ONE VICTORY.

Results from the Second Baylor Series Scores 1-1; 4-3.

No; Varsity didn't lose Monday.
But they didn't win either. In fact, the last statement might be repeated several times—they didn't win in the second, they didn't win in the third and they didn't win in the fourth, to say nothing of the three other times when hard drives would have put men across the counting station.

And the fact that we didn't win is not to be laid to good playing on the part of our opponents. Four miscues at critical times is evidence for the statement that the south-side people tried their best to hand us the game on a silver platter. And pitcher Potts contributed five free trips in the bad innings, "to boot."

Now that relieves Baylor of all responsibility for our failing to win the game. And we will give a connected narrative of why we failed. Thusly: Lamonica, Baldwin and Wakefield had gone out in order in the first session.
In the second, however, O. Drucke, first up, received free transportation.
Fuzz hit a hot one into Mosely and both were safe. Now, theoretically, two men on bases and no one down looks good for a score. But: Up to this time "Little 'Un" had been busy, but now camping at the half-way station, he was given a moment of leisure. Gazing admiringly at the scenery he suddenly discovered the assembly of Dear Girls up in the grandstand.
My, he thinks—or so it looked—all those girls are looking at me. I'll show them some stunts in the way of base running nerve, dare-deviltry, perspicacity and foresight. Accordingly, Little Un trotted down the line about fifteen feet and grinned at the pitcher.
Now that was all right. A good lead often means a score and a score often means victory. And when the shortstop chased up to the bag Oscar went back all right. Knowing, however, that the second baseman never follows the shortstop in these dashes, Drucke went back down the line, and the second-sacker, completing his part of the play, chased up and put the ball on said Little Un. Daniels walked, putting Fuzz to second, but the two-bagger boy also went out by the caughtnapping route. This ends the explanation of why things didn't happen in the second.

With two down in the third Messrs.
Potts and Leazer could not suppress their charitable instincts and Lamonica "squared the circle." Leazer failed to handle Dague's tap. F. Baldwin couldn't dodge a wild one, Dague pilfered Mosely's corner. Old slugger Wake, next up, didn't exactly rise to the occasion, but he furnished the occasion for Potts to rise to. Potts picked the ball up all right, but just then he say a man he didn't like over in the new grandstand. "I'll fix him," thinks Baylor's Baby Ball-tosser (notice the alterative effectiveness). He missed the man, but threw the ball far enough for Dague to score. O. Drucke went out, pitcher to first.

Fuzz drew a walk in the fourth and a passed ball put him on second. Perkins hit to short and Fuzz ran into the fielder, which caused him to land on the bench instead of third base. If he hadn't done that he would have scored a moment later when Belew fumbled Witt's slam. Which same ends the last chapter of "Why We Didn't Win." It is undeniable that Potts was up in the air the first of the game and but for Varsity's carelessness an easy victory would have been scored. But after seeing that we wouldn't have the game under any circumstances, he regained confidence in himself and tho Wakefield walked in the fifth, Star opened the eighth with a clean hit and Perkins "grazed" a fast one, stole second and went to third on Punchard's error in the ninth, no runs resulted.

Baylor scored in the opening round.
Grissom was hit by pitcher; Belew sacrificed him to second; he went to third while Graves was going out Witt to Baldwin and crossed the pite when Walker hit—SI making a miraculous stop but being unable to handle

FOR MEN OF TASTE.

"AND AGAIN WE HEARD FROM THE CLARKS."

The crowded house, which the entertainment justly deserved, greeted the "Clark evening" last Friday night.
And the excellent program made everyone "glad they came." For in quality and attractiveness it was easily among the best with which we have been favored this year.

"Part I," composed of piano and vocal music and a reading by Miss Rash besides the Japanese fantasy was of an unusually high order. Misses Cox and Arnold have appeared before University assemblies on previous occasions, as has the Girls' Quartette, and the work of all these is too well known to need additional praise here, however much it be due. But Miss Rash has seldom appeared as reader.
And from the splendid interpretation she gave Friday night it is a source of regret to all that she has so long refrained from appearing.

