Favorite Nominees Narrowed to 80

Second Election Tuesday; Final Balloting Set for Ball

The number of favorite nominees for the 1950 Horned Frog was reduced from 255 to 80 Tuesday as 570 students cast ballots in the first of three elections.

Half of the surviving 80 will be eliminated next Tuesday when five boys and five girls from each class are chosen in the second election. The final ballot will be at the Presentation Ball Dec. 2.

Thirteen of the 80 elected Tuesday have been chosen previously as favorites.

Lindy Berry and Miss Georgia Mixon, both of whom have been favorites before, led the senior list. Berry was elected in 1946, 1947 and 1948, and Miss Mixon in 1947 and 1948.

Berry and Bernie Robertson, sophomore, received the largest number of votes in the over-all election.

Athletes dominated most of the boys' elections except in the freshman class, where only two of 10 nominees were athletes. In the senior group, only two of the 10 were non-athletes.

Heaviest balloting was in the freshman class, with 199 votes cast. Seniors cast 127; juniors, 123; and sophomores, 121.

Homecoming to Hit With Bang Tonight

Jam-Packed Weekend Set For Students, Exes, Owls

All roads lead to T. C. U.'s Hill, beginning today, as hundreds of exes and Rice students converge for the University's annual clam-bake honoring former students.

And the visitors will run smack into one of the fullest Homecoming programs ever held at T. C. U.

In fact, exes and students will find that they have tackled a terrific job if they attempt to keep up with all the social events scheduled for this biggest-of-all Homecoming celebration.

And just to make certain that the old Frogland spirit is keyed to the proper high pitch, student leaders have scheduled three "pep" events designed to imbue everyone with a glow of enthusiasm.

First two of the three events will be staged tonight—a downtown pajama parade and rally at 8:30 p.m., followed by the traditional Homecoming bonfire and pep rally at 10 p.m. on the campus.

Tomorrow, just to make sure that the spirit generated tonight doesn't lag before the game, there will be a noon pep rally on the campus.

The primary object of this latter event is, of course, to boost the football team to victory over the Rice Owls. This will be the first time the Owls have been the Frogs' Homecoming opponents.

Parade at 10:30 a.m. Tomorrow

The annual downtown parade, always a main feature, will start at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Twelve floats, sponsored by campus groups, will be featured in the parade. The theme of each float, in order to be eligible for a prize, will relate either to the Rice game or to welcoming the exes.

Organizations sponsoring floats are the Brushes club, Ice-Skating club, Meliorist, Hoe-Down, Press club, Bryson club, Chi Beta, Alpha Psi Omega, Los Hidalgo, Rodeo Association, junior class and Barracks "Z."

Connie Mack Hood, Breckenridge senior and parade marshal, will lead the parade astride a horse. He will be followed by the Horned Frog band; Miss June Burrage, Fort Worth freshman and Homecoming Queen; school dignitaries; and all floats.

Floats will muster at the T. & P. reservation at 9 a.m. At 10:30 the parade will move down Main St. to the Court House, turn south on Throckmorton, and back to the campus via Sixth St., where floats will remain on exhibition.

Pre-Game Barbecue, Post-Game Dance

One of tomorrow's highlights for the exes will be the annual Chuckwagon Barbecue to be held at 11:30 in the Basketball Gymnasium. A business meeting will precede the meal.

Radio students are planning to make a tape recording of interviews with prominent T. C. U. exes at the barbecue. The recorded interviews will be used on the weekly program, "T. C. U. News and Views," broadcast by station KCNC at 1 p. m.

What will probably be the most gala affair tomorrow

Only Two Have Perfect Records

Alpha Chi Chooses 115 Members

Only two upper classmen have perfect scholastic records at T. C. U. to date. This was revealed Wednesday when a list of 115 seniors and juniors named to membership in Alpha Chi, national honor society, was announced by Dr. Troy C. Crenshaw, faculty sponsor.

Both seniors, the two are: Robert H. Padgett, Fort Worth, and Robert F. Herring, Cheyenne, Wyo. They head the list of 61 seniors with a 3-point average index.

John J. Hendrick, Fort Worth, tops the 54 juniors with a 2.92 grade index.

The 115 honor students named this semester top last year's list by 22.

The top ten per cent of each class is designated as eligible for membership in Alpha Chi provided that all in this group have grade indexes of 2.25 or better. Seniors thus named are given their degrees "with distinction."

Homecoming to Begin Tonight

night, a carnival-dance will get under way at 7:30 o'clock in the Basketball Gymnasium with a six-piece combo beating out the rhythms. Admission will be 25 cents.

Any clubs wishing to sponsor a booth or concession at the affair may contact Jimmy Paschal, Amarillo senior and Homecoming chairman, after the bonfire tonight. He will be decorating the Basketball Gymnasium all night, he says. Clubs may keep any profits that their booth or concession makes.

Pajama Parade, Rally, Bonfire Tonight

Setting the spark for both rallies tonight will be the downtown pajama parade. The parade will start from Burk Burnett Park and march to the Hotel Texas, where a short pep rally will be held.

Dormitory students are asked to meet behind the Administration Building at 8 p.m. Transportation will be available. Town students wishing to participate may proceed directly to the park, Paschal says. Attire for boys will be pajamas; for girls, blue jeans and dangling shirts.

The second and major pep rally of the night, to be climaxed by a giant bonfire, will be held on the campus behind the Administration Building at 10 p. m.

All of T. C. U.'s eight all-Americans have been invited to speak at the rally or send messages, and three have already indicated plans to attend. They are: Davey O'Brien, quarterback, and Ki Aldrich, center, on the 1938 national championship team; and Clyde Flowers, tackle and captain of the 1944 Southwest Conference champions.

Yelling tomorrow—preceding the game, that is—will be started with a pep rally at 12 noon in front of Tom Brown Hall after the Homecoming parade.

The Horned Frog Band will be featured at all of the rallies.

Organization Socials Dot Calendar

A new addition to the growing list of Homecoming activities is a square dance jamboree sponsored by the Fort Worth branch of the T. C. U. Women's Exes. The dance will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Gymnasium, announces Mrs.

Earth Turned For Church

Three persons from T. C. U. took part Sunday in breaking ground for a new $450,000 educational building for University Christian Church.

Dean Ellis M. Sowell of the School of Business, President M. E. Sadler and Dean Emeritus Colby D. Hall of Britte College, each turned a spadeful of dirt at the ceremony.

Mayor Edgar Deen congratulated the church and its pastor, Dr. Granville T. Walker, and termed the building more important "than new skyscrapers or expressways."

The new building, which will be joined to the present structure to form a U-shape, is expected to be completed by Christmas of 1950.

Sara Morgan, president of the local group. Admission is 50 cents per person.

Two special group dinners are also scheduled for tonight. The Frog Ex-Letters will hold their traditional banquet at 7:30 p.m. in the Hotel Texas hall room, while journalism exes will launch a similar tradition with their first annual Homecoming dinner at the same time in the Centennial Room of the Texas. The latter group will gather at 6 o'clock for a get-acquainted session before the dinner.

A third group, the T. C. U. attorney exes, will celebrate with a breakfast at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the cafeteria.

Also slated for tomorrow is a coffee at 8:30 a.m. in Waits Hall given by the Women's Exes Association.

Kickoff Set for 2 p.m.

Kickoff time for the Rice game is 2 p.m. At halftime the band will salute exes with a formation spelling out "exes" while playing "Memories." They will then form a heart while Clarence ("Red") Marable, Waco senior, presents June Burrage, Homecoming Queen, with flowers and a kiss. Next, the band will move to the east side of the field for a "T. C. U." formation where they will play the Alma Mater Hymn and a number written by Leon Breeden, former band director, entitled "Swinging Along With the Exes."

After the game, coffee and doughnuts will be served to band exes in the band rehearsal room of the fine arts building.

Open Houses Scheduled After Game

The T. C. U. Student Congress will entertain the Rice Student Council at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow with a banquet at Charles of New Orleans, 1312 W. Presidio.

Alpha Chi will have a coffee for former active members at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in the parlor of Tom Brown Hall.

All men's dormitories will hold open house from 10 a.m. to 12 noon tomorrow, and after the game to 6 p.m. Refreshments will be served in each dormitory.

Other open houses will be: Natural Science Society, 10 a.m. in Clark Hall basement; mathematics department, 10 a.m. in Room 1, Building 6; Home Economics, 9 a.m. in Sterling House; and biology-geology department, 9 a.m. in Clark Hall basement.

Desks are set up at four downtown hotels—the Worth, Blackstone, Texas and Westbrook—for the registration of alumni. Other desks are set up in the lobby of the administration building, the Basketball Gymnasium, and Waits Hall.

Dr. Walker to Speak To English Students

A lecture on the English Bible and its background will be given by Dr. Granville T. Walker, pastor of University Christian Church, at 11 a. m. Nov. 29 before students in English 324. The lecture will be given in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Mrs. Bertie Mothershead, librarian, will arrange an exhibition of Bibles in the main reading room of the library the day before the lecture.

Others wishing to hear Dr. Walker are welcome, says Dr. Troy C. Crenshaw, head of the English department.

More Study Time Wanted

Holiday Asked For Dead Week

A proposal to dismiss classes on Friday and Saturday of Dead Week—in order to study—was made at the Student Congress meeting Tuesday night.

The proposal, made by Miss Barbara Sterling, Dallas senior, was sent to the policy committee for investigation. It stipulates that no activities will be held during that time.

A proposed financial control bill which would create a comptroller to make a post-audited report on all congress appropriations was introduced by Thorp Andrews, Fort Worth sophomore.

The bill also calls for the comptroller to be in charge of the congress mimeograph, sound systems and information booths excepting the Student Lounge. It would be the duty of the comptroller to make a post-audited report on all appropriated surpluses and other appropriations in conjunction with the congress treasurer.

The comptroller would be chosen by two-thirds of congress and would be paid a salary not less than the prevailing campus wage rate.

Congress members voted to join the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association, an organization to which seven other Texas colleges belong. The purpose of the T. I.

S. A. is to encourage and promote active student governments, to foster an interest in all phases of college citizenship and to discuss problems and exchange ideas with other governments. The T. I. S. A. was established last spring.

Congress also: 1. Heard a budget report from Treasurer Mike Saenz, Laredo graduate student. There is $1,508.19 in the general fund and $642.92 unappropriated surplus in the permanent improvement fund.

