Band Concert Slated Tonight

Week's Recreation Events
To Include TCU History,
Softball, Volley Ball Tilts

A band concert, under the direction of Dr. Clarence J. Best, of the music department, assisted by R. ("Woody") Woodard, junior from Odessa, will be presented at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Auditorium as a feature of the Summer Recreation Committee activities.

Highlights of the Recreation Committee's schedule for the coming week are a 75th Anniversary history of T. C. U., written by Jacques Burdick, junior of Fort Worth, and directed by Miss Lorraine Sherley of the English department, to be given at 8:30 p. m. Monday on the campus and a softball and volley ball game to be played at 6:30 p. m. Thursday near the Library.

Miss Kitty Wingo of the Summer Recreation Committee has announced that recreation swimming for the summer has been called off due to city water shortage.

The band concert brings to a close the two-week band clinic which Dr. Best has been conducting. Woodard has been assisting in the clinic as director of the twirlers.

Some 100 students, who have gathered here for the two weeks schooling, will take part in the program. They have come from all sections of the state. Largest representation, 22 students along with their instructor, Thurston Atwood, come from Eastland. (Continued on Page 2)

Older Buildings To Be Renovated

The T.C.U. remodeling project, estimated by L. L. Dees, Superintendent of building, to exceed $10,000, which will include work on two girls dormitories, Foster and Jarvis Halls, two men's dorms, Clark and Goode Halls, the four barracks for men, the Little Gym and Brite College, is now underway.

Painting and repair work on Goode Hall is expected to be completed in four weeks. Plaster work being done, the doors are being worked over, new screens will be put in, the furniture is being repaired and the mattresses are being renovated. Total cost is estimated at $5,000.

Work on Clark Hall will not begin until some two weeks before the second summer session ends as students now occupy both the first and second floors. The building will receive plaster work and painting. An estimate on the remodeling has not been given.

The four barracks for men will be repainted, reroofed, ceilings will be put in and each will receive two attic fans. Renovation of the barracks will run near $8,000. Some $2,000 will be spent on the remodeling of Foster Hall. The rooms will be repainted, and the interior is being rearranged and repaired.

The first floor of Jarvis Hall will be turned into offices for the Yale Institute of Alcohol Studies in the Southwest and a lounge for the faculty women. The remodeling is expected to run near $2,500. Brite College will be repainted. The cost is estimated at $350.

The Little Gym will be repainted and the swimming pool will be worked over. The estimated cost is $400.

Club Will Be Formed For Reptilian Study

For those who like snakes, lizards, frogs and similar animals, there will soon be a campus group with whom they should be affiliated.

A Herpetology Club is being planned by Profs. John Forsyth of the biology department and Louis Ramsey of the mathematics department. They state that the club will be open to all students interested in the field.

Webster's Dictionary defines herpetology as "that which relates to reptiles, their structure, classification and habits."

Meeting of the group may not begin until fall. Meanwhile, however, one of the sponsors, Prof. Ramsey, is devoting his vacation to this interest. Editor of the Herpetological Society Newsletter as an extra-curricular activity, he has forsaken the classroom for the summer to search out snakes in the Ozona area. He will report his findings in the next Newsletter, tentatively scheduled for July.

Rattikin Named Top Girl Pilot

Miss Mary Helen Rattikin, junior secondary education major Fort Worth, was named the nation's top intercollegiate girl pilot when the T. C. U. Flying Frogs won second place honors in the National Intercollegiate Air Meet last weekend at Ann Arbor, Mich. after competing with 12 of the top ranking flight teams of the United States. The local fliers missed first place honors by 14 points.

Miss Rattikin was awarded the Aeronca Perpetual Friedlander Trophy for her superior handling of her plane and the safe manner in which she did it. Mary Helen will keep the trophy for one year or for as long as she can continue to rate the honor given her at the meet.

