CALL TO WORSHIPReverend Jeremy Albers
Associate Chaplain

Leader: We praise You, O God, and know You as our creator. By Your gifts to us we seek to make perfect our will to accord with Your will for us.

People: (All reading together) Your gifts to us require that we do justly, love mercy and walk humbly. Thereby we worship and serve You and discover ourselves to be made in Your image.

Leader: Be joyful and worship God. Honor God's presence with a song.

HYMN (All standing)Led by Devin Drerup
Class of 2011

arranged by Curt Wilson
Praise Be to God the Almighty

Joachim Neander, 1680From Everflowing Streams, Pilgrim Press, 1981

Praise be to God, the Almighty, who rules all creation.
O my soul, worship the well-spring of health and salvation.
Let all who hear, Now to God's temple draw near,
Joining in glad adoration!
Praise be to God, who o'er all things is wondrously reigning,
Bringing new life, in great mercy redeeming, sustaining.
Ponder anew, What the Almighty can do.
Ponder God's gracious ordaining.
Praise be to God, who works justice, who ends all oppressing.
God's name most holy let Israel always be blessing.
Rise up on wings, Healing and wholeness God brings.
Always God's deeds be confessing.
Praise be to God, O forget not God's manifold graces.
All that has life and breath, one song of gratitude raises.
Let the amen, Sound from God's people again.
Gladly forever sing praises.

AMEN

New words and some adaptations by Ruth Duck, 1980. Used by permission.

INVOCATIONRev. Albers

LITANY OF THANKSGIVINGRev. Albers

Leader: Our experience of joy on this occasion is shared with one another as we express our common thanksgiving. We offer our thanks, Gracious God, for those who founded and guided this institution; for those today whose lives, talents and gifts keep its heritage and direct its opportunities.

People: Hear our prayers of thanksgiving, Gracious God, for all who learn and use Your saving health for all nations.

Leader: We offer our thanksgiving for the love of families that bring honor, charity, and goodwill to the hope of learning.

People: Hear our prayers of thanksgiving, Gracious God, for all communities of care who enable the lessons of mercy and justice.

Leader: We offer our thanksgiving, Gracious God, for those who teach and those who learn the patterns and processes of life that lead us to Your Spirit of Grace.

People: Hear our prayers of thanksgiving, Gracious God, for all universities and the continuing search for what You would have us do so that Your spirit may lead all persons to the light of wisdom.

AMEN

DR. VICTOR J. BOSCHINI, JR.

Dr. Victor J. Boschini, Jr., has been Texas Christian University's chancellor and professor of education since 2003. He previously was president and associate professor of education at Illinois State University and held administrative positions at Butler and Indiana universities.

Chancellor Boschini was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the American Council on Education, the unifying voice for higher education that supports colleges, universities, and other higher education in their efforts to serve students and society. He is past chair of the Board of Directors of the National Association of Independent Colleges & Universities. With more than 900 member institutions, this organization is known as the voice of the nation's private colleges and universities. Chancellor Boschini also is past chair of the Executive Board of the Mountain West athletic conference, and serves on the boards of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra, the Van Cliburn Foundation and State Farm Company Mutual Funds.

He earned the Bachelor of Arts degree from Mount Union College, the Master of Arts degree in personnel from Bowling Green State University and the Doctorate in Higher Education Administration from Indiana University.

The chancellor and his wife, Megan McAuliffe Boschini, have four children. Elizabeth, TCU Class of 2009, attends graduate school, while Mary is currently a Horned Frog. Edward and Margaret attend high school.

CHANCELLOR'S SCHOLARS AMONG TODAY'S GRADUATES

Among today's graduates are 28 of TCU's 138 Chancellor's Scholars. Selected as incoming students, their high school records, test scores and history of leadership placed them among the most exceptional of more than 11,500 applicants for the Class of 2011. The four-year, full tuition merit scholarships awarded Chancellor's Scholars are the University's most prestigious and generous. Chancellor's Scholars also benefit from mentoring relationships and close connections with the Chancellor and other members of the faculty and staff. It has been our privilege to come to know these extraordinary students and witness their achievements over the past four years, and it is a delight to see them graduate.

BACCALAUREATE HONORS RECOGNITION

Students having a cumulative grade point average of 3.9 or above on a 4.0 scale are graduated Summa Cum Laude; those with 3.7 to 3.9 are graduated Magna Cum Laude; those with 3.5 to 3.7 are graduated Cum Laude.