2. Voted against putting the representatives-at-large system of congressional representation on the spring cheerleader ballot for student body approval.

3. Voted unanimously to send Bill Bishop, Corpus Christi senior and Student Lounge manager, a vote of thanks for the successful operation of the Lounge.

4. Asked to hear a complete report from Editor Larry Denton, Bonham senior, at the next meeting of congress, on The Skiff's financial position since September.

5. Accepted the $52.35 profit from the concession car on the congress-sponsored student, body train to Austin last week.

6. Heard a financial statement from Connie Mack Hood, Breckenridge senior, who reported that

Service Set For Tuesday

All Students to Meet For Thanksgiving Talk

Charles Wellborn, student of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and former professor at Baylor University, will speak at an all-student Thanksgiving service Tuesday in the Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The service, sponsored by the United Religious Council, will begin at 11 a. m.

Wellborn's talk will be entitled "Thanks Be Unto God." Wellborn has been twice named national inter-collegiate debate champion. He is a veteran of the Army ski troops.

A graduate of the Baylor Law School, he was retained there as professor of political science. After one year of teaching, he decided to study for the ministry and enrolled in the Baptist Seminary.

The Thanksgiving program will include hymns and scripture reading. Joe Bryan, Kansas City, Mo. junior, will read a litany.

The amount of money lost at the Casino dance is still undetermined.

7. Voted to give the Executive student government members, cheerleaders and newspaper editor a dinner Saturday night at the Charles of New Orleans restaurant.

8. Discussed the program for the all-student meeting yesterday.

Ambros to Arrive Dec. 15

Estonian Student to Enroll; Transfers From Stockholm

A war refugee who narrowly escaped execution at the hands of the Germans soon will join the large group of foreign students attending T. C. U. He is being aided by the World Student Service Fund.

Heino Ambros, a native of Estonia now enrolled in the University of Stockholm, is scheduled to arrive on the campus Dec. 15 to register for the spring semester.

Last year Ambros wrote to the administration here, expressing great interest in Texas and particularly in T. C. U. Dean Jerome Moore of the College of Arts and Sciences, learned from Swedish educational authorities that he had an excellent academic record and had mastered four languages. In view of his abilities Dean Moore, on behalf of the Administrative Committee, last spring provided Ambros with an academic scholarship to T. C. U.

Congress Provides Expenses

The Student Congress, sponsoring the W. S. S. F., then voted to provide Ambros with $500 for his first year's expenses here. At the end of that period he will be given employment in order that he may meet expenses.

The 24-year-old Estonian has led a harried and dangerous life. In 1941, while he was still in high school, his homeland was overrun by the invading forces of Germany and Russia. His parents were killed, and he was captured by the Germans and thrown in a concentration camp.

Escapes from Nazis

The Nazi high tribunal sentenced him to death, but two days before the execution date he escaped. By using a small fishing boat under cover of darkness he managed to reach Finland. But Finland too, he discovered, was overrun. Forced to flee because he had no identification papers, he made his way to Sweden and safety.

In Sweden, Ambros worked his way through high school, then matriculated in the University of Stockholm. While in the university he has continued to work and pay his own way.

Ambros will enter T. C. U. as an undergraduate, but he plans to remain here until he has completed his graduate work.

Nabunda Oda To Be Heard Japanese Ex-Student To Speak Wednesday

Nabunda Oda, a T. C. U. graduate, now president of Margaret K. Long school in Tokyo, will speak Wednesday to two campus groups.

He will speak at chapel at 12 noon in Brite College and will address the Homiletic Guild at 2:30 p.m. at Colonial Cafeteria.

Oda is here visiting church organizations and church schools under the auspices of the United Christian Missionary Society.

He received his degree in 1927, and returned to his native Japan to head the school established and maintained by the Disciples of Christ. During the war he worked with the Japanese government to maintain and protect the educational interests of the Disciples.

"The missionary society owes more thanks to Oda than to any other person for keeping the mission property intact," says Noel Keith, secretary of the Alumni Association.

Other speakers for next week's chapel services will be:

Monday, Paul Thompson, Fort Worth junior; and Tuesday, Ray Bristol, Brite junior from Elsberty, Mo.

New Vote Plan Turned Down

A recommendation to place the representative-at-large system for electing student body officers on the spring cheerleader ballot was turned down by the Student Congress Tuesday night.

The system called for a president and vice-president of the Student Association and 25 representatives-at-large to comprise the Student Congress. The whole student body would vote for all 25 representatives and not just for representatives from individual classes.

'Most Democratic' Form

This form of seating representatives was submitted by the constitution committee as the most democratic and governmentally desirable of three possible forms the summer Student Congress had worked out. One of those forms—the class system—was rejected by the Student Association in the Oct. 5 election. It is the present system of electing representatives.

The school and college system was voted as the second most desirable form by the student body, but the constitution committee found this to be governmentally unsound, according to Thorp Andrews, Fort Worth sophomore, chairman of the committee.

The school and college system calls for representatives from each school and college on the campus in proportion to the size of the school or college.

Vote Is 5-2

The constitution committee agreed that the representative-at-large system was superior to the others, according to Andrews, but on the roll-call vote at congress meeting only two of the seven members on the committee voted "aye."

Chief opponents to the system were Tommy Bouchard, Austin junior, and Miss Barbara Sterling, Dallas senior.

Andrews and Bob Ross, Fort Worth sophomores, were the only assenting voters.

RICE DUCATS OFF SALE TODAY

Anyone who does not have a ticket and still is planning to attend the Rice game tomorrow has until 4:30 p. m. today to exchange his coupon for a ticket, Howard Grubbs, athletic director, warns.

There positively will be no tickets available at the gate before game time, he declares.

Tickets for the S. M. U. game Nov. 26 must be obtained at the Stadium office between 8 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Monday through Wednesday, Grubbs says. No tickets will be available at the gate before this game either, he adds.

Snack Bar to Be Closed; Lounge Gets $242 Profit

The Snack Bar in the fine arts building will close as soon as its inventory has been sold, according to Miss Louise Goodspeed, Fort Worth senior and president of Mu Phi Epsilon, the sorority which operates the sandwich concession.

The decision to discontinue its operation came after President M. E. Sadler recommended last week that it be closed.

The Snack Bar, which has been operating about six weeks, was started to increase the treasury of Mu Phi Epsilon. Volunteers worked in the concession. A total profit of approximately $20 was made.

President Sadler based his request to close it on a Student Congress recommendation which pointed out that the Snack Bar is in direct competition with the Student Lounge.

While lounge profits are placed in a fund toward a student union building, the Snack Bar's profits are going to a private organization.

The lounge committee will meet at 1 p. m. Wednesday in the office of Dr. W. J. Hammond, one of the faculty members on the committee, to discuss installing candy vending machines in the fine arts building. Coke machines were installed Tuesday on a temporary basis.

"There is a definite need for these machines in the fine arts building because it is not centrally located," says Bill Hamilton, San Antonio senior and president of the Student Association.

The lounge committee is endeavoring to eliminate all its competition, including coke machines which are now scattered over the campus. The committee is seeking permission to obtain all profits from these machines to place them in the fund toward a student union building which would benefit all students, according to Hamilton.

As its Tuesday meeting the committee heard a financial report which showed the lounge made a net profit of $242.36 for October.

Heads Evening College

Golfer, Ph.D., Grandfather: Thumbnail Sketch of Dean

PAT ERLANDSON Have you seen a pipe walking around the campus with a man behind it?

The man is Dr. Cortell K. Holsapple, dean of the Evening College, and that's an 11-inch-long pipe (by actual measurement) that he smokes.

Dr. Holsapple usually spends between 15 and 18 hours working daily. He maintains close contact with the 1344 students in the Evening College and estimates that he has 3,000 personal interviews with students annually.

But, with all his work and activities in various educational associations, Dr. Holsapple along with Burl A. Crouch, associate professor of education, and Prof. Thomas Prouse, director of physical education, heads for the Worth Hills Golf Course. Their golf matches have been held the year around, come rain or shine, for the past five or six years.

"Sometimes we have to wear overshoes, or even overcoats, but we hardly ever miss our weekly golf match," he says.

Dr. Holsapple came to T. C. U.

in 1938 as head of the department of psychology and philosophy. When the Evening College was established as a separate unit in 1943, he was made its first and only dean.

During World War II, Dr. Holsapple served as co-ordinator of the Civil Pilot Training program and as a technical consultant of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Washington. He was one of nine men in the United States to hold his position.

The dean is busy learning to be a good grandfather, too, for recently a daughter was born to his son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Cortell K. Holsapple, Jr. Young Dr. Holsapple is a physician on the staff of Harris Hospital.

Two things every college man should know!

1. This is an English major.

Goes from bed to verse. Glows when Johnson waxes poetic. Thinks Ogden Nash is funny but knows John Greenleaf is Whittier.

2. These "Manhattan" Repp ties open a new chapter in smart fall styling. And best of all, the stripings are in your own Alma Mater colors.

Fair Weather Bandwagon Rolls Again

"A down-hearted pack of Horned Frog fans who slipped into Austin ready for the worst, went crazy in two hours Saturday afternoon. A student body that couldn't raise enough spirit to win a ping pong match came alive as the game's second half wore away (and as the T. C. U. team went into the lead). Evidently the Frog players benefited by staying away from the fans. . . ."

These opening sentences from a story on the front page of Sunday's Star-Telegram make it evident that the "fair-weather" aspect of T. C. U. student body spirit has become obvious to even a casual observer and the public at large. This is a shameful situation.

But it would have been apparent two days earlier last week to anybody who took the trouble, as few did, to come to the pre-game Texas pep rally. Only the band and less than a hundred other students had enough interest to show up and demonstrate to the then-losing Frogs that they were still behind them.

To the credit of those who were there, let it be said that they seemed to make more noise and evidence more spirit than the big pep rally crowds after winning Saturdays. The faithful few apparently took it as a challenge to show the team that it did have some loyal supporters.

Well, the Frogs went out and won a tough game Saturday, and as a result we can expect quite a crowd at this Friday night's bonfire-pep rally. The Frogs are on top again, and all their "fair-weather" friends will be back with them.

And there should be a crowd. But it is a sad situation when a team has to inspire its students into action. Students are supposed to inspire their teams.

When one remembers the remark of a speaker at the first pep rally of this year (when a capacity crowd jammed the old Auditorium after T. C. U. had shut out Kansas, 28 to 0, in the opening game) to the effect, "It takes a championship student body to help make a championship football team," there can be little doubt that the T. C. U. student body should be taking a good share of the criticism that anybody wants to throw at Frogland.

