Tonight's Big Event To Offer Good Food, Pretty Girls, Thrills

Hey there, folks, step right inside and pick out a campus cutie. For one dime, only a tenth of a dollar, she is yours for three whole dances. Three tantalizing, enervating, glorious dances with the girl of your dreams!

If you can't afford her now, go play one of those rousing "you-can't-lose" games of bingo until your luck strikes, then meander over to the penny pitching concession and win that dime you need.

The Frog War Fund Carnival opens its doors at 8 o'clock tonight and won't close down till 11 p. m. It's the chance of a lifetime for the fellows to show their gals how they can chunk balls and pitch pennies—they might even win the prize cakes for their ladyloves.

Madame Something-or-Other has brought her see-all, know-all wondrous mind to one secluded nook of the Basketball Gymnasium, and for a paltry sum she will look into your future and tell you how much longer your civilian life will last. Or if you are a service man, she can tell you whether or not your girl is being true to you and how long it's been going on!

25 Cents Admission Fee
Twenty-five cents is the entrance fee, and once you get inside it's practically free—a few pennies and nickels that you'll never miss.

In addition to the concessions named, there will be a freak show sponsored by the Timothy and B. C. B. Clubs, a hula dance by Miss Sybil Olmstead, accompanied by that not-to-be-forgotten Navy band; hot lick boogie woogie by the "Boogie Woogie King" of the South, T. C. U.'s own Knocky Parker (Uncle Sam is only borrowing him); Mexican dancers in their special fire and pepper mood; the Navy quartet, remembered for its performance in "Cowtown Cabaret"; an acrobatic dance by Miss Elayne Henderson; the first appearance of the Foster Hall Ink Spots and, last but far from least, the presentation of the "Queen" of the Carnival.

Lorna Culp Is Director
The Home Economics Club will serve hot dogs and cold drinks throughout the show. The Carnival is under the direction of Miss Lorna Culp, assisted by Miss Bonnie Hall, Braz Pryor, Miss Gerlyne Schmidt and Miss June Dameron.

Clubs which are sponsoring concessions include S. C. A., Meliorist, B. & P. W., Los Hidalgos, Los Grenouilles, Phi Sigma Iota, Sigma Tau, Dramatic Club, Ampersand, Frogettes, Leti, the USS Clark Hall and W. S. A. The "T" Association and Goode Hall are in charge of props.

Students Should Complete Registration by 4:30 P. M.

All students are urged by Registrar S. W. Hutton to complete their spring registration today.

Department heads and major professors will be in their offices from 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to wind up the early registration period.

This will enable students to have a holiday from March 1 through 5. Regular classes in the spring trimester start on March 6.

Students Ratify New Constitution

The proposed provisional constitution submitted to the student body Monday, was ratified by a 251-to-5 vote. The balloting was supervised by the election committee of the Student Council.

More than one-fourth of the student body participated in the ratification. This constitution went into effect immediately upon ratification. The student body and class officers and Student Council positions will be filled under the provisions outlined in the constitution.

It is a wartime document, proposed solely to serve the students as long as the University remains on the trimester plan. It is to be amended to meet the needs of the Council at such a time when the University reverts to the semester plan and will then serve until a permanent constitution can be drawn up and ratified.

Meliorists Will Hold "Game Night" Sunday

Sunday night will be "Game Night" at the meeting of Meliorist Club at the University Christian Church immediately after Evensong.

"We'll have lots of games and surprises," says Bob Matheny. "Refreshments will be served."

Author, Poet, Preacher, Traveler, Linguist—Lockhart, Beloved Bible Professor, To Be Given "Appreciation Dinner"

Author, poet, preacher, traveler, linguist and beloved professor—these are just a few of the terms that could be used to describe Dr. Clinton Lockhart, who has been more or less an institution on the T. C. U. campus since 1906.

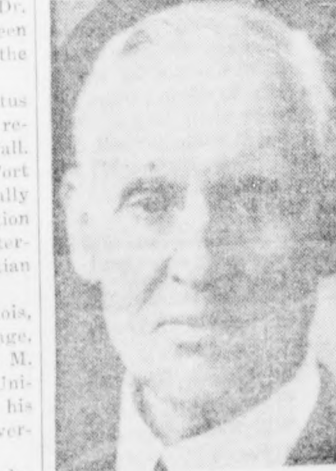

Dr. Lockhart, professor emeritus of Old Testament and Semitics, retired from active teaching last fall. His friends from the campus, Fort Worth and over Texas generally will honor him at an "Appreciation Dinner" at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the University Christian Church.

