Money Plan Is Submitted

Students Will Vote On Proposed Amendment to Change Frog War Fund

A proposed amendment to the provisional constitution with regard to the division of money in the Frog War Fund will be voted on by the student body at a date yet to be decided, according to Norman Hoffman, chairman of the Council election committee.

The present constitution provides that the War Fund be divided in four parts: War Bonds (in the name of the Student Council); Red Cross; War Chest; and the World Student Scholarship Fund.

The proposed amendment would divide the fund into five parts, the original four, plus an added division for the Frog Memorial Fund, which is to build an appropriate memorial for T. C. U. students killed in action during World War II.

Future Council Meetings To Be in Amphitheater

Future meetings of the Student Council will be at 12:15 p. m. in the Amphitheater instead of in the Council room, according to Student Body President Dave Hibbard. One side of the Amphitheater will be assigned to the Council, and the other side will be a "gallery" for students interested in coming to the meetings. For those who cannot attend, the approved minutes of each meeting will be posted on the Council bulletin board in the main hall, says Hibbard.

A student suggestion box will be placed in the main hall as soon as it has been made, Hibbard adds.

'What Would Jesus Say' To Be Sunday Sermon

"What Would Jesus Say," will be the Sunday morning sermon topic of the Rev. J. E. Montgomery. The organ prelude will be "Ora Pro Nobis," by Liszt, and the offertory will be "Our Father Which Art in Heaven," by Mendelssohn.

Miss Dorothy Forrester will sing "With Verdure Clad," by Haydn.

'Y' to Sponsor Dance Aug. 2 on Tennis Courts

Plans for a dance to be held on the tennis court Thursday, Aug. 2, were made at a meeting of the "Y" Tuesday night. The time of the dance has been set from 8 to 11 p. m.

Donald Sellstrom was elected president of the "Y" at a meeting Tuesday evening at the University Christian Church.

Other officers are Miss Hannah Groginski, vice-president; Miss Doris Blessing, secretary; and John Hardin, treasurer.

The meetings are to be weekly on Tuesdays at the University Christian Church.

Jim Jones Again Named Council Dance Manager

Jim Jones has been named Council dance manager for the summer-fall trimester, it was announced at a Council meeting Tuesday. He was dance manager last trimester also.

3 Musicales Announced

LaVerne Harding Adds Army Khaki To Navy Whites

The army khaki was added to the navy whites this term when Lt. LaVerne Harding, ex '43, decided to spend his furlough time attending classes. While waiting for his discharge to catch up with him, and it is due tomorrow, Lt. Harding is brushing up on his college work.

Lt. Harding saw action with the 12th Air Force in Corsica, Italy and France, as a pilot who has flown 66 missions in a B-25. He has the Distinguished Flying Cross, awarded for making a successful crash landing after being hit over the Brenner Pass, and the Air Medal with seven clusters.

With 114 points to back up his overseas experience, he hopes to take up where he left off when Uncle Sam pointed that finger and said, "We want you." He is majoring in accounting.

Frosh Petitions Due In Monday

Petitions for all freshman class offices must be turned in not later than noon Monday, according to Norman Hoffman, chairman of the election committee. The election will be held Monday, Aug. 6.

Petitions for president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and Council representative must have the signatures of at least 20 members of the freshman class. Candidates must not have more than 24 semester hours (they may have less or none at all) and must have a minimum grade index of 1.000.

All petitions should be given to Miss Betty Jean Schmuck, Council secretary, Hoffman, or they may be sent to the election committee, in care of The Skiff.

So far no offices have been petitioned for, says Hoffman.

Six New Members Added to Library Staff

Six new members have been added to the library staff. They are Mrs. John Cox, Misses Barbara Gardner, Jean Hancock, Vivian Johnson, Yvonne Smith and Pat Timbes.

Mrs. Cox will have charge of the periodicals.

Juniors Will Discuss Plans for Social Events

Plans for a vice versa dance and other school social events will be discussed at a meeting of the junior class at 12:15 p. m. Monday in the Amphitheater, according to Miss Nel Epperson, class president.

Summer's First Symphony Concert Is to Be Presented On Lawn 7:15 p. m. Monday

Three musical events have been scheduled by the School of Fine Arts for July.

The Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. T. Smith McCorkle will present its first concert of the summer term at 7:15 p. m. Monday on the lawn in front of Jarvis Hall.

Assisting the orchestra will be the Choral Club, directed by Prof. W. J. Marsh.

Both the orchestra and the chorus are augmented by Fort Worth high school students who are enrolled in the Summer Music Camp sponsored by the music department.

The program will include ballet music from the "Bartered Bride," by Smetana; "Jesu, Bond of Joy Abiding," by Bach; "Come Let Us Sing," by Prof. Marsh; "Dark Water," by Will James; fantasy on themes from "Aida," by Verdi; and "Symphony in F Major," by Dittersdorf.

Next Friday, the Symphonic Strings, directed by Brooks Morris, will present a program at 8 p. m. in the Auditorium.

The band concert, under the direction of Leon Breden, will be given at 7:15 p. m. Monday, July 20. It will be given on the lawn in front of Jarvis Hall.

Miriam Clark Wins Award

October Graduate First To Get Pillsbury Annual Home Economics Prize

Miss Miriam Clark, October, 1944, graduate of T. C. U., today was announced by Miss Bonne Enlow as first winner of an award to be given annually by the Pillsbury Mills, Inc., to the most outstanding student in the home economics department.