The Skiff longs for the day when T. C. U. students will turn out in capacity numbers for all pep rallies, no matter what the team did the preceding week. The new Pep Cabinet has made this fall's rallies worthy attractions in themselves, so there is no longer any "I-have-such-a-lousy-time" excuse for not coming.

Let us never hear Coach L. R. ("Dutch") Meyer say again, as he did after speaking to a sparse crowd at the Texas A. & M.-eve rally (following the loss to Arkansas), "There are not too many students who care if we win or lose, are there?"

Railroad Collision

When an idea looks bad on the surface, there usually is not much trouble in resisting it.

Nevertheless, our Student Congress is to be commended for defeating an obvious attempt made by certain of its members Tuesday night to "railroad" a bit of legislative chicanery through congressional channels.

The particular incident stemmed from the long-fought battle of constitutional revision on congressional representation. You will remember:

- 1. That students were given their choice of three representation systems—by classes, by schools and colleges or by representatives-at-large—in a referendum election Oct. 5.
2. That it was ruled at that time that whichever method received a plurality vote would be put up for ratification in the Student Court election Oct. 25, and that if it failed of ratification, the second choice would be presented in a future election.
3. That the class system got the Oct. 5 plurality, but failed to be ratified by a minimum number of voters on Oct. 25.

The logical thing to expect would be the presentation of the school-and-college system which ran second—in a ratification election all by itself.

But no. Logic is one thing and the constitutional committee—which took it upon itself to find this particular system "governmentally unsound"—is another.

The committee calmly announced Tuesday night that its members had decided to throw out—just like that—the school-and-college system and present the representative-at-large method (which ran last in the first referendum) for ratification when the cheerleaders are elected this spring.

Whether or not one system is better than another is beside the point. It just isn't legal, much less good parliamentary procedure, to go to all the trouble of holding elections if one little committee is going to have the final biased say. Congress as a whole must have had the good sense to see as much, for it voted down the proposal, nine to two.

Next case!

Thank$, Bi$hop

The Student Lounge was on its last legs. Debts—several thousand dollars worth of them—were hanging heavily over its head. No one knew just where it stood, monetarily speaking, and the Administration finally issued an edict: the lounge would have to close.

The Student Congress hurriedly asked for permission to take over management and operation of the eat-and-drink spot in order to prevent its shutting up shop; and the official okay came through, with comparatively few strings attached, and an almost inaudible sigh of relief.

Bill Bishop, Corpus Christi senior, was appointed Lounge Manager, and the students were on their own.

That was last July. With the announcement this week that the lounge cleared $242.86 for the month of October comes the removal of all doubt as to whether a student-operated enterprise can come from behind and prosper.

The lounge has done just that. When the combination restaurant, night club, juke-joint and card-house—as Dr. W. J. Hammond, congress faculty adviser, describes the lounge—netted $253 in September, it might have been called a freak. Not anymore. The lounge has given a repeat performance and seems assured of a long and successful run.

For Bill Bishop and his staff, The Skiff has only praise. If we ever want to open our own cabaret, we'll know where to look for personnel.

Hey, Bud, Maybe You Could Help—

Cogitatin' with the Editor—

Union Now—Student, That Is

By LARRY DENTON

"Union Now!" That was a fine slogan back in the Eighteenth Century when the colonies were having a tough time getting together. And it got results—namely, the United States of America.

And it's very applicable to T. C. U. right now. Our campus is, we believe, one of the few colleges in the world where students have absolutely no place to get together for the purposes students naturally want to get together for—socials, meetings, bull sessions, etc.

Oops, beg pardon. We take back the word "absolutely." For meetings, there's always a nice deserted classroom somewhere—if you can find it. And for socials, try the Brits College clubroom—if it's not in use by one of T. C. U.'s 50 other organizations.

Otherwise, we dare you to find a place on the campus for these functions—a place that's appropriate and a place that you can get permission to use. All of which points up a fact that most of the persons on the campus have long realized: T. C. U. needs a student union.

Perhaps this is what too many persons fail to realize: T. C. U. needs a student union NOW, not 10 years from now. Most students agree that T. C. U. suffers terribly from a lack of social life. There are many instances in which T. C. U. students have transferred to other schools for just this reason. The erection of a union building would help the social outlook here immeasurably, simply by providing a central, well-equipped place for students to get together—for everything from an all-school dance to a meeting of Sigma Tau Delta.

And another sore point: The student body is split—hopelessly. It would seem—into two parts: dorm students and town students. We, for one, can see why town students make no effort to take part in school activities—other than classes—since there is nothing on the campus to attract them "after hours."

We don't make plans for the building program, but if we did, the erection of a union would take precedence over everything else—science building, field house and all others included.

This isn't to say that nothing is being done. The administration has plans for a student union in the building program. The Student Congress is doing an admirable thing in starting and adding to a union fund.

As a matter of fact, maybe this whole column can be written off as a shining example of "youthful impatience." Maybe we won't be impatient when we're 40 years old. But we're not 40 yet. So we repeat: "Union Now!"

There are, we've decided, fads in conversation just as definitely as there fads in sweaters or jewelry or music.

And the latest fad around here seems to concern the so-called "lack of tradition" at T. C. U.

We don't know just where these people got the idea, but we think they ought to open their eyes.

No traditions? What about the green caps that bob up and down for the first few months of every fall term. . . . Going to the Library to "study" and talking to all your friends instead. . . . Meeting persons at the Arch (we'll always call it that—because of one thing—tradition). . . . Sitting on the steps of Clark or Goode and whistling at the sweet young things. . . . Greeting about the food in the Cafeteria. . . . Drinking coffee at the Drug. . . . The Presentation Ball. . . . The Spring Formal. . . . The Alma Mater. . . . Senior rings. . . . Slime day. . . .

Et cetera. We could go on. If these things aren't traditions. . . . Well, in short, if you don't think T. C. U. has any traditions, we feel sorry for you.

Alma Mater Matter—

Past Obscure, Renditions Vary

"Hail, all hail. . . T. C. U. . . ." It was simple and slow. But when the Transylvania choir sang it in four-part harmony at the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ, the T. C. U. Alma Mater Hymn made such a pleasing contrast to the faster, more swiny songs the other schools represented that everyone present was deeply impressed—particularly President Sadler and the rest of the delegates from T. C. U.

They've talked about that beautiful rendition ever since. In light of this, plus a little q. t. controversy which arose a year when the band played a rather radical symphonic arrangement (Stan Kentonish) of the hymn, and in view of the fact that H. coming is here and the exes will be interested, it might be to review the histories of T. C. U.'s songs.

There are not many accurate records. Up until 1928 T. C. U. had been using a song based on Washington and Lee Swing, but in that year W. & L. decided to right, leaving us out on a musical limb. It was decided to hold a contest for the best Alma Mater song written by a T. C. U. student or faculty member.

Nothing is known of the contest except that it was won by present Alma Mater Hymn, words and music by one Glenn C. Canfield.

About the author we know even less than we do about the song. Glenn Owen Canfield was awarded an A. B. degree with a major in the Bible in 1928. He was in and out of several musical organizations during his four years here.

The yearbook depicts him as a rather serious looking young man with horn-rim glasses and a black bow tie. He is pictured both as a member of the graduating class—with cap and gown—and as a "Royal Purple," which, a short foreword explains, was the equivalent of a big-man-on-the-campus of today.

Since graduation, Mr. Canfield has done a very thorough job of dropping out of sight, but his song has perpetuated his name.

Musical score for the Alma Mater Hymn. It includes the title 'ALMA MATER HYMN', the composer 'Words and Music by Glenn Canfield - 28', and the lyrics: 'Hail-All Hail- T. C. U. Men-riest sweet, Comrades in Hail-All Hail-glorious bright! Purple Frogs, Honor With Light of Faith, Follow thru-Praise to Thee, T. C. U. Victory! Spirits true- Praise to Thee, T. C. U.' The score is in G major and 4/4 time, with dynamic markings like 'Extremely slow', 'mf', and 'dim rit'.

A reproduction of the original copy of T. C. U.'s Alma Mater Hymn, made by Mrs. Noel Keith.

since he penned it in 1928. The fight song, "Horned Frogs, We Are All For You," appears on the scene at about this same time, with words by Mrs. Ed Smiser and music by Claude Sammis, who was head of the department until his death in 1942. No one seems to know when the fight song was an entry in the contest which selected the Alma Mater. Both songs were copyrighted March 6, 1936, and the copyright gives the date of first publication for both as Nov. 22, 1936. But there isn't a word of either date in corresponding issues of The Skiff.

Our Alma Mater apparently plugged along on its own through the years, unnoticed by the passing parade of collegians, being arranged and re-written so many times as to become almost unrecognizable to those who knew it when.

Last year it was resurrected by Noel Keith, special assistant to Dr. Sadler, who dug up a copy of the original words and music and had it lithographed for the cover of the faculty Women's Club yearbook.

It was this copy that Mr. Keith sent to Transylvania when the requested it for the convention, and it was from this copy that a cappella choir achieved their majestic, beautiful and gratifying results. They sang the song as a hymn, which is what it is. The fact that its last note almost always becomes the first note of the first song when it is sung by the student body does not justify any happy arrangement of the Alma Mater Hymn.

Why Such Interest?

Favorite Election Stirs Up Frenzy

By FRANK BURKETT

The parade of favorite elections has started. The Student Congress office was jammed to overflowing when we went in to vote Tuesday morning. Rows of photographs of potential favorites loomed like rogues' gallery charts from every available inch of wall space, and students milled around circling and scratching names like crazy.

There were almost as many persons on the other side of the counter—election officials, vote-counters, ballot-handlers, etc.—there were voters. But not quite.

There were a lot more students interested in selecting their class favorites and down there to do it than there ever are in selecting congressmen or court judges.

Maybe such a situation is caused by publicity, but we doubt it. The Skiff knocks itself out trying to stir up a little interest in student government, and the congressional campaign posters are always just as big, if not bigger, than those of the favorite nominees. Most of the time the honor-seekers have the good taste to not even put up any advertisements.

So what causes all the interest? It just might be the fact that a good half of the student body is nominated to the favorite positions. And they probably have a friend apiece.

There will be a favorite, run-off election sometime in the near future, and the folks who come through that will be voted on at the Presentation Ball Dec. 2. Neat arrangement, to say the very least.

