BAYLOR DIES HARD!

Old Time Pepper And Timely
Hitting with Good Pitching Brings Victory.

BOTH FAST AND HARD GAMES

Score 5 to 2 in First and 4 to 2 in Second Game.

With the "old-time pepper" both on the field and in the grandstand, T. C. U. took both games of Wednesday and Thursday's series from their old rival, Baylor. Sensational fielding, timely hitting and excellent pitching featured both victories. As usual, Baylor's "boneheads" and "beefing" accompanied their hard death. The umpire seemed to be their chief target in the second game, who was clearly square in his decisions according to the judgment of the visiting spectators.

The score of the first game was 5 to 2 for our boys, all of whom played a fast and heady game. Individual stars were Shomaker, Bussey, Campbell and Parks, and Danjel for assists. Batteries were Daniel and Hopkins.

The second victory was at a 4 to 2 rate, featured by close plays and good team work. Campbell pitched five innings of excellent ball and was relieved by Daniel, that he might take short and thereby strengthen the infield. Hopkins caught a good game and remained throughout the contest, despite the fact that he was badly spiked in the sixth inning.

Full report of the game will be made next issue.

FACULTY CONCERT.

Last week the concert by the T. C. U. music faculty, which was announced in the Skiff, was given in the auditorium. It was one of the most notable musical affairs of the year. Some of the people from the city were kept away on account of the stormy weather, but a good number were present, who, with the university people, received heartily every number of the following program:

- Praeludium, Allegro..... Pugnani-Kreisler
Miss Ault.
- a. The Young Nun.....Schubert
- b. To Music.....Schubert
- c. 'Twas April.....Nevin
Mr. Cuprien.

Misses Ault and Mr. Techau.

Let's get together and have a big Sunday School in the park next Sunday.

An offer from a moving picture concern to take action pictures of the Chicago-Minnesota game on Northrop Field, November 4, was emphatically turned down because Coach Williams protested that his plays would be revealed to the other Conference coaches.

FRIDAY'S GAME HARD FOUGHT

Better Hitting Than on Thurs.
Stands to Credit of Varsity.

Varsity slipped again in the percentage column as a result of her two engagements Thursday and Friday with the heavy hitting and clever fielding farmer squad from College Station. Varsity put up a nice effort in each contest but failed several times in the critical moments to deliver that which seemed to be more than plentiful when not needed. The A. & M. squad was more fortunate in being able to spot their work better and get through the dark places safely. Though we doubt them being pennant winners this season, A. & M. has presented the best team that our boys have met, so far.

First Game.

Thursday's game was a nice exhibition of baseball after the second inning. The sections preceding this line of division, however, were rather disastrous to T. C. U. as the visitors opened up early and registered nine points seemingly before Campbell and Hopkins got warmed up. The feat—

"TEXAS UNDER SIX FLAGS"

Society is Favored With Lecture from Prof. Roberts.

At the Roberts Literary Society Wednesday evening of last week Prof. Chas. H. Roberts, Principal of the Academy Department of T. C. U., for whom the society was named, delivered a rarely instructive lecture on the above subject. Prof. Roberts had before him maps and charts of battles, large plates showing the different flags and other illustrations, all of which added interest to the well arranged lecture.

The speaker gave many interesting incidents relating to the history of each separate flag and of the patriotic women and societies that made them for the different regiments. This necessarily included a complete survey of early Texas history, which could not but be much appreciated. A specially interesting point was the graphic description given of the battle of San Jacinto. The audience also enjoyed the tributes paid to the heroes of Texas history.

The address as a whole was a rare collection of interesting and instructive material. It was much enjoyed because of this and by reason of the splendid way in which it was delivered. Every Texas citizen, and especially student, should have such an outline of important Texas events well fixed in mind. For this reason it is hoped that Prof. Roberts can be constrained to deliver his lecture in chapel exercises.

OLD FRIEND AT CHAPEL.

Tuesday morning an old friend of the institution in the person of J. W. Marshall, who had often previously visited T. C. U., favored the students with a short talk at chapel. The speaker gave much evidence of genuine humor even in dealing with such a topic as "Be Happy by Making Others Happy," and what he had to say was very acceptable. His illustrations were interesting, to the point, and often full of humor.

