

SHAKEDOWN FOR THE NEW SEMESTER

Whew! After two hectic weeks of finals and registration, the campus settled down with a sigh after first classes of the new semester Monday. Maybe everyone will have a chance to catch their breath. Mabel Major points out that the first few weeks of a new semester are the easiest--when you don't know the students well enough yet to start worrying about their progress and personal problems. Could be.

Late registration continues through next Saturday as do adds and drops. Remember Feb. 28 is the last day for dropping with a "W"--thereafter it's a "WP" or "WF." It's only a short haul 'til Easter.

OOOoooOOO

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK FEB. 17-19

Hard-going Jim Farrar reports all in readiness for annual "RE Week" which is right on us. The theme this year is "The Christian In a Revolutionary World." Fittingly enough, the official pamphlet on this year's event has that striking picture of young West Germans attacking menacing Russian tanks with rocks. It is a revolutionary world.

Dr. George Earle Owen, executive chairman of the Division of General Departments of the United Christian Missionary Society, will be our speaker at three convocations in Ed Landreth Auditorium. They will come at 9 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 17; 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 18; and 10 a.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 19. Special services and discussions will be held in various dormitories. Teachers will hold discussions on some phase of the theme as they wish.

This is a very important event for the campus and it is hoped that everyone can have a part. It's a good time to discuss with students the great truths on which real wisdom--and education--are founded.

///

"PETER PAN" THIS WEEK END

On Friday night at 8 o'clock and again Saturday morning at 10, our Fallis Players will present a musical version of "Peter Pan" in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Our young people (about 60 members of the group) have worked very hard on the production and really have something.

Later, they'll take the show to high schools at Weatherford, Jacksboro, Burleson and Arlington. If you get a chance, see Friday night's performance. We predict you'll find it well worth while.

DOROTHY CLARKE LEAVES FOR KENTUCKY ✓

Dr. Dorothy P. Clarke, our visiting lecturer in history from Belfast, packed her books and left for the University of Kentucky last Friday. She wasn't happy at the parting.

"Everybody has been so wonderful here," she said. "I'll always remember Texas and TCU. Yes, I'd sure like to stay. But after the spring semester in Kentucky I'll be heading for Ireland. But I won't forget."

Neither will the campus that found Dr. Dorothy a very fine and capable person. We're glad she was around for a few short months.

!!!!*

FACULTY LUNCHEONS START

The first of the Wednesday Faculty luncheons in Student Center ballroom was held this week. The spring series will go right on each Wednesday until exam week. It's not too late to get in on the season ticket sale--and remember everybody is welcome just to come by on Wednesdays. The price is $1 per meal. Season tickets are $13, or about $1¢ a meal.

And don't forget the regular daily luncheons in Faculty Center.

(>(>(>(

COMPANIES ON CAMPUS

Placement Bureau reports the following schedule of campus interviews during the next week:

- Feb. 11--Jones & Laughlin Supply Division--To interview business administration and liberal arts majors.
- Feb. 12--Connecticut Mutual Life- Business and liberal arts majors.
- Feb. 13--Container Corp. of America--Business majors.
- Feb. 14--S. W. Bell Tele Co.--Business, economics, math and physics majors.

oooooooooooo

PAN-HELLENIC OPEN HOUSE ON SUNDAY

Last year, the various sorority chapters on campus gave a series of "open houses" for faculty and staff. This year, there will be only ONE. All of our groups will join together Sunday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock for a general "Pan-Hellenic" event in Colby Hall Dormitory. All reception and Chapter rooms will be open and the young ladies will be waiting most eagerly to show you through. There'll be refreshments, too. This is an important event and every member of faculty and staff--along with every member of their families--are urged to attend. Come any time between 2 and 5 o'clock. That's THIS SUNDAY.

RESEARCH RESULTS WANTED

Redbook Magazine is anxious to have reports of research in the areas of health, marriage, child behavior, religion, social relationships, community affairs and related matters. They're asking if any of our people have completed or nearly completed work in these fields. If you have anything that might fit the bill, let Info Services know.

