THE CANDLES WILL BURN TONIGHT

Tonight we'll hold our annual Candlelight Dinner. It's a traditional campus event and the final social gathering of faculty and administrative staff for the 1967-68 academic year. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom with Chancellor Moudy presiding. VC James Newcomer will give the invocation. Entertainment will be provided by Violinist Kenneth Schanewerk, accompanied by Fritz Berens.

Two of our fulltime faculty will be honored. Board of Trustees citations will be awarded to Miss (Jimmie) Katharine Bratton, professor of nursing who has been a member of the Harris College of Nursing faculty since 1946, and Dr. James Henry Key, professor of accounting who has served as acting dean and department chairman during his 20 years' service at TCU. The citations have been prepared and will be read by their colleagues, Miss Lucy Harris, former dean of Harris College, and Dr. Jim Whitsett, professor of finance, respectively.

Recognition of retiring Evening College faculty will be made by Dean Tom Palmer. Those retiring are Mrs. Mary Camp (mother of Ray of our business office), instructor in English since 1946, and E. J. Wolff, mathematics instructor since 1943.

Two of our ROTC folk will be leaving. LTC Don Thompson, professor of military science at TCU since 1965, is retiring from the Army after 28 years' service. Maj. Ken Thompson, professor of aerospace studies since 1964, will be reassigned to an overseas post during the summer. Their stay with us is all too brief.

We'll also give special recognition to Vic Martinez, TCU's head chef for the last 43 years.

It will be a fine and memorable evening. We look forward to seeing you.

IMPORTANT NOTE TO ALL COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN AND FACULTY

Under our new constitution of the Faculty Assembly and Senate, a "Committee on Committees" will make nominations for all faculty and other appointive university committees. Though it sounds a little like Selby Evans' "form for the making of forms," the committee will be most helpful in suggesting the most equitable apportionment of faculty to committees.

The committee is headed by Paul Wassenich with Art Ehlmann, Comer Clay, Jack Suggs, Ken Herrick, Ben Strickland, Michael Winesanker and Mary Anne Lane serving as members. The group will meet on May 20 at 4 p.m. in Room 202 of the Student Center to make recommendations for committee assignments. They hope to accomplish two important goals: 1.) To relieve some faculty members from serving on numerous committees while others serve on none; 2.) To make an effort to relate the faculty member to the committee on which he or she would really like to serve.

To assist in this effort, each committee chairman is asked to provide the following: 1.) Send a summary of your committee activities this year to Chancellor Moudy with a carbon to Dr. Wassenich, religion dept.; 2.) Send to Dr. Wassenich a set of suggestions for retention and rotation of faculty on the committee you now head. This information is needed by this Saturday morning (May 18).

In addition, each faculty member is asked to send to Dr. Wassenich the committees on which he or she presently serves and the committees on which he or she would prefer to serve, in 1, 2, 3 order of preference. This information is also needed by Saturday morning.

Though every effort will be made to accommodate and abide by the faculty preferences, the Committee will work to achieve the best possible balance and to avoid having too many or too few members on any one committee. In all cases, the Chancellor will make the final appointment.

THIRD "MANAGEMENT IN ACTION" SESSION SET

Dr. James L. Hayes, dean of the School of Business Administration of Duquesne University, will be the guest consultant for the third program of the "Management in Action 1968" series. The May 22 session, to be held at Green Oaks Inn as the others have been, will focus attention on "Managing Technical People." The day-long meeting will begin at 9 a.m.

The comprehensive series of seminar-workshops are being presented by Special Courses Division in cooperation with the Fort Worth chapters of the American Society for Training and Development and the Personnel Industrial Relations Assn. Coordinator is Dr. Leroy Lewis.

SAVE 12½ PERCENT ON CASA TICKETS

You can save from 35 to 50 cents each on the purchase of tickets to the 1968 season of Casa Manana musicals by buying "Casa Chits" from the Student Activities Office, Room 225 in the Student Center. The 12½ percent discount will allow you to obtain a $2.95 ticket for $2.60 (good Mon. and Tues. nights), a $3.45 ticket for $3.00 (good on Wed. and Thurs.), and a $3.95 ticket for $3.45 (good Fri. and Sat.).

