CALL TO WORSHIP . . . . . The Reverend John L. Butler
Minister to the University

Leader: Teach us your ways, O God.
Set us in the way of your truth, and teach us,
for you are the God who saves us.
Lasting to eternity, your word, O Lord,
unchanging in the heavens;
Your faithfulness lasts age after age.

People: We have learned the Word of God and proclaim it with thanksgiving,
. . . act justly, love tenderly and walk humbly with your God.
This is the wisdom of God that gives and sustains life.
Therefore, let us rejoice and join in the praise of God's holy name for this and every generation.

HYMN . . . . . Led by Ira J. Schantz
Associate Professor of Voice

Praise To The Lord, The Almighty

Praise to the Lord, the Almighty, the King of creation!
O my soul, praise Him, for He is thy health and salvation!
All ye who hear, Now to His temple draw near;
Join me in glad adoration!

Praise to the Lord, who o'er all things so wondrously reigneth,
Shieldeth thee under His wings, yea, so gently sustaineth!
Hast thou not seen How thy desires e'er have been Granted in what He ordaineth?

Praise to the Lord, who doth prosper thy work and defend thee;
Surely His goodness and mercy here daily attend thee.
Ponder anew What the Almighty can do,
If with His love He befriends thee. Amen.

DR. SAUL B. SELLS

Doctor of Science Degree

Dr. Saul B. Sells, emeritus research professor of psychology, is widely recognized for his career of noteworthy contributions as a scientist, teacher, writer consultant and public official. His projects have covered a wide field of interests involving the areas of personality development, visual functions, psychometric measurement, personnel management, group and organizational behavior, bioelectronics, psychological theory, stress, aviation and aerospace psychology, computer simulation of behavior and social behavior problems.

Head of the Department of Medical Psychology at the School of Aviation Medicine, USAF, Randolph Air Force Base, for a decade, he joined TCU's psychology faculty in 1958. Four years later he was named director of the University's Institute of Behavioral Research with responsibility for a broad interdisciplinary research program in the behavioral sciences, focused on investigations leading to improved understanding of human personality, group and organizational behavior. In 1968 he became the first to be named Research Professor at TCU. He was awarded emeritus status when he retired in 1983.

Dr. Sells, a New York native, earned the bachelor's degree at Brooklyn College and the Ph.D. in psychology at Columbia University, where he held research and teaching appointments in 1934-38. While a lecturer in educational psychology in Brooklyn College's Graduate School of Education, he directed a city-wide testing program and other educational research in the New York City school system. Chief statistician in the Office of Price Administration during World War II, he spent two years in private industry in San Antonio before joining the School of Aviation Medicine staff in 1948.

Formerly an adjunct professor at Trinity University and a visiting professor at the University of Texas at Austin, Dr. Sells became the principal investigator of research contracts sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health, National Institute on Drug Abuse, U.S. Air Force, Office of Naval Research, U.S. Office of Education and U.S. Public Health Service after joining the TCU faculty. His contracts also included those with the U.S. Public Health Service, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, National Center for Health Statistics and a number of corporations and foundations. For the National Academy of Sciences, he was a member of the committee on long-duration space flight and contributed two chapters to its report, "Human Factors in Long-Duration Space Flight," published in 1972.

Dr. Sells is known across the nation for his contributions to and leadership of professional organizations. A Fellow of both the American Psychological Association and the Aerospace Medical Association, he is past-president of the Society for Multivariate Experimental Psychology and the Southwestern Psychological Association. He has been active in the American Education Research Association, the Association for Higher Education, American Statistical Association, Sigma Xi and other scientific and learned societies.

Past president of the Texas Psychological Association, Dr. Sells has served as consultant to both government and industry. Most recently his work has been with the Drug Abuse Advisory Council to the Governor of Texas and the National Center for Health Organization.

Author and co-author of nine books, he currently is associate and managing editor of Multivariate Behavioral Research and consulting editor for the Journal of Clinical Psychology. His most recent book, "Selection of Air Traffic Controllers," is being published by the Federal Aviation Administration. He is the author of more than 300 monographs, technical articles and reviews. Listed in such directories as American Men of Science, Who's Who in the World and Who's Who in Aviation and Aerospace, Dr. Sells received the Pacesetter Award of the National Institute on Drug Abuse in 1978 for his research.