But the Japanese fantasy! Um-m-m!
The maidens themselves, the costumes and the drill, dance or march—it's one of them, but we don't know which—executed in perfect time to the music, and with its fancies delightfully interpreted, all combined to make a spectacle pleasing in the extreme.

The playlet, "Captain Joe," which formed the last part of the program, told a story of life at a girls' school, with both its comedy and serious purpose. The play opened with Kate Winston (Bess Rash), Sue Carpenter (Una Jackson) and Irene Powell (Stella Smitham) engaged in study—which basketball discussions would break up —in a "typical" girls' room (what do girls sleep on, anyway? Or maybe we are mistaken, either Katie or Irene might have been on the bed). Anyway, the story all came out of Kate Winston's desire for a "chance" and then the subject changed to a discussion of the girls' jewels disappearing and then their being mysteriously returned to the owner. Then "Captain Joe" and her room-mate come in and after some talk the two are left alone, and then the audience becomes aware that Mildred Linn is a kleptomaniac.
So also does Kate Winston, who returns in time to see her beads stolen.
A "fire drill" which discovers Captain Joe apparently taking something from the desk, but really returning the stolen beads closes the act.

The last act opens with Captain Joe receiving a note requesting her resignation from the team, since she will not explain the occurrence. Then in a speech which rings with class loyalty and the spirit of fight, the deposed captain urges her team on to victory.
But the first half ends with defeat staring them in the face, and back the team comes. Now, however, her mood is changed and indignation and contempt unite in the fierce denunciations heaped upon their heads. But here Irene Powell confesses that she stole the beads and Captain Joe is free to play in the second half, which she does, winning gloriously. Kate Winston meanwhile faces Mildred Linn, and accuses her of the crime. Then, the game being won, Captain Joe clears the little freshman and the real culprit confesses.

Miss Maloney as Captain Joe was at her best. The same can be said of Miss Rash. They have both appeared in Dramatic Club productions, but in none have the emotional qualities—in this case necessary for the play's success—been interpreted so artistic-ly. Miss Maloney, in both of her speeches to the team was superb, Miss Rash was especially good in the renunciation of her numerals.

Miss Smitham did realistic work as "the little freshman," giving both the touch of comedy and of loyalty with fidelity. Misses Webb, Jackson and Scott also are to be commended upon helping to make the play the success it was.

The complete program follows:

THE BANQUET AND ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Next week will witness two of the biggest events with which eight of the leading colleges and universities of the state are concerned. The big banquet takes place next Thursday night.
This year the State Oratorical Contest comes to T. C. U. and she is to entertain her guests with the "best in the land." Preparations for the banquet, which is to be held at the State House in the city, are nearing completion.
There will be considerably over a hundred persons, including delegates and speakers from all the colleges in the association, at this function, and it bids fair to be one of the biggest things of the kind that T. C. U. has undertaken in some time, or that will come to her again for eight years. As a side light on the banquet it might also be interesting to note that "scissor" tail coats and "plug" hats are greatly in demand; further rumors go to show that several of the non-ladies' men are experiencing considerable anxiety and embarrassment in making the "necessary arrangements."

On the night following the banquet, Friday night, April 16, the State Oratorical Contest is to be held. Owing to lack of room in the University, this will be at the Auditorium in the city.
Each college is to send a speaker and two delegates, and we understand that Fort Worth University is to send down a hundred or so extra, also that Austin College will send along a special car of "rooters." The contest itself will be a battle royal, representing some of the highest oratorical ability from colleges all over the state. We hear that Baylor has some high-strung notions of taking off the honors of the occasion, but will do her as we have done her recently in the realm of baseball, indeed, T. C. U. cannot afford to lose as the game is to be played on her "home ground."

A REMINDER.

