Mr. Orval M. Mosier, Vice-President
American Airlines, Inc.
100 Park Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Orval:

Congratulations to you, and especially to the American on your new responsibilities. This should help you occupy your spare time. I know what that means, because I have a difficult problem confronting me to try and utilize the time on my hands. I hope these extra duties do not prohibit you from keeping up your practice work in Dominoes and Gin Rummy. I have almost decided to discontinue both vocations on account of the fact that there is too much uncertainty in the games and only a few people have I found whom I could excel in this indoor sport, and you head the list.

Seriously, Red, we are all delighted and I thoroughly concur in President C. R. Smith's release notice concerning the promotion. We have had a rule in our office when we could not raise salaries to make the individual an officer of the company. However, in this case, you will have the same executive title and I hope with some additional remuneration or an increased expense account to take care of your Dominoes and Gin Rummy.

I am sending you a photograph of three distinguished gentlemen from South of the Rio Grande. I presume you would call them "Three Horsemen or Cowboys Without a Cow or Saddle."

I will be seeing you soon. Sincerely,

Amon Carter
