HORNED FROGS DEFEAT OKLAHOMA AGGIES 22-14

OVER TWO HUNDRED PLEDGED TO LITERARY SOCIETIES WEDNESDAY

The largest pledge total for one day in historical records of Texas Christian University was reported by the Add-Ran-Clark and Shirley-Walton literary societies Wednesday night when over two hundred and thirty had applied for membership, 98 of whom pledged Walton, 72 Shirley, 35 Add-Ran, and 27 Clark. Town students took an interest not shown in previous years.

The Shirley-Walton, a four page newspaper, psychologically primed and distributed in chapel Tuesday morning, caused the most widespread discussion of any one development and probably netted the societies it represented thirty or more pledges. The Clarks are society sisters to the Add-Rans, and the Waltons are sisters to the Shirleys. Following is a complete list of Wednesday pledges among the girls. Lack of space compels us to wait until next week to publish the Add-Ran and Shirley pledges.

List follows:
Aileen Agee, Walton; Elsie Allen, Walton; Boots Baile, Clark; Bernice Baker, Walton; Elizabeth Baldwin, Clark; Myrtle Barclay, Walton; Martha Barnum, Clark; Sarah Binney, Walton; Lois Blair, Walton; Sweetie L. Bugar, Walton; Helen Booth, Walton; Elizabeth Bowman, Walton; Margaret Bowman, Walton; Camilla Boykin, Walton; Mary Louise Buchanan, Walton; Irene Buckner, Walton; Christine Carter, Walton; Louise Cawthon, Walton; Madelle Cops, Walton; Ruth Carbit, Clark; Ermine Cummings, Clark; Eina Darrow, Walton; Gertrude Davis, Walton; Hazel Davis, Walton; Jo Davis, Clark; Wilma Dean, Walton; Evelyn Dennis, Walton; Dorothy Dumble, Clark; Fanny Fallen, Walton; Inez Feenester, Walton; Virginia Felix, Walton; Rosaline Feteagar, Walton; Rena Forshall, Walton; Mayme Garner, Walton; Juanita Glennon, Walton; Irene Griffin, Walton; Marion Agnes Goodman, Walton; Louise Gunn, Walton; Gladys Hanger, Clark; Mrs. H. Hart, Walton; Lillian Hargard, Walton; Lillian Henry, Walton; Elizabeth Henderson, Clark; Blanche Herman, Walton; Mary Hittson, Walton; Fannie Howell, Walton; Evelyn Howells, Walton; Madalaine Hunt; Lille Jalle, Walton; Salene James, Walton; Wauette Johnson, Walton; Esma Jones, Walton; Mary Keith, Walton; Anna Lou Kenshalo, Walton; Norene Kilma, Walton; Elva Kirkin, Walton; Dorothy LeMond, Clark; Wilma Lindley, Walton; Lewis Manly, Walton; Inez Marshall, Walton; Edith McWhirter, Walton; Eula McWhirter, Walton; Aileen McMahon, Walton; Aline Meek, Walton; Pearl Meggs, Walton; Mabel Mills, Clark; Gladys Moore, Clark; Lela Moore, Walton; Lucile Moore, Clark; Mabel Morris, Walton; Reva Morris, Walton; Billie Morrison, Walton; Margaret Murrell, Clark; Annie Pearl Neal, Walton; Irma Jewell Newcomb, Walton; Caroline Pannill, Walton; Louise Pannill, Walton; Martha Anne Pannill, Walton; Tommie L. Pannill, Walton; Mary Parker, Clark; Eula Burton Phares, Clark; Doris Pressley, Clark; Mary Helen Redmond, Walton; Carol Jim Roberts, Clark; Della Bettye Roberts, Walton; Elizabeth Rock, Walton; Kathryn Ross, Clark; Johnnie Rowan, Walton; Mary Belle Sains, Clark; Ruth Seymour, Walton; Mrs. R. E. Shepperd, Walton; Eugenia Shepperd, Walton; Laura Sheridan, Walton; Jimmie Simpson, Walton; Punkin Simpson, Walton; Aileen Skinner, Walton; Elma Smith, Walton; Lois Anne Smith, Clark; Sybil Smith, Walton; Emalie Stubbs, Walton; Rippie Sweet, Clark; Cora Mae Tadlock, Walton; Amelia Belle Taylor, Walton; Clara Taylor, Walton; Jessie Taylor, Walton; Edna Thompson, Walton; Thelma Thompson, Walton; Velma Tibbetts, Walton; Sybil Towery, Walton; Lois Tyson, Walton; Nell Vance, Clark; Mabel Warren, Walton; Flora Webster, Walton; Anna Mary Wells, Walton; Jenn Wells, Walton; Lois White, Walton; Lucile White, Walton; Mary Whitehead, Clark; Louise Wiggin, Walton; Lena Williams, Clark; Leora Mae Williams, Walton; Winnie Williams, Walton; Frances Elizabeth Wilson, Walton; Maxine Woolverton, Walton; Lois Young, Walton.