T. C. U. was chosen as one of a group of colleges and universities over the United States to receive a 12-volume library of "books a home economist would most desire for reference in her chosen profession," complete with a desk-type shelf to hold them.

Philip W. Pillsbury, president, established the annual award last year to honor the highest ranking senior in the home economics departments of a limited number of schools, as a feature of the company's 75th anniversary.

Miss Clark, who received a B. S. degree in home economics, is now in medical technology training in Houston. At T. C. U. she was secretary-treasurer for two years of both the Home Ec Club and W. S. A., and a member of Bryson, Leti and the "Y."

Evening College Classes Total 242 Enrollment

A total of 242 students are enrolled in 23 courses in the Evening College, Dean Cortell K. Holsapple announced today. The latest figures reveal a 75 per cent increase over the 137 enrolled last summer in night classes.

The new tabulation brings the total to 1010 students now enrolled in the day and Evening College combined.

New Storekeeper Comes To T. C. U. V-12 Staff

Edward J. Guise, storekeeper 2/c, has reported to the V-12 Unit from the Industrial Manager Office at New Orleans.

School Spirit Needs "Face Lifting"

"Go after the boys if you want a date."

That was the opinion of Raymond Mack when he and Miss Janet Kroll addressed the "Y" on student affairs Tuesday night. He further added that there was a lack of real school spirit because students do not take active part in campus affairs.

Mack suggested several changes such as more formal dances (with more publicity and planning), more mid-afternoon dances (come as you are), nights set aside for vice versa dates, a co-operative bookstore (which some club should take as a goal and sponsor), and a more popular type of assembly (boogie-woogie music included).

"It's the small things that make the school spirit," Mack added, "and let's make this semester a red letter semester and go over the top."

Miss Kroll reviewed T. C. U.'s social calendar for the year. She told how much fun students have had during Ranch Week and at the Dramatic Club productions as well as at dances. But she, too, said there should be more vice versa dances as well as more formal ones. She also said that there was a need for more co-operation on the part of the students, both V-12ers and civilians.

Ziegler's Art Exhibit Placed In Little Gallery

An art exhibit by Prof. S. P. Ziegler has been placed in the Little Gallery and will continue through July 31.

The show is representative of different styles of painting and subject matter. It includes still life, landscapes and portraits.

Dean Hall Will Speak Sunday in Corpus Christi

Dean Colby D. Hall will fill the pulpit of the First Christian Church in Corpus Christi on Sundays, July 22 and July 29. A former T. C. U. student, the Rev. Oliver Harrison, ex '35, is the minister.

Taking An— Editorial Outlook

What About Those Changes?

"There'll be some changes made!" That was the campaign slogan on which several members of the present Student Council were elected. The Skiff would like to give credit where credit is due. Those members tried to make changes—the "tried" meaning that so far they have failed.

This failure is not because the issues involved are not considered important by the Council or by the student body. Nor is it that the proposed changes in regard to election procedure, school spirit and social affairs are not good ones. It is because of their very importance that the measures must have adequate time for discussion and for constitutional and judicial interpretation.

There are also two factors that all would-be politicians of EACH side must learn—cooperation and compromise, not compromise that makes bad laws worse but compromise that makes good laws better. Problems cannot be solved by mud-slinging, but they can be solved by intelligent persons acting as such!

If It's Navy, It's Tops

Yes, sir. That's a sailor.

Bell bottom trousers, coats of Navy blue. Plus a happy-go-lucky smile, a daredevil gleam, the jauntness of contentment and the intent look of a man with a purpose. What better words could describe Uncle Sam's favorite nephew—a V-12 student?

The campus was first invaded by these men in July, 1943. Immediately, the languid, easy-going civilian T. C. U. changed into a seagoing, Navy-influenced campus. Traditional college slang was replaced by Navy lingo, and the girls had to get accustomed to being asked to "go mud up" instead of the usual request to go get a cup of coffee. And they loved it. Floors were replaced by "decks," and stairs were transformed into "ladders." You can always spot a Navy man—look for blue or white surrounded by admirers.

The Navy brought a new life, one of high intellectual interest. Navy men study and make good grades, inspiring the civilian students to do the same. Navy men take an active part in campus affairs, creating interest. In other words, the Navy took over.

Yes, sir. That's a sailor.

Campus Capers

It's high time someone paid a few compliments to the new "self-management" system at Goode Hall. Since the boys "took over" with the help of Coach Abe Martin, the hall has been one of the best run on the campus. In fact, it has been so long since Goode has been flooded that the flower beds in front of it are having to be watered by the gardener for a change.

Newest T. C. U. addition to the "third finger, left hand" brigade is Jo Chumley. Her O. A. O. (one and only) is Sgt. Jimmy Dale of Warren, O. He's stationed at Shepard Field.

That smoke one sees around the campus is just the favorite couple of the "Fascinatin' Rythm" camp show unit, Judy Strong and Eugene

Livesay. Quote the cast, "They've got it bad—and that's good."

And picture show goers are being pleasantly surprised these days, what with all the chocolate candy back in the candy cases — even Hersheys, sometimes.

Warm weather has brought out an epidemic of sunbathers at Foster, and the girls are already appearing with Texas tans and peeling noses. Some coeds are experimenting with their own concoctions of olive oil, vinegar, etc., guaranteed to turn winter white to any desired shade. But the weather will have to settle down before the sun-tanning process is really successful.

For swing fans, have a listen to Jack Gordon's radio platter-chatter program at 8:30 p. m. every Thursday. It's on KFJZ. And for music majors with an ear for classics, Rise Stevens has a program at 8:30 o'clock Monday evenings, WBAP.