Nothing helps and inspires those who represent us in inter-collegiate contests so much as the knowledge that we have confidence and interest in them. Our baseball team left last night without a meeting to give them a good send-off; without the usual Girls' Home privileges and without anything to show our appreciation of them. True this was remedied by the enthusiastic bunch of boys who went down to see them off. But John C. Welch left last night to represent us in the Prohibition Oratorical Contest—one of the two leading contests in the state. He left without an ovation of any kind; there was no delegation to see him off, or anything of the sort. Since the time of the preliminary no interest has been taken in the contest.

Next week Mr. Tomlinson represents us in the State Oratorical Contest, of which we are this year's host. The privilege of being host to this contest is probably the greatest to which the University can now aspire. It will not be held here again for eight years, and we of the present student body are very fortunate in being here at this time.

Now here's the point to all this harangue. We know our students are not lacking in enthusiasm and confidence in our representatives. It is simply a case of no leadership. We have elected men to call these meetings together and to take the necessary measures to heighten interest in all these things. But two of the most important events of the year have gone by without one iota of attention from them and if the student body does not demand action the third will probably do likewise.

We should invite Mr. Tomlinson to deliver his oration to us in chapel some evening next week—as should have been done for Mr. Welch. We should practice our songs and yells. Baylor will be at the contest in full force. They seem to think the contest belong as much to them as to us, anyway, and it will take most serious endeavors on our part to show them different. It's "up to us" to "get busy" and do something. And if the leaders we have elected won't lead, let's elect men who will.

ORATORICAL PRIZE.

Mr. W. J. Mitchell Offers $50 Prize for Commencement Oratorical.

Once there was a cash prize of $50 to the winner of the Commencement Oratorical contest. Last year there was a contest and afterwards it developed that there was no prize. With this fact in mind, the Platform Club at the same time that it instructed its president, Mr. Bonner Frizzell, to secure a prize—if possible—for the preliminary to the State Oratorical, it instructed him to secure a prize for the Commencement Oratorical. It will be remembered by all that Mr. Bland was induced to give a prize to the winner of the preliminary. And yesterday at a call meeting of the club Mr. Frizzell announced that he had secured a prize of $50 for the Commencement contest. On motion it was decided unanimously to accept the prize and the meeting adjourned after nine hearty raps for Mitchell.

The University as a whole is grateful to Mr. Mitchell for his interest in us and our oratory and The Skiff extends thanks to him for the gift. In honor of Mr. Mitchell the contest will be known as "The W. J. Mitchell Oratorical Contest."

THE TRIP.

'Varsity Off for Four Days' Battle with State and Southwestern.

Twelve men, besides Coach Hardy, Manager Barnard, Dan Rogers for the Skiff and several supporters, left last night over the I. and G. N. in a special car for Austin. They play there today and tomorrow and at Georgetown on the first days of next week.

The "dope" stands that if 'Varsity doesn't win all of the four games played they will win three of them. That is the record made on the same trip last year and there is every reason why an even better record should be made this year.

For Varsity is stronger than ever before. With the same infield as last year the work has been very much improved. Both Druckes are showing much better form than at any time last year and Morton is working splendidly. If we just had "Ran" in shape nothing more could be asked. Also, it might be mentioned that the improvement noticed in batting Tuesday will be still greater against the south-state pitchers.

Texas has several old men back, Slugger Adamson being among the number, Johnson of S. U.'s '07 is with them. Groesbeck and Johnson (another one) are their mainstays in the box and neither is touted to come up to the standard of our twirlers. Moreover, Neil Wathen, this year's captain and third baseman has resigned from the team on account of his studies, and the resulting shake-up should weaken the team.

The Megaphone is authority for the statement that Southwestern has a team this year. They did beat A. and M., but State beat them 13 to 4 and St. Edwards turned the trick 5 to 0—and look what Baylor did to St. Eds. There has been internal dissension with the Georgetown aggregation, also, resulting in at least one man quitting the team. So, here's luck to you, Varsity!

PROHI CONTEST TONIGHT.

John C. Welch and Brax Wade left yesterday for Georgetown, where they represent us at the meeting of the Texas Prohibition Oratorical Association, Mr. Welch being speaker and Mr. Wade delegate.