BIG CARNIVAL COMES TONITE

World Wonder Shows, featuring the world's greatest entertainments, talents, miraculous freaks, and the like will be presented at the T. C. U. gym this evening at 7:30, according to the general manager whose address to the populace is as follows:

"Well, people the big carnival has arrived. Two trainloads of cars containing some of the world's best amusement talents and equipment make up the company.

"Included in the first arrivals were Monstrous, the world's fattest man, weighing approximately 600 pounds; Beas, the greatest living frog, weighing only 65 pounds and 6 feet in length; Susso, the wild man from Borneo, whose main repast consists of live snakes; Biogy, the monkey man, that greatest freak of nature. All of these monstrosities are included in the World Wonder Shows and can be seen for one price.

Other shows included in this carnival are the Mystic Maze, that place of enchantment in which you feel that your last day on earth has arrived; the Greater Minstrel Show, featuring song and dance by some of the Southland's greatest black-face comedians; the "Women Only" show, a place wherein only the feminine eye is allowed to discern; and last, but not least, the Great Athletic show, featuring boxing and wrestling to the tune of popular numbers by Gaines' jazz band.

"It behooves me at this time gentle reader to sound a warning to the patrons of this carnival. The management is taking every effort to protect the carnival attenders from being gold-bricked by so-called comedians. Though we haven't the power to go far in this endeavor, yet we can at least warn you of them. Two of the best in the game are on hand, namely, slow-foot Holland and Nimble Finger Bender. So beware and steer clear of them.

Everyone save your man and be on hand at the gymnasium this evening, Nov. 7, at 7:30 o'clock."

GOODE HALL CLEANINGS

Jonathan Edwards Weems of track, box-fight, and pulpit fame is holding a week's gospel revival meeting at Mt. Enterprise, Texas. His room-mate, D. W. McElroy is meeting his tutor class during his absence.

Mr. Jerome Smiser, of Morris, Oklahoma, and a brother of our T. C. U. Business Manager, has been a Goode Hall resident for several days. Mr. Smiser was injured in a football game with Kiefer, Okla., having the two top vertebrae of his spine displaced. He has successfully undergone an operation and is now doing nicely. His father and mother are also here.

Lee Harboard, a second year man, and one of our most promising ministerial students, left Friday night for New Orleans where he will work at the printer's trade. Lee is well liked by everyone and it is hoped that he will soon be back with us.

English.

English is technical, too. It has a double purpose. It is to make the book store sell more ink and to take up time. In English class the teacher talks and the students go to sleep. It is a sort of a rest hour.

Faculty to Render Classical Program

The faculty of the Fine Arts Department will give their concert program in the university chapel Wednesday at 8 p. m. This is for the education of T. C. U. students and their friends. All are invited to attend.

The program contains many classical music selections and one reading. It is as follows:

Piano solos—May Night—Palgren
Scherzo Valse—Moskowiak
By Lucile Durrett Ledbetter.
Violin solos—Romance—J'Ambrise
Chant du Crepuscule—Versel
Spanish dance—Kreiser
By Bernice Carleton.

Vocal solos—O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me!—Handel
Recitative and Cavatina—(Lucia di Lammermoor)—Verdi
Habenera (Carmen)—Bizet
By Mary Elizabeth Moutray.

Reading—The Man in the Shadow
By Lena Brown Crossman.
Piano solos—At Evening—Schytte
Novellette Op. 21—Schumann
Etude—Guelick
By H. D. Guelick.

WALTONS ATTEND TO BUSINESS.

Last night the old Waltons met for business and discussed plans for all Waltons.

Lawyer—"Is this your last will and testament?"
Client—"It is if I die."

McKNIGHT'S COMEBACK FIGHTERS, who hit their stride Saturday and beat the Oklahoma Aggies who defeated Rice Institute 21-0.