LETTER....

EDITOR, THE SKIFF
The senior class has four representatives on the Student Council. Bill Wills, one of these four, submitted such an apparently ill-supported proposal to that Council Tuesday that not one of the other representatives stood with him. (See Council minutes of July 17, 1945, for details.)

Here's an explanation. Will's suggested "by-laws" were generally approved as to content, but in spite of his being one of three judicial committee members, and in spite of his six weeks preparation, his measure was not entirely complete.

After he refused to see his measure tabled, he wasted valuable Council time by not agreeing to submit it to appropriate committees before the vote. The Council voted the measure down. If Wills does not want to resubmit the measure, corrected and complete, we will!

'We Give Up' Is Nazi Song For Lt. Henry

Details of the escape of Lt. Robert G. Henry, B-24 pilot, who was reported missing in December, and safe in May, after being forced down behind enemy lines in Northern Italy, were revealed when Lt. Henry was a campus visitor last week. He is a former ground instructor and key man of the C. P. T. aviation program at T. C. U. in the early stages of the war.

Lt. Henry parachuted down in the Tyrolean Alps when his plane was shot down. He and one other man, he says, escaped being taken prisoner by hiding in Italian homes. Having some knowledge of Italian, he successfully disguised himself as a native.

He was in Italy the last days before V-E Day and at one time received a large number of Germans in unconditional surrender as the only available American officer. Since he under-ranked the German in charge, final negotiations were held up for an American of equal rank.

H. Griffin Fuller, V-12 ex '45, entered the University of Oklahoma Medical School June 29 to complete his premed training.

Ens. Earl M. Pool, ex '44, recently received his commission from Fort Schuyler, N. Y., and has been ordered to report to Jacksonville, Fla., for further training.

Ens. Dick Pool, ex '44, has received his commission from Fort Schuyler, N. Y., and is now stationed at Hollywood Beach, Fla., attending deck school there.

Stanley Sontag, V-12 ex '45, reported to the University of Minnesota July 2, to complete his training in V-12 work.

Ross Vanderkolk, A. B. '41, is an aviation machinist's mate with the Army Air Forces at Jacksonville, Fla.

Lt. (j.g.) Earl Dyess, A. B. '42, is an LSO instructor at Alameda and Vernalis, Calif.

Pfc. Dunny Simms, A. B. '43, is with the 243rd Hospital Unit on Luzon.

S 2/c Erwin Affoiter, V-12 ex '43, is at Shoemaker Naval Base, Calif., awaiting overseas duty. He was a recent campus visitor.

Norman Kidd, Pete Williams and Ken Jones, V-12 exes '45, are in pre-flight boot training at the Dallas Naval Air Station.

Cpl. Marvin Cobb, ex '42, is a chaplain's assistant at Fort Riley, Kans.

Y 3/c Ronald Cole, ex '44, is with the Navy somewhere in the South Pacific.

Bill Frey, V-12 ex '45, is at the University of Texas in the NROTC unit there.

Lt. Charles B. Quick III, ex '42, has returned to the United States for reassignment. He has figured in aerial attacks over Tokio, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Lt. Cy Leland, A. B. '33, is on Okinawa serving as an intelligence officer in headquarters of the 82nd Signal Corps Battalion.

Pfc. Odell Harrison, ex '41, is in the European Army of Occupation. He has a Presidential Unit Citation and the Purple Heart.

A/C Arvil Fralin, V-12 ex '44, is on leave after completing Iowa Navy Pre-Flight School. He will return to Iowa City for reassignment to a primary flight training school.

PICKED UP PASSING BY

Don't Shoot!
What's This, Liss?
Oh, Yeah? !!

There aren't many freshmen in a haze around the campus these days, but for those wondering where to take the new girl friend on summer evenings, maybe a few tips are in order. For shows downtown, it's 7th Street and Show Row, with the Hollywood and Worth for first-run movies and the Palace and the Majestic (on Commerce St.) for "B" pictures and second-run showings. Nearest neighborhood theater is the Parkway on 8th Avenue. Bowling alleys get their share of T. C. U. students, too. Most popular one is on University Drive. Just keep going north from school through the park to 7th Street. Along that same line is the miniature golf course and driving range as well as the bicycle academy, the riding stables and the zoo. By the way, there's always the Drug and the Library for those on-the-campus dates.

Don't shoot! That's the cry that was raised this week as Jimmy Paschal, photographer for the 1946 Horned Frog, started his rounds of snapping candid photos of campus eds and coeds. According to Jimmy, there has been an old superstition that the official annual camera has been (and always would be) broken. Investigation by a local photography shop showed that the superstition is no more—so beware, camera fiends on the loose!

The sprained ankle that Alice Loudon is sporting (?) around school these days has quite a history behind it, since Sunday anyway. Seems she jumped in the basement window of the First Christian Church during a young people's meeting there and misjudged the distance from window sill to floor. Who says that Mark

Twain had the only "celebrated jumping frog?"

This is telling tales out of class, but the other day after Miss Mabel Major had carefully explained about the relative pronouns to her "English Grammar" class, she asked if there were any questions. "Yeah," came a deep voice. When Miss Major asked what the question was, there was no answer. Finally she realized that the "Yeah" wasn't from her class at all but from a student going down the hall. No one in her English class would say "Yeah" anyway. Oh, yeah?

