BOARD POISED FOR SPRING MEETING

A week from today (March 9), our Board of Trustees faces some important decisions at its Spring meeting. To be considered is a record budget for 1966-67 which will go into effect Sept. 1-- and the ways and means of assuring the necessary funds. Also to be acted upon are honorary degrees for the remainder of the calendar year (as recommended by University Council); promotions, tenure status and retirements for and by faculty; the semiannual report of Chancellor J. M. Moudy on the "state of the University" including enrollment trends, progress of various programs and plans for the immediate future.

Continuing an idea started last year, many Board members will be on campus Tuesday evening for a dinner and "briefing" on one phase of our operation. Policies in regard to Student Life will be the theme and Dr. Howard Wible, Dean of Students, is in charge of the program. As always, Board members will be our guests for luncheon Wednesday following their meeting.

R. E. WEEK GOING VERY WELL

From all reports, annual Religious Emphasis Week has been going very well. The Faculty Retreat at Camp Carter Tuesday afternoon and evening wound up the main program events but it is likely that some of the questions raised and points made will be discussed over campus for some time. That's as it should be, of course.

Dr. Roger Shinn of Union Theological Seminary proved to be a fine speaker and challenging "Resource Person". Both convocations (on Monday-Tuesday) were well attended and the Faculty Retreat resulted in some lively discussion. "We are most grateful to Dr. Shinn and all those who helped make R. E. Week go so well," Chaplain Jim Farrar reported. "I believe that everyone who took part in any of the various events has plenty to think about for a while".

"MEDEA" TO OPEN IN LITTLE THEATRE

With Dolores Tanner directing, a six-performance run of Euripides' famed "Medea" opens in Little Theatre Friday night at 8 o'clock. Other performances are set for Saturday night and for Wednesday thru Saturday of next week (Feb. 16-19). You may recall that "Ah Wilderness" had been scheduled for this month but has now been re-scheduled for the last two weeks in March. Incidentally, Ann Gossman of English has done the program notes for "Medea". Again faculty members and their families may obtain tickets without charge if they act when seats are available.

NARCOTIC INSTITUTE NEXT WEEK

Medical representatives from at least 10 states and several governmental agencies will attend the Institute for Rehabilitation of the Narcotic Addict here next week. Dr. Saul Sells, Director of our Institute of Behavioral Research, has done an outstanding planning job for the three-day session at Western Hills Hotel.

Sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service Division of Hospitals, the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration and TCU, the Institute will be welcomed at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday (Feb. 16) by Chancellor J. M. Moudy. During the next three days, some of the nation's leading authorities on drug addiction and treatment will speak and/or appear on panels. During the final afternoon, a series of invited papers will be presented under the direction of Dr. H. A. Raskin of Wayne State U. A full report of the proceedings will be published by VRA.

"THANKS" FROM C. O. IN VIETNAM

Dr. Moudy has received a nice letter from Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, U. S. commander in Vietnam, thanking members of our faculty and student body for a telegram he received Jan. 25. The wire expressed support for the actions of the American Armed Forces.

"The many fine actions of the college students of the U.S. have more than offset the negative actions of a small uninformed but vocal minority," the letter said. "On behalf of all the servicemen in this command, I extend heartfelt thanks to each of the members of your faculty and student body who signed this telegram of support".

NEW M. A. IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

That was an interesting announcement that Curriculum Committee had approved a new M. A. degree program with a major in public administration. It calls for 30 semester hours plus an internship of half-time work in a municipal government. City managers of Ft. Worth, Arlington and other communities have pledged their help. Those meeting the prerequisites (including a B.A. in specified areas) can start the program at once, Dr. August Spain said,

POLICY ON CAMPUS SPEAKERS STUDIED

What appears to be one of the vexing problems of our times--who should speak, perform and entertain on campus and under what controls and programs--is a growing concern of several of our groups. Recently, the Select Series Committee, the Student Activities Council and the Forums Committee discussed the situation and came up with a consensus recommendation that was forwarded to Administrative Council.

Among other things, it called for establishment of a policy-making body which would give guidance in the areas of serious entertainment, popular entertainment and lectures. It would also serve as a steering committee in the administration of finances--including a "revolving fund" to support such programs. Responsibility for activities in various areas would be established. As yet, there has been no official action on the proposal and indications are much more discussion will be needed before there is any.

Judging from reports from over the country, a great deal of thought needs to be given this part of campus life. Nor are all the answers easy.