TOP ROW—A. Cherry, Knox, Jails, Ward, Estes, Cantrell, McConnell, Fender, Stangl, Alexander, Pete Wright, Athletic Director. (Trainer Hunter in back ground).
BOTTOM ROW—Ashley, Astell, Nicholson, Meads, H. Camp, Ayres, Phillips, K. Camp, Horton.

T.C.U. Girl Circles Are Invited Out

Girls of the T. C. U. Circle have been invited to be guests of the Jarvis-Ross Circle of the First Christian Church tonight at 7. The invitation is extended by Christine Carter, president of the hostesses.

At Least!

"Leave me with a smile," murmured the victor as the young frisked his clothes.

Burns to Leave Sanitarium Soon

W. Frank Burns who was operated on recently for appendicitis is recovering unusually fast and will soon be able to leave Harris Sanitarium where he is being treated. He especially regrets that he missed the T. C. U.-Oklahoma game last Saturday, but says that he is lying in high hopes of seeing T. C. U. defeat Howard Payne at Panther Park on Nov. 18.

Cockrell Brings Commissioners

Mayor Cockrell and the city commission spent the forenoon on the hill Wednesday and appeared in chapel following the letting of the city's part of the contract for the paving of Forrest Park Boulevard from Mistletoe Heights to T. C. U. Mayor Cockrell indicated T. C. U. as a progressive institution in a typical Texas town.

Corporation Counsel Roger, ex-graduate and faculty member of T. C. U. said he craved to see a rush on the barber shops.

Light Commissioner Hunter came out to eat and not to talk, but talked too much when he forgot and told the girls he had a son at A. & M.

Police Commissioner Paul Gibbs assured the town students of a boulevard over which they could start later and arrive earlier.

Water Commissioner Lord promised better water service—so that third floor men could shave in the mornings.

Police Commissioner John Alderman guaranteed plenty of police protection on T. C. U.'s new speedway and guaranteed to arrest the whole outfit and teach them the little ditty entitled, "Good Morning Judge." He then sang at the request of the mayor, "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

Finance Commissioner Billy Townsend made a very interesting talk in which he proved that he could handle jokes as well as dollars.

Major To Address Faculty Tonight

The regular faculty and business meeting will be at the home of Dr. W. M. Winton on Rogers Avenue tonight at 8 o'clock. Miss Mabel Major, the chief speaker of the evening, will give a description of the Passion Play which she witnessed at Oberammergau, Austria, last summer. She brought back a series of photographs of the play and will present these in connection with the address.

The faculty meets once a month throughout the year, and each meeting features special addresses and music. The different members entertain the group in successive sessions.

The Grand Array

DAVE REED $25,000.000
MALGAH REED 25,000.000
R. S. STERLING 25,000.000
HARRY ROGERS 25,000.000
MIKE THOMAS 25,000.000

Isn't that a grand array of gifts in two weeks time? In addition to these large individual gifts we are counting on the City of Fort Worth coming through in grand style for the old school. We must reach the goal in the fiftieth year of our existence and have an institution free from debt and with $500,000 endowment. Hats off to the big Texas business men who believe there is a need for the Church College and are willing to back their judgment with the money.

News Item—"Suckers Are Now Biting." We wonder why they put in the "now?"

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Better Thinking was a topic developed in an interesting way by the short and peppy talks of Miss Mayme Garner, and Vida Elliott, and Messrs. Henry Elkins and Clinton Hackney at Christian Endeavor Sunday evening. Mr. Tetens led the devotional using Phil. 4:4-8.

After an interesting round table discussion, Mr. Nimo Goldston sang "Have Thine Own Way Lord" surprising and pleasing the audience. In closing, Miss Ethel Kemp, the leader, told a short story on the most beautiful thing in the world—a girl with high ideals, clean thought, and a loving heart.

IS SHE A FRESHMAN?

It is said that "Peggy" Tibbets, a new student, hauled a car of young ladies down town a few weeks ago, and not being familiar with traffic regulations, parked in close proximity to a fire plug. She was gently pinched and hauled before the corporation court. The corporation court was completely taken by storm when she displayed her phenomenal personality, and the judge immediately released her, admonishing her to become acquainted with the ways of the city.

"I found a button in my salad."
"Came off in the dressing, I suppose."

The Missing Letter.