"I want to lead a cat's life" the plea of T. C. U.'s Froggies as their Frogettes are beginning to adopt stray kittens and spend their time discussing cat food instead of staring dreamy-eyed at their escorts. Fran Clapp started it when she adopted a baby rabbit, and then switched to a kitten when the rabbit escaped to the outside world. Then "Miss Lou" adopted a cat and decided that the Latest participant in the Kat-nappers Club is Dorothy Nies, who found a cat on the campus and thought her dog needed a change. So next they'll be calling the kitten the "Cozy Campus for Cats."

Like some nice juicy grasshoppers for lunch today? After the Indians used to eat them, and didn't even they have enough sense to sell Manhattan for $24 before the depression? According to Dr. W. J. Hammond, the way to prepare grasshopper-de-luxe is to grind them up, add flour and fry. By the way, he says he's tried so don't hold The Skiff responsible for any post-grasshopper stomach aches.

Watch out for the up-and-coming Baylor Bears in football and especially basketball next year! Early season appearances carry any weight, then the Bears will really make a great come-back into the Southwest Conference athletic picture.

This scribe, during a South Texas trip earlier this week, watched the Baylor gridiron and hardwood clubs perform and the Waco Baptist school is a cinch to rise out of the cellar in basketball and make a triumphant return to conference football.

While the other conference schools were conducting their search for talent through the usual grapevine procedure, Coaches Ralph Wolf and Bill Henderson really "beat the bushes" to dig up every available bit of athletic talent.

And here's what happened. Close to 100 boys are out for football, including many husky, seasoned players and the hardwood sport is blessed with three all-stars. Jack Robinson of Paschal, Norman Phillips of Milby and Sammy Pearce of Vernon are the all-state boys, and rounding out the first string are Ralph Pulley and Bill Johnson, both of Paschal.

The Panthers annexed the state title this year and Milby placed third, winning 33 or 34 games during the 1944-45 season.

Robinson was voted the "best boy ever to appear in state tournament competition" and holds 4 high school letters, 3 all-district awards and 2 District 7-AA individual scoring records.

Height, however, will again play havoc with Baylor as well as with T. C. U. next winter. Phillips, the tallest boy by far on the team, scales 6 feet, 4 inches. On the average, the team will be the youngest in conference history. Johnson and Phillips are 16, Pulley is 17 and Robinson and Pearce are 18.

An abundance of football wealth has been thrown upon the Bear coaching staff. Working out in summer informal drills, the same s the Frogs are now undergoing, heated battle exists in every position and in the backfield some positions are six to eight men deep.

Not many of the boys are "name" players, but from the looks of things they handle themselves well on the field. And not too many teams will outweigh them, either. A huge body of the players are discharged servicemen who have seen foreign service.

Meanwhile, as reports come in from the other conference schools, the pigskin pickers are starting their early season selections. We'll probably get a huge horse laugh from The Daily Texan staff after reading this, but here goes:

T. C. U., S. M. U., Baylor, Arkansas, Texas, Rice and Texas A. & M. Stick this in your hat band and when next Christmas rolls around, you can see how really "off" this is.

Lt. Bruce Alford, ex '42, former Frog football captain and all-conference and all-American end, is returned from overseas and is now stationed in Fort Worth. A 17 pilot, he has flown 35 combat missions.

Summer Grid Practice To Close for Christians Tomorrow at Stadium

Gridsters to Rest Till Aug. 20 As Meyer Signals Completion Of Successful Training Period

Summer informal football drills end for the T. C. U. Horned Frogs tomorrow afternoon, and Coach Dutch Meyer will call a halt to all pigskin festivities until regular fall practice opens Aug. 20.

After tomorrow's practice, the Dutchman will play a prominent role in the Texas High School Coaches' Association Football Clinic to be held in Abilene next month.

The two-hour sessions have continued according to plans established earlier for brief orientations, punting and passing drills and dummy scrimmages.

Bill Netka, 180-pound back, was inducted into the Marine Corps last Friday and is now stationed at Parris Island, N. C. Netka was one of the fastest boys on the squad and established himself as a top performer in spring training.

Another letterman, J. C. Oneal, has withdrawn from school this term to work but will report along with the others in September.

Approximately 50 boys have been attending the brisk work-outs and Coaches Meyer, Abe Martin and Hub McQuillan have unearthed several promising newcomers.

Sophomore Class Plans Watermelon Party

Plans for a watermelon party on Wednesday, Aug. 8, were discussed at a recent meeting of the sophomore class, according to President Gene St. John. The class also will sponsor the sale of the freshman caps and a "Back-to-School" dance sometime in September.

V-12 Men Score High In Physical Fitness Test

The basic group of the V-12 Unit scored 49.9 in a recent physical fitness test. This was five points above the former basic group scoring. This group is made up of men from the fleet and shore stations.

Thomas B. Blackwell, A. B. '28, has arrived in India to serve the armed forces as an American Red Cross assistant field director.

1946 Schedule Set for Cagers

Quint to Play 5 Games At Home, 7 on Road—Frogs to Go East Again

T. C. U.'s 1946 basketball schedule will play 5 games at home and 7 away according to the proposed Southwest Conference schedule just received here by Coach Hub McQuillan. However, McQuillan is seeking one change before the schedule is adopted.

Coach Hub desires to switch the S. M. U. series, meeting the Mustangs in Dallas first and then in Fort Worth. Last year the Frogs played the Ponies in Fort Worth first and won, but lost the return match in Dallas.

Meanwhile, McQuillan is planning another trip East during the latter part of December playing several of the same teams the Frogs faced last year.

Following is the complete schedule as proposed:

- Jan. 4—T. C. U. at Rice.
- Jan. 5—T. C. U. at Texas A. & M.
- Jan. 12—Rice at T. C. U.