This is one of the two inter-collegiate oratorical contests of Texas and quite an array of oratorical talent will be shown tonight. Mr. Welch has a good speech, practice has improved his delivery greatly since the preliminary contest, and it is not at all improbable that he will win.

the chance in time.

That was all the chance Baylor had, for whatever may be said of 'Varsity's offensive work, they played one of the most sensational fielding games ever seen in Waco. "Big 'Un" only allowed three hits to the Baylorites and his team mates record is only marred by M. Baldwin's muff of an easy throw. The two hits allowed were both made by the first men up in an inning, but both were killed while burglarizing second. Fuzzy's error also put the first man up on and he reached third on successive outs, but the necessary hit was not forthcoming. Especial mention is to be made of O. Drucke's work behind the bat, he handling everything. He saved his brother one wild pitch by a phenomenal stop and his throwing to second was perfect. Three men tried their luck, but were all easy victims to his pegging.

Two runs are enough to "cinch" a T. C. U.-Baylor game. At least that's what Baylor thinks. And when, on a combination of hits, luck and errors the gray-suited team registered two runs in the opening "sashay" the Green and Gold contingent immediately rent the air with "vociferate vociferateness." For they were two runs to the good, with their "best pitcher" in the box—so what could be the final result but victory for them.

Grissom opened with an easy one to Perkins, but on "ground-keeper's error" the ball went over SI's head for a scratch hit. Belew doubled to left, scoring Grissom. Graves drew first on a bad throw by Morton, Walker hit to Fuzz and Belew died between third and home. Mosely was hit with the ball making a "full house." Punchard fouled to Baldwin, but Potts hit safe to center. It was a short liner, and Dague tried to catch the runner at first. Fuzz threw home and caught Walker before he could score on the relay throw. Three hits and a wild throw by pitcher had resulted in two runs.

This was all "Runt" cared for Baylor to have and from then on Baylor did nothing. Witt's error and Perkins' bad throw caused a little uneasiness in the second, but the necessary bingle came not. After that habit got the better of the south-side team and with the exception of a solitary safe swat in the sixth it was three up, three down until the first of the ninth. Then with one down Mosely hit a hard one to right center, which Dague touched and deflected into a three-base drive. Punchard hit a hot one to Morton, but having plenty of time to spare he threw wild and Mosely scored despite a sensational catch and tag by Drucke. T. C. U. had scored once in the fourth. F. Baldwin led off with a hit. Wake hit to Belew, forcing Star out of second. O. Drucke dumped one to Willie and Belew's muff of the throw put both runners safe. M. Baldwin hit to Potts, who retired Drucke at second and Belew in his haste to complete a double threw wild to first, letting Wake score. Drucke kept running after being retired, however, and drew the ball home, thus putting Fuzz out at second (interfering with the play).

After this, with excellent support Willie was invincible until the eighth, when T. C. U.'s hopes revived. Perkins took first on Potts' error and stole second. Morton hit to center and took an extra base on the attempt to catch SI at third. With only one down prospects looked good for a score, but luck bobbed up and Lamonica was hit by a batted ball, loosening up the closed-in infield. Star couldn't make three hits straight and nobody scored.

The Ninth.

When 'Varsity failed to score in the eighth with such excellent prospects hope dwindled. And when Mosely lucked into a score in the first of the ninth even the most ardent supporter of the Purple and White was forced to admit that defeat seemed certain. But for all that the "pep" never vanished, nor did the team give up the fight. Willie started things by hitting Wakefield. Drucke's drive to second moved him up a notch. Fuzz beat out a slow one to Walker and stole second. Kerr, batting for Daniels, hit to Belew and Wakefield scored. Kerr going out at first. Perkins hit a hot one thru Potts and the score was tied. Witt dropped a safe one over Potts and then, with two men on bases, two outs and another tie in prospect, Morton won his own game with a safe drive to center.

This hit won for 'Varsity one of the greatest up-hill fights that they ever made. The fiasco in the eighth and Baylor's good fortune in the ninth made defeat seem inevitable and then our Varsity made good.

Every man did his part with defeat hanging upon the failure of anyone man. All honor to our team.