DR LYON HOLDS A REVIVAL

A Little Church Awakened
and Many Additions Secured

At Riverside Dr. Lyon, of the T. C. U. faculty, held a two weeks' revival meeting. In spite of the fact of the death of two people in the community with meningitis very early in the meeting, which caused the schools to close and kept the people away from the meeting until near the close, the meeting was a rare success. Thirty-five additions were made to the church and twenty-eight of these were secured on the closing day, which was last Sunday. Twenty-seven out of the total number were grown people and twenty of them heads of families. Leading business men, some professional men and railroad men were among the number reached by the revival. Besides these marks of success the church was entirely relieved from financial embarrassment and left in a splendid condition.

The pastor of this church is Rev. S. W. Hutton, a T. C. U. graduate of '11, who has long been a close friend of Dr. Lyon. By hard work Dr. Lyon was able to carry on his classroom work in the university throughout the meeting.

TO THE PARK SUNDAY.

Some time ago the Sunday School planned for a big day at the park, but rain interfered. Another program has been arranged for such an occasion, and it is the plan of the committee to devote about an hour after we reach the park to a study of topics taken from Jesus' sermon on the mount, Matt. 5:1-12. There will be several well prepared addresses on selected subjects, and good music.

The bells will be rung as heretofore, the first at twenty and the second at five minutes before 9 o'clock. Then at 9 the students will meet in front of the administration building and proceed to Forest Park.

A new system for the fraternity houses is being considered at Northwestern. It is planned to have the houses form a part of a model campus and their architecture has been worked out with that end in view.

SOPHS AWARDED TROPHY

Good Material Shows Up for Next Year's Athletics.

That long-talked-of field meet was held Monday afternoon and was greatly enjoyed by those few that were fortunate enough to have time to attend. Quite naturally, of course, since T. C. U. has always had such strong track teams and so many of them, most of the student body thought itself bored by the opportunity of attending this trite event, and hence the size of the crowd that came out to support their favorites. Interest among the classes ran high and loud and lusty raucous were to be heard from all corners of the grandstand ringing across the field to encourage all entries.

Alvin M. Street, a popular young brunette hailing from Goldthwaite, won first honors and received the gold medal on a score of 19 points. Street is a husky individual of congenial disposition and has been doing such consistent training that his victory was neither a surprise nor a disappointment to even his opponents. Street was a representative of the Sophomore class and took many points for the 1914 hopefuls. He also looked good to those who are now considering football prospects for next season.

Perry Johnson of Groom, entering as Prep, took second place and was awarded the silver medal on a score of 18. Johnson had been very modest in expressing his hopes of winning, and his strength was rather a surprise to even his best friends. His work was clean and sportsmanlike, and had he been assisted by others from the Preps, the Sophs would probably have been given a more interesting contest.

Frederick Simpson, another sprightly Soph, who claims Snyder, Okla., as

WHERE'S THE RESPONSIBILITY?

The government of this nation provides for leaders, whom we call President, Congressmen, Governors, Attorney Generals, etc. These men have a certain responsibility. They must see that things are done as the will of the people want them to be done. But not one of these leaders will promise under any circumstances to make his department a success unless the people will do their part. In fact, no honest and sincere man will accept a public office unless he thinks there is sufficient power in the public opinion back of him to make his administration a success. In other words, these leaders recognize that they are absolutely helpless in the task of bettering conditions in any way, without the solid support of their constituents. Yet the American people have fallen into the habit of directing their attention to these national affairs once every four years and electing a set of leaders, then turning blindly to the "pursuit of their favorite phantom" as if these men could alone attend to the national business. The great mass of people feel that they are not responsible for the graft in Washington, for the want of the slums, nor for the high cost of living. And feeling thus they are irresponsible. They respond to no call of duty to society.

Now, upon a little analysis this very evil will be found to exist in T. C. U., and doubtless in most any other school you might examine. In our democracy we elect certain leaders for directing the work in the various organizations. And at these elections we often go so far as to make long speeches to say that we must co-operate with our leaders if we expect to accomplish the things we have in mind. But we immediately leave the assembly hall, think no more of the matter until we hear the cry of distress from the director of the affair which we have chosen. For example, one, and probably more than one, organization in T. C. U. recently elected an editor-in-chief for a special number of the Skiff, and gave him power to appoint his staff. Many of those appointed failed to respond, while others took exceptions to criticisms of their literary efforts, backed off and sat down. The special issue was published and it was classified by readers as "good," but a few did all the work. More than that, the paper was certainly not as good, not as fully representative, as it would have been had each article been written by a different person, the editor having planned the work and overlooked and corrected that which was written. But those who should have done the work utterly lacked any feeling of responsibility in the do in regard to affairs of government.

