TRUSTEES ADOPT NEW PLANS, POLICIES ✓

'Tis hoped that everyone saw a report of the Trustees meeting last Friday when many things of interest to the faculty were discussed. However, in the hustle and bustle of Homecoming, some points may have been missed so let's try to summarize:

Dr. Sadler recommended and the board approved of a variable teaching load of from 9 to 15 semester hours. The determining factor will be the amount of significant research and/or creative writing being done. Such research and/or writing must be approved by the departmental chairman, dean of college involved and the vice-president. To justify continued reduction in teaching hours, evidence of continuing research-writing must be provided.

In the area of salaries, the Board approved Pres. Sadler's recommendation of a "combination plan" that would provide a general increase for all as quickly as possible and additional increases where warranted on merit on a continuing basis.

Dr. D. Ray Lindley, who has been general vice-president since 1953, was named "executive vice-president." The move is a part of the plan to relieve Dr. Sadler of as much administrative detail as possible so he can concentrate his efforts in a few key areas of planning and development.

Dedication of our four new buildings was set for next March 5. A new policy on dorm reservations and housing was adopted. Highlights: No reservation fees will be refundable after July 1; after all dorms are filled, students from outside Tarrant County may be permitted to live off campus if the housing is approved by the parents and dean of students.

Dr. Sadler listed our building needs as: New classroom building, new administration building, an infirmary, an apartment house for graduate students and a fieldhouse. He predicted we'd have them "within 2 to 5 years" and said some financing is in sight for the apartment house and fieldhouse. When these buildings are completed, the President said we would have a "fairly adequate plant" for a student body of 10,000-- and "we are not thinking to build for more at the present time."

As we move toward the Ph. D. program, Dr. Sadler said that many needs have become evident in our present work. He listed them as: 70 more teachers at $560,000 annually; more library materials at $150,000 yearly; increased pay scale at $450,000 yearly; 60 more graduate fellowships and assistantships at $100,000 annually; 500 scholarships at $250,000 each year.

THE FINEST HOMECOMING YET NOV. 15

All those who have worked closely with the event for several years were agreed that last week's Homecoming was the best we've ever had. Certainly there were more old grads on campus than ever before--with some 43% of the class of '38 showing up (a new record), large turnouts for the reunions of Exes at Waco., class of '43 and '33.

Many folks deserve a warm back-pat for top performance: The students for their displays on West Campus and the snappy opening ceremonies Friday night; the ALL Vigilantes for the biggest bonfire we can remember; Jim Jacobsen and the band for outstanding performance in many events; M. E. Sadler for dignified crowning of the "Queens" (no smooching this year); L. W. Ramsey and his grounds crew; M. E. Doss and Bill Biggers for many things including traffic control; all Colleges and divisions that held coffees; Hartwell Ramsey and his Ex-Students staff; and certainly not least, Mr. Abe Martin and his Horned Frogs who capped things so beautifully by beating Baylor. 'Twas a great weekend indeed.

NEXT PSYCHOLOGY SEMINAR MONDAY NIGHT

"Engineering Psychology--a New Research Speciality" will be the subject of the next graduate seminar of the Psychology division Monday night (Nov. 10) in Faculty Center. There'll be a social hour at 7 and the program at 8.

W. A. Wilbanks, Ph.D. and Human Factors Coordinator of Bell Helicopter Corp., will lead the discussion. The Seminars are held at the same time and place the second Monday of each month during the academic year. Graduate students, faculty members (including Evening College folks), and interested colleagues are cordially invited.

PLACEMENT BUREAU REPORT

Raymond (Bear) Wolf, genial and efficient director of our Placement Bureau, has compiled his annual report and as usual the figures are most interesting. For instance, during 1957-1958 (Sept. 16-Aug. 31) 1,368 of our people registered with the Bureau--including 97 alumni; there were 1,162 employment opportunities and 686 accepted full or parttime jobs through the Bureau.

Requests to interview our students came from 75 firms. No less than 66 of them came (98 representatives) and held 621 interviews. The list of firms that came is long and impressive, including many of the top corporations in the land. This is fine public relations--even if nobody was hired.

Bear concludes his report with a two-year summary that shows there were 1,192 interviews on campus, a total of 2,309 registrations with the Bureau, 1,260 placements. It's a fine record indeed.

PLAN NOW FOR PARENTS DAY NOV. 15

Perhaps the most important event of annual "Parents Day," so far as our young people are concerned, will be the reception for visiting mothers and fathers from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. in S. C. Ballroom. At that hour, the students hope to be able to introduce all their deans and professors to their parents.

The student committee, headed by Senior Betty Taylor of Houston, is working very hard to make this event a big success. To do so, it will be most important that ALL faculty members be present the morning of Nov. 15. The young folks suggest that we be on hand in Room 210 at 10:15 a. m. to pick up badges and hear the general plan-- which includes grouping of faculty folks by Schools and Colleges in selected areas. 'Tis greatly hoped that everyone will help out in this event which is most important to the University. It's the day of the big game with U. of Texas, of course, so everybody will want to be here.

ANYBODY HAVE NEED OF A BABY SITTER ?

Libby Youngblood reports that several students have signed with her to do baby sitting should any of the faculty have need. Call her for names and rates.

OUR "LATIN-AMERICAN WORK" RECOGNIZED

A publication of the Hispanic Foundation, U. S. Institutions of Higher Learning offering Latin-American Work: A Tentative Directory, TCU is listed as 52nd in the nation (of 3,063 institutions) and third in Texas with 900 man hours of teaching per year in the field. U. of Texas is listed with 3,950 and U. of Houston with 1,140 man hours. The rest of the state's 103 colleges are below TCU in the listing.