Although the Frogs were hampered by the absence of one of their top point gainers and were competing with schools having the finest aviation facilities in the world, they kept the winner of the meet, Michigan State with 149 points, worried from start to finish.

Top Girl Pilot

The University fliers cornered only two third places, one in the spot landing contest by Royce Livingston, junior from Fort Worth; and the other in the bomb dropping event by Jim Bollinger, sophomore also from Fort Worth. Miss (Continued on Page 3)

Run-Off Set Wednesday In Vice-President Race

City Asks TCU To Move Arch

Road Construction Fixed
By Agreement in Original
Land Grant To University

The decision to move the Arch was not made by the University, but by a direct request of the City of Fort Worth, according to a statement made this week by President M. E. Sadler. The request is a result of an agreement made at the dedication of the grounds for the University.

President Sadler explained that a certain amount of the original grant had been set aside to the city for the construction of streets and roads. The City's plans call for the widening of University Drive from Berry to Lancaster.

"After the City announced the plan for widening, our present building committee decided to capitalize on the work, the city will do in the overall program of beautification of the campus," President Sadler says.

Had the City not decided to widen the Drive the Arch would probably have had to be rebuilt because of its present condition. The structure, built in 1924, is slowly falling apart and the lettering is hard to read, Dr. Sadler said.

The committee wants to construct a new memorial dedicated to the dead of both World Wars. The name plate and as much of the present structure as possible would be used in the new Arch, he adds.

"We want to construct a memorial of granite or marble that will last through the years. A tribute that will preserve all that is held in the old Arch and our gratitude for the men who gave their lives in both wars," President Sadler says.

Religion, Philosophy Books Are Received by Library

Religion and philosophy books, obtained on a long term loan from the library at College of Missions of the United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis, Ind., have been received by the Library, says Mrs. Bertie H. Mothershead, librarian.

Reprints of the books, originally borrowed by Yale University, have been sent to all Christian colleges requesting them for reference work.

Ben Hearn to Take Over Student Body Job Monday Night

A run-off election has been set for Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. to decide the student body vice-presidency between Don Pierson, who failed to gain a majority vote in this week's balloting, and Gene ("Bullet") Abshire.

Pierson, senior from Fort Worth, polled 130 votes, and Abshire, junior from Fort Worth, received 92 votes in the election, when only 321 of an estimated 2,000 students in summer school cast their votes for student body officers.

Ben Hearn, Jacksonville senior, who was named student body president with a 177-to-137 victory over John Shirley, senior from Ranzer, will be installed along with other newly elected officers in a ceremony scheduled at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in the Amphitheatre. Student body secretary for the summer term is Ellaveen Childress, Fort Worth junior, and Charles E. Purvis, also a Fort Worth junior, will be installed as treasurer.

Class presidents named in Wednesday's vote are Jean Robeson, Washington, D. C., senior; Dee Kelly, Bonham, junior; Joe Mathers, Fort Worth, sophomore and Shirley Hammond, Fort Worth, freshman.

J. W. ("Red") Brothers, graduate student from Mount Enterprise, polled 97 votes; Bryan Weickershimmer, senior, Lufkin, 93; and Pud Roberts, junior from Lubbock, 88 votes, to be named upperclass representatives.

The six lowerclass representatives are Bill Bogolin, 53; Worth Dalton, Fort Worth sophomore, 63; James Repp, sophomore, Baytown, 64; Mike Smith, freshman, Bonham, 59; Billy Hamilton, freshman, San Antonio, 58; Alvin Durborow, sophomore, Little Rock, Ark., 51.

John Enochs, Tyler, is senior class representative. Frankie Robbins, Breckenridge, defeated Aubrey Robertson, Amarillo, 52 to 36 to become junior class representative. Albert Armstrong, Fort Worth, is sophomore class representative and Lella Ann Garrett, Fort Worth, was named freshman class representative.

Lynn Fleming, senior from Elgin, on leave of absence as a reporter on the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, is summer editor of The Skiff.

