HOWDY

College... at last! Twelve years you've studied for it. Now you are here and probably feeling very much alone. The professors call you "Mister" and "Miss"... Sophs yell "Slime" and "Fish"... everybody is in a hurry and through it all you are no doubt confused ... right?

Well, the Student Congress has prepared this little booklet for you and your days here... it's to let you know what is going on and what to do.

Here are a few preliminary pointers...

A big part of your college life will be social, so the sooner you begin the more you will enjoy it. Don't be bashful about meeting new people. If you like his or her looks, step right up with a friendly "HOWDY," who knows where you will end up?

Where will you meet these people? AT THE FUNCTIONS, so make it a point to be there.

You will notice that the profs now address you as Mister or Miss. Sounds great, doesn't it? Well, what do you call them? A lot of them have worked hard to earn Doctor's degrees, so give them credit by calling them "Doctor." It flatters the ones who aren't and gives justice to the ones who are.

T. C. U. dances are usually informal, last from 9 'till 12, and more freshman go than upperclassmen. Remember though, the girls have to be in the dorm at 11 p. m. on week nights, 12:45 Saturday, and 10:30 Sunday. Don't get caught by the clock!

On the subject of being formal... don't. Nobody's formal around T. C. U. Everyone speaks to everyone else and you should too. Remember this, the one campus tradition that ranks above all else is FRIENDLINESS. Don't fail to speak to anyone.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

Howdy Week as we now know it resulted from the desire on the part of the student body to orientate the incoming students to the social facilities of TCU, a part of campus life as important, they thought, as the academic and religious.

As a means of keeping the friendly spirit alive among both old and new students, the name "Howdy Week" was chosen because of its western connotation, and because TCU is in Fort Worth, "Where the West begins..."

TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Texas Christian University is situated in a beautiful residential district in the southwest section of Fort Worth. It is less than twenty minutes' ride by bus from the heart of the city.

Fort Worth is a growing city of 300,000 population. As a railway, bus, highway and airline center of the Southwest, it provides quick and adequate transportation service. It is the regional center of many industrial activities, furnishing a laboratory for many kinds of university research. It has a large number of churches and civic and philanthropic organizations; its public educational facilities are widely recognized as superior both in curriculum and in physical equipment. It has many private schools, and three other institutions of higher learning.

The City of Fort Worth and the University attract many distinguished visitors and lecturers from all parts of the nation. Through the lectures, music clubs and similar organizations, artists of world renown are to be heard each year.

DORMITORIES

Foster, first of the new dormitories on the campus, was designed to be "the best in Texas" and to set a pattern for those to follow. Completed in May, 1941, at a cost of $300,000, it is named for R. Houston Foster, 15 years a trustee and chairman of the board at his death in June, 1941. It has 104 rooms and houses 204 women.

Waits, newest dormitory for women, was completed in November, 1947. It was named for Dr. E. M. Waits, TCU president, 1916-1941, and president emeritus until his death in December, 1949.

Jarvis, the oldest of the women's dormitories, carries its name over from a building on the original Thorp Springs campus honoring J. J. Jarvis, board chairman.

Tom Brown, newest of the men's dormitories, has 61 rooms and houses 126 men. It cost $250,000 and was completed in September, 1947. Its name honors Tom Brown, Frog fan and benefactor for many years and trustee from 1941 until his death in 1950.

Clark, built in 1913, honors not only the name of the founders of TCU, Addison and Randolph Clark, but also many other members of their families associated with the university. It has 74 rooms and houses 140 men.

Goode, oldest of the men's dormitories, was first built along with Jarvis and the Administration Building in 1911. Named for Mrs. M. A. Goode, who gave more than any person for its construction, the building has 42 rooms and houses 86 men.

FINE ARTS

Providing a "Three-in-One" arrangement, this newest building on the campus features the Ed Landreth Auditorium; three stories of offices, studios and classrooms of the School of Fine Arts; and the Little Theater, with separate entrance along the west side. Opened in September, 1949, it cost $1,800,000 and is the largest building of its kind in Texas, if not in the South, and is the only structure in the nation providing under one roof complete facilities for all the arts. The acoustically-perfect auditorium bears the name of the chairman of TCU's $10,000,000 building program, of which this building is a part—Ed Landreth, a trustee. Seating capacity is 1,623.