Students with the requisite GPA who have completed with distinction Honors work in the major or minor field of study, including a Senior Honors Project, are recognized as having attained Departmental Honors. Those who complete an interdisciplinary Senior Honors Project involving more than one major field of study receive Interdepartmental Honors.

Students receiving Interdepartmental Honors in Business completed the Neeley Fellows Program, a Program within the Neeley School of Business, involving an interdisciplinary Senior Honors Field Study in Strategic Management.

REMEMBERING 1960-1961

Prominent Events

- Iraq, Iran, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia formed OPEC.
- Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev disrupted a U.N. General Assembly session by pounding his desk with a shoe.
- John Kennedy was elected 35th president by 118,550 popular votes.
- The Soviets launched Sputnik V.
- The Peace Corps was established and the first volunteers were sent to Ghana.
- Astronaut Alan Shepard became the first American in space.

TCU Milestones

- The yearbook was dedicated to the City of Fort Worth as TCU and its hometown recognized "50 years of progress together."
- The campus covered 180 acres, and the physical plant was valued at $27 million.
- The Homecoming Bonfire built spirit for the big game against Texas, and afterward students joined in a conga line at the Steer Stomp dance.
- Professor John Graves' book Goodbye to a River was judged best non-fiction work of 1960.
- Bob Lilly was named an All-American.
- Future plans included a $1.5 million coliseum.
- TCU was the only university in the Southwest to offer a course in construction management.

THE FLAGS

The thirty-four flags displayed on the arena floor represent the countries of our ninety-three international students who are receiving their diplomas today. The following countries are represented: Bahamas; Bangladesh; Canada; China; Colombia; Ecuador; El Salvador; Finland; Gabon; Germany; Guatemala; Honduras; Hong Kong; India; Japan; Kenya; Republic of Korea; Krygyzstan; Malaysia; Mexico; Nepal; Nigeria; Panama; Peru; Poland; Romania; Russian Federation; Saudia Arabia; Singapore; Sri Lanka; Swaziland; Taiwan, Province of China; United Kingdom and Vietnam.

THE MACE

The mace is a symbol of the strength of a university. In Medieval times, the mace was a weapon designed to protect the dignitary in a procession. Academia borrowed that tradition from royalty, designating it as a symbol of the power of a university and of its leader – power shared with the faculty. Maces, similar in appearance to ancestral weaponry, usually are constructed of wood or metal and may have symbols of the institution worked into the design. TCU's mace was created to commemorate the inauguration of Chancellor Michael R. Ferrari in 1999. TCU staff member, Robert Kramer, a master carver, made the shaft of the mace. It is fashioned from a wooden beam from the first building constructed at Add-Ran Male and Female College in Thorp Spring, Texas. The head of the mace was created by international sculptor and TCU parent, Seppo Aarnos, and proudly bears the horned frog, adopted in 1897 as the University's mascot. An amethyst at the center of the head glows with the colors purple for royalty and white for purity.

TRADITION OF ACADEMIC DRESS

The history of academic dress dates from at least the twelfth century, when long gowns were needed for warmth in the unheated buildings used by medieval scholars. In England, both Oxford and Cambridge made academic dress a matter of university surveillance, and both institutions regulated which colors and trim could be used by faculty and students. In May 1895, representatives from American institutions of higher learning met at Columbia University and formulated a "code of academic dress" which has generally been followed since that time, although some revisions were initiated in 1932 and in 1960.

The dress code recommended that gowns for the bachelor's degree should be worn closed and should have pointed sleeves. Gowns for the master's degree can be worn open or closed, but their sleeves are oblong in shape with open wrists. Gowns worn by those holding the doctoral degree also can be worn open or closed and feature bell shaped sleeves.

Gowns from different institutions vary in color, but most are black. Neither the bachelors' nor the masters' gowns feature trim, but doctoral gowns are faced down the front with black velvet and hold three bars of the same fabric across the sleeves. Sometimes these facings and sleeve-bars are velvet of the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, thus agreeing in color with the binding or edging of the hood appropriate to the particular doctoral degree of the wearer.

Hoods are to be of the same color and material as the gowns and are lined with the official color(s) of the college or university conferring the degree. Bindings or edgings for the hoods display the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. Bachelors' hoods are three feet in length; masters' hoods are three and one-half feet in length; doctoral hoods measure four feet in length.