One letter omitted from a sentence will certainly work wonders, as for instance, these newspaper reports—of them made absurd by the omission of a single letter: "The conflict was fierce, and the enemy was repulsed with great laughter." "When the president's wife entered the humble sitting room of the house she was offered a hair." "A man was yesterday arrested on the charge of having eaten a cabana." "An employe in the service of the government was accused of having stolen a small ox from the mail. The stolen property was found in his vest pocket." "A Russian soldier was found dead with a long word sticking in his throat."

AND GET INTO BARBER CHAIR

Captain Green climbed into the barber chair Saturday night and pointing to some of the Frog gang—process of dewhiskering—informed the barbers, "We'll have you know we're a tough outfit." When the Aggies heard that the Frogs weren't going to shave until they won a game, they began drinking arsenic and potassium permanganate, but weren't immune enough to the "piz-cious" purple and white eleven which put Camp, Cherry and Adams over for goals and pushed the Oklahomaans back for a safety, knocking 2 to 1 dope sky high and giving Texas people an eyeful of what we mean when we say something.

Every Frog of them was a man's man and secure in the support of a student body that had found the varsity spirit and cut loose with it. Between halves the old T. C. U. gang did the snake dance and formed the University initials. The pep squads were there in all their splendor, spelled out the three best letters in the alphabet, yelled like Nathan Hale, the boys stacked three deep standing, and around them the girls entwined purple and white streamers a human chair was formed by the boys and tonsorial imitation brought down the exclamation "I've watched pep squads at games of big games but this is the best I ever saw." The Lions were there in full force.

Oklahoma Aggies defeated Central State 19-0, Northwestern Normal 49-0, and Rice Institute 21-0. They have been defeated by Texas University 19-7, S. M. U. 32-0, and T. C. U. 22-14. They play in succession beginning next Saturday Tulsa, Baylor, Oklahoma U. and Arkansas U.

The Horned Frogs undoubtedly played the best game Saturday which they have played this year.

Hasbrook scored both of the Aggies' touchdowns, which came in the last quarter as a result of the aerial attack, and Crutchfield kicked both goals from placement.

The Frogs' first counter came in the last minute of the second quarter. With the ball on the Aggies' forty-yard line, Adams uncorked a southpaw pass to Blair Cherry, who snatched the ball out of the air as he stood on the twenty-yard line in the midst of a bunch of Aggies. He went down clutching the ball. Adams then dropped back for another pass and Hillard Camp, ranging out on the right wing, snatched the ball on the run and ran eight yards for a touchdown. A goal from placement failed.

On a series of gains by straight football T. C. U. scored another touchdown in the third quarter, when Adams tore off an eight-yard run over left tackle for a counter after he had accounted for the majority of the preceding gains. Cantrell kicked goal from placement. T. C. U. 13, Aggie 9.

Cantrell blocked a kick by curb on the Aggies' fifteen-yard line. An Aggie recovered behind the line and a safety, counting 2 points, resulted.

MORE PROPAGANDA.

In a recent meeting of a philosophy class in T. C. U. the suggestion was made that the type of individual who is given to loquacity in the class room is not in reality the true seeker of knowledge as it would seem, but rather a propagandist of his own personality.

In view of the fact that this statement came as a very astounding revelation to a great many students we shall endeavor to give our reasons for agreeing most heartily with those who advocate the propagation of personality.

In the first place, we must consider our vocal organs. How difficult a thing it would be to give our voice box the proper exercise, if the profound silence of wisdom were to suddenly claim a monopoly over everything in T. C. U. No more rinking, carefree, laughter would resound throughout the hallways. There would be few chapel announcements. Campulology would become a thing of the past. Conservation would be monosyllabic. The silent approval of many solemn faces would furnish the only encouragement to a beauty bearded foot ball team. One could hear a pin drop in the freshman class meetings. The pleasure of handling freshman advice would be denied upper classmen. Some classes might be mistaken for quaker meetings with only the instructors making a few palsied utterances now and then. The death like stillness that would pervade those classes flitted with freshman and graduate students would be truly impressive. Oh fellows, wouldn't it be a sad and sage-like feeling.

—Helen Leslie.

WE HAVE MORE PEP.

There is a feeling that we have for our native land, we call that patriotism. There is a similar feeling that we have for the persons or institution that we hold dear we call that loyalty. This last feeling was very much in evidence Saturday afternoon at the game and we wish to commend the splendid support that the rooters gave the be-whiskered Horned Frogs. More of this spirit shown on the hill and down town as the occasion arises will do a great deal toward making our team always a winner. Let us also extend the hearty appreciation of all the school to the yell leaders and the pep squad who helped obtain the triumph Saturday.