Reason why it's so tricky is this: By the time a candidate has class favorite has won in two elections, that candidate will have built up a substantial block of supporters, many of whom may be quite enthusiastic. When the final vote comes due, you can bet your busfare they'll be beating the bushes and getting people out to the dance to cast those ballots for Johnny or Susie or whomever. The more persons who attend the ball, the more scratch the Horned Frog staff has to work with and the better this year's annual will be. So if you don't get to exercise your right as student or citizen of a democracy—but that's another problem.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hits Homecoming

To the Editor:

Once again Homecoming time has rolled around and once again our Homecoming activities will be the shabby parody they have always been. As always, there has been little or no general student interest in perfecting the parade or the many other events.

Student officers have failed to evoke the enthusiasm here that one can find on any other campus in the Southwest. Those of us who were in Waco for the Baylor Homecoming will remember what a fine parade and reception the old Baptist grads received. The parade was well organized and the floats were things of beauty.

I am not one of those who claim to have a remedy for the situation as it exists; I represent only the students who are, and will be, ashamed of this Homecoming. That is, if this Homecoming follows the pattern set in previous attempts.

It is not yet too late, however. Classes, clubs, there is still time left to make this a Homecoming that will go down in T. C. U. history as a well-organized, purposeful reception. Support your chosen officers and get into the spirit of Homecoming.

DAVID DICKINSON.

Criticizes Column

To the Editor:

In Charles Dickey's column in last week's Skiff an attempt is made to tear down a story by Sportswriter John Maynard of the Los Angeles Examiner on Doak Walker, an Associated Press story, and semantics.

Dickey doesn't give Maynard due credit. Stories ARE plentiful on the West coast building up Pacific Coast football teams' ego, etc.; but this was a rare bit of choice material for an alert sports-writer.

Maynard hit the nail squarely on the head in his report on the "Doaker, S. M. U., the Associated Press and the publicity department of the Southwest

Cheatin' Ain't Fair

To the Editor:

An article in your competitor, The Star-Telegram, Tuesday evening intimates a new day dawning for the nation's co-eds. The story originated in Hollywood and was a report by a plastic surgeon. In effect, he said the machine-made mammary gland is on its way out. Now, a simple operation can induce physical growth in normally barren areas.

How revolutionary an announcement get? I can envision a multi-million dollar business crumbling!

A plastic-surgery operation may again augment the hand of God in creating present-day attributes of loveliness. Unfortunately, this wondrous new operation will cause extensive technological unemployment in the pseudo-gland area, but on the other hand it provides an entirely new specialization for surgeons. Pre-med students note: It is likely to prove a lucrative specialty indeed.

Locally, it may soon end the need for outright deception. Soon, all of us can believe our eyes when we see an especially curvaceous cutie stroll by.

Of course, I realize the Hollywood surgeon has discovered something that will leave male conversations without conjecture and controversy, but I feel that the discovery will replace that conversational vacuum with a stride forward in restoring integrity and honesty on the female's part. I do not mean that the female is now dishonest, but I do mean that the discovery will eliminate the dishonest element in female competition for attention.

In all fairness, the male student should now stop buying coats with shoulders sewn in. Let's all be honest and above-board with each other. Life will be more sure, love more enduring.

B. C. H.

Hopefully yours,

CHAS. O. ("HAP") COLE.

Need for Nylons

To the Editor:

Where are the football team's white nylon pants?

And why doesn't the team wear their purple jerseys at home games—like tomorrow, for instance—once in a while?

I was happy at the beginning of the season to see that the Frogs had at last discarded their disreputable-looking khakis. It must have cost a sizeable sum for the Frogs' new game-uniforms. Why were they purchased if they are never to be worn? What are they being saved for—a bowl game, perhaps?

Let's get sharp with our uniforms as well with scores against Rice tomorrow! Wear the white pants and purple jerseys.

The Drag-Net—

Please, Bob, This Way 'Out'

A-HUNTING HE DID GO: It was half-time at the Texas game and a Frog student walked swiftly with his date past several donors marked "In" and "Out" under Memorial Stadium. Presently the girl entered one door, and the boy cut in to the next one he came to. A full thirty seconds passed, and then cries of anguish split the air. The male student, very red of face, stuck his head out of a door marked "Out," the one he had previously entered, and glanced swiftly about his shoulder at a sign, high in the shadows, which read "Women."

To a howling buddy who had witnessed the performance, Bobby Malone, Fort Worth senior, spluttered: "Did you see what I just did?"

Women Hold Edge Over Men In Past 20 Years, Survey Shows

By CHARLES THOMPSON

Scholastically, the women hold an edge over the men at T. C. U. At least that is what was revealed in a recent survey of graduating classes for the past 20 years. Approximately two-thirds of the highest ranking students in each of the 45 classes since 1930 have been women.

The majors of these top scholars varied greatly, but the majority chose the fields of English, education and mathematics. Almost all of the students had a grade point average of from 2.600 to a perfect 3.000.

Eleven students have been graduated with a perfect 3.000 average, including eight in the past three years. Red letter year for the school, scholastically, was last year when three graduates with "A" averages received their diplomas in June.

"A" Averages

Those attaining the highest possible average were Milton Mehl, who was graduated in June 1935; Miss Dorothy Sinex, May 1943; Robert Magoffin, January 1944; Miss Wilma J. Brown, June 1946; Richard Edgar Jay, August 1946; Miss Bonnie Osburn, June 1947; Mrs. Clara Louise Grady, August 1947; Misses Jenny Lind Porter and Ona Pauline Roberts and Bruce Dwight Fallis, June 1948; and Miss Frances Marguerite Mayhew, June 1949.

Two of the ex-students are now on the faculty of T. C. U. Miss Virginia N. Cain, who was graduated in 1937, is now an instructor in home economics. Dan Jarvis is an instructor in geology.

Those teaching or having taught in public schools in Fort Worth and Texas are Miss Helen Vaughn, Mrs. Maude Ramsey, Mrs. A. J. Zihlman, Miss Ann Maloney, Mrs. Sidney Farrington, Miss Bessie Ashley, Miss Marjorie Whitfield, and Miss Ona Pauline Roberts.

Miss Hazel LaRue Erby is an instructor at the Public Health Service Hospital here, and Harry Rex Davis is teaching at Beloit College in Wisconsin. Mrs. Clara Louise Grady is teaching at Tarleton State College.

Miss Frances Woolery is now editor of young people's literature of the Christian Board of Publication in St. Louis. Miss Bonnie Osburn is on the staff of Texas

Outlook, an education publication. Gresham 1931 Graduate

In 1931 Perry Gresham received his B. A. degree and two years later took his B. D. He is pastor of the Central-Woodward Christian Church, Detroit, and was the convocation speaker here in September.

Milton Mehl is a Fort Worth attorney, while Miss Faye Mozelle Rankin is a physicist at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Richard Jay, former instructor at T. C. U., and Miss Elizabeth Biser are married and living in Berkeley, Calif., where he is doing further study at the University of California.

Cortell K. Holsapple, Jr. is on the medical staff of Harris Hospital in Fort Worth. His father is dean of the Evening College. Miss Jenny Lind Porter ex '48, is making preparations to begin study for her Ph. D. in English.

Bruce Dwight Fallis is now in medical school at Washington University in St. Louis, and Miss Frances Mayhew is attending Vanderbilt University working toward an M. A. degree in English.

Top Students by Years

A chronological list of the top-ranking student in each class and his major follows:

1930—Miss Frances Woolery, Bible; and Mrs. R. L. Hutchins, English.

1933—Miss Helen Vaughn, edu-

Troy C. Simpson, Shelby W.

41 Names Added To Degree List

With the addition of 41 names, 171 students are scheduled to complete work on their degrees at mid-year, Registrar S. W. Hutton announced this week.

More than half of the supplementary list is composed of students majoring in geology and physical education, the registrar said.

Mr. Hutton again emphasized that this is a tentative list. The candidates must complete satisfactory grade points and meet all degree requirements, he added. Degrees will be conferred at the spring commencement May 31.

Twenty-four Fort Worth students who expect to receive degrees at mid-year are:

Henry Rex Alford, William Carroll Beck, Clarence E. Black, Mendie Earl ("John") Bond, Miss Joanne Dossett, Osborn L. Duke Jr., Lee Duke, Billy Edward Gordon.

Mrs. Marie Haines, W. Ralph Holloway, L. R. Hudgins, Wade Leverett Jones, Clyde Eugene Little, Bob O. Lynch, Bobby Malone, George Ray Musgrave, Billy E. Penn.

Three Exes Win Awards

Literary Works Bring Three Firsts, Second

Three T. C. U. exes recently won fame for themselves and reflected fame on their alma mater by winning first or second prize literature awards.

Everett A. Gillis of Lubbock was awarded the Lone Star prize by the Texas Poetry Society for his poem, "Young Austin," last Friday in Dallas.

William D. Barney of Fort Worth won two first place prizes at the same time. Barney won the Goethe award for his poem on Goethe, and also the song lyric award for his piece entitled, "The Vaquero."

Camilla Boykin Campbell of San Antonio placed second in the juvenile book awards of the Texas Institute of Letters, also in Dallas, last Friday. Her book, "The Bartlett of Box B Ranch," was a Junior Literary Guild selection for April.

Another T. C. U. ex-student, Siddle Joe Johnson, children's librarian of Dallas, was one of the speakers at the afternoon session of the institute.

What Happened in Congress

The Student Congress Tuesday night:

1. Discussed a proposal to dismiss classes on Friday and Saturday of Dead Week — to study. The proposal went to the policy committee for investigation.

2. Voted down a proposal to put the representatives-at-large system of electing congress members on the spring ballot with cheerleader candidates.

3. Heard a budget report stating there is $1368.19 in the general fund and $642.92 unappropriated surplus in the permanent improvement fund.

4. Voted to send a vote of thanks to Bill Bishop, Corpus Christi senior and Student Lounge manager for the successful operation of the Lounge.

5. Asked to hear a complete report on The Skiff's financial position since September from Editor Larry Denton, Bonham senior, at the next meeting.

6. Accepted the $52.35 profit from the concession car on the congress-sponsored student body train to Austin last week.

7. Voted to give the Rice student government members, cheerleaders and newspaper editor a dinner Saturday night at the Charles of New Orleans restaurant.

8. Heard a financial statement from Connie Mack Hood, Breckenridge senior, who reported that the amount of money lost at the Casino dance is still undetermined.