For all academic purposes, including the trimmings of gowns, hoods, and tassels, the colors associated with the different academic fields are as follows:

Agriculture	Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab
Dentistry	Lilac
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts, including Architecture	Brown
Forestry	Russet
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Medicine	Green
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Oratory (Speech)	Silver Gray
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Public Administration, including Foreign Service	Peacock Blue
Public Health	Salmon Pink
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Work	Citron
Theology	Scarlet
Veterinary Science	Gray

THE FOUNDERS AND THEIR COLLEGE

One of the older institutions of higher learning in the Southwest, Texas Christian University traces its origin to the chaotic decade immediately following the Civil War. If longevity is a mark of distinction in our time, the beneficiaries include TCU.

The birthplace of the University, Thorp Spring (near Granbury in Hood County) now lies still and quiet save for the doings of nature. Then it was a community of a few families and served as both health resort and stagecoach stop. To grow the settlement bearing his name, Pleasant Thorp erected a "commodious building" with the hope of persuading some educator to turn it into a schoolhouse.

Forty miles away in Fort Worth, the Brothers Clark – Addison and Randolph – had launched an academy in 1869. Notwithstanding modest success, they concluded that their property, close to what came to be known as "Hell's Half-Acre," was no place for a character-building school. The firm expectation that the Texas and Pacific Railroad with its attendant vices soon would reach the town only added to their unease. As a consequence, they decided to start again and accepted Mr. Thorp's proposal.

Randolph moved to Thorp Spring in time to open the doors of their new school on the first Monday in September 1873. Honoring his commitment to Fort Worth patrons, Addison did not relocate until the next summer. Their father, Joseph Addison, followed a year later. A restless lawyer-surveyor and preacher in the Christian Church, he ably assisted his sons especially in business affairs.

The co-founders, Addison and Randolph, proved to be an exceptional twosome. Veterans of the Confederate Army but hardly firebrands, they dedicated themselves to rebuilding their homeland after the Civil War left it in a shambles. The level of trust and affection between them was remarkable. Different from each other, to be sure, Randolph was outgoing and venturesome; Addison, reserved and erudite. A student of Addison's, Colby D. Hall offered telling testimony. Referring to his teacher, he wrote: "You taught me homiletics and second-year Latin. Latin was not in your Department. You taught it because there was no other teacher available." Addison was a scholar. Indeed, the strengths of the Brothers were complementary. No wonder their professional relationship with Addison as president and Randolph as vice-president was long-lived.

The Clarks named their school AddRan Male and Female College in honor of Addison's first-born, AddRan, who died of diphtheria at the age of three. Beginning with thirteen pupils, enrollment increased to seventy-five by the close of the first session and passed two hundred in the fourth year. The co-founders and their father had good reason for encouragement.

But trouble surfaced. The business arrangement between the Clarks and Pleasant Thorp soured, and misunderstanding led to rupture. "Old Man Thorp" repossessed his building, and the Clarks proceeded to build their own. A three-story structure of forty by sixty feet, it was ready for use in the 1878 spring term.

To cover a portion of the construction costs, Addison and Randolph sold their houses in Fort Worth, and Randolph's wife, Emma parted with two of her treasured properties. AddRan was a family venture in every respect.

Thereafter enrollment turned up but peaked around four hundred fifty. The struggle to match income and expenditures intensified. The College had no endowment and faced gloomy tomorrows. What to do? Preacher-teachers in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), the Brothers turned their school over to the Church in 1889 and placed in control a self-perpetuating board of trustees. This transfer of assets and authority made sense because the Christian Churches in Texas had "endorsed" and "adopted" the private school at the outset.

A Christian college, AddRan bore no resemblance to today's Bible colleges. The stated purpose of the institution, according to the Charter, was to support and promote "literary and scientific education." The Clarks organized the curriculum into six areas of study: English, ancient languages, mathematics, physical sciences, mental and moral sciences, and social and civic history. The co-founders intended to educate the laity – women and men – as well as preachers. And they did.

To open the way for progress, Trustees moved the school to Waco in 1895 and then to Fort Worth in 1910. There AddRan, having been renamed Texas Christian University, claimed a significant place in American higher education. Addison and Randolph Clark stepped aside more than a century ago, but their work continues to unfold.

CENTURY OF PARTNERSHIP — CELEBRATING TCU IN FORT WORTH

TCU and Fort Worth's close partnership dates to 1910, though their connections began in 1869 when university founders Addison and Randolph Clark established a forerunner academy. But with the coming of the railway and cattle drives, their "quiet village" was transformed into a bawdy boomtown. The brothers quickly relocated their school.