Dr. Lockhart was born in Illinois, finished high school at Carthage, Mo., obtained his A. B. and A. M. degrees from Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., and his Ph. D. degree from Yale University.

Before going to Yale for graduate work he was married. "I had been traveling around in western Kentucky, preaching, and I had an opportunity to look over the crop and pick out the best looking girl," he recalls.

After finishing at Yale, Dr.

Lockhart taught for a time, then traveled in Greece, Egypt, Palestine, Turkey, Germany, France and England.

"When I arrived back in the United States," he relates, "I had a letter from T. C. U., then located at Waco, asking me to come there as professor of Bible. I arrived on the campus just as the president was leaving, so I was shoved into office."

That was in 1906. He served as president of the University for five years, covering the period of the fire at Waco and the subsequent removal of the school to Fort Worth. Later he served as dean under President E. M. Waits. He has taught Old Testament and Greek during all of the years.

Brite College students had many courses under Dr. Lockhart. Most other students became acquainted with him through his course in "Literature of the Old Testament," which for years was crowded to capacity with students fulfilling the Bible requirements for a degree.

Dr. and Mrs. Lockhart live quietly.

Frog War Fund Carnival—Tonight!

The only big benefit show to be held on the campus this school year is to be tonight. It is the Frog War Fund Carnival—sponsored by the F. W. F. committee. All the proceeds go to the F. W. F.

The Carnival is an all-campus affair and stars campus talent and effort. It is an "of the students, by the students and for the students" show. As such, it has no alternative but to be a success.

When the doors of the "Barn" are opened at 7 p. m. and barkers begin their steady demands, the taxi dancers commence their wiles, the "Queen" of the Carnival turns on her smile, the Navy band begins to play and the clowns start their act—you will want to be there.

If your hand is in your pocket and you can't get it out, you will miss the fun. That's all there is to it, this is not a charity show—you are the one who reaps the benefit from others' sweat. The Skiff has only three words for those who can't make it out tonight: "Too bad, buddy."

Sing, Everybody Sing!

Everybody sing!

Two words, simple words, which can be a great asset to any campus—especially a campus enveloped in the atmosphere of war.

At the melodrama last Friday night, did anyone notice the genuine down-to-earth fun, old and young alike, got out of the old-fashioned sing song?

The kick of it was that it didn't matter whether you sounded like Sinatra or Donald Duck. You just opened the mouth and what came out either soothed or harassed your neighbor, but whatever their reaction, it gave your spirits a great big lift.

We don't hear the old songs much anymore, what with "Pistol Packin' Mamma" and "Shoo Shoo, Baby." It's a wager though, that "Pistol Packin' Mamma" doesn't soothe the spirit like "When You Wore A Tulip."

Today there are sing songs in war plants during recesses, at USO Centers, and even on trains when a group of service men get together. Why shouldn't it be so on the Hill?

Remember: "Without a song, the road would never end. Without a song, you haven't got a friend. Without a song. . . ."

"If I could have health, the dear ones near me, and if above and through all I could cherish in my heart the experience of my follies, I wouldn't mind another 50 years. As it is, I fear life much more keenly than death. But I am ready to take greedily whichever comes."—William Allen White, in a newspaper editorial shortly before his death.

As One Sardine to Another

Remember the good old days when you could hop a bus and ride to town, practically in solitude—just gab a little with the bus driver and watch the cars go by?

Now you're lucky to get inside. You can't even see the driver from where you stand, much less the cars that go by. It's every man for himself and the last one in gets bopped by the door.

Starting out at this end of the line, things aren't so bad—that is, except early in the morning and at noon. The rest of the time is comparatively easy—you can sit down usually until about Eighth Avenue.

Then the fun starts.

College students are perpetual stander-uppers. Since the man shortage, the girls have landed on their feet. Only a stack of books to carry or a broken leg is a sufficient excuse for a be-soaked coed's sitting as soon as any woman over 30 wearing a pair of heels climbs on.

As for the men, they haven't got a fighting chance!

Unwanted Roads

Sigs have been placed all over the campus, editorials and more editorials have been written—some satirical, others funny—requesting students to use the sidewalks and stay off the grass. Walking on the grass leads to one result—paths.

A new menace has befallen the grass around Brite College, the Gymnasium and Goode Hall. The grass, fighting hard for survival against the cold, is having to fight doubly hard now.

The school's truck is being driven all over the grass around the three buildings mentioned. Driving the truck on the grass also leads to one result—new roads.

This new menace can be prevented by the student workers' bringing the trash from these buildings out to the original roads instead of bringing the truck right up to the entrances.