9. Discussed the program for the all-student meeting yesterday.

By CHARLES DICKEY

T. C. U. HAS a fullback.

The Daily Texan admits it — says Lindy Berry had more help than Paul Campbell and that John Morton was the leading rusher for last Saturday.

However, The Texan side steps as beautifully as Ben Procter when mentioning the poor pass receiving by the Longhorns. All those dropped touchdowns rated a simple "well-covered receivers" explanation. Who covered 'em?

We thought T. C. U. played with only 11 men Saturday.

Seems that one Byron Townsend averaged seven yards the carry for Texas. Also it seemed to us that when the West Texas Flash made more than ten yards on a play, Campbell immediately threw four passes (incomplete) or called for a punt over the goal posts from the Frog 29-yard line.

WE DON'T go in for being overly critical of our own coach and players, so we shouldn't say too much about somebody else, either. But Texas has a fine football team, a much better team than scores indicate. We do feel, however, that the Longhorns' opponents will be sorry to see Paul Campbell graduate.

THE TEXAN is right. T. C. U. does have a fullback.

As the season draws to a close, Berry and Morton have a good start on Mr. Inside-Mr. Outside routine.

The only trouble, it's a question of which is which.

Lindy scored the first Frog touchdown against Texas on a 33-yard run outside right tackle. But also in that drive Lindy hit the tackles for five and eight yard gains. At other times he backed between the Texas tackles for four, 14 and eight-yard gains.

BIG JOHN really came into his own and blasted the Longhorns like a 220-pound fullback should. For the final Frog touchdown, although the ball was on the Texas one, Morton punched through about three yards of stacked up, goal-line defense for the score.

He looked just as good running the flanks. Seven, 14, and 10-yard runs featured some of his sorties at the Texas ends.

MIGHT SEEM blasphemous to compare anybody with the Aggie's Jarrin' John Kimbrough, but we remember "Big Jaw" (back in the dim days of our youth) running down a sideline with tacklers bouncing off first to one side than the other.

Blasphemy, maybe, but our own Big John did a little bouncing of his own Saturday. How about some more of the same, John?

BUT IT still looks bad for the Frogs. Rice has climbed to sixth place in the national ratings, and the Mustangs have jumped two places to tenth.

With such as Virginia in the ninth spot, it might be that the Ponies are under-rated. By the way what happened to Wyoming? Baylor is in 15th place. Texas got seven votes. The Frogs had two votes. (Either two "experts" rated T. C. U. tenth or one rated the Frogs ninth out of 162 ballots submitted.)

ONLY WAY the Frogs could get a share of the title now is to whip both Rice and S. M. U.

Even then Baylor must beat Rice and the Ponies must stop Baylor. Quite a mix-up.

IS IT wishful thinking, Horned Frogs? Homecoming fans are wondering.

Frogs Surprise Longhorns, 14-13, With Rushing Attack, 9-Man Line

By JOE SHOSID

Signal-Caller Randall Clay looked up from the Texas huddle as the Longhorns prepared to move on the offensive last Saturday afternoon at Memorial Stadium in Austin. He couldn't believe his eyes... "Let's see, they're using a sev - - well, I'll be - - A NINE-MAN LINE!"

And that great defensive maneuver, uncocked by the wizard and past-master of surprises, Coach Leo Robert ("Dutch") Meyer, provided the necessary ignition to fuel the Horned Frogs to a surprising 14-13 upset victory over highly-favored Texas before 40,000.

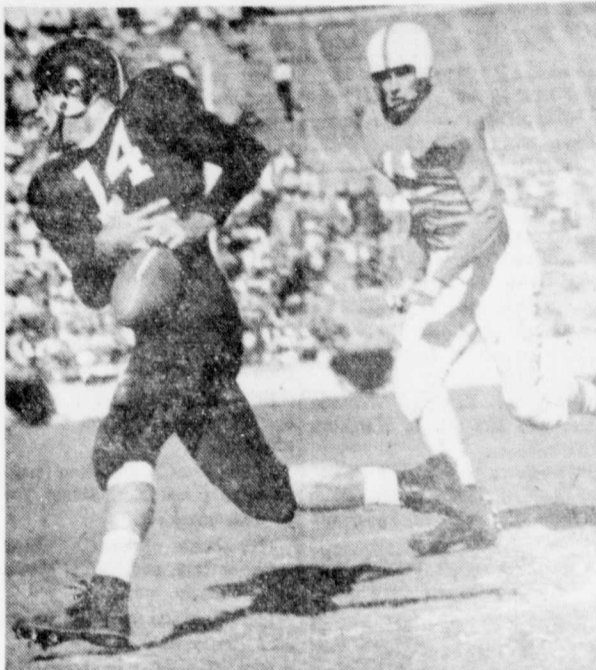

Billy and Bobby Moorman, Rex Alford, Wayne ("Booty") Rogers, Roger McAuley, Harold Kilman, Norman Hughes, Alton ("Curly") Taylor and Max Eubank plus Shankle Bloxom—those are the ten names which spelled a "Blue Saturday" for the Tea-sippers. No standout can be named among this group, all played stellar defensive ball. Eubank took over as defensive signal-caller to serve as engineer for the plot.

The Steers' devastating ground game was reduced to a myth as the over-balanced Frog forward wall allowed exactly 59 yards aground. Only in the final minutes of play when Passer Paul Campbell began to hit his receivers, were the Longhorns able to muster a gainful air attack. During the first 30 minutes of play the Fraternity Footballers were able to gain only 38 yards rushing and 11 yards passing for two first downs. T. C. U. had seven first downs during the same period.

Ludiker Converts

Homer ("Golden Toe") Ludiker, ex-butcher boy and the pride of East Fort Worth, converted, both extra-point kicks which ultimately won the game for the Frogs.

Jauntin' John Morton was the game's big ground-eater, devouring 88 yards on 19 carries for an average of 4.6 per try. He didn't lose yardage all afternoon. The Compton Comet from California played his best game of 1949. Quarterback Limpin' Lindy Heyman Berry, although losing another tooth and fracturing his jaw for the cause, established a great comeback from the Baylor debacle. Meyer proclaimed that Berry's play selection, along with the defense, was a great factor in victory.

Almost... But Not Quite

Texas' Wolfe Shines

Credit must not be taken away from Danny Wolfe, Texas Proctor and Clay converted, senior guard from Stephenville, who played a greater portion of the game in the Purple backfield, downing Frog ball carriers no less than half a dozen times behind the scrimmage line. The running of Byron Townsend and Ben Proctor's pass receptions were other Longhorn stand-outs.

All the scoring was accomplished in the final two sets. The Steers inaugurated the scoring early in the third period with a 37-yard aerial from Campbell to Alford. After an exchange of punts following the kick-off, T. C. U. took over on their own 29 and marched 80 yards on the ground to pay-dirt, Berry chugging through a broken field for the final 33 paces, cutting wide to his right, slipping inside end and severing his field in the secondary while afforded perfect downfield blocking. Jack Archer and Co-Capt. Don Narrell removed Berry's last two tackling aspirants.

Frogs Go Ahead

Midway in the final quarter the Frogs went ahead on a 78-yard offensive employing both air and ground attacks. A personal foul which gave Berry his fracture placed the pigskin from the Texas 15 to the one-yard line and Morton exploded well into the end zone on the next play. Ludiker parted the uprights with the football propelled by his right foot for the game-winning margin.

With three minutes remaining the Steers combined on a 21-yard Campbell-to-Proctor aerial for six points but Clay's kick swerved off to the left as Coach Meyer knelt before the Christians' bench. An on-sides kickoff gave the Steers a final life which died one minute shy of the final gun as Clay's field goal attempt from the T. C. U. 26 was partially blocked by Bobby Moorman and retrieved by Archer. Berry wasted out the final 60 seconds with wide running plays.

Gamble Pays Off

The Dutchman—still the greatest coach in the business—gamble and won. Nine out-weighted, out-experienced young linemen, four of them ends and two of them playing their first college football, proved it.

Backs played a secondary role last Saturday. It was a day when defense told the tale. And names of the Moormans, Rogers, Alford, McAuley, Kilman, Taylor, Hughes and Eubank will be well remembered when the "Big Killing of '49" is discussed.

Cagers Eager But Young

T. C. U. may not win the conference basketball championship this year but the season should prove to be an interesting one. The general consensus out here on the Hill is that the Frogs will have a title contender on the floor, but then there were those who felt, or hoped, the Purple forces would come home with the football crown this year. A conference championship on their first year out is a large order for Coach ("Buster") Brannon's sophomore crew. Every other club in the circuit will have a much more seasoned squad for the coming campaign. Brannon says his boys do not have the height to match the teams at S. M. U. and Arkansas. The tallest man on the team is Center George McLeod, a 6-foot-5-inch sophomore. Allan Brookshire, Gene Schmidt and James Knox come in at one inch less. Harvey Fromme measures six feet three inches. Of the other eight regulars, none goes past the six-foot mark. However, the sophomores are an unpredictable outfit. They swept through a 12-game schedule last season as Wogs and never were headed. The most impressive of these victories was a 71-67 decision over the Hooker-Vandergriff Motormen of Arlington. The Motormen featured many former college stars in their lineup and were agreed to be one of the finest semi-pro teams in the state. The freshman crew was in a fast company but it confounded everyone, including the Motormen, with its dazzling teamwork and at times during the game built up leads of as many as 13 points. Lending experience to the sophomores will be Gene Schmidt, last year's captain who is seeking his fifth letter; Bruce Craig; a one-year letterman; and Squadmen Bob Lee and Bill Elliott.

Last year the Frogs won four of 12 non-conference games. They moved into an early lead in the conference race, defeating S. M. U. in the opener, but they were unable to stand the altitude, or the fast pace, or something, and went on to lose the final 11 games. This year may prove to be more of the same, but unless the sophomores have lost their skill, the Frog fortunes can go no way but up. The cagers will have game captains this year instead of a team captain. Only lettermen are eligible to vote and the team boasts only two, Schmidt and Craig, who would probably vote for each other. Brannon will appoint the captains and Schmidt will get the honor for the final game... The new look has been added in the Barn—glass backboards. The season opens here Dec. 1 with Abilene Christian.