Mullins' Toe Back—

As Frogs Prepare for Fall 'Horrible' Harry Rides Again

Down with "Horrible" Harry! That was on the lips of every District 7-AA gridster during the 1943 season—the season that Harry Mullins was tearing up the turf and the opposition's line with his dynamo running abilities.

Mullins, a 4-year letterman while at Technical High School, usually played end but for the 1943 season he was placed in the fullback slot and played the wing post only on defense. By the end of the season he was the best offensive fullback and best defensive end in the city.

But it wasn't until Mullins enrolled at T. C. U. in March, 1944, that the former Bulldog ace really hit the nation's headlines. But it was to be in a different role.

For the 6-foot, 185-pound Mullins practically won the conference title for the Frogs with his educated toe!

The first scene takes us to the Frog Stadium one gloomy, rainy Saturday afternoon in November. T. C. U., rated only as an also-ran club, was playing the favored Texas Longhorns.

Both teams scored touchdowns that afternoon and the only difference in the final score was Mullins' toe. He aimed a perfect conversion effort between the goalposts that spelled a 7-to-6 victory for the underdog "cinderella kids."

But the football world was yet to hear the end of Mullins' feats. The following Saturday afternoon the scene changed to Rice Stadium but the weather stayed the same—cold, misty and muddy.

This time it happened in the opening minutes of the game. Stymied on the Owls' 8-yard line, Coach Dutch Heyer rushed in Mullins to attempt a field goal. Without calling time-out to wipe off the pigskin, Mullins wracked up 3 vital points which eventually spelled victory—T. C. U. 9, Rice 6—and the conference championship.

The Frogs are now engaged in another summer training period and from appearance the conference still hasn't heard the last of "Horrible Harry." Shifted to the right halfback post, Mullins has already caught the eye of both coaches and players with his aggressive running.

Nineteen years old, Mullins was classified 4-F by his draft board but finally persuaded the Maritime Service to permit him in the Merchant Marine. But Harry's severe head concussion couldn't stand the strain of the rugged Merchant Marine life.

Fourteen days later he was back at T. C. U., to the enjoyment of the Frog coaches but dismay of the opposition.

Horrible Harry rides again!

T. C. U. Fishermen Vary From Prof To Fem Anglers

It takes fish tales to make summer complete—fish meaning the ones that got away, not freshmen.

Among the more ardent faculty fishermen are Prof. B. A. Crouch and Dr. Ellis M. Sowell. Just get them together and the talk turns to "How about going fishing this week-end?" with added conversational hints as to the best worms for catching catfish.

Jim Davis is one of the V-12ers who sees the water from the other end of a rod and reel as well as from the "deck" of the Casino. That slightly pink complexion he's sporting is no blush, gals—it's sunburn from a recent fishing trip.

Even girls go in for the sport, but Marylou Miller confesses that, "I've never caught one—yet!"

V-12er Ernie Barratt (alias "Pennsylvania") hasn't been in Texas long enough to catch on to the fishing customs in these parts, partner. He thinks catfish are to be sniffed at politely—but not eaten. Once a Yankee, never a catfish-eater, no doubt!

46 'Sea-Duty' Veterans Anchor at USS Clark

Of the 109 new men in the Navy V-12 program this trimester, 46 of them have seen "salt water" duty. But space limitations have a way of cutting down even the most seaworthy stories, so the number of men "in print" is limited. However, these are all typical of the new (and old) sailors on the good ship USS Clark.

KENNETH BUSSY, who has been in the Navy for three years and is a Yankee at heart even though he is from Baltimore, Md., has seen duty aboard the carriers Bunker Hill and the Hornet, as well as with Task Force 58. He holds the Air Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Philippine Liberation bar and the Asiatic-Pacific bar with three battle stars.

As a boatswain's mate 2/c on the destroyer The Sullivans in the South Pacific, RAYMOND D. BURKE, JR., was with the task force that made the first raid on Tokio. To get a small idea of what he did during his two years in the Navy, one has only to know that he holds the American Theater bar, the Philippine Liberation bar and the Asiatic-Pacific bar with nine battle stars.

Five-and-a-half years in the Navy is only part of the record of GERALD E. WOOD. He served aboard the aircraft carriers Saratoga, the Wasp and the old Yorktown. Having seen duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific, he has (among others) the Asiatic-Pacific bar with two battle stars for major engagements at Guadalcanal.

JOHN S. CALDWELL, with the super-Southern accent from Asheville, N. C., was a gunner's mate 2/c on a destroyer in the Aleutians and on an aircraft carrier in the Central Pacific. His Asiatic-Pacific bar has three campaign stars for the battles of Wake Island, the invasion of the Gilbert Islands and a raid on the Marshall Islands.

Two years of combat in the Pacific was part of LESTER W. MESSER's pre-T. C. U. record. He was with an LST unit and was in the Gilbert Islands and Guam.

E. H. RHORER is one V-12er who came late to class and got by with it, because he was in the Philippines when "school" started. His Pacific service includes participation in three invasions.

Spending most of his five years of Navy duty in the European theater, ROLAND N. STINE participated in the invasion of France, and his theater ribbon has four battle stars.

JOSEPH C. RYAN, JR., should be on quite friendly terms with King Neptune with his 30 months of sea duty. He has two battle stars, a good conduct ribbon and the American Defense, European Theater and American Theater bars.

Wearing the American theater and Asiatic-Pacific bars, MARK A. ENDACOTT spent 11 of his 35 months in the Navy aboard the USS Wickes as a fire control man, 2/c.