STADIUM AND GYM

Athletic plants at TCU consist of the Stadium and Gymnasium and a field house. Seating 33,000 in permanent concrete seats completely surrounding a "sunken" bowl, the Stadium, built in 1930 and enlarged twice since then, has often been called the most beautiful in the Southwest. While this compliment is a matter of opinion, it is a statistical fact that here are the best parking facilities (for 5,000 cars) in this area and perhaps in the nation.

The second athletic unit is the Gym; however, most athletic facilities, including track, baseball diamond and practice fields are adjacent to the Stadium. The basketball team plays home conference games at Fort Worth's Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, the golfers play at Colonial Country Club, and only the tennis team has its home grounds near the Gym. Built in 1921, the Gym serves primarily as headquarters for physical education classes. A new $750,000 Field House is listed among the urgent projects in the building program, and when it is completed, this building will be rehabilitated as a gym for women.

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Across the street from the north end of the campus is University Christian Church, which—while not an actual part of the University—provides an integral part of University life. It is the church home of many of the faculty and students and it sponsors one of the most active student organizations, the D. S. F. Built in 1933, the building has been enlarged this past year, with an additional chapel and educational building. The tower may be seen at different seasons from many points in the city.

Seating capacity for the sanctuary has been increased from 500 to 740 seats. A small balcony provides a foyer beneath, which the original building did not have. With its completion early this year, the University Christian Church has added another contribution in the beautification of the University's campus.

SCIENCE BUILDING

The latest addition to TCU's physical plant is the new Science Building, located just south of the Library on east campus. Scheduled for occupancy by the Spring semester, the building cost over $1,000,000. All science departments will move to the new and complete building, said to be one of the best of its kind in the nation.

ROBERT CARR CHAPEL AND RELIGION BUILDING

The Robert Carr Chapel will be built with funds contributed for that purpose by Mr. Robert Carr, San Angelo, Texas.

The Educational Building which is to be constructed in conjunction with the Robert Carr Chapel will meet the needs of both the undergraduate Department of Religion and Add-Ran College of Arts and Sciences, and the Brite College of the Bible, the theological seminary of the University.

TCU's School of Religion Building is to be constructed on the lots across the street north of the Mary Couts Burnett Library, near the Memorial Entrance to the main campus and Administration Building.

ACTIVITY FEE AND CARD

Each student taking nine or more semester hours is required to pay a General Activities Fee of $12.50.

This fee permits the student to attend all athletic contests, Fine Arts productions, lectures and concerts and religious activities without additional cost. It also includes subscriptions to the Skiff and Horned Frog.

Upon payment of the General Activities Fee, each student is issued a personal identification card. This card must be presented whenever attending any of the activities mentioned above.

If you should lose your card, report its loss at once to the Business Office.

STUDENT LOAN FUND

The Summer Congress of 1949 established the Student Loan Fund whereby any student in good standing may borrow up to $10 for as long as 30 days without interest. A 10-cent service charge is levied on all loans to cover materials and administrative cost.

All delinquent accounts are fined 25 cents a week for each week of delinquency.

The Loan Fund contains some $1,500 from various congress appropriations.

Administrator of the Fund is Mr. Curtis J. Firkins. Miss Ann Underwood is Loan Fund secretary.

PUBLICATIONS

TCU has two University-sponsored publications and two sponsored by Student Congress.

The Skiff is the official campus newspaper. It is published weekly by students of the Journalism Department. Subscription is free and copies may be obtained from any of the various distribution boxes located around the campus or from The Skiff office in Goode Hall basement, telephone 323.

Russ Hurst is Skiff editor for 1951-52.

The other official student publication is the yearbook, the Horned Frog. Any interested student may assist in its preparation. All students taking nine or more semester hours both fall and spring semesters are eligible to receive a copy of the annual when it is completed near the end of the spring semester.

The Horned Frog office is in Goode Hall Basement, telephone 240. Marlyn Aycock is editor of the '52 yearbook.

Student Congress-sponsored publications are the Frog Horn and Congressional Digest.

The Frog Horn is a free informational guide and handbook for freshmen and new students entering TCU in September.

This year's Frog Horn editor is Marlyn Aycock.