Lindy Picked as All-Star

"But can they play defense?" Now that all-star picking time is here, this is the question being asked here by T. C. U. fans concerning the rivals of Lindy Berry, the captain and quarterback, for America and all-Southwest hon-

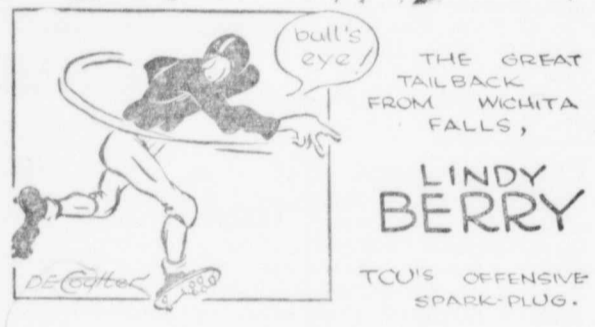

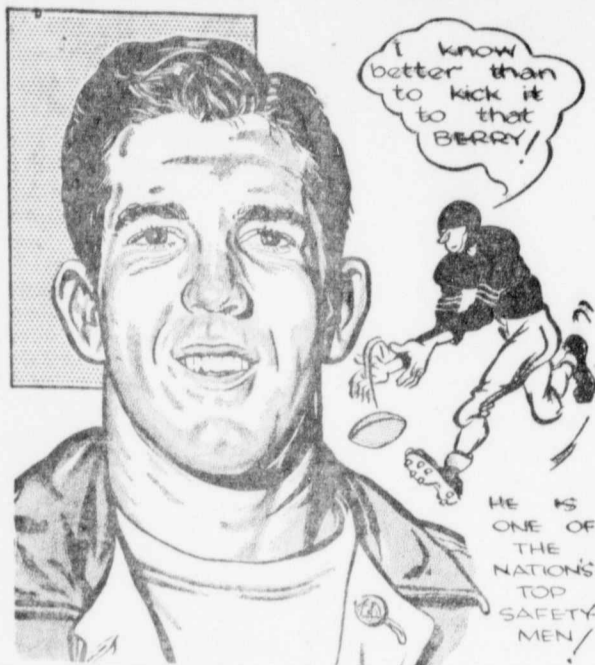

erry, they contend, is most deserving of all-star honors because he is an all-round back, not just an offensive standout. As confirmation of this, they point to Coach L. ("Dutch") Meyer's oft-repeated words, "Lindy is more valuable as a defense than he is on offense."

Because he is a defensive stand-out as well as an offensive leader, Berry tops all the Frogs in time played this season, as he has for the past two. Last fall George Brown, a lineman was tied with Berry for the most time played, each having 377 minutes to their credit in 10 games, but in 1947 Berry was out in front of all his teammates with his 317 minute total for 11 games.

In these days when everybody is crying that the two-platoon system does not give the gridders a chance to be tested on both offense and defense, it does not mean a thing to Berry. The Wichita Whiz already has two 60-minute performances to his credit, against Mississippi and Texas, the first by any Frog back since 1945 when Leon Joslin went the route against Texas and Norman Cox did the same against Oklahoma.

Only one other Frog has played a full game without relief since 1946, and that was Tackle Clarence Marabe who put in 60 minutes against Oklahoma A. & M. in the second game this fall.

A defensive play by Berry was termed by sports writers as the turning point of last week's T. C. U. upset of Texas. This was when he intercepted a fourth-quarter Campbell pass near his own goal as the Longhorns were threatening to put over what would have been a winning touchdown. On another pass interception against Kansas in the opening game of the season Berry made his longest touchdown run of the season, 56 yards. On total offense, he is the Southwest Conference leader and among the top half dozen in the nation. On passing, he is No. 2 in the Southwest and among the top half dozen in the nation. On punt returns, among those with a dozen runbacks or more, he is No. 1 in both the nation and this area on average yardage per return. Berry's coach, Meyer, put it this way when asked at a recent Fort Worth Quarterback Club meeting about his 1949 star's all-star candidacy, "If Berry is not of all-American caliber, I have never coached a boy who was, and I hope we don't have to play against any backs who are."

BOB, LINDY GIVE TEETH TO WIN

Teeth are the most numerous casualties from Frog football wars this season. Bob Moorman, who blocked Texas' try for a game-winning field goal Saturday, came home with a chipped tooth. Now the coaches won't be able to tell Bobby from Billy, even with their mouths open.

Coach L. R. ("Dutch") Meyer told the Quarterback Club at Monday's meeting that Lindy Berry also would have lost some teeth if there hadn't been a vacancy in the tailback's bridge-work already. As it was, Lindy traded just one more tooth when that particular elbow cost Texas a penalty to the one-yard line, and John Morton smashed over on the next play.

Frogs Lose Two Meets

The S. M. U. harriers took the first three places in a dual cross-country meet with the Frogs here Wednesday and ran off with a 20-35 decision. The Frogs' defeat left Coach Mack ("Boss") Clark pondering whether or not he will take a team to the conference meet in Austin Tuesday.

He said he may take two or three boys if they still want to continue working out for the meet. Ben Hays and Tom Polk, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively, against the Mustangs, will be sure starters if the team makes the trip, Clark said.

Wilkinson of S. M. U. was the winner of the Wednesday run, covering the 2.2 miles distance over the Worth Hills golf course in 11:56.

Clark was especially pleased with the performance of Gordon Hooten, who, after only one week's workout, came in seventh, S. M. U. captured sixth and eighth places, while Walter Hehl and Conway Nelson came in ninth and tenth, respectively, for the Frogs.

Last Friday in Dallas the score in a triangular meet was Arkansas 15, S. M. U. 45 and T. C. U. 60. The Razorbacks swept the first five places (also sixth and seventh, but only five men are counted). Top men for the Frogs were Hays and Polk, who finished eighth and tenth, respectively.

Johnnye Tankersley was outstanding throughout. It was he who opened up the holes through which Amburg romped for 106 yards on just 15 carries. William Buck and Don Thompson repeatedly outcharged the Shorthorn line.

The vicious play of the Frog forward wall was largely responsible for keeping the completions of Jones to a minimum and all but halted the dashes of famed Gib Dawson.

Bowl-Bound Owls Face TCU'S Up-and-Down Kids

All Coach L. R. ("Dutch") Meyer needs Saturday is another nine-man line plus a nine-man backfield to stop the Rice Owls' offense. Probably Mr. Neely (Coach Jess) wouldn't think that fair against his four first teams and two second teams. (The Owls don't have anyone below second string.)

To stop the forays of Bobby Lantrip into the line and at the same time hold down the passes of Tobin Rote and Vernon Glass will require some doin'. This is not made any easier by having James ("Froggy") Williams on the receiving end of said passes.

Rice has lost one game, 7-14, to Louisiana State early in the season on a muddy field. The Owls, who are notoriously slow beginners, have come along considerably since then. Their last three opponents have been held scoreless. The Owl goal line has been especially tough to get at.

Four conference opponents have scored 42 points. The Frogs have given up 86.

The Owls are pretty fair at running up touchdowns for themselves. Williams is second in conference scoring, with 37 points behind Doak Walker who has 39. Bill Burkhalter has 18. For the season Williams has 56 points and Lantrip has 36.

Rice has 208 points for the season; the Frogs have only 170.

Both Lindy Berry and Dan Wilde will be handicapped Saturday.

Berry has a cracked jaw left over from the Texas tussle and Wilde has a nerve-pinch in the hip that slows his running. With Lindy making like Frank Sinkiewicz in an iron mask, and Wilde going at half-speed, the Frogs will be especially hard put.

The Owls also have a problem, however. Everybody knows how good they are. What will T. C. U. do THIS week?

Will the Frogs give up three or four touchdowns and come from behind? Will they give up three or four touchdowns and stay behind? Will they come up with a two-man line or something and ruin the Owls with an impossible setup?

Will Morton and Berry and Wilde and Archer go on the ground—or in the air—or both? Or will they go nowhere?

Yes, the Owls have a problem, too. Besides, it will be homecoming for the Frogs. However, T. C. U. has not been favored in a homecoming game since 1941 when S. M. U. went down, 15-13. It will be nothing new for the Frogs in the role of 14-point underdogs at homecoming time.

In 14 out of 22 homecoming games, the Frogs have been the underdogs. In those 22 games the Frogs salvaged nine victories and three ties. The last T. C. U. homecoming upset was the 19-19 tie with the all-conquering S. M. U. Mustangs in 1947.

Seniors Win Two, Tie One, To Take Intramural Crown

The Wednesday League Seniors captured the intramural football championship Wednesday when they defeated the Tuesday League Sophomores, 13-6, in the final game of a best-two-of-three series. The third game was necessitated when the two teams played to a 13-13 deadlock Tuesday after the Seniors had taken the first game by a score of 25-0.

The Seniors were forced to come from behind twice in Tuesday's game as the Sophomores repaired their attack and proceeded to score some points.

In the first game of the series November 10, the Wednesday League champions overpowered the Sophomores with a second-half surge which netted them three touchdowns.

The turning point came in the third quarter and the Seniors went ahead to stay. Joe Easter intercepted a Sophomore pass and ran 35 yards to score. Lester ("Shrimp") Fisher then place-kicked what proved to be the winning point.

The Seniors increased their margin of victory in the fourth period when Fisher ran 10 yards to score. The try for point failed but it mattered not because the Seniors held firm to become the new champions.

However, the Sophomores made a battle of it all the way and were very much in the game until the final gun sounded. Held scoreless through the first three quarters, they finally succeeded in breaking the ice in the fourth period, their touchdown coming on a pass from Dave Easterling to Allan Hoskins.

Unbeaten Wogs Try Colts

S. M. U.'s Colts will furnish the last block to an undefeated season for the T. C. U. Wogs in a game to be played at T. C. U. Stadium Wednesday at 2 p. m.

With last Friday's 12-7 victory over the Shorthorns of Texas University, the Wogs became the first T. C. U. freshman team to win four games. The 1940 Wogs were undefeated but played only three games.

The Colts figure to furnish a real battle for Coach Walter Raab's eleven as they also boast an undefeated season, but Baylor's Cubs have to be met before the Wog game. In their three outings the Colts have won only one game, but tied the other two. They turned back Texas two weeks ago with a narrow 13-12 victory gained by the margin of a successful conversion from the toe of Sammy Stollenwerck. The Rice Slime played them a 0-0 stalemate and the North Texas State "D" team was held to a 20-20 count.

Stollenwerck's passes and the ball-like plunges of 215-pound Bill Forester pose the main threats to the Wog victory skein. "Stubby" who weighs only 158 pounds, completed two screen passes to Forester for 17 and 10 yards and two touchdowns against the Shorthorns. He compiled 170 yards with 16 completions out of the 32 passes attempted. Forester has scored all five Colt touchdowns.

