

TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY

VOL. XLIV

November 8, 1967

No. 10

FORMER STUDENTS WILL COME "HOME" TO STUDENT CENTER WEEK

There has been an air of celebration on campus this week even before the alumni begin arriving for the annual Homecoming events which start Thursday evening. This is Student Center Week at TCU and a most special time as we observe the formal opening of our newly remodeled and expanded Student Center.

Students Court Crow and Janice Peterson, who direct the Activities Council and the Special Events Committee respectively, have expressed the purpose of the center and of the week's activities very well in a joint statement: "In planning Student Center Week, the student committee has sought to do more than note with formality the opening of this addition. In the events of this week you will find examples of every activity, program and gathering that normally takes place in our center. Many campus organizations which regularly use the center's facilities have planned programs especially for this occasion. Through your taking part in this week, you can gain a better view of the entire scope of the facilities and programming possibilities within the walls of the Student Center."

Each of us takes considerable pride in the center, but more especially, we take pride in the students who plan and carry out the programs which are such an important part of life at TCU. We applaud their efforts and congratulate them on a job well done.

Many events are scheduled during the remainder of the week--not including Homecoming activities. Put the two together and no one will need to look for something to do and it may be difficult to find time to squeeze in a class or two. Many former students will return to the campus for the Homecoming weekend. For them it is always a special time...a time to see old friends, meet new husbands and wives--and children, to visit faculty friends, to wander across the campus walks and witness the changes--both seen and unseen--that have taken place since last they saw their alma mater.

It's a grand occasion and though the days are full with the more formal responsibilities of higher education, we eagerly find the time to share in the special days of Homecoming--and Student Center Week.

CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK REMAINING

To assist you in knowing what's scheduled for the remainder of Student Center Week and for Homecoming weekend, the following calendar of events is provided. Wed., Nov. 8

4 p.m.	Forum: "Tax Increase! Tax Increase?," S.C. Room 205. Panel of faculty from the Dept. of Economics: Drs. John Perkins (moderator), John Wortham, Floyd Durham, Charles Becker, Richard Waits.
6 - 7 p.m.	"Opportunities for Graduate Study: Preliminary Procedures and Financial Assistance," S.C. Room 205. Panel with Dr. Paul Wassenich, Dr. E. Leigh Secrest and Logan Ware. Sponsored by Ampersand.
7 p.m. Thurs., Nov. 9	Covenant Players at Town Hall"A Confrontation with the Issues of Our Time," S.C. Ballroom. Sponsored by the United Campus Ministries.
11 - 12 noon	French Club: "Studies in FranceThe TCU Tour," S.C. Room 206, with Dr. Bita Mae Hall.
4:15 p.m.	Leadership Development Committee: Film on "Individual Motivation and Behavior, " S.C. Room 202.
4:30 - 6 p.m.	Student Educational Assn.: "Special Education" by Dr. Wyatt Stephens. Faculty reception for school of Education will follow. S.C. Room 205-6.
	Fashion Fair: Co-sponsored by Hospitality Committee and Neiman-Marcus, S.C. Room 207-9.
5:30 p.m.	P.E. Professional Club: "Junior High P.E. Extra-Curricular Activities, "S.C. Room 202.
7:10 p.m.	OFFICIAL OPENING OF HOMECOMING. Torch Light parade and Spirit March led by Band from Student Center and Worth Hills area to Daniel-Meyer Coliseum.
7:30 p.m.	Homecoming Pep Rally in front of Coliseum. Presentation of Homecoming and Coming Home Queens with Returning Hero Chuck Curtis, Vice Chancellor James Newcomer, Cheerleaders,

8 p.m. --Lighting of Student Displays in quadrangle in front of Student Center. Theme: "Beat Tech!"

Band. Awards given for prize displays.

 8 - 11 p.m.
--Tech Stomp--After-the-Pep Rally-Dance for students sponsored by TCU Alumni Assn., Worth Hills Dining Hall. Music by "The Bitter Ende."

