

FACULTY

BULLETIN

News of the Faculty and Staff

around Texas Christian University

VOL. XXXIV

April 30, 1958

No. 33

THE "SADLER LECTURE" NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT ✓

TCU will have its own "former Communist" on campus next Tuesday night, May 6. He's Leon Volkov, onetime lieutenant colonel in the Soviet Air Force, who will deliver the third annual "Sadler Freedom Lecture." The place is Ed Landreth Auditorium and the time 8 p. m.

The lecture will climax a program which will see Dr. Kenneth Wells, distinguished businessman and civic leader, present awards of the famed Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., to several Texans--one of whom will be our own Harold Lunger. Dr. Wells is president of the Foundation and a nationally known figure.

Col. Volkov is not as famous--or controversial perhaps--as SMU's Comrade Gates. But he knows a lot firsthand, having been raised in the Soviet tradition and being a combat flying officer (86 missions against the Germans) before parachuting to freedom in the U. S. Zone of Germany after World War II. His story was told by W. L. White in the book "Land of Milk and Honey" and in the Saturday Evening Post. Today he's a contributing editor to Newsweek Magazine and an expert on Soviet affairs to the State and Defense Departments. Reports are that he gives a terrific talk and will present some new material here.

The occasion, of course, honors Pres. Sadler. Previous lectures in the series were given by Palmer Hoyt of the Denver Post and Dr. Robert Storey of the SMU Law School. 'Tis hoped that every member of the faculty and staff will attend Tuesday night. Also, everyone will be grateful if you will urge your students to attend. Many of them will benefit from the experience and discussion. Please make plans NOW.

( ) ( ) ( ) ( ) ( ) ( ) ( )

RETIRING FOLKS TO BE HONORED MAY 20

The final faculty party is to be held Tuesday night, May 20, at 6:30 p. m. in SC Ballroom. At that time, we will honor the seven veterans who are retiring: Newton Gaines, Arthur Faguy-Cote, Katherine Bailey, Brooks Morris, T. F. Richardson, Hortense Winton and Hazel Woodward.

Reservations will be $2 per plate. The committee will get in touch with all members of the Faculty Women's Club. All others should make reservations through Mary Beth Scott at Ext. 229. It's gonna be a grand affair and everyone will want to attend. So if you or the wife aren't called, please give Mary Beth a ring.

MORE THOUGHTS ON "EDUCATION"

Thanks to the folks down in Education for a clip of an editorial in the Austin American last winter. Some of the pertinent observations:

"The era of the gentlemanly 'C' is coming to an end... Classroom professors are spontaneously tightening up on what they expect from their students... After Sputnik, the faculty has decided to jack up standards. No loafer should be allowed to take the place on campus of a serious student... The coasters are getting a rough time of it... Behind this sudden change in the good-old-college-days lies one word--competition... For the first time, American education has been forced to realize that totalitarian governments can and will produce highly trained students. For the first time, too, faculty men are finding themselves in demand as the crush of war babies comes of college age."

(//////////)

THE DEAN SMITHS SETTLED IN INDIANA

We have the report that Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith, the beloved dean emeritus of Education, are now safely settled in Indiana. The address: Kennedy Memorial Christian Home, 210 W. Pike Street, Martinsville, Ind. They will be delighted to hear from their friends and are anxious to keep in touch with goingson at TCU. Write them.

|||||

CREATIVE WRITING EVENT MAY 7-8

Two famous authors, Paul Horgan of New Mexico and Camilla Boykin Campbell, will speak during our annual Creative Writing Celebration May 7-8, Mabel Major announces. Horgan, whose two-volume "Great River: The Rio Grande" won both the Pulitzer and Bancroft prizes for history in 1955, will be the convocation speaker at 11 a.m. on Thursday, May 9 in Ed Landreth. During the program, Miss Major will present the Creative Writing Awards for the year, including the Bryson and Boswell Poetry Prizes.

Camilla Campbell (Mrs. Dan W. Campbell) is a former TCU student and a well-known writer of children's books. She will speak in the SC on Wednesday, May 7, at 4:15 on "A Modern Look at Yesterday's Heroes." She now lives in San Antonio.

With two such outstanding speakers, the Creative Writing event promises to be one of the best ever. Miss Major, long-time chairman of the event, has done a really top job on the program. Everybody is invited to take part and attend all sessions.

*-*-*-*-*

NEED TO RENT ACADEMIC REGALIA?

Faculty folks needing to rent academic regalia for Spring ceremonials are asked to place their orders in Mr. White's office not later than May 1. That's this Thursday so hurry.

SCIENCE OPEN HOUSE SURVIVES DOWNPOUR

Our Science folks can take a big bow. Despite a heavy thunderstorm (almost the exact duplicate of a year ago) the Science Open House went very well last Friday night. In fact, everybody thought we had the largest crowd ever. Many of the visitors were youngsters who showed a great interest in all the displays and demonstrations. A very good show.