Green grass is a beautiful sight in spring but the landscape can be ruined by paths and roads.

A C Charles Haynes, ex '43, is at Sheppard Field. He has been stationed there for some time but has been unable to get a week-end pass and visit on the campus.

Pvt. A. L. Crouch, B. S. in Commerce '36, of the Army is now stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss. Crouch had a poem published in a recent issue of Saturday Evening Post.

Cafeteria Breakfast Hours Are Now 7:30 to 8:30

Breakfast in the Cafeteria will be served from 7:30 until 8 a. m. for a period of two weeks, says Miss Gertrude Samson. A light breakfast of milk, fruit, fruit juices, coffee and dry cereals will be served from 8 until 8:30 a. m. for those students who wish to sleep a little later and don't care for a heavy breakfast.

The object of this arrangement is to encourage students to eat breakfast who ordinarily skip it for an extra 30 minutes sleep. "We are going to try it for two weeks and if the students respond to it the plan will be continued," Miss Samson adds.

'Mural Open House Starts Tuesday Night With Boxing Show—Basketball Friday

8 Champs to Be Crowned In Gloves Tournament—3 '43 Titleholders Enter Meet

By RICHARD MOORE

The tenth annual intramural Open House classic gets under way Tuesday night when the championship of eight divisions will be decided in the boxing show. Friday night, as a prelude to the T. C. U.-A. & M. game, the champion basketball team of the campus will be crowned.

Eleven entries had been received by Prof. Tom Prouse this week, and he expects to have at least eight fights on the night's card. Three '43 champions have indicated they will fight.

Russell Vinson, lightweight title holder, will defend his crown. Dick Geib, last year's welterweight champ, will fight in the lightweight division, and Wendell Towery, who holds the lightweight championship, will move up to the welterweight class. Ray Wood will not defend his middleweight title.

Bob Landry, winner of the Class A middleweight crown in the Fort Worth Golden Gloves, has entered the middleweight division. Royal James is also an entrant in this weight.

Other entries have been received from Walter Brown, flyweight; Goodlett Farquhar, featherweight; Robert Lee, lightweight; Gaston Gros, welterweight; James McGehee, light heavyweight; and Stuart Erlanger, heavyweight.

A miniature glove will be awarded the winners, Prouse reports. Next Friday night the Nimitz Birdogs, victors in the intramural basketball league play will meet the champion of the basketball tournament, now in progress. One finalist has already been decided. The Bulkeley Seadogs moved into the finals with a 32 to 23 victory over the Preachers.

The gloves tournament will begin at 8 p. m. The basketball game is scheduled for 6 p. m.

Landry decided Roy Tillotson in his semifinal bout. Tillotson had previously won by a technical knockout over Royal James Saturday night.

In two unpopular decisions in the first night's fights, Goodlett Farquhar and Gaston Gros were losers to two Fort Worth Army Air Field privates, Luther Thomas and Wilbur Blanton. Gros fought in the welterweight class, while Farquhar was a featherweight.

Robert Lee lost to Roger Vinson in an opening night lightweight battle.

Mrs. Helen Murphy has been attending a state conference of directors of physical education at the University of Texas for the past two days.

New Pre-Flight Class To Arrive March 15
Class 441, a new group of trainees for the pre-flight school, will arrive from Natchitoches, La., March 15.

3 Meetings Cancelled Due to Ministers' Institute
Brite College Chapel, Timothy Club and Homiletic Guild will not meet this week because of the Ministers' Institute meetings.

Library to Exhibit Books For Ministers' Institute
The Library will open its doors to the Ministers' Institute this week with an exhibition of Dr. H. E. Lucecock's books. Dr. Lucecock, professor of homiletics at Yale Divinity School, will speak at the annual institute.

Called a preacher's preacher, he specializes in the preparation of sermons. His first book, "Fares Please," is representative. Others to be displayed in the Library are "Christian Faith and Economical Change," "Studies in Parables of Jesus" and "Christianity and the Individual in a World of Crowds."

There will also be a collection of books dealing with peace and post-war problems in the Disciples Room. Dr. Wm. V. Roosa will speak on that subject during the institute.

Coach Hub McQuillan has been named as one of a trio representing the Southwest Conference to meet a representative for the National Collegiate basketball tournament. The other two delegates to vote are D. X. Bible of Texas and Jimmy St. Clair of M. U.

The Frogs will again have a weak team this year. After laying last year, Coach Dutch Meyer and the committee decided to give the thinly-clad men a chance. Every school will enter the conference next year.