After all, the big man with the title is merely a tool to be used by the majority. The ultimate responsibility lies upon the shoulders of the citizen or upon the ordinary member of the society or class as the case may be. This responsibility cannot be shifted from the members of the Y. M. C. A. by meeting periodically and electing a president and staff of officers. The ordinary citizens of the United States create the President and therefore are responsible for the acts of this public servant and hold an ultimate power over and above him. So it is with the various classes in T. C. U. The reason that many of our organizations are merely alive in name, but lack accomplishment, it seems, lies just at this point. The ordinary members are too much like the ordinary citizen—they don't appreciate their own responsibility.

Such a situation must certainly be remedied in the smaller democracy, the home and the school, before any notable success can be attained toward its betterment by the nation.

Y. W. C. A. SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE.

Some very enthusiastic work in Y. W. C. A. is being done by the Social Service Committee in its efforts to raise a Students' Loan Fund. They realize that each year there is some girl that is anxious to advance her education, but is prevented on no other account than financial affairs. This committee has as its express purpose the raising of this fund, and each member is putting forth her greatest effort to secure the required amount. By the end of the school year it is hoped that money will be ready for some girl to use.

Several different plans for raising this fund are being exercised by the committee, and they are expecting the co-operation of all that are interested in such work.

They are planning to give an ice cream supper on the campus as soon as warm weather and moonlight nights come, the proceeds from which is to add to this Students' Loan Fund. Keep a watch for the announcement later. It is sure to be an evening of social pleasure, and at the same time you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your money spent is to be used for a good cause. Keep in mind the ice cream supper.

PHILOSOPHERS PICNIC.

A most enjoyable picnic was experienced by Prof. Exley's one-thirty and two-thirty Philosophy classes Thursday afternoon and evening. The little company of twelve left for the park at four-thirty, carrying with them an excellent dinner that had been arranged by some members of the class, namely, Misses Starkey and Hackney and Mr. Lindley Wood.

A crowd of children could not have manifested more inclination for play than those philosophers. Of course the girls made first for the swing and there remained until the poor boys had exhausted most all their strength. Mr. Dean, who was always full of direct suggestions, proposed a mountain climb, to which every one immediately responded, taking hand and surmounting the most difficult and rocky places. Jolly games were played until the sophisticated Starkey announced it was time to prepare the evening meal. No one needed a second call, but lent a helping hand immediately. It was a dinner "fit for the gods." We ate and ate, and still there was some to bring home in the basket. No—tomatoes went very fast—there were none left to bring back. And somehow the bananas very suddenly and mysteriously disappeared from the table. Three, however, were found in Prof. Exley's pocket.

The real pleasure did not end here. After a few interesting games, such as "Drop the Handkerchief," etc., a suggestion was given that we all take a tramp across the country to the river. Soon we arrived at the most beautiful spot on the river. And a rest was necessary, which was made pleasant by lively jokes from different ones. On the way back to the park, a nice open space with plenty of beautiful green grass was so inviting that the jolly twelve again seated themselves in a circle, ready for more jokes. It was decided that Prof. Exley should begin a story, which would be taken up by Miss Weiland, who was sitting next to him, then passed to the next one, and so on until the twelve had contributed to the story. When completed it ran as follows: An Englishman, endowed with a manly character, decided to come to America. For lack of financial means he was forced to leave behind him his aged mother and devoted sweetheart, declaring that as soon as possible he would send for them. He arrived in New York, and with the aid of letters of recommendation from his friend in England he secured a well-paying position.

However, he soon decided that money was not coming in as quickly as he would like, so he goes to the gold mines of California, there discovers an immense amount of gold, and stores it away in his little log cabin. He is now ready to send for his loved ones, so he goes to a near-by village to send a telegram for them to make speedy arrangements. On returning he goes to count up his fortune, but finds that it has all been taken. Suspicion fell on a supposed Mexican that seemed to be constantly spying, but it was none other than a jealous lover of this same girl, who had followed this man all the way to America to secure his revenge.

The girl, losing confidence on account of the letters from her lover failing to come, sails to America and lands on the western shore, supposing her fiancée to be on the eastern. There, in California, she secures a position as teacher. By chance she and this man meet and are happily married.

After arriving at the park no one seemed to be ready to return, and it was with reluctance that we turned toward T. C. U. about 9 o'clock. But each one felt that it had been the most enjoyable evening that they had ever spent.