TCU offers nine Latin-American courses with a distribution of regional geography, government, general history, colonial history, modern history, sociology, Latin-American civilization, commercial Spanish, individual reading and thesis.

BIG PLANS FOR OUR FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

Dr. Bruno E. Werner, cultural counselor of the Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany, has accepted an invitation to take part in our Fine Arts Festival next spring. He'll speak on campus March 8. The same afternoon our chorus and orchestra will give Brahms' "German Requiem."

Theme of the Festival this year will be "The Arts of Germany." Michael Winesanker and Walther Volbach are working hard on plans. Promises to be an outstanding event.

NEXT WEEK'S MOVIE ON THURSDAY

"The Wild One" will be the next movie in Student Center ballroom Thursday night, Nov. 11 at 6:45 p.m. These films are proving attractive not only to students but to faculty

NOMINATIONS FOR "WHO'S WHO" DEADLINE NOV. 11

As you may know, TCU has voted to participate in the annual publication of "Who's Who Among Students" on U. S. campuses. We will have a quota of 35 students for the next book. After much discussion, it has been decided to distribute our selections as follows: AddRan 15, Business 8, Education 6, Fine Arts 3, Harris 2 and Brite 2. No quotas were made for Graduate and Evening College but nominees from these will be considered within the quota assigned to the school in which they are doing their major work.

Now, nominations are needed in a big hurry and Nov. 11 is deadline. Nominations may be made by individual faculty members or student groups either directly to the Dean of Students or through the academic deans. Each School and College will have a selecting committee which will consider all nominations and make the final decision for each division.

To be eligible the student must have junior, senior or graduate standing; a grade average of 3.00 (new style B) on all work taken. Final selection will be based on the combination of success as a student as indicated by grade-point average and demonstrated interest in the departmental and other activities which support the TCU education program.

So, bearing all that in mind, EVERYONE is urged to give it some thought and nominate their favorites. But you'll have to hurry. Do it today.

MIDSEMESTER COMING UP ON NOV. 15

Tempus has fugited again. Calvin Cumbie calls attention to the fact that we reach the midsemester point Friday, Nov. 15. Midsemester reports on students doing unsatisfactory work are due in Registrar's office at 9 a. m., Monday, Nov. 17. Forms for reporting "F" grades are available in the Registrar's office and will be furnished on request.

HUMANITIES DIVISION TO MEET NOV. 12

Chairman John H. Hammond of the Division of Humanities reports that the group will hold its Fall meeting at 4 p. m., Nov. 12, in Faculty Center. The program will center around the "gifted or superior" student and how he may be helped to achieve maximum benefits in college. Due to speak are Louise Cowan in the area of English, George Crow in languages, Paul Wassenich on religion and Allan MacLaine on "An Honors Program for the Superior Student." Members of all departments of the University will be welcome. 'Twill take about an hour, John said.

NEXT WEEK'S MOVIE ON THURSDAY

"The Wild One" will be the next movie in Student Center ballroom Thursday night, Nov. 13, at 6:45 p. m. These films are proving attractive not only to students but to faculty folks--and their children.

CHANGE IN SELECT SERIES PROGRAM

Don't know if you saw the announcement or not but let's repeat: Our Select Series show "The Girl Friend," with Jill Corey on Feb. 5, will NOT, be held. The event was cancelled out by the agency.

In its place we'll have the very famous "Diary of Anne Frank" on the evening of Friday, Dec. 5. In many ways, it is felt that this show will be more interesting and exciting. It will be presented by a fine company. So don't forget to make the change on your calendar.

TOP TV FILM TO BE SHOWN THURSDAY

Thanks to Saul Sells, there'll be a showing of "Gateways to the Mind" in Student Center Ballroom at 11 a. m. this Thursday. This is the now-famous TV program presented by Bell Telephone Co. on a nation-wide basis some two or three weeks ago. It's the story of the human senses--what they are, how they operate, etc. Everyone who saw it on TV was most impressed and generally agreed it was the best thing in its field so far. All students and faculty folks are cordially invited Thursday and there's no charge, of course. Saul arranged to secure the film for us after being greatly impressed with the TV show. Don't miss it.

NOTES ON NOTABLE FOLKS

MARYBETH SCOTT was telling about the coed who dropped the red penalty flag on her boy friend for "illegal use of hands on offense." Spoke up Vice-President D. RAY LINDLEY: "Yeh, and I've seen some coeds who ought to get five yards for backfield in motion!"

SANDY WALL who presided as president of the Texas Conference on Teacher Education in Mineral Wells last week, reports that the event will be held in Fort Worth next year. Good work Sandy.

DR. SADLER, MARTINE EMERT, ARTHUR COURTADE and his Ranch Training students spent Oct. 27 at the famed Flat Top Ranch near Walnut Springs helping with a "field day" during which 1,000 visitors saw the work being done in soil and water conservation, wildlife and grassland management, etc. Charles Pettit, Flat Top owner, was the host.

WALTHER VOLBACH was in Amarillo last week for the Southwest Theatre Conference. Ditto CLEVE HAUBOLD.

Take a big bow MARGUERITE POTTER. She was informed last week that the faculty and trustees of Southwest Baptist College (Bolivar, Missouri) have selected her for the school's "Life Service Award." It's the highest honor a alumnus can win and Marguerite's selection was unanimous. The honor will be bestowed with fitting ceremony on Feb. 6. It couldn't have happened to a more deserving person, we say. Congrats!