—A. C. McAfee.

More Pulpits Filled by Students

Brother Frame who is engaged in securing preaching appointments for ministerial students has met with unusual success this fall. A large number of pulpits in the vicinity of T. C. U. are occupied by students as a result of his efforts.

The appointments made by Brother Frame during the last few days are Mr. Abbot at Bowie, Texas; Martin Batton at Moody, Texas; George Horton at Maybank, Texas; Will Wilkening at Corinth, Texas; and Mr. Wingo at Strawn, Texas.

ERINYS

BY JAMES WILLIAM BENDER.

Heredity, a subject of much importance, has so great a significance in the lives of mortal men, that it has been thoughtfully studied by the most eminent sociologists and biologists of yesterday and today; but to no avail. It is still a nebulous mass of theoretical nonentities, without any firm foundation of facts. One of the imperturbable facts concerning this fascinating subject is that it is a condition of organic evolution, and certain traits, characteristics and distinguishing features, are carried from one generation to the other. The world in its tragic way of judging facts connives at this transcendental theme, and lets its mind wander in more fictitious channels, which is the easiest way out of the situation. Say what we wish or think as we may, there is some hidden power that instills in us a desire, or even a passion to often times do things, whether evil or good, that were done by our parents, or perchance our grandparents. This evil or good is not only embedded in our minds, but it becomes a burning wish which we are unable to control. By some this is called heredity.

A striking example of these facts was brought to my attention recently by an article I chanced to read in a scientific magazine, concerning the case of Mary Gayle. The gist of the story was as follows:

About fifty years ago there lived in the county of Devonshire, England, an Earl, Sir William Gayle, by name. He was noted throughout the country for his noxious trait of gambling. The vice held him in its strong clutches, and finally tore down his nervous system, resulting in his death.

Years passed from bad to worse. His daughter had reached the age of eighteen, a beautiful, graceful looking girl, seemingly untouched by the vice of her father.

But sad to say, you cannot judge by outward appearance; she was a frequent visitor in the women's gambling clubs. She had all the fiery passion for the games as her father, only more; she would stop at nothing, the greater the stake, the more brilliant her eyes, and louder her hideous shrieks of glee, as luck perchance came her way.

She was engaged to be married. Her fiancée knew of her curse, and begged and pleaded that she give it up for his sake if nothing else. She promised. Long will be remembered in the annals of New York society, the night before her marriage. She was getting ready to retire on this eventful night, when that overpowering impulse took hold of her; she must gamble, come what may.

She was soon at the club; and time after time the roulette wheel, by its laughing spin, took her all in all. She had nothing left but her jewelry; this she lost rapidly. Then in a most bewildered manner, she hesitated, her last chance, the engagement ring. The wheel turned—a loss. A wild shriek was heard, and a woman fell over dead; it was Mary Gayle.

She had paid the price of heredity. Why? That is the divine question; is the Divine Creator unjust in making the innocent susceptible to a mystical, unknown, overpowering force that the greatest human will-power cannot resist?

Sir Gayle had a younger son that fast followed in his foolish footsteps; and in a few years lost the remaining

Frogs Play Kansas Team Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day will not be celebrated in any particular manner at T. C. U. this year. The Horned Frogs will meet the Kansas Aggies in their new steel stadium in Manhattan on that date. This statement was officially given out by President E. M. Waits several days ago.

A PICTURE

By DWIGHT HOLMES

Opal colored skies,
Woods of brilliant hue
Outlined with colors that subdue
Tints of rose and green and blue;
While thru an open field of snow
A quiet brooklet winds its way,
And in its chilly waters glow
The splendor of a fading day.

estate of the Gayles.

A few years later he came to America to try his fortune. He was admitted to the most prominent gambling clubs of New York, and soon through his skill became rich. He married a young woman of one of the oldest established families in the city; she was totally unaware of the degrading characteristic that bound him in its tantalizing web.

He gave up his old habit for awhile, but soon, very soon, the call was too strong, and he was back again, more earnest than ever.

His wife was in despair. But she thought that her husband had business, which of necessity called him away at nights.

One night a baby girl was born. Mr. Gayle was not at home, and the wife in her ecstasy eagerly made inquiry as to the whereabouts of her husband. The leading clubs were visited; and, at the last one he was found, an inhuman looking creature, bending madly over the roulette wheel as it turned his destiny. Some one told him that his physician was there to take him home to a pleasant surprise. He cried, "No! No! I can't leave."