STUDENT SELF-GOVERNMENT.

(From the New York Times.)
Stanford University, Cal., March 30.—By a majority of 500 votes the men of the university have decided for self-government by means of a student committee of five. The victory for the self-government forces was so decisive that no trouble is anticipated in inaugurating the new order of things.

The council of five is to be chosen by a larger body of thirty men. This larger group is elected by members of the different departments who possess fifty hours of the one hundred and twenty required for graduation, the representation being on the basis of enrollment in the departments, a system similar to the congressional districts in the nation. Student control is to go into effect immediately and the faculty is preparing to step down and give up the rule to the students. The change has been agitated for a long time, but only recently was action taken and there is much expected of the new system for many other colleges are using it with great success.

The students of George Washington University gave a "Cherry Tree" ball, the proceeds of which will be used in the publication of the college annual.

A goodly sum was subscribed Wednesday by T. C. U. students to the China Relief fund. The money will be forwarded immediately by Prof. Sutton to the missionary authorities to be used for the relief of the starving Chinese.

Douglas E. Tomlinson visited his brother and other friends at the university Monday. Tomlinson was on his return trip from the University of Missouri, here he appeared in a debate, representing the Texas State University. The State U. team won, by unanimous vote of the judges.

The Skiff recently received a new exchange which it prizes highly. This is the daily paper of Corpus Christi, a large and enterprising daily of a thriving city. We note that Howell G. Knight, one of T. C. U.'s prominent alumni, is City Editor, and he is no doubt responsible for our good fortune in receiving the new exchange.

lunch drew near to a close the President called upon Douglas E. Tomlinson, who had arrived a short time before, for a talk. In response Tomlinson expressed his appreciation and surprise at happening up on a picnicking party of his own fellow Shirley members. He also included some good things about the Shirley work in his talk. Mr. Tomlinson had been to the University of Missouri, where he, as a representative of the State University, participated in a debate against that school. The Shirleys and Waltons were glad to learn that the State won.

In exploring what some were prone to call "Lover's Lane" after the lunch Miss McXie Mae Mason accidentally sprained her ankle very seriously. She was assisted back to a bench near the center of the park where she was forced to wait until "Dan" had secured a carriage from Prof. Parks and returned to get her. Miss Mason has been confined to her room since, with what the doctor has pronounced a serious sprain. It is to be regretted that this one thing happened to mar the happiness of the occasion.

All the picnickers returned early to attend the track meet.

The faculty of the University of Wisconsin has recently revised the eligibility rules in relation to participation in the organization of dramatic productions. Eligibility rules will be enforced on persons desiring to take part in any university production.

WOODROW WILSON CLUB.

ATTACKS HONOR SYSTEM.

The Woodrow Wilson Club, which was organized a week ago, is very active. At a recent meeting the following report by the committee on resolutions and future work was read and adopted and the necessary committees appointed to carry out the work it recommends.

We, your committee on resolutions and future work, hereby recommend as follows:

First—That the secretary be instructed to communicate with the State Headquarters of the Wilson Club at Dallas with reference to badges for each member.

Second—That each literary society of T. C. U. be and is hereby urged to place a number on one of their programs within the month of April in behalf of Woodrow Wilson, choosing the speakers for such numbers as far as possible from the Woodrow Wilson Club.

Fourth—That a committee be appointed whose special duty shall be to "hustle" members for this Club.

Fifth—That meetings of this Club be called at the instance of the president.

Respectfully submitted,
O. A. SMITH,
JOE J. MURRAY,
W. C. FERGUSON,
Committee.

Every quiet hour about the dormitories is disturbed now by the orators practicing for various society preliminaries and contests.

We want the T. C. U. student trade and are your friends. Try us and see.

VEIHL-CRAWFORD HWD. CO.,
1605-1607 Main Street.

Prof. Felix E. Schelling of the University of Pennsylvania, in a letter to the Pennsylvanian, attacks the honor system, which he declares is a failure, substantially because in its operation it is necessary to go on the presumption that a student is dishonest and a promise from him is required to prevent cheating.

Portions of his letter follow:

"To ask a man to promise not to cheat is to assume not only the possibility but the probability that he will cheat, and to assume the necessity of putting him to his promise is to lower the whole standard of his moral system.

"I am in no wise opposed to student government. On the contrary, I think that much can be effected by it. I believe, too, that a solution can be found for student dishonesty as for laxity and dishonor in daily life. But you cannot make a man honest by compelling him to make a statement that he is habitually not a thief; and you cannot inoculate our students with a sense of the seriousness of dishonest work by occasional or even reiterated promises to be good.