"FRONTIERS" FILM DUE THURSDAY

Porter Crow reports that the film developed by the March of Time called "Frontiers of the Mind" will be shown in the SC Ballroom tomorrow (Thursday) starting at 11 a.m. The School of Education is sponsoring the showing and everyone's invited. There's no charge. When shown on TV, the film received wide acclaim.

THINGS WE BOASTED ABOUT--IN 1907

Thru Dr. M. E. Sadler, Joe Lowe of Ft. Worth has forwarded to our historical files a copy of "The Taylor-Trotwood Magazine" printed in Nashville, Tenn., in August 1907. Across the bottom of Page 11 is a most impressive ad telling all about the advantages of Texas Christian University at Waco, Texas. Here's the entire pitch:

"Thirty-fifth year. Faculty from leading Universities of Europe and America. Graduates take advanced standing in the older American Universities. Music, Art and Oratory advantages unsurpassed in the Southwest. Three Grand Pianos, twenty-five new Upright Pianos and Pipe Organ in daily use. Up-to-date Practical Business College in connection, first-class Library and Reading Room, four well equipped Laboratories, capacious Natatorium and modern Gymnasium. Athletics the best. Pure Artesian Water. Our own heat and light plants".

'Twas signed by Clinton Lockhart, A.M., Ph. D., President. You'll have to admit it's a hard-sell ad what with all those Pianos, athletics, heating plant--and Pure Water. The magazine is an interesting addition to our archives and our "thanks" to Mr. Lowe.

FOOTNOTE ON PARSONS COLLEGE

Cecil Williams, most capable chairman of English, read our summary of the Wall Street Journal's report on Parsons College here recently. As you'll recall, this new type of money-making college (with assembly line methods and huge faculty salaries) seems to be spreading in the Midwest. Dr. Williams confirms that everything isn't wine-and-roses with the new schools:

"I am all in favor of more efficient college operations, but I think we have to safeguard standards when we seek efficiency...While at the Modern Language Assn. meeting in Chicago, I interviewed a number of prospective staff members. One of them happened to be employed at Parsons College. He was seeking a new position because the one he had there was intolerable. His schedule entailed the teaching of 250 freshman composition students. Such an assignment would be completely out of harmony with TCU standards or those of other institutions which look at educational problems realistically. Just a footnote in which I thought our people would be interested".

We all are indeed, Cecil. And the more you think and read about it, the more you wonder if financial profit (or just breaking even) can or should ever be one of the goals of an institution of learning. In some aspects, the two ideas are contradictory.

89 ACADEMIC SUSPENSIONS FOR FALL

Registrar Calvin Cumbie's annual report shows that we suspended 89 students for academic failure at the end of Fall Semester. These included 68 for one semester and 21 for one year. The total compares with 80 for Fall Semester in 1964, with 102 in 1963, 98 in 1962, 84 in 1961 and 112 in 1960. With a record enrollment of 7,232 last Fall, it would seem that overall we're doing better scholastically. Incidentally, AddRan led in suspensions (as should be) with 45, Business had 25, Education 6, Fine Arts 8, Harris 1 and Evening College 4. Of the 455 students who started Fall on probation, 179 did well enough to be removed, 177-part-timers were continued, the 89 suspended and 10 continued on probation with a Dean's permission.

R. B. Wolf, Director of Bureau, Room 212 Student Center, announces the following companies will have representatives on week of Feb. 14 to interview our graduating seniors:

CAMPUS CHEST UNDER WAY

Our annual Campus Chest Week started Monday and all faculty folks are due to be contacted by other teachers from their own School or College. Funds will be distributed this time like this: 25% to World University Service, 20% Foster Parents Plan, 15% Crisis Fund for Vietnamese Children, 15% TCU Speech Clinic for Retarded Children, 15% TCU Foreign Students Emergency Fund, 10% Jarvis College. If you're not contacted, gifts can be mailed via interoffice to Libby Proffer in SC. The annual Greek Revue is set for Friday night in Will Rogers Auditorium at 7:30 and proceeds from the $1 tickets will go to the Chest.

SPRING ENROLLMENT UP FACULTY LUNCHEONS

With late registration to continue thru tomorrow (Thursday), enrollment for Spring semester is already over that of 1965. As of Monday morning, Calvin Cumbie reported 6,354 registered--against 6,335 as a final figure last year. There's a distinct possibility that the Spring record of 6,442 (set in 1964) will be broken. Again, enrollment of undergrads in the Day Schools and Colleges has been the BIG feature. Monday, there were 4,180 of them as compared with 3,719 on the same date in 1965. Mighty fine.

