Dear Mr. Monning:

Your letter was received and I will try again to locate the piece of meteorite. I was unsuccessful before. I think I returned your magnet, didn't I? I meant to.

We are distressed to hear of all the floods and tornadoes in Texas and the terrible flood in Lampasas, especially.

Have you any pieces of this meteorite? I understood it was quite a large one, if I remember correctly. It fell on a farm and the farmer brought it to town in his wagon.

I will write you again if I can locate anything.

Sincerely yours,
Nellie Ramsdell