Fri., Nov. 10
8-12 noon	Lettermen's Golf Tournament, Shady Oaks.
9:30 a.m.	TCU Board of Trustees Fall Meeting, Sadler Hall.
12:30 p.m.	Luncheon marking the formal opening of the expanded and remodeled Brown-Lupton Student Center, in the Ballroom. For trustees, Century Club Members and other invited guests.
2-4 p.m.	Registration of Alumni, Student Center Lobby.
2:30-3:30 p.m.	Author's Reception honoring TCU faculty members who have had books published in the last two years. S.C. Main Lounge.
3-5 p.m.	Tours of Student Center including Mills Glass Collection, S.C. Lower Lobby.
6:30 p.m.	Lettermen's Banquet, Shady Oaks.
8 p.m.	TCU Homecoming Show featuring Al Hirt, Coliseum. Tickets $2.50, $3, $3.50.
Sat., Nov. 11 9-11 a.m.	Registration of Alumni, Student Center Lobby.
9:30-11 a.m.	Alumni Coffees, Student Center.
11:30 a.m.	Alumni Homecoming Luncheon, Coliseum. For alumni and faculty and their families. Presentation of alumni awards and business meeting of Alumni Assn.
1:30 p.m.	TCU vs Texas Tech, Stadium. Special halftime ceremonies.
4-6 p.m.	Dormitory Open Houses and Receptions.
6 p.m.	Journalism Alumni Social Hour and Dinner, 3617 Collinwood.
6:15 p.m.	Harris College of Nursing Alumni Social Hour and Banquet, Green Oaks Inn.
8-12 midnight	Homecoming Dance for Students and Alumni, Exhibits Bldg., Amon Carter Square. Music by "Them" from London.
9 p.mla.m.	Dance for Alumni and Guests, sponsored by Exes-100 Club, Baronial Hall, Green Oaks Inn.

Sun., Nov. 12

Morning -- Fort Worth churches invite you to services.

2:30 p.m. -- University Players present: "Suppressed Desires," a one act play by Susan Glaspell, S.C. Ballroom.

3-5 p.m.

-- Tours of Student Center and Mills Glass Collection, S.C. Lower Lobby.

XXX XXX XXX

SPECIAL INVITATION TO FACULTY AND STAFF

A special invitation is being extended to all faculty and staff to participate in alumni activities during Homecoming weekend. "By action of the officers of the Alumni Association," according to Director Clyde Foltz, "all faculty personnel are ex officio members of our organization and we want to encourage them to take part in the Nov. 9-11 schedule of events."

Of particular interest are two Saturday activities: The 9:30-11 a.m. coffee for all alumni in the new first-floor lounge of the Student Center, hosted by the Fort Worth TCU Women's Exes; and the 11:30 a.m. Homecoming luncheon in the coliseum, compliments of Buddies Super Markets and Scottie Stamp Co.

XXX XXX XXX

TCU AUTHORS WILL BE HONORED AT RECEPTION

Twenty-nine TCU faculty members, who have written books published in the last two years, will be honored at a reception in the main lounge of the Student Center from 2:30-4 p.m., Fri., Nov. 10. The occasion was planned as part of Student Center Week by a committee composed of Drs. Betsy Colquitt of English, Bita Mae Hall of foreign languages and Nevin Neal of history; also Dr. Newcomer and Libby Proffer

Those to be honored include Hunter Beckelhymer, Maurice Boyd, Gaylan Jane Collier, Jim Corder, A. T. DeGroot, R. C. Dillehay, James Dyal, R. C. Forman, A. Campbell Garnett, Anna Harriett Heyer, Noel Keith, Charles Kemp, Malcolm McLean, Mabel Major, William Massey, Alvin Nelson, James Newcomer, Robert Parker, Austin Porterfield, Ben Procter, Frank Reuter, Donald Sanders, Helen Sells, Saul Sells, Harold Simpson, August Spain, Jack Suggs, Robert Taylor, and Donald Worcester

The reception is open to the public and all faculty and staff are urged to drop by and greet our honored authors. The TCU Press is hosting the occasion.