E.C. SESSION A SUCCESS

Tom Palmer, Director of Courses for Evening College, reports that the Saturday morning get-together of regular and part-time teachers recently was a large success. Despite a snow storm, 90% of the folks expected arrived--some from as far away as Dallas. Speaker Saul Sells caught a last plane out of Washington, D. C. to make it. Chancellor Moudy indicated that the event, bringing together Deans, Department Chairmen and regular faculty with the E. C. teachers, should become an annual affair. Dr. James Newcomer offered this description of the office of Vice-Chancellor for Academic Affairs: "If the Chancellor is the shepherd of the flock, then I must be the crook at the head of his staff!" Oh well.

NOTES ON RIGHT NOTABLE FOLKS

HERB LaGRONE, dean of Education, will take part in the annual meeting of the American Assn. of Colleges for Teacher Education in Chicago Feb. 16-19. He will be one of the discussants for a session on "New Approaches to the Professional Sequence in Teacher Education".

IRA SCHANTZ was guest soloist and musical director for the morning services at Central Christian Church here the last Sunday of February.

PAUL F. SHARP who was our Commencement speaker in 1961 and to whom we awarded an Honorary LL.D., has been named president of Drake U. effective March 15. He has been president of North Carolina U. and was considered for our Chancellorship. He's 47.

LUCY MAE JENNINGS has sent a copy of Kodakery, publication of Eastman Kodak Co., with two big pictures of ABE MARTIN with LBJ and others during that recent trophy presentation in Washington, D.C. And, incidentally, Abe received a long letter from a lady in Florida who saw the picture in the papers there and wondered if he could be her long lost FATHER. Abe denied it--although the gent seems to have had the same name. Publicity can be right dangerous.

DAVID GRAHAM has requested and received another year's leave of absence (for 1966-1967) to complete his Ph. D. work in Ithaca, N.Y.

Here's something new! AUGUST SPAIN recently received a very fine letter from Former Student Heino Ambros who has gone on to the Ph. D. and is now teaching at Mankato State in N.D. Expressing the wish to thank once more all TCUers who were so helpful, Heino enclosed a $5 check "to be used where the need is most urgent at my Alma Mater". That's the sort of thing that gives you a lift!

C. J. FIRKINS spoke on "Selection of Personnel" before the Fort Worth Real Estate Board last week.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

HELEN BELMORE was installed as president of the local chapter of Executives' Secretaries, Inc., an international organization of administrative women in January. She was a charter member here when the group was organized in 1954.

ALEX HOFFMAN spoke on "Application of Linear Operators (Numerical Filters) to Power Spectral Analysis" before the Dallas-Ft.Worth Chapter of the Assn. for Computing Machinery in Dallas recently.

BETTY KNOX received a most interesting letter after publication of the Winter issue of "This Is TCU". It came from Roy E. Rockwell, Class of '08, now living in La Junta, Colo. and seems he was a member of the first Horned Frog Band in 1905. He remembered many TCUers including the late Dan D. Rogers who played drums.

FRANK HUGHES, LAWRENCE HANLEY and our Stage Band will take part in the Clinic-Convention program of the Texas Music Educators Assn. event in Dallas Friday. Lawrence is vice-president and College Division Chairman of the TMEA this year.

MAGGI MOAR of Ballet is choreographer for the Ft. Worth Opera Assn.'s production of "The Bewitched Child" on Feb. 19. Two performances will be given in Will Rogers Auditorium at 2 and 3:30 p.m.

PREM MAHENDROO of Physics attended the meeting of the American Physical Society in New York City late last month.

GUS FERRE, Chairman of Philosophy, will take part in the "Appalachian Preaching Mission" in Bristol, Virginia, this week. Over the weekend, (Feb. 19-21) he will be a speaker at the "Religion In Life Week" at John Tarleton State College, Stephenville.

HARRY GEFFERT of Art served as a juror for the regional Scholastic Arts Awards Exhibit in Houston recently. He has been asked to serve on the national jury in N.Y. on April 1 by the director of the Awards Program for Scholastic Magazines. Because of commitments, he had to decline an invitation to demonstrate sculpture techniques at the Western Arts Assn. Conference in Houston.