This season's musicals get underway with "Annie Get Your Gun" (May 20-June 1) and follow with "Half a Sixpence" (June 3-15), "Kismet" (June 17-29), "Oklahoma" (July 1-13), "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" (July 15-27), "Gypsy" (July 29-Aug. 10), "Camelot" (Aug. 12-24), and "Walking Happy" (Aug. 26-Sept. 7).

It's an excellent bargain available to TCU employees. Check with the Student Activities Office, Ext. 341, for further details.

JOINT MILITARY AWARDS CEREMONY SET

The 16th annual Military Awards and Decorations Day ceremonies will begin at 11 a.m. tomorrow (May 16), with Major General Francis J. Murdoch Jr., deputy commanding general of Fourth U. S. Army Reserve Forces at Fort Sam Houston, as guest speaker. The public ceremony, to be held on the ROTC drill field at the corner of Stadium Drive and Bellaire Drive North (in case of inclement weather, Ed Landreth Auditorium will be the site) will be in recognition of cadets who have distinguished themselves in military and academic activities during the 1967-68 academic year.

More than 80 awards to Air Force and Army ROTC cadets will be presented by high-ranking Army and Air Force officers, members of military organizations, industrial officials and TCU faculty members and administrators. The event, to include a military review, is being conducted by Major Ben E. Killebrew, assistant professor of military science.

LAST CALL TO RENT CAPS AND GOWNS

Faculty members who have not already rented their cap and gown for baccalaureate and commencement programs, May 26 and 29, should do so immediately. Please call in the information (size, kind, etc.) to Mrs. Marguerite Dycus, secretary to VC Cecil White, at Ext. 217.

1968-69 PLAYBILL ANNOUNCED

A musical comedy, the name yet to be announced, will open the 1968-69 TCU-Scott Theater Season with a Sept. 26-28 production under the direction of Dr. Jack Cogdill, theatre arts department chairman.

Of seven productions on the schedule for the department's 24th season, three will be staged at the Wm. Edrington Scott Theater. These will include George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," Oct. 21-26; Shakespeare's "Hamlet," March 17-22; and William H. Smith's "The Drunkard," May 12-17. Other dramas will include "Blithe Spirit," Dec. 9-14; "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," Feb. 10-15; and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," April 14-19.

Season ticket coupon books for the public are now on sale for $10 at the University Theatre box office. Faculty and staff families will continue to be admitted free.

BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS SEEKING TEACHERS

A representative from the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington, D. C., will be on campus Thursday, May 30, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to interview prospective teachers. The Bureau is seeking persons interested in teaching in the Kindergarten level only. A certificate is desired but not required.

Appointments will be made in all Indian reservations throughout the United States, including Alaska. The project is new and the future is very promising. Salaries will be comparable or a little above the present teacher salary levels.

Anyone interested in the program should register in the interview book in the Teacher Placement Bureau, Room 211, Bailey Building, within the next few days.

TULLY MOSELEY RECITAL TODAY

Though many recipients of the Faculty Bulletin will not read this in time to attend, we wanted to alert as many faculty and staff as possible to a recital this afternoon at 3 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium featuring pianist Tully Moseley, assistant professor of music.

Tully will play "Moreninha" by Villa-lobos, Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in B Minor" and Chopin's "Grande Valse Brillante in E Flat Major."

SMALL INCREASE EXPECTED IN 1968-69 FRESHMAN CLASS ✓

In her latest analysis of applications for Fall, 1968, Director of Admissions Anna B. Wallace predicts a small increase in the freshman class over this year's enrollment. The May 7 report shows a 6.1 percent increase in total applications with a 22.2 percent increase of freshman males, 1.7 percent decrease in freshmen females, 3.3 percent increase in transfer males and 3.5 percent decrease in transfer females.