Upsetting Frogs Meet Leading Owls Tonight

Multiple problems of defense confront the Frog five tonight when they open a strenuous week-end against the hot-scoring Rice Owls. Tomorrow night, T. C. U. moves to College Station, where the team will clash against the victoryless Aggies.

Coach Hub McQuillan faces the task of stopping the tree-top Bill Henry who is well in front of the Southwest Conference scoring race with the amazing total of 193 points in nine games. Against the hapless Kiddy Korps Tuesday night, Henry ran wild, tallying 41 points for a new conference record.

The Purple cagers, in their last meeting with the Owls, held the 6-foot, 8-inch sophomore in check, limiting him to four field goals. But they fouled the big lad too much, and he connected in six of seven free throws, to total 14 points.

Although Rice defeated T. C. U. by a 10-point margin, 48 to 38, in their first encounter, the Frogs were even with the Birds until the final 10 minutes of the game.

Frogs Confident of Upset
The Frogs can not, however, overlook such other dangerous point-makers as the southpaw Don Suman, J. D. Thomas and Rusty Darling. It was Jug Thomas who sank six field goals in the fading minutes of the Rice-T. C. U. fray that gave the victors their wide margin.

However, Coach McQuillan's cagers have refused to be impressed by the Owls awesome reputation. They drove through their chores with a snap and spirit this week and will be gunning for the No. 1 upset of the season tonight.

Chief rivals to Henry in point-making for the Frogs will be Capt. Zeke Chronister and Stuart Allen, both long-shot specialists. Bruce Johnson, who played a whale of a defensive game against the Owls three weeks ago, will start. Joe Wick, the aggressive little minister, and the tip-in artist, Jack Helm, will complete the Purple line-up.

Besides Henry, Darling, Thomas and Suman, Donald Roach is the other man of the starting Owl quintet.

Hopless Ags Finally Victorious
A. & M. finally broke into the victory column last week, defeating two service teams, Brooks Field, 59 to 48, and coming out on top in the second over time period against Corsicana Field, 49 to 46. In the conference, the Kiddy Korps has come close to victory only against the weak Baylor Bears.

The Aggies' latest loss was to Rice Tuesday night, 67 to 33. They have averaged but 37 points offensively this season, while allowing their opponents 60 points.

Max Mohnke, 6-foot forward, is the Aggies' leading scorer, with 43 points. Buddy Ekas, guard and one-hand push shot artist, Charles Weinboun, Charley Wright and Charles Atlas complete the starting five.

The Aggies and the Frogs get together again in a return engagement here, Thursday night.

Health Class to Hear Camp Fire Executive
Miss Martha F. Allen, national executive of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., will speak to the girls' health class at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in the McPherson Lecture Room in Brite College.

"All girls who attend the lecture will be counted present in one of their P. T. classes," says Mrs. Helen Murphy.

Veterans of TCU Stage In 'Silver Cord' Cast

An all-star cast has been selected for "The Silver Cord" when it is presented by the Dramatic Club at 8:15 p. m., Feb. 22. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Katharine Norton.

Playing the lead, the part of the doting mother who is torn between her love for her two sons, is Miss Bettye Flo Baker. Miss Baker is secretary of Alpha Psi, honorary dramatic society. She is well known on the T. C. U. stage for her performance in productions of the past three years.

She played the role of the English girl in "Letters to Lucerne," which was shown in the spring of '42; the countess in "If the Shoe Pinches," a '43 production; the princess in "Death Takes a Holiday," also '43; and "The Sexes," which was a short two-star cast production in the spring of '43.

Jimmy Tinkle will take the part of the younger son in "The Silver Cord." He is most recently remembered as the bartender in the "Cowtown Cabaret" of Ranch Week. He played the part of the duke in "Death Takes a Holiday." Tinkle is a student assistant in the speech department.

Franklin Adkins, the Orson Wells of the campus, is the elder son. Adkins is the holder of the first prize ever to be given for a dramatic achievement in T. C. U. The prize was awarded by Prof. William P. Baker in 1943 for the play, "Out of the Cradle," which Adkins wrote. It has not been produced on this campus. "Jazzarene," another of Adkins' plays, was presented here this fall. He is the writer and director and took a part in the play. He has also won a poetry prize.

Favorites Win In Mural Play

The Nimitz Birdogs, champions of the intramural league in basketball, started off the open tournament Tuesday night with a 23-to-17 win over the Halsey Bluejackets. The Birdogs were paced by George Blackburn with 7 points, and James McGehee and Jimmy Woods with 6 points each. Jake Hawthorne of the losers was high point man of the game, with 9 points.