Mutual's T. C. U. Salute Tentatively Set for July 23

The Mutual Broadcasting System's salute to T. C. U., one of the nationwide "Campus Salute" series presented in cooperation with the Department of the Army, will not be presented July 2 as was previously announced.

The tentative date for the broadcast is July 23, according to Paul O. Ridings, director of publicity. However, due to the uncertainty about the schedules of the political convention for that night, the program may be postponed until July 30.

Jackets, Letters for Outstanding Service For Band Members Announced by Sadler

A jacket with a band letter for the first year of satisfactory service in the band and new letters for the next three years can be earned by men in the Horned Frog Band who qualify under a new award system, announces President M. E. Sadler.

Three-year winners under the plan, which bases merit on outstanding service to the Band and University, will be eligible for a senior award, gold key for the man's watch chain containing his name and years of service.

The reversible-type rainproof jacket is purple with a white panel from shoulder to wrist. Elastic edges on neck, arms and bottom of jacket are purple and white. The letter, purple musical lyre with a white "TCU Band" and stripes indicating years of service, is on a white background.

Recipients for 1947-48, who will get the awards when they enroll for the fall semester, will be named soon.

The bandsman, to be eligible, must have a "C" average for the academic year and participate in 95 per cent of the events. He receives points for each event, number of points varying with the amount of time and work involved.

Awards will be given at the beginning of the semester following the year the award was earned.

"These probably are the first awards to be given to worthy bandsmen since the Band was organized in 1905," says Band Director Leon Breeden. "It will be a merited honor for the boys who qualify."

The Band participated in 46 public engagements during the 1947-48 academic year.

Deciding the NSA Question

The coming student referendum on T. C. U. affiliation with the National Student Association is a healthy sign. It evidences democracy in action.

Even though early in the spring semester the student body put a 7-to-1 approval vote on affiliation with the N. S. A. there have since been continued rumbling undercurrents of dissension with the action. Various "pro" and "con" comments have permeated many discussions of student body activities.

For the most part, however, there was a general indifference.

That is, until recently when it became known that it was going to cost T. C. U. students, $577, or more than 25% of their spring semester funds, to carry out the role of affiliation with the N. S. A. Three hundred and thirty-five students then entered the petition objecting to this expenditure which brings about the referendum.

The Student Council in appropriating the $577 for N. S. A. activities, it would seem, however, acted as the students had willed. The 7-to-1 approval in the earlier ballot certainly seemed to indicate that students wanted to go along with N. S. A. The $177 dues expenditure was necessary just to carry out the order of the vote: To affiliate the T. C. U. student body with the N. S. A.

And if the affiliation of T. C. U. with the group was to have any meaning, certainly it was in order to send delegates to the convention. What would be the point in paying $177 to belong to an organization and then staying away from its meetings. That is why the Council appropriated $400 more to send four delegates to the August national convention.

But here is where democracy in action began to assert itself. Students opposed to N. S. A. contended that it was not in the interest of the entire student body for such a large portion of student body funds to be so expended. It was in effect providing a "paid vacation" in Wisconsin for four students, they argued. What would be the benefits to the student body as a whole, they asked.

Students in voting for N. S. A. had not really known what they were voting for, they further contended. So they asked in the proper legal fashion provided by the "temporary" Student Body Constitution that students be given another chance to express their will on the matter before the $400 was so spent.

Meanwhile, it should be said to the credit of the students favoring affiliation with N. S. A. that they had sensed the growing resentment to this movement. Dick Brickley, president of the N. S. A. for this region, had come to The Skiff with a plan for determining the exact position of the student body in regard to affiliation with the group. His plan called for a student vote on the matter following the August convention, following a full "pro" and "con" report on the N. S. A. from those at the convention—and he wanted someone opposed to N. S. A. to be there as well as those favoring it in the official delegation.

Brickley and other N. S. A. advocates believed that thereby students could become convinced that there were real benefits for the T. C. U. student body to be derived from affiliation and work with the group. Because his was a fair proposition and in the interest of helping the students take a real, instead of a doubtful, stand on the matter, The Skiff accepted his proposition.

