Fort Worth, Texas
December 24, 1954.

Honorable Dwight D. Eisenhower
President of the United States
Augusta, Georgia.

The Merriest of all Christmases to you, Mamie and your loved ones! The superb Czechoslovakia painting of George Washington, as well as the beautiful Tugo/Slav etching from you and Mamie are the top remembrances of Christmas, and these two exquisite mementoes, together with the one you formerly painted for me of the Mexican adobe house will not only occupy a warm spot in our hearts, but also the "front page" so-to-speak, of our home at 1220 Broad Street. The only thing that could make us happier would be to have you and Mamie join us for Christmas dinner. My daughter, Ruth Johnson, and her husband, J. Lee, Amon Junior and his wife, George Ann, together with my five lovely grandchildren, as well as Uncle Sid, will be with us for this happy occasion, and we are planning to eat some of the Quail you left on your last trip to St. Jo Island.

Sid said that the Quail all sent you their thanks and a Merry Christmas for not being there this year, which made it possible for many of them to look forward to a bigger ^{family} ~~xxx~~ next year. This also included the wild deer and turkeys, as well as a herd family of six to eight point bucks. I am sure if they could talk, the gist of their conversation would be their total respect for your deadeye shooting. It would be fine if you could teach some of your constituents, even including a few Republican Congressmen and Senators the same respect for your accuracy. However, they might eventually have a chance to convince the public they really had a practical plan for helping make this grand country of ours a better place in which to live. I have always made it a rule not to pour water on the parade and get the seat wet that I might want to occupy myself.

Here I go, as usual. This message is too "D" long.

Please give the Jones boys, Pete and Bobby, my best if they are present, and keep a substantial share for you and Mamie.

This is Amon Junior's thirty-fifth birthday, twenty-seven months of his life having been spent in a German prison camp. Gosh but its good to be fortunate enough to have him back home and President of the Carter Publications.

Minnie, Amon Junior, George Ann, my twelve other Christmas guests, throwing Sid in for good measure, all join in good wishes.

Sincerely,

Amon Carter
