

November 7, 1941.

Mr. E. H. Sellards, Director,
Texas Memorial Museum,
Austin, Texas.

Dear Mr. Sellards:

Your letter received making inquiry as to whether it would be possible for Mr. Carter to be in Austin Sunday, November 16 to formally present the recent portrait of Honorable John Nance Garner to the Texas Memorial Museum.

Mr. Carter is on the Pacific Coast and will go to New York before returning home. It is doubtful that he will be here in time to go to Austin on the 16th. Under the circumstances, I shall call the matter to his attention promptly upon his return home and Mr. Carter will doubtless communicate with you direct regarding his further plans.

Yours very truly,

Secretary to Mr. Carter.