So began the moves and changes that led TCU to Thorp Spring, Waco and back to Fort Worth in 1910 after fire destroyed the main building on the Waco campus.

The Fort Worth Board of Trade, predecessor of the Chamber of Commerce, and the city's Christian Churches offered 50 acres, $200,000 (the average wage was 10 cents an hour) and promises of utilities and a streetcar line, outbidding Waco and Dallas. Until facilities were constructed the following year on "the Hill" – the site of the present campus – TCU leased space downtown. For its part, the university agreed to remain in Fort Worth "for at least 10 years".

In large measure, the next 100 years of TCU history is the history of Fort Worth. The university and the city grew up together, and in the 21st century both are vibrant, globally oriented and forward thinking. Yet the bonds and traditions forged in the early years continue to hold.

This century of partnership will be celebrated with events on the campus and in the community from spring 2010 through fall 2011.

Alumni Chapters

Participate in alumni chapter events. With sixteen organized chapters across the United States, it's easy to get involved no matter where you live. If you live in Dallas, Fort Worth, or Houston, there are young alumni chapters specifically for recent graduates. Keep us informed of your address, and we will keep you informed of alumni activities in your area.

Frog5 Tailgate

Attend your class reunion. During Homecoming in the fall of 2012, your class will be celebrating its one-year reunion. The Frog5 tailgate celebrates Horned Frogs who have graduated in the last five years (2007-2012). You spent time on campus together; come back and celebrate together.

As a graduate of Texas Christian University, you are the reason for the Association and we welcome you to the fellowship of alumni throughout the world.

Sincerely,

SENIOR CLASS LEGACY

Each year, seniors have the opportunity to make a gift to Texas Christian University in tribute to individuals who have enriched their lives with encouragement, faith, and confidence. Funds from the Senior Class Legacy are designated to the Annual Fund and become a legacy to the University from the Class of 2011.

The University joins these graduate members of the Class of 2011 in expressing gratitude to those who have so richly enhanced their lives, and by extension, the life of the TCU community. Graduates' names appear on the left side of the column, followed by the names of those they are honoring.

Chairman, Board of Trustees

CALL TO WORSHIP.....Reverend Jeremy Albers
Associate Chaplain

Leader: We praise You, O God, and know You as our creator. By Your gifts to us we seek to make perfect our will to accord with Your will for us.

People: (All reading together) Your gifts to us require that we do justly, love mercy and walk humbly. Thereby we worship and serve You and discover ourselves to be made in Your image.

Leader: Be joyful and worship God. Honor God's presence with a song.

HYMN (All standing).....Led by Jennifer D. Jones
Class of 2011

arranged by Curt Wilson
Praise Be to God the Almighty

Joachim Neander, 1680From Everflowing Streams, Pilgrim Press, 1981

Praise be to God, the Almighty, who rules all creation.
O my soul, worship the well-spring of health and salvation.
Let all who hear, Now to God's temple draw near,
Joining in glad adoration!
Praise be to God, who o'er all things is wondrously reigning,
Bringing new life, in great mercy redeeming, sustaining.
Ponder anew, What the Almighty can do.
Ponder God's gracious ordaining.
Praise be to God, who works justice, who ends all oppressing.
God's name most holy let Israel always be blessing.
Rise up on wings, Healing and wholeness God brings.
Always God's deeds be confessing.
Praise be to God, O forget not God's manifold graces.
All that has life and breath, one song of gratitude raises.
Let the amen, Sound from God's people again.
Gladly forever sing praises.

AMEN

New words and some adaptations by Ruth Duck, 1980. Used by permission.
INVOCATIONRev. Albers

LITANY OF THANKSGIVINGRev. Albers

Leader: Our experience of joy on this occasion is shared with one another as we express our common thanksgiving. We offer our thanks, Gracious God, for those who founded and guided this institution; for those today whose lives, talents and gifts keep its heritage and direct its opportunities.

People: Hear our prayers of thanksgiving, Gracious God, for all who learn and use Your saving health for all nations.

Leader: We offer our thanksgiving for the love of families that bring honor, charity, and goodwill to the hope of learning.

People: Hear our prayers of thanksgiving, Gracious God, for all communities of care who enable the lessons of mercy and justice.

Leader: We offer our thanksgiving, Gracious God, for those who teach and those who learn the patterns and processes of life that lead us to Your Spirit of Grace.

People: Hear our prayers of thanksgiving, Gracious God, for all universities and the continuing search for what You would have us do so that Your spirit may lead all persons to the light of wisdom.