XXXXXXXXXXXX

WOMEN'S SEMINAR BIG SUCCESS

That one-day seminar for women on investments last week was a huge success indeed. Some 292 women registered and the big conference room in Dan Rogers Hall was packed. Had to have extra chairs. Everyone was happy especially Deans Holsapple and Harrison who back the program planned by Paul Hastings. Only one sad accident (see Notes on Folks).

OooooooooooooO

HULINGS NAMED IN BIOLOGY ✓

Neil C. Hulings (BA 1953 and MA 1955) will return to campus next fall as assistant professor of biology. The announcement was made this week. Neil, now 27, is completing his Ph. D. in the Department of Oceanography at Florida State University. He married Ursula McDermott, a classmate from Lufkin. They have one youngster, 19 months old. It will be good to have the Hulings back on campus.

O**

87 SUSPENDED FOR SCHOLASTIC FAILURE

Registrar Calvin Cumbie reports that 87 students have been suspended for a semester for scholastic failure. All of them came from a group of 408 students on probation last fall. There were 98 who finished their degree work while others withdrew for financial reasons, transferred or took fulltime jobs. Final spring enrollment figures are expected to be just over 5,700. There were 6,105 in the fall but the spring drop is normal.

Incidentally, the 408 on probation in the fall came from three sources: transfers from other colleges, high school grads and our own former students. All of them had less than "C" averages and had only to make minimum requirements to make the grade. The 87 failed to do that.

OooooooooooooO

AD CLUB EXHIBIT IN FINE ARTS GALLERY

The annual exhibition of advertising and editorial art staged by the Fort Worth Advertising Club is now on display in our gallery in the Fine Arts Building. Judging of the annual awards competition was held last week end. Drop by and see the most interesting display when you get a chance.

INFO SERVICES EXPANDS SERVICES

Starting with the next issue, Information Services will write and edit the Ex-Student Bulletin. Bobbye Barratt (Mrs. Ernest who graduated in journalism as Bobbye Rheinlander in 1946) is the new editor. Her official title is "Editorial Assistant" in Info Services and she'll also be working on news releases, development pamphlets and in other areas. She brings not only new skill and experience but a whale of a lot of charm and beauty to Room 111 of Ad Building. All of which was badly needed.

Additional fulltime help (replacing some parttime student workers) has also been added in the Printing & Mailing Room (including the robotyper operation). Press of work in that area has been increasing steadily for several years. It is now hoped that Info Services can give better and prompter service to printing needs over the campus. However, restrictions on doing large "booklets" remain in effect and everyone planning projects involving printing and mailing is urged to confer with Director Helen Jenkins as far in advance as possible. Those who delay until the last minute cannot hope to get their jobs done by the next morning. The co-operation of all is solicited in this matter.

(((((((())))))

NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

MRS. A. H. ROSENTHAL, wife of our Evening College instructor in Marketing, suffered a badly broken leg in a fall down Student Center steps after the luncheon at the Investment Seminar of Women last Thursday. Both bones were broken in two places and she'll be in a cast for six months. "Rosy" is having to do a bit of ducking and dodging. He had insisted that his wife attend the event.

A 24-point "E" for effort goes to Dean JEROME MOORE. In the midst of all the bustle of registration last week, he also found spare moments to work on the final proof of the Summer catalog. "Sure, we have to do two things at once to ever get through," he grinned.

PETE WRIGHT was a campus visitor last week--watching the workmen tearing down old Goode Hall. Yep, he sure could remember when.

Congrats to MICHAEL WINESANKER on being elected a member of the Council of the American Musicological Society for 1958-1960. This is an exceptional honor and the entire campus is mighty proud.

HARTWELL RAMSEY of Ex-Students is preparing his annual report for 1957. It indicates increased support by our alumni which is very good.

The word that Dr. T. F. RICHARDSON will retire in September has been received with sadness over the campus. Since Sept. 1, 1943 when he came as an assistant in psychology, "Dean Tom" has been a mainstay of TCU life. He was made an associate professor and Director of Student Personnel in 1944; full professor and department head in 1945; Dean of Students in 1949 and Dean of Admissions in 1956. He has done outstanding work in every office. Can't blame him for wanting to have a little fun now--and he plans to get it ranching and doing other things he likes. We'll always be grateful for his wonderful service.