Dear Amon:

A very charming lady walked into my office with the most heart throbbing story I have ever listened to. She asked me if I knew you and, of course, I said yes. Then, will you take a letter for me? It must be strictly confidential, understand, but the lady involved is in need of a friend and the secret ambition she has always had for Mr. Carter, I think he is the man I must contact.

Well, Amon I have checked the ladies story and found it to be authentic and aside from that, find the lady she is so deeply interested in has entertained as many celebrities as you and I and made them feel at home, In so doing, of course, this lady does not know what character Wilma Burney and Lillian Riddle are. I think the only people they ever entertained were Lionel, Guy and Paul, and Elliott Cowden. It seems these women are trying to give Mrs. Weatherford the works and I do not think the girl deserves such treatment.

Will you please investigate this story?

I am sorry I cannot reveal my name, but I would have to tell you who the lady was and, of course, I cannot do that.

Will be seeing you around the Club.

Thanks