He arrived home early that morning, not to a place of happiness, but to sorrow, and grief; his wife was dead.

Add-Ran Car Wins Loving Cup

BY JAS. W. BENDER.
Have you ever seen a bride with the blushing bloom of youth in her face, the red tint of twilight in her cheeks, bedecked for her marriage ceremony; dressed in draping veils of the purest, lily-white, with a bouquet of purple tulips held gently to her breast, her whole form a symbol of heavenly glory?

Such was the spectacle presented to the amazing eyes of the Fort Worth populace Saturday afternoon as the Add-Ran—Clark float made its appearance.

The human tongue cannot express the beauty of the pleasing color scheme, and the almost divine loveliness portrayed in this decorated vehicle, adorned with roses of the whiteness and purity of new fallen snow, intermingled with flowers that depicted the hues of a purple capped mountain in the falling twilight.

Nobly and majestically did this silent, graceful, bride pass up the main thoroughfare and proclaimed to the old town that college spirit was not dead, but just smouldering for a time only to be revived in the emblem of the utmost pulchritude and glory. It was symbolical of that old T. C. U. honor, magnanimity and spirit, that has stood adamant for the last fifty years.

Yet, as this scene passed your wondering eyes did you stop to think of the care, and the painstaking work that was necessary in preparing the float? We gladly take off our hats to every girl that had a part in making this feature a unanimous success. We especially doff our chapeaux to Misses Moffet, Keeble, Wayman, Thompson, Bidworth, Dewitt, Day, Tobin, Pinkerton, Martin and Messrs. Arnison, Stevenson, Parker and Dickerman, who directly or indirectly assisted in immortalizing the name of the old Add-Ran Clark.

President's Second Talk to Ex-Students

Seven responses out of fifteen hundred! That's the sad story thus far in connection with your officers' campaign to interest the old students in our plans for the year. Is it possible that we can't interest at least a thousand folks in our program to the extent of $2.50 per annum when you are the ones to be benefitted? We picked this list of 1500 ex-students at random, because the secretary was positive she had the correct addresses. We have 7500 additional names out of the fold not properly catalogued. We could not possibly send this paper to all, in fact, your president and a crowd of the faithful few will have to "dig up" quite liberally now on the present Skiff contract if we can't awaken the interest of the people the Skiff is going to at the present time.

This column was not started for a means of raising money and the money talk will be discontinued provided—you know.

Another thing we would like to get straightened in your mind. Eronously the impression prevails in some quarters that our Jubilee takes place at Thanksgiving. June is the time, the specific date will be set shortly. By that time it is hoped that the entire indebtedness of the University will be provided for and will have 10,000 sons and daughters of T. C. U. return to see the finest school plant in Texas, representing an outlay of over one million dollars. Make your plans now, let nothing interfere. The program that is being arranged will be worth the trip, regardless of your abiding place. Get busy with your T. C. U. Clubs and let's hear from you. Make the Treasurer's heart glad with a few checks.

LETTERS FROM SOME WHO ARE WITH T. C. U. IN SPIRIT.

In response to our appeal to every former student of this institution to support the association by paying dues of $2.50 which includes the subscription to the Skiff we have received a number of responses. Below are extracts from some of these letters:

"I read with quite a bit of interest the Alumni and Ex-Students' Section of the Skiff. It is my hope that it will be possible to keep up the good work and really get people interested in our old school. T. C. U. has enough Alumni and Ex-Students that if all would get behind the school it could be made the best in the Southwest. Altho' I can not help in an active personal way I do not want to be left out entirely and so I am enclosing $2.50."
—John R. Sandidge (AB '20), Erskine College, Due West, S. C."

"We rejoice at the fine progress T. C. U. is making and are hoping that it will be possible for us to be there at the Jubilee in June—(Virginia Brandt Berg '09) Berg Evangelists (H. E. Breg '14 Song Direc) (Evangelist) 8060 Woodland Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

"My home has been in Marlow for the past five years and my daughter Joan is two years old. I like Oklahoma fine, but I do long to see my old friends and schoolmates. I am planning to come to the Home Coming in June."
—Mrs. B. W. Smythe (Bennie Ruth Clements '17), Marlow, Oklahoma."

"I'm just happy that I have the privilege of sending in association dues. Never did I give more willingly or gladly."
—Madeline Jones (AB '21), Waxahatchie, Texas.