"It is only by holding up standards that are ideal that we can raise our students to recognition of what true honor is. There are still some things of this world that are not subjects of barter and trade; a man's integrity, his sense of personal dignity and obligation, the qualities that go to make up the gentleman in the true sense."
—Star-Telegram.

Freshman: "Isn't John P. Cox's birthday in March?"

Sophomore: "I don't know. Why?"
Freshman: "I just guessed it. He blows so much."

his residence, received third honors and the bronze medal for registering a score of 16. "Fritz" has good form and ere time for him to leave T. C. U. we expect of him some classy work.

Paul Geiger, a Freshman from the city, was the next man of prominence. Geiger was another whose speed caught the eyes of our football scouts. We judge him as fine prospective material for an end next season.

Space forbids the individual write-ups that could be given to other contestants, but we are sure of expressing the unanimous opinion of all witnesses when we say that no contestant should be sorry of having entered and that with this start T. C. U. should develop a championship track team.

Class honors went easily to the Sophs, who piled up the enormous total of 46 points. As a result of this victory they were awarded the possession of the beautiful loving cup given by the A. J. Anderson Co. of the city—a trophy whose beauty is a suitable reward for the hard work of their representatives. Juniors and Freshmen tied for second position, with a score of 20 each.

Events, winners and records were: 100-yard dash—Street first, Geiger second, Martin third. Time, 0:10 2-5.

220-yard—Street first, Geiger second, Cox third. Time, 0:25.

44-yard—Street first, Simpson second, Evans third. Time, 0:58.

880-yard—Simpson first, Street second, Martin third. Time, 2:18.

1 Mile—Simpson first, Johnson second, Lucas third.

Broad Jump—Stewart first, Geiger second, Street third. Distance, 16.9.

High Jump—Geiger first, Daniel second, Evans third. Record, 5.8.

Shot-Put—Johnson first, Evans second, Bussey third.

Discus—Johnson first, Cockrill second, Hopkins third. Distance, 77.11.

Baseball Throw—Johnson first, Simpson second, Hopkins third.

Football Punt—Cox first, Bussey second, Tomlinson third. Distance, 141.9.

1 Mile Relay Race—Sophomore team (Cox, Simpson, Appleton and Street), first; Freshman team second, Juniors third.

Invite your friends in the city to visit the Sunday School next Sunday. It will meet at Forest Park.

LIBRARY NOTES.

Mrs. McKinney has donated a copy of "Aunt Hope's Kitchen Stove and the Girls Around It," by Lillian Clarkson West, for the special benefit of her girls. It deals with the "girl problem" especially in large cities. Every girl should read it. It is filled with facts told in story form. Mrs. West made a tour of our State a few weeks ago gathering data for her work. We were sorry we could not get her for T. C. U.

Bro. Colby D. Hall sent us in two dozen or more books last week. We need more friends like him.

Jno. Allen Rawlins is each week placing his copy of "The Youth's Companion" in the library. Also we are glad to have the new Waco daily paper, the Waco Morning News, which Mr. Daniel donates for our use.

Last week we had a dozen or more visitors, among them Mrs. Judge Wilkinson of Austin, President State C. W. B. M.; Mrs. Everests of Dallas, Mrs. Barker of Texarkana, and others. Several asked about our needs and promised to remember us before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Owers are good friends to our library. They have recently donated a number of books, which are very helpful.

We have received our magazine holders, which add greatly to the general appearance of the library and at the same time protect the magazines from ill abuse. The newspaper rack is also in use.

Over 100 volumes of magazines have been sent to the bindery in Pittsburg.

Second Game.

On Friday with Daniel working against the visitors' southpaw, Miller, our boys took the lead by registering two in the second when Parks hit over short, was safe at second, when Shoemaker safely rolled one toward third and they were both registered on Graves' and Campbell's hits. Graves being called out at the plate by a questionable decision. This ended the scoring for T. C. U. A. & M. counted one in the fourth on a double error and a hit; two in the seventh on a hit batter, a hit, an outfield error and an infield error; and three in the eighth on two errors, three hits, a batter hit and a stolen base.

We'll go down into the valley next Sunday to discuss Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

Sunday School next Sunday will be held in the park. A special program has been arranged, which should easily be as helpful and instructive as any we have had during the year.

If you want any kind of wire netting, we have it; also anything else you want.