*****

THE GREAT BASKETBALL GAME

If you haven't heard how a team of beatup old faculty members defeated the Delta Tau Deltas (Fraternity champs) in basketball last week then you're either deaf--or in Siam. Those guys are proud. We weren't surprised to hear that Johnny Swaim, Ben Proctor (once a gridman of some fame), and a few other youngsters did well. But when you're told that the likes of Gentry Shelton (Kentucky '03), Jim Brock (5x7), Col. Sanders (World War I), Jim Farrar (All-Brite) and some others not only played well but were the stars--then we give up. We didn't think Gentry could WALK to the fieldhouse, much less run up and down the premises. Latest report is that while a few muscles are complaining, nobody died. Lucky we guess.

'Tis said that Yell Leaders Larry Smith, Libby Youngblood and Estes Polk didn't fare so well. Some lost their voice--to the delight of certain students and wives.

)*****

"FRIENDSHIP" STYLE SHOW MAY 3

The Panhellenic Council will sponsor the annual friendship style show Saturday, May 3, at 9:30 a. m. in the SC Ballroom. It is designed to improve relations between sorority members and independents. Everyone is invited, including women faculty members and wives of members.

Faculty folks are also cordially invited to the Spring formal in the Ballroom Thursday night, 8 to 12. Four bands, including Glenn Miller's famous orchestra, will play. A fine affair for the young-in-heart.

OoooooooooooooooooooooO

"OEDIPUS REX" FILM HERE MAY 7-8

The Films Committee of the Student Activities Council will present the film version of Sophocles' tragedy, "Oedipus Rex," in Ed Landreth May 7-8. Exact times have not been set but there will be two evening performances and possibly an afternoon showing. The film is in Eastman color. Admission will be 50 cents. Directed by Tyrone Guthrie, it features the Stratford, Ontario, Shakespearian Festival Players. Douglas Campbell plays the unhappy king. English translation is that of W. B. Yates.

NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

Here's a new one. HAROLD LUNGER reports that he preached at the first service of the new Community Christian Church in Richardson last Sunday (week). It meets temporarily in the Wildwood Chapel of Restlawn Memorial Park. Says Dr. Harold: "I've often preached to congregations that were dead and didn't know it. But this is the first time I've preached in a cemetery to a congregation that was just coming alive!" He received some 65 members into the new congregation as a start. Fine work, Harold.

Didja see where W. C. NUNN was named first veep of the Fort Worth Good Neighbor Council recently?

JIM MOUDY was out two days last week with a bad throat. He suggests it's too late for contributions and flowers.

JIM SOWELL of Development was in New Mexico last week for the three-day meeting of the Christian Churches of Los Alamos. He was a principal speaker. Later he conducted a four-day stewardship campaign at the Sombre del Monte Christian Church in Albuquerque.

IKE HARRISON is on the loose again. The Business dean is in beautiful Gatlinburg, Tenn., for the meeting of the American Ass. of Collegiate Schools of Business. Recently he was named a member of the Directors of the Fort Worth Red Cross and spoke to the Fort Worth Security Dealers Assn. on "Concentrations in Industry." A very busy little man.

Also on the run: LAWRENCE HANLEY who served as guest conductor of the Arlington Heights Music Festival and as contest judge for the Oklahoma State Music Contest at Oklahoma State in Stillwater.

CALVIN CUMBIE attended the annual session of the American Assn. of College Registrars and Admissions Officers in Cincinnati last week.

(Wow--we have the "goingest" Faculty Family in the U. S., we bet).

DAVE PRESTON, whose silence was wondered about here recently, has reported in and how. Says the Ballet shack is rumbling, but too far away to be heard. Anyhoo, Dave gave his fifth lecture on Ballet to various city groups recently, judged the "Miss Fort Worth Contest" for the fourth year (one of our gals won, of course), is in the process of doing the choreography for a full-length ballet to be shown in Ed Landreth May 16-17, was invited to be guest choreographer for the new Wichita Falls Civic Ballet and is compiling notes to be presented at the Natl. Assn. of Dancing Masters in Chicago in August. Yep, Dave's been heard from.

CHARLES FOOTE will speak to the Fort Worth chapter of the American Institute of Internal Auditors on "Internal Auditing in the College Curriculum" the night of May 6.

NEWTON GAINES, who retires as Physics chairman this spring, will go right on working. He has been named head of the physics division at Midwestern University starting in September. Travis White, formerly of Brite, is president.

GLENN ROUTT of Brite gave three lectures on "Biblical Theology and Christian Education" at the annual meeting of Texas Fellowship of Educational Ministers this week. Marvin Smith, editor-in-chief of the Christian Board of Publication, St. Louis, joined with Glenn in a panel discussion of the theme.