"I've not been keeping up with T. C. U. affairs but did know about the Home Coming planned for June and had planned to come. Mother (Mrs. M. V. Baugh '91) went to old Add Ran and is as anxious as I to attend. Look for us both next June. I received a copy of the Skiff and devoured it all—even the ads. I am interested in everything concerning T. C. U. for after T. C. U. is my first love."
—Mrs. T. P. Priddle (Marion Baugh '13) 207 E. 15th, Austin, Texas.

"I am sending you $2.50 as my Ex-Student dues. Am teaching in Tyler High this year. I can hardly wait for the big Home Coming."
—Pauline Allen (AB '21)."

"I hand herewith check for $1.50 to cover my part of the appeal made in the Skiff for funds to keep 'the good work going.' As I am already a subscriber to the Skiff (in good standing) I think this covers the bill. I am indeed proud of T. C. U.

T.C.U. Should Be In Southwest Conference

Much has been said pro and con about T. C. U. joining the Southwestern Conference of Intercollegiate Athletes. I have given it my best thought. Put me down as favoring the plan. True, we do not have as large student body to draw from as the other Conference Schools, but what we lack in quantity we can make up in quality. T. C. U. ranks with Texas A. & M., Baylor, Rice, S. M. U. scholastically. We can do this in an athletic way. In former years T. C. U. has played Texas A.&M. and Baylor with credit. In baseball they had to bow before us, in football we ranked favorably with them. Many changes have come about in athletic conferences in the last few years. The Texas Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association is looked upon as an inferior conference, regardless of the personnel of the teams. In the case of T. C. U. the Southwest Conference teams have refused to play us. Their excuse is that we are a class A University. Games with the larger Texas Schools cannot be had in Fort Worth, the people we are depending on for the support of our athletics. When ranking out of state teams are brought to Fort Worth, large guarantees have to be made and then the drawing ability of the visiting team is more or less doubtful. The Southwest Conference teams are monopolizing all the newspaper space in the sport columns. Some of our newspaper friends don't know there is another conference, despite the fact that T. I. A. A. Teams usually take good care of themselves when they play the other conference teams. By means of all this publicity high school athletes are drawn in larger numbers to the Southwest Conference Schools. For one year our school would be under serious handicap unless the Freshman rule was waived, (we believe this was done in one or two instances). Summing it all up we believe the advantages will outweigh the disadvantages and we vote for joining. Decision should be made at once, for schedules are being formed for another year.

EX-STUDENT Association Dues $2.50, including a year's subscription to the Skiff.

Deceitful Lover Gets It in the Neck

By OLA DUBLIN.

Tuesday night at ten o'clock the Y. W. entertained the young men and women of the University with a Halolwe'n party in Jarvis parlors.

On entering the dimly lit parlors the guests were met by the clammy hand clasp of a tall ghost. She ushered them to seats from which they witnessed a clever pantomime Edwin Day, the modern young lady, sat at home reading when the maid, Mary Belle Sams, announced a caller, Wood Carson. He proposed was accepted, and started to embrace his fiancée when another caller, Arthur Lester, was announced. The first caller was hurriedly draped as a hat rack. The second caller and the third, Charles Coombs, shared the same fate and were draped as a table and chair. The fourth caller, Raymond Nolan, spurned his accepted love and seated himself in the opposite chair. This action brought the trio of young men to life when upon all four of them demand their rings and leave. A witch, Hattie Rue Hartgrove, told an amusing but true fortune for Morris Parker.

Refreshments consisted of doughnuts, served from the witches' broom handle, and apple cider.

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipe dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Suleiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Suleiman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science, which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

HORNED FROG SPORT NEWS

"ALEX" ALEXANDER, Editor

Kangaroos Next Meal For Striding Frogs

Next week our Horned Frogs and the rest of us only journey to Sherman to play the Austin College Kangaroos. After defeating Simmons College on Friday, the Kangaroos attended the T. C. U.-Oklahoma A. and M. game in full force to have a look at the T. C. U. style of play. They may have learned a few things about the bearded Frogs that they did not want to know.

McKnight is very well pleased with the battle his men put up against Oklahoma Saturday, as Oklahoma was a 2 to 1 favorite before the game. The Horned Frogs showed that when they hit their stride and get a taste of blood they are a hard team to handle.