ALL 'BOARD FOR AUSTIN

For the football fans with a yen to see if it really is the Horns' year, there's a "take the bus and leaving the driving to us" movement under way. Plans are being made for a chartered bus for interested faculty and staff. Departure will be early on Saturday, Nov. 18, and the return trip will include stopping in Salado for dinner at the historic Stagecoach Inn. Mrs. Janie Brimmer in Harris College of Nursing, Ext. 433, can give you all the details. Just think, no worries of finding the nearly non-existent parking spots around Memorial Stadium.

XXX XXX XXX

TCU SYMPHONY TO PLAY NOV. 14

Under the baton of Conductor Fritz Berens, the University Symphony Orchestra will be presented in concert on Nov. 14. Ed Landreth Auditorium will be the scene of the program, scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m. and to feature the works of Hovhannes, Handel, Mozart and Tschaikovsky. The Handel compositions will be conducted by Ken Schanewerk, assistant professor or music.

Guest soloist will be Dr. Ralph Guenther, flutist. His performance will be Mozart's "Concerto for Flute and Orchestra in D Major."

A reception immediately following the concert will be hosted by Mu Phi Epsilon, national sorority for women majoring in music.

XXX XXX XXX

RIGHT WAY OF STUDY BEGINS TODAY

A three-day seminar on negotiations for right of way acquisition, sponsored by TCU's Division of Special Courses, began today (Nov. 8) in Room 207 of the Student Center. Designed to equip both the new and experienced right of way agent with techniques in land and right of way acquisition, the workshop program is patterned after the course developed by the American Right of Way Assn.'s education committee. Particular emphasis is being placed on the art of communication during the sessions, which opened at a.m. today with registration and will conclude after Friday's morning session, which will include a mock negotiation session.

TCU faculty participating as staff members include Dr. George T. Tade, Dr. Ronald Dillehay, Don Nix, Jim Caton, Dr. R.C. Norris and Dr. Leroy Lewis. Other consultants are persons involved in this area of concentration with Magnolia Pipe Line Co., Texas Highway Department and Texas Electric Service Co.

LOOKING AHEAD A B.T....

Dec. 14 should be circled on calendars! That's the date for the annual faculty Christmas banquet. In addition to being the usual lovely fete, this year's occasion will have a program featuring some of your friends in rather unusual roles. That's all t'e program chairman will say so far, but it hints of being too good to miss!

XXX XXX XXX

BAIRD TO DELIVER I ECTURES

Professor of New Testament in Brite Divinity School since September, Dr. William R. Buird Jr. will deliver the Ervin E. Stringfellow Lectures at Drake University Nov. 14-15. Sponsored by the Drake Divinity School and the Des Moines University Christian Church of Des Moines, the two-day series is named in honor of the late Prof. Stringfellow, member of the faculty there in 1914-1950 and a teacher in TCU's Brite Divinity School for one year after his 1950 retirement. Dr. Baird's three lectures will focus on "The Form of This World: An Introduction to the Theology of Rudolf Bultmann."

Dr. Baird, contributor to The Interpreter's One Volume Commentary on the Bible, which will be published in 1968, made an extensive survey of the early church and Hellenistic urban culture while in the Near East on a sabbatical leave. His findings were published under the title The Corinthian Church -- A Biblical Approach to Urban Culture.

XXX XXX XXX

178 STUDENTS MAY COMPLETE DEGREES THIS FALL

In a report from Associate Registrar Joe Enochs, 178 students are expected to complete degree requirements with the close of the Fall Semester, 1967. Degrees, of course, would be conferred at Commencement exercises next May. The final total in January, 1967, was 175, but the earlier report last year listed 198 students expected to complete their degrees.