Now, however, the student petition has pushed ahead action and a vote on the matter. In the continued interest of fairness, The Skiff proposes to provide an equal amount of space on the week preceding the referendum election to those favoring N. S. A. affiliation and to those opposed to it. These messages, The Skiff hopes, will help students to vote intelligently.

It is an important choice to be made—and it is being made in the democratic way. Students, The Skiff believes, should take the referendum most seriously.

Band Concert

Some of the more distant cities sending students here are Amarillo, Houston, Marshall and Beeville.

The 75th anniversary history, which will be presented near the site of the old Honeysuckle Arbor, will include the following cast: Bonnie Osborne, graduate student of Fort Worth; Burdick, the author, a junior of Fort Worth; Sam L. Shannon, narrator, sophomore from Durant, Okla.; Don Mayo, senior from Graham; Robert Saam, Fort Worth senior; Joe Coldicutt, senior from Texarkana; and Eugene Naham, sophomore, Floyd Lisle, junior, and Freddie Hoskins a senior; all of Fort Worth. Miss Wingo stated that the history will be presented in the Auditorium if bad weather prevails.

The ball games will bring together the faculty men and the girls in the opening softball game and the faculty men and the boys in the volley ball game which immediately follows.

An open-air dance, scheduled to be given on the tennis courts Thursday, has been postponed as lights are not obtainable. Miss Wingo stated that the dance will be rescheduled as soon as lights can be obtained.

Eight Summer Employees Compose Book Store Staff

The Book Store has a total of eight employees for the summer session. Bettye Fewel, sophomore from Fort Worth and Beth Shofner, junior from Greenville, are new members.

Trees, Grass Kept Alive; Water Hauled From Trinity

Due to the present city water shortage, water for the campus trees, grass, shrubbery and the football field is being hauled by tanks from the Trinity River, states M. A. Doss, superintendent of grounds.

Three tanks, one the property of T. C. U., another borrowed from the city and a third furnished by the Watson Housemoving Company, are in use 16 hours daily transporting water for the campus preservation.

Graduation Internes Hear Address by Dr. Sadler

President M. E. Sadler spoke to the staff of the Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital this week. The occasion was a dinner held in honor of the graduating internes of the hospital.

Rev. Granville Walker will be back in the pulpit at University Christian Church this Sunday after being gone last week. He received his Ph.D. degree from Yale last week.

Identical Twins Cause Mystery To Visiting Prof.

"Such big appetites these boys have!" commented Dr. Irene Huber, visiting German professor for the summer session, observing the heaped up trays of members of the band clinic.

"One of the boys who sat at the table with me went through the line twice," said she, recounting the incident to Mrs. Helen Orbeck, dietitian in the Cafeteria. "When he came back with the second tray of food, he ate it with as much gusto as he did the first."

Checking up on the story, Mrs. Orbeck discovered that Robert Martin, visiting band boy from Ranger, had eaten at Miss Huber's table and left while she was busily engaged in conversation. In a few moments, identical twin Richard Martin came with his heavily laden tray and chanced to sit at the same table where Robert sat.

Stanley Clifton to Teach Course in Social Work

A new course in social work will be offered this fall in the sociology department, according to Dr. A. L. Porterfield, department head. Enough work will be provided in the course to enable students to take a major in that field, he explained.

The course will be taught by Stanley Clifton, now on leave of absence from T. C. U., who is completing work on his doctor's degree at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. A. O. Spain to Attend World Federalists Meet

Frog Flashes

BY "WICKEY"

The pending draft law is stirring up quite a bit of comment from coaches over the country. Most of the veterans on the sports rosters are being replaced with boys fresh from high school. The Frog varsity for next year lists 19 veterans and 33 non-vets.