BERT J. BATTS has done 18 months convoy duty in the Atlantic, and by "convoy" he doesn't mean "date-bait."

An aviation metalsmith was the official title of MAX L. HAGAN when he shipped to the Panama Canal Zone.

KENNETH GEORGE HAYNES spent 18 months of his three years in the Navy in overseas service, and he has credit for two major engagements in the American and Pacific war theaters.

Prior to entrance in the V-12 program, BRYANT E. JUSTICE served 14 months with the U. S. N. A. F. on Umnak Island in the Aleutians.

THOMAS O. TOLLETT took part in the invasion of Sicily, after which he went to India and Cairo, from where he was flown to the United States and Texas for the V-12 Unit.

Twenty-four months of sea duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific is the record of PAUL B. WILLIAMSON. Is that what they call an "old salt?"

CHARLES E. MCGUCKIN is a veteran of four years' Naval service, having entered six months before Pearl Harbor. Assigned to the USS Tennessee, he took part in six engagements: Pearl Harbor, Kiska, Tarawa, Kwajalein, Eniwetok and Kawieng. Incidentally, he's a pianist and tap dancer, and has the Good Conduct bar.

"That violinist" in "Fascinatin' Rhythm" last week was BILL DONNELLAN, who is the first Navy V-12er with a Canadian background to enter the T. C. U. Unit. He was a trainee with the R. C. A. F. for 16 months before coming to the United States in 1942. Born in Toronto, Canada, he has been in the Navy about six months.

A Fort Worth "old-timer" is V-12er CHARLIE FLOYD, who took part in the invasion of Eniwetok and Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands as well as in the Saipan invasion.

Dean Shelburne Rests After Recent Illness

Miss Elizabeth Shelburne, dean of women, is recuperating from a recent operation at the home of her brother in Sherman.

Bryan Becker 'Ex '45, Enters Naval Academy

Bryan Becker, ex '45, has entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He is a brother of Ellen Becker, student in the long session, and of Walter F. Becker, A. B. '39, who now is in the Navy Medical Corps. Their home is Kaufman.

Lt. Col. William Perry Hardegree, A. B. '26, has been assigned to Camp Claiborne, La., as new post chaplain. He has done 34 months of overseas duty, from Australia to Burma, and holds the Bronze Star for services at Leyte.

Promotion of Malven K. Stevenson, B. S. in Commerce '41, from major to lieutenant colonel has been announced at Eighth Air Force headquarters where he serves as a statistical officer.

Lt. James Woodleigh Short, U. S. N., ex '39, has received the Legion of Merit for meritorious conduct during the landing at Anzio, Italy, in January of 1944. He was acting as gunnery officer aboard the destroyer with which he is now serving in the Atlantic Fleet.

'Hand Me Down My Walking Cane'— Dr. Smith, With 100 Canes, Is Still Adding to Collection

It's not the walking cane I'm interested in, but the wood it's made from, says Dr. Raymond A. Smith. Dr. Smith, who has almost 100 canes in his collection doesn't care much about what the cane looks like, but he gets awfully excited, if it happens to be made of a rare kind of wood.

The trees which are most commonly seen in nature are the hardest to find suitable wood to have sticks made from, he says. That's why he is particularly proud of the canes he has made from such woods as walnut, bois d'arc, oak (he's still looking for some live oak wood), hickory and pecan wood. His walnut cane, incidentally, is the oldest one he has. It came from North Carolina in 1905. That is the stick that started his collection. He has two bois d'arc canes which were made from fence posts.

Dr. Smith has nearly all his canes made, and most of his wood is obtained from lumber yards. Two cane makers have tried to outdo each other in making the objects. One of the men made a twisted stick of Texas gum and not to be bested, the other man made a twisted cane with three prongs and an alabaster head. He also made a stick with 26 different kinds of wood inlaid in it. Another cane in the collection is divided into four equal sections, one part each of holly, vermilion, bois d'arc and walnut, all running lengthwise.

Among other canes that Dr. Smith points to with pride are ones of native mountain fir from New Mexico, bamboo with an ivory bull dog head, a bamboo inlaid with ivory Chinese figures, Hawaiian palm tree wood, white holly, sycamore, California red wood, wild cherry, satin wood from India, curly maple, plain maple, birdseye maple, red curly maple, narra wood from India, lemon wood, Tennessee red cedar, mesquite and primavera from Guatemala.

He has two coal black sticks made of African ebony. He also has one made of Texas ebony. A branch from a Texas ebony tree was sent to Dr. Smith and he had to put it up in his garage and let it dry for two years, so it wouldn't crack, then he had it made into a cane. The greater part of the sticks in the collection are straight with varying kinds of ball tops.

A pinkish red stick which came from South America is made of vermilion. Another of his foreign woods is the Brazilian rose wood and also the sapeli wood from the Dutch East Indies. His cocobola cane, marked distinctly by the grain, comes from Central America. Avano wood, from which he has a carved, painted cane, given to him in Matamoros, is the kind of wood from which guitars are made.

One cane which, although he doesn't say so, he is quite proud of, is the one made for him by his seven-year-old grandson and given to him for Christmas. The little boy carved it by hand and it is made of poinsettia wood.

The lightest stick in the group is the one made from balsam wood, from which airplanes are often made. Another extreme in the collection is the smallest one which is a Mexican cane about 18 inches long with a curved handle. It was brought to Dr. Smith by W. P. Baker, English teacher, now on leave of absence.

