

Summer registrations are beginning to come in. The Department of Education leads the way thus far. Please encourage your students to register now for the summer school, thus avoiding congestion in the office and halls during the two days set aside particularly for registration at the opening of the summer school.

You will recall the registration plans announced in the faculty bulletin of last week, April 26 to May 6, a period of ten school days has been set apart for the spring registration. A word of announcement has been passed to the students through the chapel bulletin and the blackboards in the different classrooms urging registration now.

Our Freshmen who have not already chosen their major field are requested to report to their counselors. All other students will report to their major professors. We will place the initiative on the students throughout the week ending April 30. If they do not respond, we trust each faculty member will proceed vigorously to contact each student in his counseling group or each student who is to major in his department. Thank you for full cooperation in this program or registration.

Please check over your class records, and if there are any students who have made up "I" grades on whom you have made no report as yet to the Registrar's Office, please make this report immediately that our records may be cleared.

Again may we request a report on every student who is absent three times in succession that we may follow up and ascertain the reason before it is too late.

Any preference for a given date during examination week must be reported to the Registrar's Office by May 2 to insure consideration, for the final schedule will be made up shortly after that time.

Mr. Frank King, Texas manager of the Associated Press, will talk on "An American Reporter in Europe" at 8 P.M. Wednesday, May 4, in the Auditorium. Mr. King has spent 17 years in the London office of the Associated Press, as well as several years in Russia and other points that have been much in the news. He is being brought to the campus as one of the regular lecture series. Students and faculty members are admitted free; admission for outsiders will be 50 cents. ✓

The following students served as Assistants in the in the Divisional meetings at the National convention of the American Chemical Society in Dallas, April 19 and 20. I would appreciate it if they can be given a blanket excuse from classes for those days. This was a rare opportunity for Chemistry students.
