

FACULTY MEETS PARENTS, 10 A.M. SATURDAY

As the first, and one of the most important, events of our "Parents Day" this Saturday, there will be a University Reception for all visiting mothers and dads in the Ballroom of Student Center, 10 to 11 a.m. It is most important that every dean and faculty member who possibly can, be on hand for the event. The young people have written their folks that this will be the opportunity for meeting and talking with their professors. EVERYONE who teaches is urged to be there for the "meetin'." Please don't forget.

Other events on "Parents Day" will include special noon luncheons by various student groups for their folks; a series of special contests in front of Student Center from 2:30 to 4 p.m. (including the gals' tricycle races); open houses in all dormitories at 4-5 o'clock; a special student-parent dinner in Student Center from 5:15 to 7 p.m.; the football game with Alabama at 8 o'clock.

Parents will sit in the student rooting section at the game with mom and dad cheering the Frogs as hard as the young people. Fathers of the gridmen will sit on field behind the TCU bench and will wear the same numbers as their playing sons.

"Parents Day" is a popular and growing event. It is most important to the University and the cooperation of the entire staff and faculty is needed.

FINE FALL CONVOCATION

A deep bow and "thank you" to all members of the faculty who took such a significant part in our annual Fall Convocation ceremony last Thursday. It was one of the largest processions for the affair (and looked real swell on TV, too). A few more students could have found seats but on the whole everything went very well indeed.

Dr. Lin D. Cartwright, editor of the Christian Evangelist, gave a very powerful address. He pointed out that religion is "terrible pertinent" in these days and that serious religious thinking is no longer passe on university campuses. Information Services has a copy of the address (if it's returned from the newspapers as requested) and anyone who wishes may read it over again.

DR. ELLIOTT TO SPEAK AT CHAPEL

Next Tuesday morning, Dr. William M. Elliott, Jr., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and pastor of the 4,900-member Highland Park Presbyterian Church in Dallas, will be our speaker for the chapel services. Everyone will want to hear him, since he is one of the top religious leaders of our area.

HOUSEHOLD BARGAIN AVAILABLE

Bonne Enlow reports that the Hoover Co. replaces consigned equipment in Home Ec periodically and offers the used products for sale at reduced prices. If any faculty members are interested, call Miss Enlow at Ext. 202. The only item available now is a Pixie Hand Vacuum - Retail Price, $39.95; Bargain Price, $19.97.

"ADVENTURES IN EDUCATION" TV SERIES

Lee Wilborn of the Texas Education Agency writes Pres. Sadler that they are highly pleased with the TV series "Adventures in Education." Anyone with a college degree may enroll for the course with the purpose of becoming teachers. In fact, anyone may enroll even if teaching now--or just watch the series to get an idea.

He gives Otto Nielsen a back-pat for fine help and asks the assistance of everyone in getting folks interested in the program. Some 18 stations are now carrying the show. For additional info call Otto.

OUR PREXY STILL POPULAR AT ACC

Art Wenger, new president of Atlantic Christian College, writes that our own Pres. Sadler remains about the most popular "ex" of that school. In recent balloting for grads to receive distinguished citations, Dr. Sadler received more votes than anyone--although it had been agreed that those who had already received honorary degrees from the school (as Dr. Sadler did in 1952) would be excluded. Incidentally, Ole Art seems mighty busy and happy--but we still miss him around here.

FRIDAY LAST DAY FOR "W" GRADE

Friday, October 18, is the final day for dropping courses with a grade of "W", Calvin Cumbie reminds. Thereafter, courses dropped will be assigned a grade of "WP" (withdrew passing) or "WF" (withdrew failing).

NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

JIM FARRAR and his charming wife got their feet wet for sure last weekend as they served as chaperones for the student trip to Little Rock. They are really getting into the swing of campus life--and work.

DAWG-GONE-IT DEPT.: Last week, Ye Bulletin corrected that mistake on the spelling of "yeoman" as brought to our attention by Karl Snider. Only we spelled Karl with a "C." We're gonna have to make a more yoeman effort to get things right else Dr. Snider is gonna lose faith in things.

ARTHUR FAGUY-COTE, designated as a "veteran" voice teacher in a recent news release, points out that he was never in the armed services--hence can't be a vet. He suggests the word "venerable" but somehow it seems much too old for "Faguy" who can still pass for a sophomore.

IKE HARRISON AND WARREN AGEE are still simmering over that "letter to the editor" that appeared in the Press last week. It called new Dan D. Rogers Hall "the ugliest structure in town--with the possible exception of that open sewer on the East Side. It is disgraceful." It was signed "A. K. L." Ike and Warren deny the charge. L. C. WHITE contributed the old saying (roughly translated): "In matters of taste, there can be no argument."

Dean T. F. RICHARDSON, who slaved through the summer months in Admissions office, is off for a short vacation to the "Smokies." Then he'll spend some time down on his ranch where he plans to brand about 60 head of young cattle he just bought. Incidentally, he reports we are already receiving between 20 and 30 inquiries a week about enrollment in January or next September.

If the Bulletin gets dull, blame MARY BETH SCOTT. After last week's expose in these columns, she refuses to tell the editor anything. "Blabber-Mouth" was the one word she spoke.

JOHN WORTHAM served as an instructor for a three-day seminar at Lake Murray to top industrialists in the area of quality control the first of this week. Nice work, John.

MAYBELLE TINKLE will speak to all the elementary school teachers of Arlington the afternoon of Oct. 14. Subject: PE for elementary children.

OTTO NIELSEN will give the keynote address at an Institute of Human Relations in Shreveport, Nov. 6. Quite an honor.

IRENE HUBER speaks to the "Daughters of the American Revolution" at 2 p. m. Thursday and to the "Home and School Association" of St. George's church that night. A very busy gal.

HAROLD LUNGER was in Memphis Monday for two addresses as leader of the annual fall retreat of the Memphis Ministers' Association.

KEN HERRICK will speak on "Making the Most of Life Insurance Estate" before the Fort Worth Business and Estate Council Oct. 15 at the Continental Bank Building.

JERRY KERBY of Business sends an appreciated note to Ye Bulletin Editor saying "thanks" for the Bulletin, the faculty luncheons--and starting the football game movies so folks with 1 o'clock classes can see some of them. He concludes: "We may heckle you at times (how true), but remember we are for you!" Thanks Jerry.

ALLAN MacLAINE will have a scholarly article on medieval Scottish poetry in the October issue of the Journal of English and Germanic Philology (U. of Illinois Press). The title: "Christis Kirk on the Greene and Sir David Lindsay's Satyre of the Thrie Estaits."

SEASON TICKETS FOR THE LITTLE THEATRE

DIANA HAWLEY, IBM operator since 1950, resigned recently and will be married to Mr. Van Foster of Beaumont, Oct. 12. She is the daughter of Dr. Wheeler Hawley, associate prof. of French at TCU 1948-1952. MRS. BETTY POLK will replace Miss Hawley as IBM operator, Calvin Cumbie says.

ERNEST LAWRENCE of Fine Arts will be in St. Louis this weekend for the meeting of the National Association for Retarded Children. Ernest is president-elect of the Fort Worth Council and a vice-president of the Board of Governors of the Opportunity Center.