The Congressional Digest is a free monthly resumé of congress' activities. The editor for 1951-52 has not yet been chosen.

THE MILITARY

For the first time since the Navy V-12 unit left the campus in 1945, TCU again offers military training leading to reserve commissions.

Two branches of service are available: Air Force ROTC which specializes in Air Force administration and Army Transportation Corps ROTC.

Any male freshman is eligible to enter ROTC training and he will be deferred in the draft as long as he maintains satisfactory academic and ROTC standing.

The physical examination required for enrollment at TCU is sufficient for ROTC also. If a student successfully completes the first two years of training and desires to enter advanced ROTC, a separate physical examination is necessary.

Further ROTC information is available in the University catalog.

THE INFIRMARY

TCU maintains a complete infirmary in the east end of Waits Hall. Resident students are required to pay the medical fee of $7.50 which covers the service of the registered professional nurse, the dormitory visits of the university physician and such common medicinal material which can be supplied from stock without prescription. Outside doctor's services, hospitalization or other service beyond the infirmary are paid by the student.

TRUST FUND BANK

The Business Office houses the Student Trust Fund Bank. This service is free to all students and student organizations. There is no charge for handling the accounts, although cashing of checks is limited to the university area.

(For further information refer to University Bulletin.)

CAFETERIA

TCU operates a Cafeteria which is located in the basement of the Administration Building. Since most new students will board in the Cafeteria, here are a few tips which will help students get beter service and the Cafeteria give better service.

Hours of operation, which are closely observed, are:

Week Days		Sundays
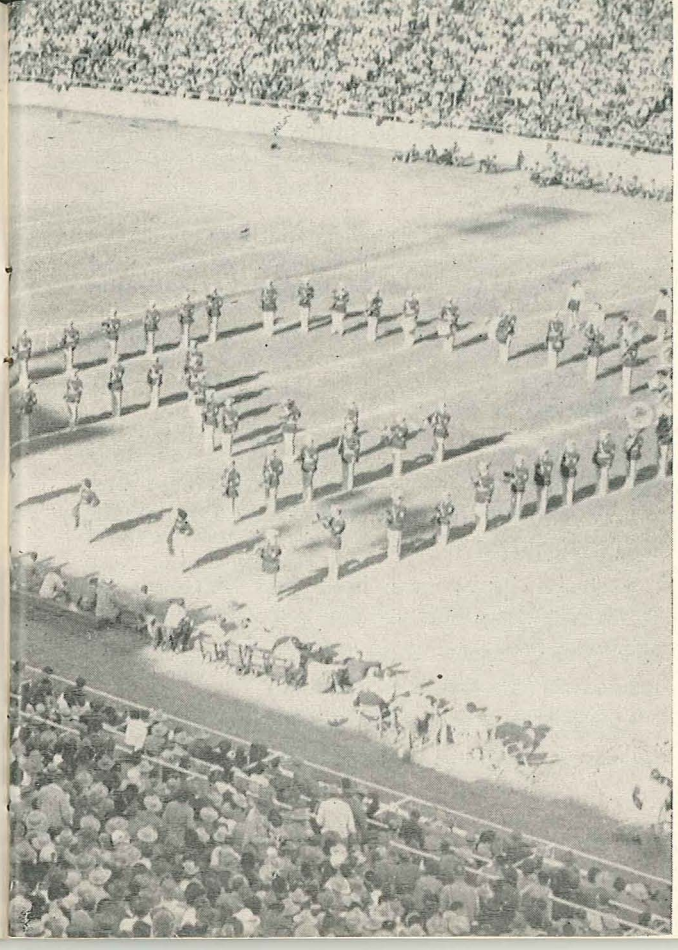
Breakfast	7:15-8:15	Breakfast	8:30-9:00
Dinner	11:15-1:15	Dinner	12:00-1:15
Supper	5:00-6:00	Supper	5:00-6:00

Boarding students serve themselves so that lines may be kept moving. Food allowances will be posted in the cafeteria so each student may know how much and which foods he may take.

Board for the fall semester begins Monday morning, September 10.



ACTIVITIES

FRESHMAN PROM

One of the major events in the life of a first-year Froggie is the Freshman Prom, scheduled this year for Nov. 10.