Two TD'S Called Back The Wogs were forced to overcome the let-down of two called-back touchdowns against the Shorthorns. Malvin Fowler always a threat, ran 46 yards only to see his score erased by an illegal formation penalty. Minutes later Fowler passed to Bobby Harding in the end zone, but this too was nullified—this time for illegal use of the hands.

The Shorthorns drew first blood early in the second quarter with T. Jones' pass to Bill Georges. Don Clark added the extra point. With three minutes remaining on the half, Fowler fielded a punt on his own 33 and threaded his way to the Texas 33. Fowler passed to Charles Rogers on the 25, and then Jim Amburg blasted out a first down on the three-yard line. With time running out, Fowler pitched to Harding in the right flat for the score. Harding's kick was wide and the score remained 7-6 for Texas at the half.

Amburg Crashes Over With their back to the wind at the start of the fourth quarter, the Wogs needed only four plays to parade 68 yards to the winning tally. Fowler hit Amburg with a short pass for two yards. Then Fowler swept to his left to the Texas 40, leaving behind a wake of would-be tacklers. John Harville took a Fowler pass for another first on the 29. From there, Amburg, who played the best game of his college career, crashed through the middle and blasted over the linebackers and safetyman for the touchdown. Again Harding's kick was no good.

KTCU 'On Air' Next Week Radio Station to Start Broadcasts After Delay

KTCU, the "radio voice of the campus," is scheduled to go on the air within the next week, says Frederick Folks, radio instructor.

Originally, the station was to have been operating before Nov. 15, but due to what the contractor, Clifford Herring Sound Company, and radio professors term as an "unavoidable delay," the station is still inoperative.

When KTCU begins operating, it will have the use of a Langworth recorded library of some 5500 selections on about 1300 disks. Dr. E. L. Pross, professor of speech-drama, says he believes T. C. U. is the only college station in the country with such a collection, which includes everything from hillbilly to the classics.

In addition to broadcasting on the hill, radio students will continue to produce regularly scheduled programs on commercial stations in Fort Worth.

KFJZ Series Starts Sunday

First T.C.U. Program Will Feature Fantasy

The T. C. U. Radio Workshop will begin a series of weekly broadcasts over station KFJZ from 6 to 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

KFJZ broadcasts this series every year and awards three $300 scholarships in the spring for students showing most promise in the commercial radio field. Any person participating in the show is eligible for the award, including script writers, actors and sound effects operators.

The first program will be "Vortex of the Triangle," a fantasy written by Howard Becknell, Fort Worth senior.

A different group will be featured on the program each week, says Frederick Folks, radio instructor. Some of the groups participating will be radio, drama and interpretative speech classes. Scholarship awards to the winning students will be made in the spring.

Guild to Give Scholarships

A program of scholarships for vocal study in Texas Christian University's new Opera Workshop has been initiated by the Opera Guild of Fort Worth, Dr. T. Smith McCorkle, dean of the T. C. U. School of Fine Arts, announced yesterday.

Getting the program under way with the coming spring semester, the guild will award three scholarships, paying one-half, one-third and one-fourth tuition, respectively, for a full program of study in opera singing. Winners will be selected in audition, scheduled for Jan. 7.

The auditions will be judged by a committee including Karl Kritz, new head of the T. C. U. Opera Workshop and resident director of the Fort Worth Civic Opera Association.

Entrants in the audition competition must submit written applications, not later than Dec. 21. Application forms may be requested from the Fort Worth Civic Association, T. C. U. Station, Fort Worth, 9.

There are no specific requirements which entrants must meet, except that they must be eligible for college entrance.

The scholarships are a part of a diversified program through which the Opera Guild plans to promote the opera movement in Fort Worth. A new organization of business and professional women, it is the principal "booster" organization for the Civic Opera Association. Membership is already more than 600.

Plans for Week Near Completion

Sadler, Hanson to Talk at Festival

President M. E. Sadler will deliver a dedicatory talk at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 4, in Ed Landreth Auditorium to open the Fine Arts Festival, which will dedicate the new fine arts building.

Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., will give the dedicatory address.

The festival will consist of a week of music, art and drama, featuring the works of living American artists, exclusively.

Dr. Hanson will conduct the T. C. U. Symphony Orchestra and Chorus in concert. The program will include two of Hanson's own works, "Second Symphony" and "Lament for Beowulf for Chorus and Orchestra."

Widely known as a leading exponent of American music, Dr. Hanson is now in his 25th season as director of the Eastman School of Music. He is American fine arts representative on UNESCO, and he recently returned from a European tour dealing with UNESCO affairs.

Dr. Hanson has conducted most of the world's great orchestras, and his four symphonies have been played throughout the world.

Monday, Dec. 5, the new play, "Burning Embers," will open and will run through Wednesday. It will re-open the following Monday for a four-day run. It may be held over longer if demand is great enough.

To Have Student Cast

Dr. Walther Volbach, professor of speech-drama and director of the T. C. U. Theater, will direct an all-student cast in this production. The author, Samuel B. Harrison, California playwright and novelist, is scheduled to arrive Nov. 26 to assist with final rehearsals. He will remain at least through opening night.

A program of chamber music will be given Monday evenings Dec. 5. It will feature the T. C. U. String Quartet and the T. C. U. Faculty Woodwind Quintet, the only woodwind quintet in Texas. Tuesday evening, Don Gillis, production director of serious music for NBC in New York City, will conduct a concert featuring one of his two newest compositions. Gillis has not decided whether to conduct the T. C. U. Symphony Orchestra in his "Dance Symphony" or his "Sixth Symphony."

In addition, the Tuesday concert will include "Portrait of a Frontier Town," which Gillis wrote especially for Fort Worth, his home town. This work was premiered in 1948 at a concert given in connection with T. C. U.'s Diamond Jubilee.

Young to Direct Choir

Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, there will be a program featuring the A Cappella Choir, directed by Gordon Young, and the new concert organ with Young at the console.

An eminent young concert organist and former director of several large Eastern choirs, Young joined the T. C. U. faculty this fall as head of the newly-formed organ department.

A new musical comedy, "Acres of Sunshine," written by two T. C. U. ex-students, will be presented Thursday and Friday nights.

Ticket Sales Open Nov. 28

Two Runs Scheduled For 'Burning Embers'

Tickets for "Burning Embers" will be available Nov. 28 at the ticket office of the Little Theater, says Dr. Walther Volbach, professor of speech-drama. The ticket office will be open daily from 1 to 4 p. m.

Students are urged to get their tickets early, in order to avoid the last minute rush which developed during the first production of the season, says Dr. Volbach. "Burning Embers" will open Dec. 5 for a three-day run.

The play will re-open Dec. 12 and go through Dec. 14.

There has been a change in the Little Theater program, says Dr. Volbach. "Life With Father" will be produced late in February, and the morality play, "Everyman," will be produced during the season of Lent in March. "Three Sisters" was originally scheduled for this time.

Dec. 9 and 10, as the final evening programs of the festival.

The book and lyrics are by Mrs. Ruth Duncan Graham, Kilgore, and music is by Mrs. Mary Ellen Stevens, Dallas.

Exes to Sponsor Comedy

The show is a musical history of the early days of Texas' Rio Grande Valley and is the first musical comedy written by either of the two young authoresses. The show will be sponsored by the Fort Worth T. C. U. Women Exes. It will be presented in Ed Landreth Auditorium, and the student cast will be directed by Dr. Walther R. Volbach.

Sunday, Dec. 11, at 3:30 p. m., Lawrence Intravala, instructor of music, will conduct the Symphonic Band, and William J. Marsh, director of glee clubs, will lead the Choral Club in the festival's closing program. Marsh will direct his own composition, "Praise and Thanksgiving."

There will be an art exhibit.

Jellinek Addresses P.-T.A.

Dr. E. M. Jellinek, director of the Yale Institute for Alcohol Studies, and Prof. C. Stanley Clifton, institute sociologist, conducted a panel discussion on "Preventative Education" at a meeting of the Mary Louise Phillips P.-T.A. in the school auditorium Thursday.

from the Downtown Gallery of New York City, which will stay up throughout the week. Samuel P. Ziegler, professor of art, says he does not know yet what works will be included in the exhibit.

Instructors Plan Concert

Misses Baker, Bailey To Give Sunday Recital

Miss Marylouise Baker, music instructor, and Miss Katherine McKee Bailey, professor of piano, will present a recital at 4 p. m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Miss Baker will play the violinello. She is assistant professor of theory and violinello and has been at T. C. U. since 1946.

She took her B. A. degree at the University of Nebraska in 1941, her M. A. at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., in 1944, and an Artist's Certificate from Eastman in 1946.

Miss Bailey will play the piano in the recital. She took a Bachelor of Music degree at Bush Conservatory in 1913, received a diploma from Progressive Series College in 1939, and was a pupil of Harold von Mickwitz and Leopold Godowsky. Miss Bailey has been at T. C. U. since 1931.

DR. HOWARD HANSON

Three From T.C.U. To Appear in Play

Three persons from T. C. U. have roles in a drama to be presented Nov. 29 and 30 in University Christian Church.

"The Alarm Clock," a three-act comedy, will be directed by Prof. Arthur Faguy-Cote, of the School of Fine Arts, who also has the male lead. Others in the cast include R. G. Webb, Fort Worth sophomore, and Gordon Lund, editor of the T. C. U. News Service.

Both performances begin at 8:15 p. m.

Dr. Cheverton to Speak

Dr. Cecil F. Cheverton, head of the religion department, will speak at 11 a. m. Tuesday to the Women's Council of University Christian Church. His subject will be, "Politicians Priests and Prophets."

Flying Frogs' 'Variety Revue' To Be Staged Tonight at 11:15

"Variety-Revue" — a midnight stage show featuring campus characters, antics and circus clowns, will be presented at the T. C. U. theatre tonight under the sponsorship of the Flying Frogs. After the "Revue" a full length movie—"Luxury Liner"—co-starring Jane Powell and George Brent, will be shown.

The show will start at 11:15 p. m. and admission is 50 cents. The stage show promises to be a howl with Arthur Sheets as M. C. He may be better known to campus as "The Mad Russian," for his part in the recent Little Theatre show, "You Can't Take It With You."