To date, totals for the semester are 135 bachelor degrees. 3 Bachelor of Divinity degrees, 31 master and 9 Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Among undergraduate degrees, the largest are Bachelor of Arts (32), Bachelor of Business Administration (37), Bachelor of Science in Education (39).

XXX XXX XXX

ADD THIS DATE TO CALENDAR

Those who enjoy fine piano music might be disappointed that no recitals by Pianist Tully Moseley are listed in the Frog Calendar. However, Tully announces that he will give a recital on May 6, 1968, at 8:15 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium. So, be sure to add this date to your fine arts calendar.

TRIBUTES WILL BE PAID AT STUDENT CENTER LUNCHEON

The special luncheon, Friday at 12:30 p.m. in the ballroom, planned to mark the formal opening of the remodeled and enlarged Student Center, will also be an occasion to pay tribute to the Brown-Lupton Foundation and the late Glenn Woodson and to Dr. Thomas T. Richardson.

Vice Chancellor Cecil White will pay tribute to the Foundation and to Woodson, who was its managing director when the original Student Center was erected in 1955. First dedicated on March 28 of that year, the center represented an investment of $1,250,000 from the Brown-Lupton Foundation. An additional $1,250,000 was given by the benefactors to provide for the new construction completed this September.

Recognition will be given Dr. Thomas Richardson of Huntsville by Mrs. Elizabeth Proffer, student activities director. Dr. Richardson was the University's dean of students in 1949-56. Responding from "A Student's Point of View" will be AC Director Court Crow. TCU trustees, members of the Century Club and other invited guests will hear Chancellor Moudy speak on "In Search of a Center." Presiding will be Drew Sawyer, president of the TCU House of Representatives.

XXX XXX XXX

RESEARCH FOUNDATION PLANS CAMPAIGN KICK-OFF

The annual campaign to raise operating funds for the TCU Research Foundation will officially begin with a kick-off luncheon, Wed., Nov. 15, at the Fort Worth Club. The 150 businessmen who have volunteered to be members of the Foundation's Sponsoring Committee will be special guests. John Justin, former Fort Worth mayor, is chairman of the campaign for $450,000 which will be used to strengthen studies in biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics and psychology at TCU.

XXX XXX XXX

HIGH NUMBER OF TCU STUDENTS ACCEPTED IN MEDICAL SCHOOLS

TCU's long-standing reputation of having a high number of its pre-med students accepted by medical schools still holds true. Thirteen of the 15 TCU students who last year applied for entrance into a medical school have been accepted and are now enrolled in medical studies, according to a report made recently by Dr. Willis Hewatt, biology chairman and chairman of the University's Pre-Medical Advisory Committee.

Six of the 13 were accepted after completeing TCU's three-year pre-med program. Dr. Hewatt said about 400 physicians are known to have taken all or part of their undergraduate work at TCU before earning their M.D. degrees. At last count, 105 of them were members of the Tarrant County Medical Society. The 13 new medical students from TCU are enrolled at UT's Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, the UT Medical Branch at Galveston, and at the medical colleges of the Universities of Oregon, Indiana and Tennessee.

THREE TCU ALUMNI WILL BE HONORED AT HOME COMING

In special ceremonies at the Homecoming luncheon, Sat., Nov.11, at 11:30 a.m. in the Coliseum, the TCU Alumni Assn. will honor three former students. The Distinguished Alumnus Award will be presented to Dr. Louis Levy '33 and Charles Tandy '40. The Valuable Alumnus Award will be given to F. Howard Walsh '33. Chancellor J.M. Moudy and Charles Floyd, national president of the alumni association, will participate in the presentations.

An orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Levy was recognized recently by the Tarrant County Medical Society as the recipient of the organization's Gold-Headed Cane Award. He is a diplomat of the American Board of Orthopedists and a surgical fellow of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

Charles Tandy, chairman of Tandy Corp. which recently purchased Leonards in an $8.5 million transaction, was honored last week by the TCU Business Alumni Assn. as recipient of its first annual distinguished achievement award.