Of the 29 lettermen some 19 are non-vets. If the government sticks to the policy of not drafting those in the reserve the picture for the team appears bright. Sixteen of the varsity non-vets are now members of the organized reserve. Others may join before the summer is over.

Most colleges will be affected by the draft because most boys enter school around the age of 18. The freshmen for next year's squad who entered school in January have only two veterans listed. The new men who will enter in September more than likely will all be of draft age.

Should the government go back on its policy the Frogs would be in one fine pickle. The 19 remaining varsity members would have to form the nucleus of a new squad made up of men under the draft age and what veterans and disabled men it could muster. The whole picture of college football throughout the nation would be altered.

Take for instance the first string of the Frogs at the close of spring practice. Only three linemen and two backs would remain. The second string would suffer even a greater loss. Only four members of that squad are vets. The freshmen would have to fill its ranks with campus talent.

The Frogs seem fairly set in all other ways if the draft question is settled. The battle for eligibility in the book race has only one casualty to date, Harold Kilman. A final report has not been made as yet but the coaches think that all the others have made the grade.

Dick Osburn, promising freshman tennis star, added another star to his crown by taking first place in the junior doubles division of the Heart of America Tennis Meet at Kansas City.

Mrs. Betty Ramsey, employee in the Registrar's office, has returned after a week's vacation in west Texas.

Ex-Frog Grid Stars Return To Work for M.A. Degrees

Two of Frogland's all-time football greats are listed among the 11 coaches doing graduate work here this summer. Five other Frogs of bygone days are working for their masters degrees.

Wilson Groschlose, coach at Poly High, was a three year letterman in the middle thirties. Groschlose was acclaimed one of the best linemen on the field in the Sugar Bowl classic of 1936. His line play helped the Frogs to gain a 3-2 victory over L. S. U.

Durwood Horner, assistant coach at Paschal High, was a starting member of the undefeated team of 1938. He made a sensational catch of the winning touchdown pass in the Sugar Bowl game to earn the Frogs a 15-to-7 victory and a national championship.

Other ex-gridders from Frogland studying here include: Ray Newton, B.S., '46 now coaching at Memphis, Texas; Beekie Ezell, B.S., '46, at McAllen; Don Ezell, B.S., '46, now head mentor at Childress; John Steele, B.S., '47 has taken a job as assistant coach at Texarkana; Charley York, B.S., '46, is also working at Memphis.

Coaches receiving degrees from other schools working on masters include Bill Howorth, A. B., '38 from Trinity University, now at Quannah; Clifford Johnson, B.S., North Texas State in 1938, now working as a coach in the Fort Worth school system; Odell Harrison, B.S., T.W.C., '47, now at Summerville; William Roark, B.S., '48, Howard Payne, is now assistant coach at Fort Worth Tech.

T. C. U.'s Olympic Boxer Loses Heavyweight Bout

Harold Kilman, T. C. U.'s entrant in the Olympic boxing meet in San Antonio, lost the final bout in the heavyweight division last week to Charles Black of Houston. Kilman had won a decision over Black in their only other meeting a year ago in the TAAF championship fight.

Prof. Hilton Shepherd, of the School of Business, has been appointed Air Force liaison representative for T. C. U. by Brig. Gen. Harry A. Johnson, Tenth Air Force commander. He is to promote and further the goodwill and interest of the Air Force at T. C. U.

Four Educators Added to Staff

Four new additions to the School of Education, two on permanent status, and two on temporary status, were announced this week by Dean Raymond A. Smith of the School of Education. Dr. Leslie P. Evans and Dr. Morgan M. Young are assigned to permanent duty while C. A. Singleton and R. H. Guerry are here for the summer only.

Dr. Evans has been appointed as an assistant professor. He recently completed work on his doctorate at the University of Texas.

Dr. Evans has worked for several years in the Texas public school system and from 1940-42 he served as an educational supervisor with the W.P.A. He took his bachelor's degree in 1932 at Howard Payne College and finished his master's at the University of Texas in 1940.