Flower salesmen, ticket sellers and busy telephones in the girls' dorm start the fun and confusion that ends with the playing of the last dance.

Highlight of the ball is the crowning of a freshman coed as Freshman Prom Queen, selected by a battery of judges at the dance.

Since the Prom comes early in the life of a student's stay at TCU, Big Sisters and Big Brothers are on hand to help find dates for those who haven't had a chance to get acquainted.

Freshman Proms have been held previously in TCU's fieldhouse, but this year it is planned for the Lake Worth Casino, where more room and a more ballroomish atmosphere is provided.

Although only one queen is crowned, the feeling prevails that each girl is her date's own special queen.

STUDENT BODY TRIPS

Each year, in conjunction with one of the out-of-town football trips, the students board a special train and "follow the Frogs."

On alternate years the trips have been to Texas University in Austin, or to Rice Institute in Houston. However, the revision of the football schedule to a week later last year resulted in the choice being the game with the Aggies of Texas A&M College.

In all probability the trip this year will be the traditional one to the state capital.

The students rise before the sun and laden with pennants and cowbells head for the special train. The next few hours are one constant pep rally. Here, school spirit is magnified.

Arrangements are made for central headquarters for the visiting TCU students in the host town, and a pep rally is held at some centrally located point.

The train returns that night after a social with the host school.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming arrives with the SMU football game, Dec. 1, the last and usually one of the best games of the season.

A week-long period of pep rallies, sing songs, and parades precedes the game on Saturday.

Highlights of Homecoming Week are the traditional downtown pajama snake-dance and quadrangle bon-fire on Friday night, the parade Saturday morning, and the game Saturday afternoon.

Thousands of exes return each Homecoming to the Hill where they enter into the spirit of the affair as fervently as the younger Frogs. Departments, schools and dormitories hold open houses where returning students renew old and make new acquaintances.

Contests are held among the various dormitories for the best decorated building, and a trophy is awarded the winner. Last year freshman barracks Y and Z took top honors with a joint display between the buildings.

INITIATION DAY

At some date during the fall, as yet undetermined, the gals of the Class of '55 will suddenly and deliberately appear on campus in non-Harper's Bazaar and non-Vogue attire. That will be Initiation Day.

That will be the time when young Froggettes behave as puppets with members of Leti pulling the strings. On Initiation Day, "big sisters" select the wardrobes from Salvation Army, Bundles for Britain, and Goodwill Industries cast-offs. These Anatoles of Paris will reveal to the world of fashion garbs like it has never witnessed before—except on Initiation Day.

Administration Building steps and sidewalks usually are toothbrushed, campus personalities receive kisses, serenades and maid service from these women of another world. Nose-propelled peanuts and oranges begin rolling on lounge and post office floors.

In the evening, these frosh girls appear before officers and members of Leti in initiation ceremonies. There they usually pass their tests and are transformed into young ladies, capable of their positions in campus life.

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

In December or thereabouts, the finer arts are paraded before the student body and townspeople in the form of the Fine Arts Festival.

Each year a theme or composer is chosen and all phases of the arts are worked around this theme. They have ranged from Bach to the modern era.

Several ensemble programs, faculty recitals, a play of the period and other programs are featured.

The art department displays the paintings and sculpture works available in the art gallery.

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN FESTIVAL

Each year for the past decade, the University Choral Club has presented a Gilbert and Sullivan Comic Operetta. Last year's production was "The Sorcerer."

The productions have been under the direction of William J. Marsh, noted authority on this phase of English musical life.

LITTLE THEATER

Students, by paying their activity fee, receive a season ticket to the plays presented by the department of Speech-Drama in the Little Theater.

About five plays, with the last one being an original world premiere, are presented yearly. Last year's schedule included an experiment in theater-in-the-round.

The Little Theater opened in 1949 with "You Can't Take It With You," and has included such recent hits as "Life With Father," "The Heiress," and "Three Men on a Horse."

Originals have been "Burning Embers" and "Crest of the Wave."

The summer season has included such triumphs as "Claudia" and "Our Town."

Each year a Shakespearean drama is included.

The Little Theater only holds some 225 persons, so most productions run for two weeks.

Tryouts are open to all students regardless of major.