Howard Walsh, president of Walsh and Watts, Inc., Oil Productions Co., lettered in tennis at TCU, is a member of the Century Club, a director of First National Bank, trustee of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and is an active supporter of civic, educational and religious activities of Fort Worth.

XXX XXX XXX

DRIVER EDUCATION AVAILABLE TO FACULTY CHILDREN

Dr. Jim Standifer of the health and physical education department announces that faculty children who are at least 15 years of age, have completed the 30 hours of required classwork in Driver Education and who hold a beginning driver's license may enroll for the "behind-the-wheel" phase of Driver Education. There is no charge for this phase of the course if students sign up immediately before the course is opened to the general public.

Students will be taught by TCU student teachers who are required to teach two beginning students before they can be ceritified to teach in the public schools. About 90 of the driver education instructors in the Fort Worth public schools received their training at TCU. Completion of the "behind-the-wheel" portion of the course will entitle the student to the same rights and provileges he would receive if he was instructed by a public school teacher.

If you have a son or daughter interested and eligible for this instruction, please call Dr. Standifer at ext. 301.

MORE PLACEMENT INTERVIEWS NEXT WEEK

This is a busy time for graduating seniors as more and more representatives from business firms are coming to the campus to interview students. Placement Bureau Director Bear Wolf announces the following firms will be on campus in Student Center, Room 220, Nov. 13-20:

Nov. 13--H. J. Heinz Company--Business & Arts & Science Majors

Nov. 13--Pioneer American Insurance Co--All Majors Nov. 13--U.S. General Accounting Office--Accounting Majors

Nov. 13, 14--U.S. Marine Corps--All Majors Nov. 14 -- The Shell Companies -- Physics, Math, Business, Arts & Sciences

Nov. 14--Foley's of Houston--Business, Arts & Science Majors

Nov. 15--Ernst & Ernst--Accounting Majors

Nov. 15--Dow Jones & Co, Inc--Business, Arts & Science Majors

Nov. 15--Lennox Industries, Inc. --Accounting & Math Majors

Nov. 16--Tandy Corporation--Business & Accounting Majors

- Nov. 16--U.S. Public Health Service--Arts & Science Majors Nov. 16--Gulf Oil Corporation--Business, Accounting, Math & Geology Majors
- Nov. 16--Lever Brothers--Business Majors

Nov. 17--The Hartford Insurance Group--All Majors Nov. 17--The American Red Cross--Arts & Sciences & Physical Education Majors

Nov. 17--Alcon Laboratories, Inc. -- Accounting Majors

Nov. 20--Arthur Young & Co--Accounting Majors

Nov. 20--Xerox Corporation--Business, Arts & Science Majors

Nov. 20--Employers Mutuals of Wausau--Business, Arts & Science Majors Nov. 20--Dept. of Air Force, Contract Management Div--Business, Arts & Science Majors

XXX XXX XXX

POLICY CHANGES ON DRESS RULES FOR WOMEN STUDENTS

After much discussion, the Association of Women Students (AWS), which is the governing body of TCU women, has decided to set "standards" rather than "rules" regarding dress. The new approach is the result of an opinion poll taken last spring concerning appropriate dress for women students. In setting a standard they will leave the selection of appropriate dress for women on the TCU campus up to the student's mature judgement.

According to a notice from the Dean of Women's office, this new approach to maintaining standards is the "result of the development of an inner structure of self government dependent upon the responsibility and self discipline of individual students. The members of AWS feel that, while there will be a few who do not use mature judgement, the general tone of good dress on campus will be maintained by the Women students. Should they not show responsibility, it will be necessary for AWS to formulate new rules appropriate to our campus."

SHORT NEWS NOTES

Faculty and staff are invited to attend the Physics Graduate Colloquium meeting, Friday, Nov. 10, at 4:30 p.m. in the Physics Lecture Room 151, Winton-Scott Hall. Dr. Jerry Arnett, research scientist with General Dynamics/Fort Worth will speak on "Conditions for Non-Radiation."