Another cane with a crooked handle is his hickory cow puncher's cane that he bought at the Fat Stock Show.

Looking at the collection of the canes, all stuck in a rack, a casual observer might think they were just a bunch of baseball bats, because that's the way the ends of most of them are made. The only one that is really like a bat is made of ash, the wood from which real bats are made.

A cane which he keeps well out of the reach of his three grandsons is one made of solid glass. It is the only one in his collection that does not have any wood on it. The glass stick is a regular size cane and when it is held up to the light, there is an amber streak running through it, with a clear edge.

Dr. Smith is always looking for some kind of wood that he does not have in his collection. With the help of friends and students, he is always adding something new. But right now he is on the lookout for different kinds of oak, pine and hickory. "I only have a few types of each and in some cases, such as the oak, there are 300 different kinds," he says.

Presenting DON SELLSTROM

President of "Y" Donald Sellstrom has big plans afoot for student "super-mixer" to be on the tennis courts Tuesday evening, Aug. 2.

He's probably better known as "Pappy" since his recent victory election as vice-president of sophomore class. He and his buddies toured the campus with hill-billy band and plates of biscuits as a campaign stunt, under banner "Vote for Pappy O'Strom."

Don's that V-12er from A with blond hair and blue eyes, wants to be a journalist. (P) Besides his class activities, his "Y" presidency, Don finds time to belong to the Poetry Club, S. Tau and to be chairman of future-events committee of the student council. He's also editing the Navy V-12 anthology, "Compass."

Presenting a typical sailor a busy "Y" president.

Lt. (j.g.) William T. Padon '42, left July 13 for Oakland, Calif., for reassignment, after spending a 30-day leave in Fort Worth. A Navy Mariner pilot returned to the States in after patrol duty in the Pacific.

But space limitations have a way of cutting down even the most seaworthy stories, so the number of men "in print" is limited. However, these are all typical of the new (and old) sailors on the good ship USS Clark.

KENNETH BUSSY, who has been in the Navy for three years and is a Yankee at heart even though he is from Baltimore, Md., has seen duty aboard the carriers Bunker Hill and the Hornet, as well as with Task Force 58. He holds the Air Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Philippine Liberation bar and the Asiatic-Pacific bar with three battle stars.

As a boatswain's mate 2/c on the destroyer The Sullivans in the South Pacific, RAYMOND D. BURKE, JR., was with the task force that made the first raid on Tokio. To get a small idea of what he did during his two years in the Navy, one has only to know that he holds the American Theater bar, the Philippine Liberation bar and the Asiatic-Pacific bar with nine battle stars.

Five-and-a-half years in the Navy is only part of the record of GERALD E. WOOD. He served aboard the aircraft carriers Saratoga, the Wasp and the old Yorktown. Having seen duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific, he has (among others) the Asiatic-Pacific bar with two battle stars for major engagements at Guadalcanal.

JOHN S. CALDWELL, with the super-Southern accent from Asheville, N. C., was a gunner's mate 2/c on a destroyer in the Aleutians and on an aircraft carrier in the Central Pacific. His Asiatic-Pacific bar has three campaign stars for the battles of Wake Island, the invasion of the Gilbert Islands and a raid on the Marshall Islands.

Two years of combat in the Pacific was part of LESTER W. MESSER'S pre-T. C. U. record. He was with an LST unit and was in the Gilbert Islands and Guam.

E. H. RHORER is one V-12er who came late to class and got by with it, because he was in the Philippines when "school" started. His Pacific service includes participation in three invasions.

Spending most of his five years of Navy duty in the European theater, ROLAND N. STINE participated in the invasion of France, and his theater ribbon has four battle stars.

JOSEPH C. RYAN, JR., should be on quite friendly terms with King Neptune with his 30 months of sea duty. He has two battle stars, a good conduct ribbon and the American Defense, European Theater and American Theater bars.

Wearing the American theater and Asiatic-Pacific bars, MARK A. ENDACOTT spent 11 of his 35 months in the Navy aboard the USS Wickes as a fire control man, 2/c.

BERT J. BATTS has done 18 months convoy duty in the Atlantic, and by "convoy" he doesn't mean "date-bait."

An aviation metalsmith was the official title of MAX L. HAGAN when he shipped to the Panama Canal Zone.

KENNETH GEORGE HAYNES spent 18 months of his three years in the Navy in overseas service, and he has credit for two major engagements in the American and Pacific war theaters.

Prior to entrance in the V-12 program, BRYANT E. JUSTICE served 14 months with the U. S. N. A. F. on Umnak Island in the Aleutians.

THOMAS O. TOLLETT took part in the invasion of Sicily, after which he went to India and Cairo, from where he was flown to the United States and Texas for the V-12 Unit.

Twenty-four months of sea duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific is the record of PAUL B. WILLIAMSON. Is that what they call an "old salt?"

CHARLES E. MCGUCKIN is a veteran of four years' Naval service, having entered six months before Pearl Harbor. Assigned to the USS Tennessee, he took part in six engagements: Pearl Harbor, Kiska, Tarawa, Kwajalein, Eniwetok and Kawieng. Incidentally, he's a pianist and tap dancer, and has the Good Conduct bar.

"That violinist" in "Fascinatin' Rhythm" last week was BILL DONNELLAN, who is the first Navy V-12er with a Canadian background to enter the T. C. U. Unit. He was a trainee with the R. C. A. F. for 16 months before coming to the United States in 1942. Born in Toronto, Canada, he has been in the Navy about six months.