Pendergrass, Paul      Haber, Gene      White, Jim

OFFICIAL ABSENCES April 30, Arlington State College

The following students were absent from classes Monday, April 21, for Southwest Conference golf match at College Station, with A & M:

The following students will attend the Sales Clinic in Denton, April 30:
Coody, Charles      Johnson, Jerry      Massengale, Don      Mackey, Frank
White, O. Ray      Kyle, Frank M.      Burt, Ronnie      Runyon, Ed

The following students were absent from classes Thursday and Friday, April 24 and 25, for Conference golf match in Fayetteville, Ark., with University of Arkansas:

Coody, Charles      Johnson, Jerry      Massengale, Don      Mackey, Frank
Pyles, J.      Kouts, Patricia      Tallon, Suzanne

In order to participate in a golf match in Dallas, with SMU the following students were absent from classes Tuesday, April 22:

Cooper, Lance      Jones, Bill      Roberson, Marshall      Neal, Alvin

The following students participated in a field trip to edit the Cleburn daily Times-Review on Tuesday, April 22:

Beckham, Pat      Champlin, David      Dallas, Linda      Fort, Harvey
Gould, George      Grimsley, Lee Roy      Hyde, Jerry      Marsh, Nelson
Perkins, Frank      Rogstad, Gail      Smith, David      Stanley, Doris Tipton, Richard      Wilkins, Gaylyn

In order to participate in the "Drake Relays" in Des Moines, Iowa, the following students were absent from classes Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 23, 24 and 25:

Douglas, Joe      Hutson, Jerry      Flores, Robert      Howell, Mike
Livergood, James

The following students participated in a baseball game in College Station and were absent from classes on Friday, April 25:

Banda, George      Childs, I. B.      Crow, Phil      Enis, Hunter
Franklin, Charles      Gonzales, Rody      Jones, Curtis      Key, Harold Newton, James      Harris, Marshall      Johnson, Billy      Pollard, Harold Rutherford, Charles      Read, Darrell      Reynolds, Willard      Shelton, Bob Selman, Joe Dale      Walker, Jim      Wineburg, Kenneth      Horn, Joe, Mgr.

The following students were absent from classes on the dates and places specified in order to participate in tennis matches:

Monday and Tuesday, April 28 and 29, University of Texas and Texas Tech

Pendergrass, Paul      Baker, Harlan      Cook, Gene      White, Jim

Wednesday afternoon, April 30, Arlington State College

Lozuk, Paul      Steen, Steve      Weiss, Olin      Hill, Doug

The following students will attend the Sales Clinic in Denton, April 30:

|                 |                   |                  |                 |
|-----------------|-------------------|------------------|-----------------|
| White, O. Ray   | Kyle, Frank M.    | Burt, Ronnie     | Runyon, Ed      |
| Morrissey, Jim  | Cole, O. D.       | Smith, R. L.     | McRaney, Max    |
| Crues, Dale     | Boone, Jerry      | Moon, Bobby      | Tottenham, John |
| Ramirez, Rachel | Snead, Dottie     | Pierce, Jim      | Dixon, Kenneth  |
| Sides, Ronald   | Henderson, Janice | McCall, Diane    | Johnson, Donald |
| Pyles, J.       | Koutz, Patricia   | Tullous, Suzanne |                 |

- 7. Student Activities Council Banquet (see below)
- 13--M. E. Daniel Memorial Service, Carr Chapel, 11 a.m.
- 13--Band Banquet, SC Ballroom
- 15--Horrid Frog Banquet, OooooooooOooooooooO
- 16--ROTC Awards Day, chronology on campus, Spring Sports Banquet, Ballroom, 6:30
- 18--Dave Brubeck Orchestra, Ed Landmark, 3 p.m. (final Select Series).
- 19-24--Review Week (closed for social events--to students).
- 20--Final Faculty Party, Ballroom (honoring retiring members).
- 21--Final Faculty Luncheon, Ballroom at noon.
- 23--Living Memorial Service, honoring four former faculty members, SC Ballroom, 3 p.m.
- 26-30--Final Examinations.
- 25--Baptist Service, Ed Landmark, 9:30 a.m.
- 28--Annual Ranch Training Banquet, Ballroom, 6:30 p.m.
- 30--Senior Tea, Ballroom, 3:30 p.m.; Commencement Exercises, West Campus, 3 p.m.
- 2--Registration for Summer Term I.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR MILTON DANIEL, TUESDAY

With Pres. Sadler as the speaker, we will pay a last tribute to Milton Daniel on Tuesday at 11 a.m. A "Memorial Service" will be held in Robert Carr Chapel with Jim Straz presiding and Dr. Lindsey giving the prayer. The Chapel choir will sing and invited guests will include the trustees, members of our various boards, friends Breckenridge and Fort Worth relatives. Of course, all members of faculty and staff are invited to take part. The reverent and impressive service will honor the man who played such a large part in the life of TCU for some 30 years.