For those interested, Radio-TV-Film Instructor Larry Lauer announces that station KTCU-FM is now pre-taping and broadcasting the worship services of University Christian Church. Air time is 11 a.m. each Sunday (89.1 megacycles on your FM dial).

TCU Emeritus Registrar S.W. Hutton reminds faculty, staff and others who may have old Bibles or books that need re-binding to consider these as Christmas gifts for family and loved ones. If you have special volumes that need refurbishing, call Mr. Hutton at WA4-7070.

XXX XXX XXX

NOTES ON MOST NOTABLE FOLKS

Drs. HERBERT LAGRONE, KEITH TURKETT and JEFF HORN of the School of Education were participants in the Oct. 26-27 staff development conference of the Southwest Educational Development Laboratory. The Austin meeting centered on the topic "Conceptual Frameworks of the Social Sciences: Implications for Laboratory Programs." The North Texas office of the SEDL, serving a 29-county area with a population in excess of 2,000,000 persons, was established at TCU in June, 1966, with Dr. Turkett as area coordinator and consultant.

MARGUERITE POTTER of history will review the book Nicholas and Alexandra by Robert K. Massie for the third annual book review benefit sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae, Nov. 15. Proceeds from the meeting go to a fund for scholarships for the summer term at TCU for teachers in special education.

A recent campus visitor was Col. CHESTER BOGLE, former TCU professor of aerospace studies. Newly graduated from the Air War College and having just completed additional tactical training, Col. Bogle is en route to Formosa for a 13-month assignment. While he's overseas, his wife and family will live in Abilene. Before he left the campus, he took several "Paint 'em Purple" stickers along with a promise he'd put them on his aircraft. They're appropriate for a "fightin' " Frog.

SELBY EVANS and MALCOLM ARNOULT of psychology have an article in a recent issue of Psychonomic Science titled "Schematic Concept Formation: Demonstration in a Free Sorting Task."

MORE NOTES ON MOST NOTABLE FOLKS

The death of GRACE WARD LANKFORD last week brought sadness to the campus. Founder and honorary chairman of the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition held quadrennially in Fort Worth and at TCU, she received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from the University last October during the finals of the competition at Will Rogers Auditorium. She was greatly loved and admired for her devotion to music and young people. She was a close friend and co-worker with many of our faculty and staff.

JOHN HAMMOND, EGYDIO ROMANENGHI, LUIS GARGIULO, GUSTAVE JUREVICS and BITA MAE HALL attended the South Central Modern Language Assn. meeting in Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 26-28. John gave a paper on "Mexican Religious Poetry of the 20th Century" and Egydio served as chairman of the Spanish-American Literature Section.

Several members of the M.J. Neeley School of Business will attend conferences next week. ALLEN SELF will speak on "Problems and Trends in Wage and Salary Administration" at the Southern Management Assn.; HOYT GIBSON will present a paper on the "Development and Pedagogical Use of Computer Games in the Sales Force Management" at the Southern Marketing Assn.; and Dean IKE HARRISON will present a paper on the "Development of a Graduate Program in Business" at the Southern Business Admin. Conference in New Orleans, Nov. 16-18.

Indefatigable Chancellor J.M. MOUDY just returned from San Antonio where he participated in a conference on teacher education and the annual meeting of the Texas Council of Church-Related Colleges, which he heads. Earlier he was in Georgia as a member of a self-study program at Atlanta College, sponsored by the Southern Ass. of Colleges and Schools. Nov. 11 he'll speak at the Student Center re-dedication luncheon and Nov. 12 he will be guest speaker at Jackson ville's First Christian Church in observance of that congregation's 75th anniversary. And then there's this week's Board of Trustees meeting on Friday, plus Homecoming. Whew!

Dean FRANK HUGHES of fine arts recently planned and chaired the annual meeting of the National Council of Fine Arts Deans in New Orleans. The busy dean also ^{spoke} to the Euterpean Club of Fort Worth on "French Impressionism."