A Fort Worth "old-timer" is V-12er CHARLIE FLOYD, who took part in the invasion of Eniwetok and Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands as well as in the Saipan invasion.

Bryan Becker 'Ex '45, Enters Naval Academy

Bryan Becker, ex '45, has entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He is a brother of Ellen Becker, student in the long session, and of Walter F. Becker, A. B. '39, who now is in the Navy Medical Corps. Their home is Kaufman.

Lt. Col. William Perry Hardegree, A. B. '26, has been assigned to Camp Claiborne, La., as new post chaplain. He has done 34 months of overseas duty, from Australia to Burma, and holds the Bronze Star for services at Leyte.

Promotion of Malven K. Stevenson, B. S. in Commerce '41, from major to lieutenant colonel has been announced at Eighth Air Force headquarters where he serves as a statistical officer.

Lt. James Woodleigh Short, U. S. N., ex '39, has received the Legion of Merit for meritorious conduct during the landing at Anzio, Italy, in January of 1944. He was acting as gunnery officer aboard the destroyer with which he is now serving in the Atlantic Fleet.

'Hand Me Down My Walking Cane'— Dr. Smith, With 100 Canes, Is Still Adding to Collection

It's not the walking cane I'm interested in, but the wood it's made from, says Dr. Raymond A. Smith. Dr. Smith, who has almost 100 canes in his collection doesn't care much about what the cane looks like, but he gets awfully excited, if it happens to be made of a rare kind of wood.

The trees which are most commonly seen in nature are the hardest to find suitable wood to have sticks made from, he says. That's why he is particularly proud of the canes he has made from such woods as walnut, bois d'arc, oak (he's still looking for some live oak wood), hickory and pecan wood. His walnut cane, incidentally, is the oldest one he has. It came from North Carolina in 1905. That is the stick that started his collection. He has two bois d'arc canes which were made from fence posts.

Dr. Smith has nearly all his canes made, and most of his wood is obtained from lumber yards. Two cane makers have tried to outdo each other in making the objects. One of the men made a twisted stick of Texas gum and not to be bested, the other man made a twisted cane with three prongs and an alabaster head. He also made a stick with 26 different kinds of wood inlaid in it. Another cane in the collection is divided into four equal sections, one part each of holly, vermillion, bois d'arc and walnut, all running lengthwise.

Among other canes that Dr. Smith points to with pride are ones of native mountain fir from New Mexico, bamboo with an ivory bull dog head, a bamboo inlaid with ivory Chinese figures, Hawaiian palm tree wood, white holly, sycamore, California red wood, wild cherry, satin wood from India, curly maple, plain maple, birdseye maple, red curly maple, narra wood from India, lemon wood, Tennessee red cedar, mesquite and primavera from Guatemala.

He has two coal black sticks made of African ebony. He also has one made of Texas ebony. A branch from a Texas ebony tree was sent to Dr. Smith and he had to put it up in his garage and let it dry for two years, so it wouldn't crack, then he had it made into a cane. The greater part of the sticks in the collection are straight with varying kinds of ball tops.

A pinkish red stick which came from South America is made of vermillion. Another of his foreign woods is the Brazilian rose wood and also the sapeli wood from the Dutch East Indies. His cocobola cane, marked distinctly by the grain, comes from Central America. Avano wood, from which he has a carved, painted cane, given to him in Matamoros, is the kind of wood from which guitars are made.

One cane which, although he doesn't say so, he is quite proud of, is the one made for him by his seven-year-old grandson and given to him for Christmas. The little boy carved it by hand and it is made of poinsettia wood.

The lightest stick in the group is the one made from balsam wood, from which airplanes are often made. Another extreme in the collection is the smallest one which is a Mexican cane about 18 inches long with a curved handle. It was brought to Dr. Smith by W. P. Baker, English teacher, now on leave of absence.

Another cane with a crooked handle is his hickory cow puncher's cane that he bought at the Fat Stock Show.

Looking at the collection of the canes, all stuck in a rack, a casual observer might think they were just a bunch of baseball bats, because that's the way the ends of most of them are made. The only one that is really like a bat is made of ash, the wood from which real bats are made.

A cane which he keeps well out of the reach of his three grandsons is one made of solid glass. It is the only one in his collection that does not have any wood on it. The glass stick is a regular size cane and when it is held up to the light, there is an amber streak running through it, with a clear edge.

Dr. Smith is always looking for some kind of wood that he does not have in his collection. With the help of friends and students, he is always adding something new. But right now he is on the lookout for different kinds of oak, pine and hickory. "I only have a few types of each and in some cases, such as the oak, there are 300 different kinds," he says.

Presenting DON SELSTROM

President of "Y" Donald Selstrom has big plans afoot for student "super-mixer" to be on the tennis courts Tuesday evening, Aug. 2.

He's probably better known "Pappy" since his recent victory election as vice-president of a sophomore class. He and his buddies toured the campus with hill-billy band and plates of biscuits as a campaign stunt, under banner "Vote for Pappy O'Selstrom."

Don's that V-12er from Austin with blond hair and blue eyes, wants to be a journalist. (Ph)

Besides his class activities, his "Y" presidency, Don finds time to belong to the Poetry Club, Sigma Tau and to be chairman of future-events committee of the student Council. He's also editor of the Navy V-12 anthology, "Compass."

Presenting a typical sailor a busy "Y" president.

Lt. (j.g.) William T. Padon, '42, left July 13 for Oakland, Calif., for reassignment, after spending a 30-day leave in Fort Worth. A Navy Mariner pilot returned to the States in August after patrol duty in the Caribbean.