During the war he was a radio technician with the Navy.

Dr. Young is now teaching a course in "Principles of Guidance." He is from Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville where he was director of the Campus Demonstration School. He received his B.A. from Austin College at Sherman, his master's from S.M.U. and his Ph.D. from the University of Texas. He is a former principal of Arlington High School, Arlington.

The two summer instructors are both principals of local public schools. Mr. Singleton is principal of Arlington Heights Elementary School, and Mr. Guerry is principal of Morning Side Elementary and Worth Heights Elementary schools.

Miss Sharlyn Reaves, senior, Stratford, and Miss Vida Mitchell, sophomore, Austin, spent the weekend with Miss Betty Ann Stinson, sophomore, at her home in Waco.

Freshman Book "75" Due Today

A booklet entitled "75," written by two freshman invitation English classes last spring, under the direction of Mrs. Artemesia Brydson and Mrs. Mary Cantrill of the English department, is scheduled to come off the press today. The booklet will contain the works of each student in the two English classes.

Katherine Turano of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Bill Lewinter of Sewickley, Pa. served as class editors for the publication. Nancy Davis is the business manager.

Prof. Ziegler's Paintings On Exhibit Another Month

Thirty-five historical paintings by Prof. S. P. Ziegler, showing the development of T. C. U. through the last 30 years, will remain on exhibition for another month. The paintings are on display on the third floor of the Administration Building.

The art show is one of the department's contributions to the Diamond Jubilee celebration. The student exhibits of the annual show have been removed.

$731,628 Received in TCU Building Fund Campaign

A total of $731,628 has been pledged to date in the $5,000,000 T. C. U. Building Fund campaign. This amount has been received in the first two weeks of the campaign.

Of the reported $296,238 total for this week, $23,238 was in special gifts, $122,350 in special big gifts, and $2,100 in big gifts.

Pattikin won a sixth place in the spot landing contest.

Michigan State, who won all other places of the meet, except for a second won by Penn State, said that they had practiced constantly in their own planes on the Willow Run airport used for the tournament. They gave this reason for their outstanding showing.

The Froglanders were also instrumental in changing the name of the national organization from National Intercollegiate Flying Club to National Intercollegiate Flying Association at a meeting held Saturday night. At the meeting the local fliers were heralded as having the largest membership of the national organization, the most widely traveled club in the nation, and possessing the most outstanding flying record for the last year. The Frog fliers were also elected to organize their district including Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

As winners of their last three flying meets in Denver, Columbia, Mo., their own meet in Fort Worth, and placing second in the national meet, the University team has won 14 trophies in the last ten months.

Says Troy Stimson, aviation instructor and sponsor of the club at T. C. U., "Although we have no planes with which to practice and no field of our own as many of the other schools have, it is plain to see that we do have some top fliers. Our hopes are that we can do as well next year and take the national meet in addition."

TCU Profs Turn "Radical", Revolt on Objects of Agony

There's a revolution afoot at T. C. U.

A group of professors is involved in a plot to overthrow tradition and defy accepted standards for the sake of comfort.

Their revolution is a peaceful one—part of a movement to abolish those perennial instruments of summer torture which have plagued the male of the species for centuries—the collar, the coat, the necktie and the cuff.

According to Fort Worth Press Editor Walter Humphrey's rules for the Male Comfort Club, 16 T. C. U. professors are eligible for Class "A" membership—meaning they wear no coat or tie to classes.

In the English department, sports shirts—no ties—are the thing, three to one. KARL SNYDER says, "The short sleeve sport shirt is a God send." DR. WARREN WOOD and L. MOFFITT CECIL share his philosophy. Only DR. TROY CRENSHAW has not succumbed to the "radical" dress.

Other Class "A-ers" include DR. NEWTON GAINES of the physics department who says, "I have been wearing sport shirts ever since they were made"; F. M. LISLE, DR. JOHN FORSYTH, BRUCE FALLIS, W. T. O'GARA, and DR. HENRY HARDT, all of the physics department. One of their colleagues rates Class "B," but he says "I will get around to sport shirts before the summer is over."

