PRESIDENT

My dear Mr. Carter:

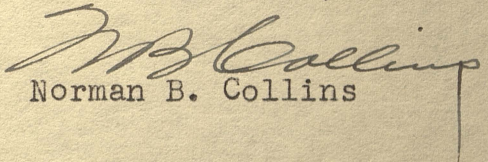

Mrs. Collins and I have been thinking a great deal about Amon lately and wonder if you have heard from him and if he has been released. Know you are a very busy man so please have your secretary drop me a line and advise me of the latest developments.

The war looks like it is coming to a close as far as Europe is concerned and I hope and pray that Amon had the stability to take his terrible experience.

My boy is still in the states located now in Savannah, Georgia, as a second lieutenant in Medical Administration. We visited him last February and the three of us talked about Amon a great deal.

Trust that you are well and looking forward to hearing good news, I am

Sincerely yours,

Norman B. Collins