AWARDS

Efforts are made to recognize outstanding contributions made by individuals through the various awards presented yearly.

The SKIFF AWARD is presented by the student newspaper to the student who has aided the student body to the greatest extent.

The UNSUNG HERO AWARD is presented by the annual for the behind-the-scenes work on the part of a student.

The GOOD PEOPLE AWARD goes to the choice of the publications editors to recognize some individual for being a "human being."

The GOUGH ORATORICAL AWARD is made by the speech department to the winner of the Gough Contest in oratory each spring. It is one of the university's oldest awards.

The STUDENT GOVERNMENT SCHOLARSHIP is awarded by the Congress annually to the person they feel has contributed most to the welfare of the student body.

Other awards and scholarships may be found in the University Bulletin.

FAVORITES

Each year the student body elects the three boys and girls from each class they believe to be their favorite students on the campus.

This year's election will be held sometime during the early spring semester with the Presentation Ball being held about St. Valentine's Day.

Much kidding and chiding has resulted from the idea of selection of one's favorite persons. Nevertheless it is one of the finest personal honors that can be bestowed upon a student.

When the Horned Frog is distributed late in the spring, the choice of the election is revealed for the first time to the student body. The secret of who the favorites really are is one of the closest guarded on the campus.

Accompanying the favorite selections are the exalted positions of Mr. and Miss TCU. This couple are also chosen by popular vote and results announced in the Horned Frog.

SPRING ELECTIONS

A noticeable air of tenseness settles on the TCU campus near the close of the spring semester, and there is a good reason: It's election time.

And at this time all the would-be office holders and political aspirants climb out of their "Holes" to renew old acquaintances, make new ones and "get out the vote."

It's old "Buddy Week" in action—all a part of the democratic process.

Offices to be filled during this election are the five cheerleading positions, editors of The Skiff, campus newspaper, and Horned Frog, the TCU yearbook; student body president, vice-president, and all congressional offices except freshman positions.

At the beginning of the fall semester, an election will be held to fill the freshman student congress offices, any vacancies which have occurred since spring and any class officers. Any incoming freshman will have an opportunity to file for office to represent his class on the student governing body, which is designed to give practical governmental experience to the students.

RANCH WEEK

Ranch Week! What a heck-of-a-time! After weeks of planning on the part of the TCU Chamber of Commerce, this annual affair begins to creep into Froggies like a fever, to explode sometime in March.

Prior to that blessed time, students elect their Ranch Week Queen and Foreman. Beards are grown by those who can and fuzz by those who can't. Pistols (water, that is) are brought out ready for another try.

The calendar is crowded with fun-packed events from the rodeo to the barn dance. Tarrant County Sheriff Sully Montgomery swears in the TCU sheriff who, in turn, swears in his deputies. Other Southwest Conference schools send representatives who are escorted by Chamber members.

Events include a barbecue, egg-tossing, sack-racing and other games on the quadrangle, a picnic, rodeo, and barn dance.

Everyone wears western garb and the jail appears on the campus, to become the center of attraction for un-Westernlikers, campus bandits and wrong-doers.

INTRAMURAL OPEN HOUSE

One of the top attractions on the campus during the spring semester is the traditional campus sports show known as Intramural Open House, which was started in 1934 by Prof. Tom Prouse, physical education director.

Everybody can't be an athletic star, but here is a chance for any student who desires to "get into the act." Events include boxing, fencing, swimming, basketball and diving.

A main feature of the show is the selection of an Open House Queen from one of the campus beauties. Any coed is eligible to enter the contest.

Besides the usual athletic events, which are top drawing cards in themselves, Prof. Prouse always comes up with surprise features for the program. Some of these in past shows have included a take-off on bathing beauties, enacted by "winsome" football huskies; a "Beauty vs. Beast" basketball bout; grudge boxing and wrestling matches; tight-wire acts; and a duel with electrified sabres.

Each year it's something new... and fun for all.

SWEETHEART BALL

Sometime in the spring, congress will announce the opening of nominations for Sweetheart of TCU for 1952.

Any girl may enter the contest and a preliminary election will be held. The five girls with the most votes will be candidates for Sweetheart and the Sweetheart Court.

At the Spring Formal at the Casino, the girl among the five with the most votes will be presented as Sweetheart of TCU. The other four will be members of her court.