DR. AUGUST O. SPAIN, and CHARLES PROCTER of the government department are sport shirt addicts, but Procter admits, "If a shirt with a tie is handy I sometimes wear it."

DR. SANDY A. WALL of the education department and R. S. WETHERELL and R. W. GARRETT of the history department all wear short sleeve sport shirts, with DR. W. J. HAMMOND rating a Class "B" membership—he wears a tie.

PAUL O. RIDINGS of the journalism department wears short (very) sleeve sport shirts, while T. SMITH McCORKLE, dean of the School of Fine Arts, a part-time bow tie wearer, follows the policy of DR. CLARENCE J. BEST of the music department, who wears coat and tie to school but lets the weather be his guide in classrooms. BAND DIRECTOR LEON BREEDEN blames his short sleeve sport shirt on the cooling (?) system of the third floor of the Administration Building.

DR. H. R. MUNDHENKE of the economics department may wear a tie to school, but when he gets down to business in the classroom he rolls up his sleeves, unbuttons his collar and sheds his tie. INSTRUCTOR J. R. C. MCGOWEN is a part-time tie wearer.

In the undergraduate religion department, PROFESSORS C. A. BURCH and GEORGE FOWLER rate Class "A", while PROF. GLENN ROUTT, who teaches in Brite College, rates Class "B." Another Class "B" member is THOMAS PROUSE, director of physical education.

DR. WALTHER VOLBACH, drama department, is a Class "A" member, but DR. AUSTIN L. PORTERFIELD, head of the sociology department, has been wearing his coat and tie religiously only since last week. Someone must have mentioned the Male Comfort Club.

Shelburne, Niece On Vacation

Registrar's Daughter Leaves for Iowa

Mrs. H. D. Hightower, daughter of Registrar S. W. Hutton, left Monday for Boone, Ia., to spend 10 days with her sister, Mrs. R. W. Raugh. Both are T. C. U. graduates.

Dean, Mrs. Hall See Walker Get Ph.D.

Dean and Mrs. Colby D. Hall and Miss Bita May Hall, of the foreign language department, vacationing in New York, attended commencement exercises at Yale University Tuesday night to see the Rev. Granville Walker get his Ph.D. degree. They were accompanied by Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Welch, who are living in New York while Prof. Welch is working on his doctorate.

Dean Harris Well; Plans Vacation

Dean Lucy Harris of the School of Nursing has completely recovered from the surgery she underwent two weeks ago, and she is now on a month's vacation.

Dean D. Ray Lindley is conducting a revival meeting this week at Walters, Okla. Rev. Claude Stinson is the minister there.

Former Student Elected Library Association Head

Errett W. McDiarmid, librarian of the University of Minnesota and graduate of T. C. U., was inaugurated as president of the American Library Association Friday at the closing session of the Association at Atlantic City.

McDiarmid worked in the Library during his undergraduate days at T. C. U. and it was here that he gained his inspiration to work in the librarian's field, according to Mrs. Bertie H. Mothershead, librarian.

Munro Plans Vacation

Dr. Harry C. Munro, new religious education professor in Brite College, will leave on vacation this week-end. He will go to his summer home in the peach country, R. F. D. No. 2, Paloma, Mich., returning to Brite College in September.

Jarvis, Foster Rented to B&PW

The 171 combined vacancies in Jarvis and Foster Halls will be occupied for a week in July by more than 300 delegates to the International Convention of Business and Professional Women, according to information released this week by L. L. Dees, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Miss Elizabeth Shelburne, dean of women.

Sixty-five rooms, each of which will accommodate two people, are available in Jarvis and 106 in Foster. Mrs. Catherine Ball will officiate as hostess in Jarvis and Mrs. James R. Wright, Sr., in Foster. The convention will be held July 4 to 11 in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.