Mrs. Wallace noted that we have seven applicants for our High School Summer Program compared with a final total of 13 last summer. According to the study, the number of cancellations of fall applications is slightly above the number for the same period last year. Most cancellations are generally made between June and August 1. New applications usually decrease during this period.

Looking at the total figures, we had 1,682 freshman applications as of May 6 compared to 1,546 in 1967 and 1,836 in 1966. Transfer applications are 410 compared to 434 in 1967 and 412 in 1966. Summer School applications are up by 68 with a total of 265. Last summer we had 197 applications at this same time.

$30,000 GIFT RECEIVED FOR PASTORAL CARE CENTER ✓

A major gift of $30,000 from Mrs. A. V. Jones Sr. of Albany has been received by Brite Divinity School for the new Pastoral Care and Training Center which is scheduled to open in September. The unrestricted gift is the largest received for the center, which will render service to both the public and the churches of the area while providing advanced training in pastoral care for students of the seminary. Rev. Charles H. Sanders II, associate minister of University Christian Church since 1964, has been named director of the center.

Mrs. Jones, whose late husband was a prominent West Texas oil man, has been active in the Christian Church throughout her lifetime, serving as a teacher of church school classes and a leader in the work of the Christian Women's Fellowship of Texas. Her children have followed her example. All are active in the Christian Church and include A. V. Jones Jr. and Jon Rex Jones of Albany, and Mrs. Bill Tucker (asst. dean of Brite) of Fort Worth.

Commenting on the gift, Chancellor Moudy said, "This gift is a major one toward the first three years of existence of the center. Few blessings received by TCU have arrived with so little fanfare as this magnificent gift, which assures the realization of a dream of having such a center on our campus."

TCU THANKED FOR COMMUNITY PRIDE EFFORT

A "Thank-U-Gram" from the education division chairman of the recent Community Pride Campaign for the Fort Worth Arts Council was received today thanking TCU faculty and staff for their splendid help.

TCU contributed or pledged a total of $1,217.50, well above the $1,000 needed for the University faculty to be listed among the "guarantors" of the Arts Council. The campaign is still $21,000 short of its $241,500 goal. Too few people of the approximately 400,000 residing in Fort Worth are trying to support the performing arts. Most would say that those who are interested in the arts should pay for them. Yet, all of Fort Worth benefits--indirectly and directly--as these fine organizations add to the cultural enrichment of our city. And in no small way do they influence many a family--or industry--to settle here. We should all give a little. Thanks again to those TCUers who are helping out.

PAUL STEVENS WILL SPEAK AT BACCALAUREATE

Dr. Paul M. Stevens, director of the Radio and Television Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention in Fort Worth, will be the speaker at the Baccalaureate Service, Sunday, May 26. The service will be held in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum and will begin with a formal academic processional at 7:30 p.m.

A graduate of Baylor, Dr. Stevens attended the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville and received his master's degree in theology from the Baptist's seminary in Fort Worth. He was a combat chaplain for three years with the Air Force, then served as minister for several churches before joining the staff of the Radio and TV Commission in 1953. He personally oversees all network television productions for Southern Baptists and the job has taken him to the New York Bowery, the wilderness south of Jerusalem, the Gum department store in Moscow and along the Nile River in Egypt--to name a few places.

Currently the Commission is producing 29 radio and TV programs, heard weekly by an estimated audience of 50 million. In the past decade, programs produced by the Commission have risen from 9,624 hours a year to 52,000--about 1,000 hours per week for both foreign and domestic radio and television.

TCU Chaplain Jim Farrar will preside at the Sunday evening service. Others participating include Chancellor Moudy, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs James Newcomer, Professor of New Testament Bill Baird and Assistant Dean of Brite Bill Tucker. Special music will be provided by the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Bev Henson.

Faculty and students will assemble for the academic processional at 7 p.m. on the pavement between the coliseum and stadium.

