

The following regulations in regard to the Master's degree were adopted by the Cabinet at yesterday's meeting:

"It is recommended that, hereafter, a minimum prerequisite of 30 semester hours be required of all graduate students taking all their work for the A. M. degree in the field of education. Recommended that all departments, except education, 24 semester hours prerequisite be required of all graduate students in their major field of study, six semester hours of such prerequisites to be in the 40s.

"Recommended that in all departments, except education, a minimum prerequisite of 18 semester hours be required of all graduate students in their minor field, six semester hours of such prerequisites to be in the 30s or 40s.

"It is recommended that any graduate student who fails in the final oral examination for the degree be not allowed to take another examination within nine months. It is recommended that the same rule be applied to a failure in any graduate course."

Paragraph 5, page 73, of the June, 1929, catalog was revised by the Cabinet to read as follows:

"The Point System is devised to stimulate the slow student to a quality of work above bare passing, and to provide that one whose grades in all lines are low may not receive a degree. The rule is:

"The student's average of all grades (including failures) on the 120 or more semester hours of work must be C, or higher. (Point index 2, or more.)

"The process for calculating the average is: Assign each grade a numerical value---to A, 4 points; to B, 3; to C, 2; to D, 1; to F, 0. Multiply the grade point by the number of semester hours of the course. Add these products and divide the sum by the total number of semester hours. A course dropped with an F grade is included in the calculation. A course dropped with a passing grade is not included.

"The above rule, when applied toward graduation, begins to operate with the class graduating in June, 1932. Only those failures beginning with the session 1930-31 will be considered.

"The last grade given on the permanent record is the final grade for the course, and is the only one considered in this calculation."

Dean Hall represented T. C. U. last week at the meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, in Lexington, Ky. No action affecting T. C. U. was taken by the association, he reports, but adds that Fort Worth is still being praised by the delegates for the entertainment of last year. The 1930 meeting will be held in Atlanta, Ga.