In the nightcap of a double-header, the Bulkely Seadogs whipped Admiral King's Deacons 35 to 24. Richard Moore, with 12 points, and Bill Witte, with 10 points, led the scoring for the Seadogs. Beryll Whittaker was tops for the losers, with 10 points.

Wednesday night Goode Hall, paced by Eugene West with 15 points, downed the surprisingly stubborn Farragut five, 34 to 24. Milt Persson, with 8 points, kept the Farragut five in the running until late in the game.

In the last game of the night, the Bulkely Seadogs moved into the finals of the tournament, with a 32-to-25 victory over the Preachers, a new team. As in the first game, Moore and Witte teamed up with 10 points apiece to keep the Seadogs in front. Lloyd Allen pitched in 8 points for the losers.

second place in the women's acting division of this year's freshman-sophomore play contest. She had the lead in "The Journey." She will also be remembered for her pinch-hit performance in "Curse You Jack Dalton" of last year, in which she enacted the crazy Eloise.

Miss Doris Mahon has confined her efforts almost entirely to directing. She directed the winning sophomore play this year "On Time and the Blizzard." She also wrote the script for the Judge Roy Bean trial. She played the part of the grandmother in "He Ain't Done Right By Nell," a hit of '42.

Miss Nita Carrington, junior transfer from A. C. C., has never appeared in a T. C. U. production before. She will play the part of the maid in "The Silver Cord."

'Results Resulting' Since Bonnie Got Picture Published

Camera, lights, action. And plenty of it, with Miss Bonnie Osburn.

Of course Bonnie is best known as the young lady on the campus who received orchids each Friday from a secret admirer.

Well, since that news has been published, a lot of things have happened.

Being's the Star-Telegram put her picture on the front page one Sunday, with the explanation of the dark secret of orchids under it, and being's a lot of people saw the picture—results have been resulting.

A crew of men on a ship saw Bonnie's picture and now she gets letters signed by fifteen men, all from the same ship.

Too, a few days after the picture appeared in the paper, Bonnie's phone rang, to be answered and have some voice at the other end of the line say: "Young lady, I have reason to believe my husband is sending you those orchids and I want you to send them back immediately."

When Bonnie explained that she did not know where to return them, the voice replied, "Well, I don't care where you return them, but just return them."

Yale Prof

The institute will adjourn at noon Friday.

Graduate Classes to Be Omitted

Graduate classes will be omitted during the meetings, but absence from the Institute counts as absence from class. Undergraduates may secure, from Dean Colby D. Hall, excuses from 10 and 11 a. m. classes on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday if they actually attend the Institute.

Dean Hall is chairman of the program committee. Dr. William V. Roosa is secretary-treasurer of the institute. Among those who will teach daily seminars are Dr. Roosa, Dr. C. F. Cheverton and Prof. D. Ray Lindley.

FALLING down the Library steps is a traditional prerequisite for graduation at T. C. U. Some students get it over quickly as freshmen; some fall several times, either down or up; some have to be pushed—just so they'll be sure to graduate. And some fall down for the benefit of the photographer, as does Miss Sara Mae Sandefer, who is thus assured of her B. S. in Commerce Feb. 27.

Groups to Meet To Revamp "Y"

A complete revamping of the organization will take place 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the three "Y" groups meet in Recital Hall. New sponsors and officers will be chosen in an effort to give the organization "shot in the arm" for the new semester. The nominating committee will present names.

"Revolt in Student Government" is to be the topic for panel discussion at this meeting.

This revamping proposal originated at a "Y" council party Tuesday night at which the possibility of continuing the organization of the new semester was discussed. The life of the C. Y. F. was discussed but was set aside for definite action at the March meeting of the C. Y. F. group. Overlapping of these two organizations in program procedure, purpose and members constitutes basis for the disbanding of one or the other.

It was reported that the W. S. S. F. drive netted $270 and would probably exceed $300 if the pledges had all come in.

The party was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Mundt.

Nine Girls Initiated By Campus Club

Nine girls have been accepted as new members of the Campus Club. They are Misses Nita Carrington, Estelle Southwick, Duckworth, Norma Purvines, Carrington, Mary Jean Carter, Prater, Josie McClellan and Lette Johns.

The regular Campus Club meeting will be postponed until Feb. 20 because of the Carnival.

Art Dept. Will Hold Student Exhibit

The art department will hold annual student exhibit in the Art Gallery Feb. 20-27. Prof. S. Ziegler has announced.
