed some good discussion. The "Standards" of the Southern Association were the main subject and, as Dr. Moudy pointed out, TCU is "very strong" in some, "fair" in others and "weak" in a few. The next session is set for the afternoon of Thursday, Nov. 19, when our "Foreign Study Committee" will present the program.

UF EFFORT HITS $10,820

Our area's United Fund campaign reaches a climax with a third report meeting today (Wednesday). We dunno what the final count will be but we can report that TCU has more than done its part. Late contributions have brought our total to $10,820--which is $1,800 more than we have ever given before and $820 over our goal. It's just wonderful and deep thanks again to so many who did so much.

The following members of Ecology class were absent from classes ALL DAY, OCTOBER 14, 15 and 16, in connection with a field trip to Subiaco, Ark.:

LOANS AVAILABLE FROM ART COLLECTION

Karl Richards announces that selections from our permanent art collection are on display in the lobby of Ed Landreth. They are available for loan to Faculty and employees for on-campus display in offices and other spots. You can get them on Fridays when a grad assistant will be on hand to make the necessary records. Karl plans to change the Landreth display frequently so you may find something you like. The collection has become so large that it is no longer possible to allow selections from the storage area.

NOTES ON MOST NOTABLE FOLKS

JOHN and HARRIET WOLDT took part in the Chamber Music Concert at Art Center recently, playing pieces from the 17th and 18th centuries. Most notable was the fact that John, the French horn expert, played the PIANO! It was his public debut at the keyboard.

JOHN HALTOM spoke on the first "Prof Series" event for students Tuesday afternoon. He analyzed the up-coming national election state-by-state.

WARREN AGEE has compiled a most thorough analysis of the Evening College operation this Fall. It shows 1,283 "on campus" students and 524 at FW/GD, Carswell and L-T-V. There are 205 instructors, 52 from the regular faculty. In all, a total of 238 classes are being conducted.....Incidentally, add Warren's name to the new University Radio Committee. He was inadvertently omitted in last week's announcement.

A scholarly monograph on "Morphology of Colloidal Gold--A Comparative Study", done by W. O. MILLIGAN and R. H. Morris of Tulane has been re-printed from the Journal of the American Chemical Society.

We hear that JOHNNY SWAIM is doing a top job in his new role as assistant to athletic director. Also a hat-tip to FRANK WINDEGGER, demon ticket manager, for checking up the big Arkansas game only $1 off. Must be a record. When Ye Ole Ed was checking up such games ('way back in the 50's), he was elated when he came within $100! Incidentally, you may be interested to know that EVERY ticket printed for a game--sometimes 47,000 of them--must be accounted for in the audit of each game. It's a tough job.

MALCOLM ARNOULT was elected chairman of Social Science Division at last week's meeting. JERRY MICHEL was named secretary. They succeed WAYNE ROWLAND and FRANK REUTER.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

JIM MOUDY, after two trips to Hawkins last week, reports things going fairly well with Jarvis College. Some pretty firm foundations for future progress have been laid with the help of our people, some of whom are devoting much time and effort in addition to carrying their heavy campus loads.

AUSTIN PORTERFIELD, a listee in "Who's Who" since 1953, has been informed he'll be included in a new "Who's Who in Science, 1700 B.C. to 1964 A.D.". There'll be 20,000 names--including Plato, Newton, Columbus, etc. and etc. Quite a company.

CHARLES BLOUNT speaks at the Physics Colloquium Friday afternoon in Room 151 of Winton-Scott Hall.

AUGUST SPAIN is in great demand each year around "United Nations Day" as a speaker. Recent or upcoming dates: Arlington Ht. Methodist Church, First Methodist of Hurst, San Antonio AAUN (plus TV program), Ft. Worth Altrusa and Torch Clubs, joint meeting of AAUN, Lions, League of Women Voters, AAUW in Tyler, SMU's Dallas College.

PAUL YOUNG spoke to the local chapter of "Parents Without Partners" recently on "Psychological Differences Between Men and Women".

MIKE WINESANKER discussed "Preparation for Public Performance" before the Junior Music Forum and Young Artist Club last week.

RALPH GUENTHER, KEITH MIXSON, EMMET SMITH, KEN SCHANEWERK, HARRIET WOLDT, BRUCE BULLOCK, JAMES BURTON and JOAN WORKMON will participate in the second of the series of faculty recitals in Ed Landreth this (Wednesday) afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Drop over if you get a chance.

For the second time in a year, JOE HODGKINS and BILL SMITH have racked up a double-header. Each had research articles in the Oct. 5 issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society. Joe's was called "Stereochemistry of the Reaction of Benzal Chloride with Olefins" while Bill wrote on "A Radiochemical Study of the Acetolysis of 3-Phenyl-2-butyl Tosylate". Wow! Wonder what language them boys speak. Probably Chemlish.

WARREN AGEE goes on a Strategic Air Command educational conference at Air Force Academy Thursday-Friday. Our E.C. program at Carswell is concerned. On Oct. 26-28, Warren attends the convention of the Assn. of University Evening Colleges in St. Louis and will chair a session on developing ideas for closer education-industry relationships.