1968 HORNED FROG DEDICATED TO WILLIS HEWATT ✓

The women in his life had known it for months, but they managed to keep it a closely guarded secret that the 1968 TCU Horned Frog was being dedicated to Dr. Willis Hewatt. Though he has received many honors and awards throughout his distinguished career, this special recognition from the students of his beloved University is among the most meaningful. The announcement was made at last week's Journalism Awards Banquet. Horned Frog Editor Mike Adams read the dedication:

"The theme of TCU's 1968 yearbook is 'the University and the Fort Worth Community.' With this in mind, we have dedicated the Horned Frog to a man whose life parallels the success of both these 'worlds.'

"Texas Christian University has been a family affair for him from the start. He, his brother and two sisters wore the purple as graduates. When wife-hunting time came, he picked a pretty TCU coed, and they were married in the TCU library. When two daughters came along, our honoree started indoctrinating them early, and the result was that both are now wives of TCU faculty.

"After earning a Ph.D. at Stanford University in 1933, he turned down a fellowship there to return to TCU as a faculty member. Since then, he has been largely responsible for making TCU's science program respected nationwide. From 1952-62, he headed both the Biology and Geology Departments. In 1963, he was honored with the Texas Christian University Distinguished Alumnus Award. And at the end of this semester, he will begin a 'new' career, when he 'retires' as Biology Chairman and returns to full-time teaching with special emphasis on TCU's pre-medical program.

"His service to the Fort Worth community is equally impressive. He is founder of the Regional Science Fair here, author of a manual for elementary grade teachers, advisor for the TCU-Harris Hospital School of Medical Technology, member of the Board of Directors of the Fort Worth Childrens' Museum, organizer of the Science Lecture Series in Fort Worth high schools, a past chairman of Community Chest at TCU, a deacon at University Christian Church, and the first non-physician to receive an award from the Tarrant County Medical Association.

"In addition, he has authored or co-authored 40 scientific publications, been President and Director of the Texas Academy of Science, and been named to American Men of Science, Who's Who in America, and Who's Who in International Science.

"And so it is with great pride that we dedicate the 1968 Horned Frog to Dr. Willis Hewatt, a man who has served his school and community so long and so well."

Please accept our congratulations and standing ovation, Willis!

WE BREAK GROUND (FINALLY) ON SCIENCE CENTER

The long delay in beginning construction on the $7.6 million Science Research Center has been a cause of frustration, anxiety and waiting. Now, finally, after a thawing of government funds for the construction of many kinds of educational facilities and a wait-and-see concern over the current iron workers strike, we have at least broken ground.

A brief ground-breaking ceremony was held on the parking lot east of Winton-Scott Hall, Tues. morning at 10:30. Several demonstrations in elementary chemistry were performed by members of the Student Section of the American Chemical Society at TCU with the help of Chancellor Moudy, Board Chairman Lorin Boswell, Cooperating Architect Preston Geren Jr. and General Contractor Joe Smith of Albert L. Smith, Inc. Also on hand for the TV and press cameras were several Action Ambassadors (including our own Nick Rose of development) from the Chamber of Commerce; Research Foundation President Leigh Secrest; Vice Chancellors James Newcomer, Earl Waldrop and Cecil White; and Asst. to the Chancellor Swede Swenson. Assisting John Ohendalski of PR in preparations for the ground-breaking were John Albright and Clifford Venier, both of the chemistry dept.

If all goes well--and we may as well be optimistic--the Center will be ready for occupancy in the spring of 1970.

MORE NOTES ON NOTABLE FOLKS

ANN GOSSMAN of the English department has been invited to consult with the University of Toledo (Ohio) about its graduate program. She lectured there last Monday on "The Ring Pattern and the Structure of Paradise Lost."

GENTRY SHELTON of Brite has been asked by Cathedral Films to serve on a panel of five Christian education and radio and TV directors to evaluate proposed curriculum outlines for "A Strategy of Total Communication for the Church" to be used by the National Audio Visual Assn.