As TCU Sweetheart, the lucky coed will receive a trophy and the right to represent TCU at social functions of other schools during the ensuing year.

She may go to University of Arkansas' Gaebale, to Baylor's May Day, to Texas U.'s Round-Up, Texas A&M's Cotton Ball, to Rice's Roundelet, or any of numerous other colleges and universities throughout the state which invite TCU to send delegates each year.

FAREWELL AND SPRING FORMAL DANCES

The two major social events of the spring for many Froggies are the Farewell and Spring Formal Dances.

The Spring Formal is usually in March or April, sometimes with a name band. It is at the Spring Formal that the Sweetheart of TCU and her court are presented for the first time to Froggies and Froggettes.

The last big affair of the year before buckling down to exams is the Farewell Dance, often the last college dance for many students at TCU. The Farewell Dance is informal and often features a name band such as Gene Krupa, Carmen Cavallero and others.

Both the Spring Formal and Farewell Dance are held at the Lake Worth Casino, a favorite spot of many Frogs.

JOURNALISM DAY

Each spring, journalism students have a special day of their own. ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

Texas Christian is blessed with one of the finest coaching staffs in the nation as well as talented youngsters from Texas high schools.

Football:

The head man of football at TCU was also head man of football for the entire nation in 1949, as president of the National Football Coaches Association.

Perhaps as significant as that honor, however, to sports enthusiasts in the Southwest is the fact that he holds the one-school longevity record in the Southwest Conference. The 1950 season was his 17th as head coach and 27th on the Frog coaching staff.

Both are all-time records in the Southwest Conference—no other SWC coach has ever been at a single school as long, either as head coach or as a member of the coaching staff—and probably in the nation.

Coach Meyer joined the staff of TCU in 1923 as freshmen mentor, a position he held until 1934 when he became head coach. As a student and coach, "Dutch" has served actively in Frog sports life for more than 30 years.

Meyermen have played in post-season bowls: twice in the Cotton, twice in the Sugar, once each in the Orange and Delta bowls.

Meyer has coached seven All-Americans: Darrell Lester, Sam Baugh, Dave O'Brien, Ki Aldrich, I. B. Hale, Darrell Palmer, and Clyde Flowers.

Last year "Dutch" signed a new contract for three years, and upon its completion he will have served 31 years as a Frog coach.

Assistant Coach Abe Martin has been at his Alma Mater in his present position since 1945. He spent the years from his graduation in 1932 to that year in most successful high school coaching positions at Lufkin, El Paso and Paschal in Fort Worth. Abe was on the Frogs' first conference championship team in 1929, and was a three-year letterman at TCU.

Basketball:

When Basketball is mentioned at TCU, so is Head Coach "Buster" Brannon. This year's basketball team will consist of all-senior members of "Brannon Brats." undefeated freshman team of three years ago, who also were SWC co-champions last year.

Coach Brannon is a former Frog himself, having played as a starter on the first Frog quint to win a championship, in 1931, and was all-conference in 1932 and 1933, and captain in 1933.

He returned in the spring of 1948 from Rice, where he coached two conference championship teams. Just prior to his return to his Alma Mater, however, he spent two years at the University of Florida as backfield coach in football.

At TCU he assists in football coaching as well as carrying head basketball coaching duties.

Baseball:

Baseball at TCU is synonymous with Coach Walter Roach. Coach Roach is synonymous with practically every sport at Froggieland, holding eight varsity letters from TCU and three all-conference awards.

He is head baseball coach, assistant varsity football coach and head freshman football coach. He was graduated from TCU, having captained the 1936 Cotton Bowl Champions and being a first-team end on the Sugar Bowl champions of 1935.

Spring Sports:

Spring sports at TCU include, as well as baseball, tennis, track, golf and intramural play. Tennis coach is Prof. C. A. Burch, Poss Clark is track coach and Tom Prouse is golf coach.

Mr. Prouse also guides intramurals to an interesting and exciting season each spring, concluding the season with the annual "Intramural Open House." At this time, various champions are crowned in swimming, boxing and other fields of athletic endeavor.