Acts will include: A college version of Ma and Pa Kettle; doll dance by Gloria Benson and Jo Ann Ford; "Two Brooklyn Boys"—Al Chmielecki and Arno D'Agostino; a bathing beauty contest—incognito; and several other acts.

If possible, plans call for clowns from the Shrine Circus to be present for the judging of the bathing beauty contest.

Proceeds from the show will go towards the rebuilding of the Flying Frogs' airplane in order to meet C. A. A. specifications. The show is also a part of the Homecoming activities planned for welcoming exes back to the campus.

Miss June Burrage to Reign As 1949 Homecoming Queen

By MOAN REINEKE
John Robert Powers and the T. C. U. football team have one thing in common. They both appreciate beauty.
The beauty in this instance is Miss June Burrage, Fort Worth freshman, whom Mr. Powers hired as a model last summer and whom the football team chose as Homecoming Queen this week.
The pretty brunette entered T. C. U. this semester to follow in the footsteps of her two older sisters, Pat, a New York model, and Anne, now Mrs. Rex Alford. As a freshman she has won the coveted title which goes hand-in-hand with the Homecoming celebration.
So, come half-time at the game Saturday, Miss Burrage will be escorted to the center of the field on the arm of Clarence ("Red") Marable. There she will be presented with a bouquet of red roses and the title of Homecoming Queen.

Miss Enid Weidenbach, B.A. '49, writes friends that she will be back for the Homecoming weekend. She gets in Friday, but will have to leave Sunday to go back to Stephenville, where she is working on the local paper.
Sleepy-eyed students on the campus Monday were easily explained. The student trip just "wore" everyone out. Miss Sarah Francis Moseley, Santa Anna junior, had a better explanation for her "travel-weariness." She took her two-year-old nephew to the football game and tried to entertain him and watch the game at the same time.
Those new signs on the campus attracted much attention. Directed to "blade-killers" the signs read, "Let It Go, Joe, Let It Grow." Someone in the workshop is using his ingenuity.

campus carousel

With all the activities planned for Homecoming week, Freshman Initiation Day Wednesday would have gone unnoticed except for the careful planning of Miss Jayne Martin, Pensacola, Fla., sophomore, president of Leti. Of course the "unfortunate" freshmen had a great deal to do with its "humorous" success. Such frosh as Miss Sally Perkins of McKinney, who carried a life-sized doll around with her all day, showed what good sports the freshman were.

500 Exes Are Registered
Homecoming Is 'Big Success'

Homecoming — coupled with mirth and disappointment — has been listed in the annals of T. C. U. history as a "huge success" by Homecoming officials. The only blemish on the colorful calendar came from the victorious Rice Owls.
More than 500 exes were registered according to Harold ("Fluff") Thomas, Fort Worth senior and president of the T. C. U. Chamber of Commerce, who was in charge of registration. This was the first time an official count has been attempted at Homecomings.
For the second consecutive year, first prize honors for the best dress for the freshman girls was any thing within reason which would attract attention and attention the freshman attracted! Combinations of stripes and plaids, colors of red, green, blue and yellow and lots of costume jewelry accentuated the dress of most of the girls.

Typical of the "garb" for freshman was that worn by Miss Merle Strickert of Houston. A multi-colored skirt, striped blouse, costume jewelry and the word "alltime," written in lipstick on her forehead, made up her costume.
The day's activities were closed by Freshman Initiation at 7 p. m. in the Modern Lounge of Waits Hall.

'Green Dragon' Will Desert Campus After Long Stay
The "Green Dragon" is about to be sold!
By way of explanation, the aforementioned "monster" is an 18-year-old brilliant green Chevrolet coupe belonging to Dr. Martine Emert, associate professor of geography and history.
Dr. Emert, who has driven the "Dragon" more than 140,000 miles, purchased it from a traveling salesman, and, she says, "There's no telling how far he drove it."
The odd, green color of the car, which has attracted campus-wide attention the past few years, Dr. Emert attributes to the inferior paint she used on it during the war.
Aside from the new color and new tires, however, the automobile still contains most of its original parts—same engine, same springs.
Moreover, it has never had an overhaul and gives better mileage now than when she first bought it, says Dr. Emert. The record set by the "Green Dragon" is 33 miles to the gallon, although Dr. Emert admits that its average is slightly less.
A garageman offered to buy the car three years ago for $800 cash. Any present prospective buyer may see the car on the east campus parking lot, where it has remained this fall for lack of a battery.

200 Students At Meeting

Homecoming, New Fee Discussed at Assembly

Fewer than 200 students attended the student body meeting yesterday at 11 a. m. in the Ed Landreth Auditorium to hear plans for Homecoming, the election of student body officers in the spring and the establishment of a student union fee.

Homecoming plans were explained by Jimmy Paschal, Amarillo senior, who asked that all students say "Howdy" to the returning exes. "Howdy" ribbons will be distributed free to students tomorrow, Paschal says.

Classes will be held as usual, but everyone who does not have a regular Saturday class was asked to be in the parade, which forms at 9 a. m. at the T. & P. reservation.

Students who attended the meeting gave their approval to holding the election of student officers in the spring instead of the fall.

Holding the election then would eliminate a relatively powerless interim congress, Bill Hamilton, San Antonio senior and president of the Student Association, explained. The vote taken was purely an opinion vote. The issue will be presented to the student body on a future ballot, Hamilton said.

Establishing a student union fee would entail raising the student activity fee from $1 to $2. The extra dollar would accumulate toward the construction of a student union building. A total of about $9000 a year could be raised if such a fee were established, Hamilton said.

Three cheerleaders led the singing of the Alma Mater, with organ accompaniment. Much criticism has been heard on the way T. C. U. students sing it, according to Hamilton.

Two scheduled talks on whether to change the class rings were cancelled because the speakers did not appear.

Club Holds 17 Trophies

TCU's Flying Frogs Boast Enviably Record

BY CHUCK BROCK

Four times victors of air meets, runners-up and fourth-place winners of two national meets and holders of 17 trophies and two medals—that's the record of the Flying Frogs, campus aviation club, since its organization in April, 1947.

T. C. U. pilots, with Troy A. Stimson, assistant professor of aviation, as faculty sponsor, have done as much to make the name "Flying Frogs" as feared, respected and well-known throughout collegiate air circles as have those famous T. C. U. passing elevens in the football world.

Just two weeks after the club began functioning, members took off for Columbia, Mo., and their first air meet. They took one second and one third-place; however, the T. C. U. fliers participated only one day in the two-day meet.

Denver Altitude No Pitfall
The next meet for the Frogs was in November, 1947, at Denver. With different atmospheric conditions than in Fort Worth, because of the change in altitude, the T. C. U. fliers were supposedly handicapped. But when the final results were posted, the Flying Frogs had won themselves an air meet. Taking first place in all four events, plus one third place, T. C. U. pilots scored a grand slam victory.

In May, 1948, an intercollegiate meet sponsored by Stephens College for Women, Columbia, Mo., attracted club members. The Frogs second visit to Missouri did not follow the pattern of the first. Frog fliers displayed championship style and won their second air meet.

Two weeks later, with the club now a little over a year old, the Flying Frogs sponsored an intercollegiate air meet.

The meet was held at Eagle Mountain National Guard Base, and 12 colleges entered. The Flying Frogs put out a special paper called "The Fly Paper" and a "sky-queen" was chosen for the meet. She was Miss Helen Manias, University of New Mexico coed.

At the close of the competition T. C. U. pilots once again flashed victory smiles, for they had won their third air meet in a row. The Frogs scored 33 points to 16 for runner-up Stephens College.

Second In National Meet
Now the Frogs were ready for "the big time"—the National Intercollegiate Air Meet. The meet was held at Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1948, with the University of Michigan acting as host. The Frog fliers may have been a bit nervous at the start, but the final outcome would give no indication of this. When the last T. C. U. pilot had touched the wheels of his plane to the runway, the Flying Frogs had scored enough points to place second in the meet.

Michigan State won the meet with 149 points; the Frogs were only 14 points off the pace set by the winners, however. Although the Frogs didn't win the meet, Miss Mary Helen Rattikin, B. A. '49, was named the nation's top intercollegiate girl pilot.

At a banquet after the meet the Flying Frogs were heralded as having the largest membership of any club in the National Intercollegiate Flying Association, the most widely traveled club in the nation and possessing the most outstanding flying record for 1947.

And coming in second at the national meet took nothing away from these laurels, as the Frogs were competing with schools having the finest aviation facilities in the world.

Repeat at Denver in '48
In November, 1948, the T. C. U. airmen returned to Denver and also to their winning ways as they flew home with first-place honors. Denver University was runner-up.

Mr. Stimson traveled to Kansas City later in November to attend the annual meeting of the N. I. F. A. He sought—and obtained—the National Air Meet for Fort Worth with the Flying Frogs as hosts.

The meet was held May 6-7 at Eagle Mountain National Guard Base. T. C. U. pilots had two off-days, but managed to come in fourth in the meet. U. C. L. A. took off top honors, with Western Michigan close behind and the University of Oklahoma finishing third.

The Frogs lost the meet, but they won a plane full of superlatives for staging a great air meet. This year's club is looking forward to attaining even greater heights.

Membership Open to All
Flying instructions may be had at low cost for club members, and a link trainer is available for use in the aviation room in the basement of Goode Hall. Dues are $2, and persons interested in joining may see Mr. Stimson, whose office is located at the south end of the basement in Goode Hall.

Add-Ran College Is Named After Just One Person

Ask any 10 persons on the T. C. U. campus how the Add-Ran College of Arts and Sciences got its name, and chances are nine of them will come right back with, "Why Addison and Randolph Clark, of course."

Well, needless to say, the nine would be wrong. What actually happened is this:

Sarah and Addison Clark, living in Fort Worth at the time, had a son born Nov. 3, 1889. He was named AddRan—no hyphen—after his uncle and father.

The child died Nov. 6, 1872, and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery on White Settlement Road. When the school was opened in Thorp Spring in 1873, it was named in honor of the deceased child.

Nobody seems to know just when the hyphen was added. There is a picture in the possession of Noel Keith, assistant to President M. E. Sadler, of the tombstone over the grave, showing the name "AddRan Clark" without the hyphen.

It took her M. A. degree at the University of Nebraska in 1918. She took a Bachelor of Music degree at Rush College in 1913, received a diploma from Progressive Series in 1939, and was a pupil of von Mickwitz and Leo-Godowsky. Miss Bailey has been at T. C. U. since 1931.