TELETE LAWRENCE, University speech pathologist, has received an invitation from the Federation of Hungarian Medical Societies to participate in the Semmelweis--Anniversary Week being held in Budapest from Nov. 10-16, 1968. The week commemorates the 150th anniversary of the birth of the great Hungarian obstetrician Semmelweis. Telete will present a paper, by invitation from the Hungarian Assn. of Phonetics, Phoniatics and Logopedics, on "The Hypertensive Syndrome: An Etiological Factor Relative to Functional Voice Disorders." She will also participate in a round-table conference on "The Problems of Nasality" and will give therapeutic demonstrations and conduct several seminars on voice disorders at the Institute of Logopedics.

Telete has been granted a leave of absence for the Fall, 1968, semester and will participate in the 14th International Congress of the International Assn. of Logopedics and Phoniatics in Paris, Aug. 31-Sept. 7, at the University of Paris.

A sermon by Speech Department Chairman GEORGE TADE entitled "Speculating in Futures" was published in the May issue of Pulpit Digest.

"O. Henry in Honduras" is the title of an article by MALCOLM McLEAN, AddRan assoc. dean, which has been published in the Summer issue of American Literary Realism, 1870-1910, one of the new literary magazines at UT at Arlington. Malcolm claims this is the most highly rejected article he's ever written and enclosed a note from Willie Morris, editor of Harper's to prove his point. Morris wrote that though he enjoyed reading the article, he felt it was just too remote for his readers. He suggested that it might be something for one of the geography or history periodicals and wished Malcolm luck in placing it elsewhere.

Psychology Chairman MALCOLM ARNOULT has been re-elected Graduate School representative to the University Council for the year 1968-69. This will be Mal's second year of tenure.

Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs JAMES NEWCOMER was guest on WFAA radio's "Closeup Education" program last Sunday. The 25-minute broadcast, hosted by Joe Salvador of the station, was devoted to TCU.

STILL MORE NOTES ON NOTABLE FOLKS

Sympathy is expressed to four of our faculty members who had death in their family within the past week: Mrs. R.C. (MARYLEE) NORRIS of speech, whose mother died in Austin; IRA SCHANTZ of the music faculty, on the death of his mother in Lubbock; Band Director JIM JACOBSEN, on the death of his brother, Merle, of Dallas; and JAY MILNER of journalism, whose brother, Ray, died of leukemia. Ray was owner of "House Doctor," a home improvement firm in Fort Worth.

ALEX HOFFMAN, Computer Center director, was one of 18 educators from 15 Southern states appointed to a new Council on Computer Centers and Computer Science Education and Research of the Southern Regional Education Board. The council will meet semi-annually. The only other Texas representative is from UT at Austin.

JIM KELLY of chemistry is author of an article with graduate student Sidney White entitled "On the Morpholine Borane Reduction of Acetone" which appeared in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society. The TCU Research Foundation sponsored the project.

HAROLD LUNGER of Brite recently gave three Bible lectures at the Kansas Convention of Christian Churches in Salina while his wife, Alberta, spoke at one of the supper sessions sponsored by the Disciples Peace Fellowship and the state Christian Action and Community Service Commission. Earlier, Harold spent three days in New York as a member of the National Council of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

Psychology Chairman MALCOLM ARNOULT was elected president of the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology recently.

Business Dean IKE HARRISON was in Miami last month attending an annual meeting of the American Assn. of Collegiate Schools of Business. Ike was elected to the board of directors, executive committee and as the representative of the Southern region of Beta Gamma Sigma.

A chamber music concert was presented at Jarvis Christian College, April 28, by TCU music faculty members RALPH GUENTHER (flute), KENNETH SCHANEWERK (violin), HARRIET WOLDT (cello) and CAROLYN RANKIN (piano).

HOWARD WIBLE spoke on "The Management Process," May 6, to some 50 managers attending the Executive Development Program of the Army and Air Force Exchange headquarters in Dallas. The group included managers from the U.S., foreign countries and regional headquarters personnel.

Congratulations to Howard and to VC for External Affairs EARL WALDROP on being made Honorary Bandsmen of the TCU Bands at the organization's awards banquet last week.