ORGANIZATIONS

ORGANIZATIONS

Texas Christian University has a variety of thriving student organizations designed to stimulate interest and provide opportunity for student expression in the fields of learning, service, and sports, all of which are a part of the educational process. Membership in these organizations is not based upon social standing, or mere personal preference of the members, and no society may be of a secret nature or order. The spirit of democracy prevails. All student organizations have faculty sponsors. The following groupings will show the variety and types.

Honor Societies: Alpha Chi (scholarship), Phi Sigma Iota (modern language), Alpha Psi Omega (dramatic), Ampersand (senior women), Pi Kappa Delta (debating), Sigma Tau Delta (English), Pi Gamma Mu (social science), Mu Phi Epsilon (music), Phi Mu Alpha Simphonia (music).

Department Clubs:

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The purpose of the American Chemical Society is to help the students of chemistry become familiar with the advancements and possibilities in the field of chemistry.

Organization meetings consist of working more closely together in practical work in the field rather than the necessary theories of the classroom.

Membership is restricted to chemistry majors from the school of AddRan College of Arts and Sciences.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Members of the TCU Chapter of the Association for Childhood Education direct their interests toward the teaching and training of children, visiting schools throughout the city, attending various lectures and sponsoring speakers who have something of value to contribute to the club. At least one philanthropic project is planned during the year to bring happiness to some group of underprivileged children.

BRUSHES CLUB

Artists of the campus meet with the Brushes Club. Together they receive backgrounds, social as well as artistic, and practical work other than that of the classrooms of the department of art in the School of Fine Arts.

To further the principles of art, and to strive for greater cooperation between the students of art and perfection in their chosen fields are the goals of the Brushes Clubbers. Membership is limited to majors and minors in art.

Year's activities include addresses from various authorities in the art fields, exhibits of painting, sculpturing and ceramics of members in the gallery at the Fine Arts Building.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Open to women students majoring or minoring in the School of Business, the Business and Professional Women's Club was organized to develop a professional interest in the opportunities open to women in this field.

A series of parties and banquets are sponsored each year for the enjoyment of the members.

J. WILLIARD RIDINGS PRESS CLUB

The purpose of the club is to promote the acquaintance of all students on the campus who plan to make journalism their life work, and to sponsor professional journalists' visits to the club.

Membership is open to freshmen interested in and upper classmen majoring in journalism. The organization is named after J. Williard Ridings, late head of the journalism department.

TCU CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Junior and senior men majoring in the School of Business are eligible for membership in the TCU Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of the organization is for the students of the business school to become better acquainted and gain a working knowledge of the chamber of commerce idea. They strive to locate positions for its members and to serve as a council guiding the social affairs of the school of business.

Throughout the football season, members of the chamber spent countless hours in the drug, lounge, classes and other campus points selling the pep ribbons: "Lasso the Steers," etc. Proceeds from these purple-printed white ribbons go toward the general budget of the Chamber, and is spent, in return, on the student body in the annual Ranch Week celebration in the spring.

PARABOLA

The Parabola Club was founded on the campus in 1928. Its purpose is to stimulate interest for mathematic majors and to provide interesting topics for discussion.

Membership is open to those students who have completed their freshman math courses and who have an active interest in mathematics.

Meetings are held monthly on the last Friday of the month.

Activities include an open house for mathematics exes during the homecoming celebration and the annual Christmas Party.

Each spring the membership attends a banquet.

LOS HIDALGOS

Members of Los Hidalgos are interested, first, in bringing its members together in social and intellectual intercourse; second, in keeping close touch with college life; and third, in encouraging the speaking of good Spanish by the members.

Membership is open to anyone interested in the purpose of the organization, but he must have had at least one year of college or two years of high school Spanish.

Meetings are held twice monthly from October through May.

TCU ACCOUNTANTS SOCIETY

The Texas Christian University Accountants Society, founded in 1948, is an honorary organization to encourage and foster the ideal of service as the basis of the accounting profession. It promotes the study of the accounting profession. It also acts as a medium between professional men, instructors, students, and others who are interested in the development of the study or profession of accountancy.

TCU CHAPTER OF CHI BETA

Home economics majors and minors form themselves into the TCU chapter of Chi Beta.

As goals, they have set for themselves to foster high ideals of and appreciation for the home life, to develop personality, poise and initiative and to encourage leadership and professional interest in the various fields of home economics.