Camp, at quarter, ran the team with a clear, cool judgment that marked him as a first rate field manager, McKnight says, and adds that even his watchful eye could detect little to criticize in the way the little man handled his team, at all times. Camp will continue to call the signals for the Frogs. Very few shifts are due among the Frogs from now on, unless unexpected things happen, and unless there are unforeseen injuries.

The practice schedule for this week will include scrimmage on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The men are in the best of shape physically and McKnight says that care will be exercised to see that the boys train enough, but not so much as to get them stale before Saturday.

The Frogs looked like an entirely different team against the Oklahoma Aggies, showing more fight than they have had so far this year. Coach McKnight says that things will continue as they were last Saturday, and the boys expect to make a clean sweep of the rest of the schedule. If hard, consistent fighting will win football games, the Horned Frogs will win!

Shirt Tail Brigade Passes In Review

Two parades in one day aren't enough for T. C. U.'s peppy pep squad. So enthusiastic were these nimble youths that they blocked down-town traffic Saturday night during the busiest hour with one of the most spectacular demonstrations of the day.

"Doc" Overton led with "nities" flapping in the strong south breeze, and a flock of otherwise timid freshmen tore the lower extremities of stripped shirts from—and followed.

Pedestrians thronged the sidewalks while stern-faced officers of the law looked on in amazement. Traffic cops turned the stop signals on all cross streets and the parade passed down Houston and up Main with as little difficulty as Adams passed through the Aggies' line of scrimmage. Texas Hotel barber shop was the goal and true to form the Frogs were there in full force.

My story ends here. The subsequent events are quite apparent.

KOMMENT KOLUMN

Beat Austin College!

We didn't miss pouring it on the Aggies, and it looked for a while as if we were going to throw the bucket at them, too, just as ye Kommenter prophesied.

Two out of ten ain't such a bad average, now is it? That's the number the Kommenter missed on guessing the winners for last week.

Billie Bee, in his "Buzzing Around" says that the Kangaroos will be the T. I. A. A. champions even if the Horned Frogs beat them next Saturday. How does he get that way, we'd like to know!

A cartoon printed on the front page of the Telegram last week said that it would take more than a barber-shop cord to pull the Frogs out of the hole. All who saw the game last Saturday have no doubt that the Frogs have something stronger than a barber-shop cord.

As Captain Judge Green says, "We'll have you know we're a tough outfit!"

The Kansas Aggies had better take notice and prepare for battle. These Aggie teams are our meat. Such a pity we haven't the Texas Aggies on our schedule this year.

Some of the old timers who were on the sidelines Saturday remarked that the Frogs didn't have a single team on the schedule to fear as long as they played football of that caliber.

Now that the Frogs have the taste of blood it's gonna be a rough

Cherry blocked another kick in the same quarter, recovered the ball on the Aggies' ten-yard line and ran for a touchdown. Cantrill kicked goal. T. C. U. 22, Aggies 0.

Parade Precedes Game.

A parade preceded the game, with the purple and white followers marching through the downtown section proclaiming that their team would adjourn to the barber shop after the game was finished. Their prediction was carried out.

The game merited a better crowd than that which was in attendance. About 1,500 persons witnessed the conflict.

Clever football decided the battle in the third quarter. Carson punted with the wind behind him and the reserve strength was saved for plunging and running near the enemy's goal posts. His punts averaged 41 yards.

Big Jim Cantrill missed a field goal from the 49-yard line in the third.

Second Frog Score.

The Frogs' second touchdown came shortly after the half got under way. Crutchfield kicked off for the Aggies for 35 yards and Green made a pretty run, returning the ball 15 yards. Carson kicked 70 yards. Curch kicked back 39 yards and Camp returned eight yards. Carson made a yard on a line plunge. Adams made a beautiful run around left end for 16 yards and first down. Carson made a yard on a plunge. Honey went 5 yards on an end run. Adams, on an off-tackle play, made a great run through the Aggies for 8 yards and a touchdown.

Hard luck lost the Christians a touchdown. Cantrill blocked a kick by Curch and had the ball almost in his hands. A great mixup followed and ended when an Aggie cornered the ball and was tackled behind his own goal posts for a safety.

Quick headwork by Blair Cherry accounted for the Christians' last touchdown. Gaddis was slow in getting his kick off, and the Frogs gauged him, blocking the ball, which rolled back for about 15 yards. Cherry, on the edge of the melee, tore out after the oval, outdistanced the crowd, made a good pickup and went over the line for a counter.

Opened Aerial Attack.

Gaddis, who went in the last quarter, then opened up a passing game which swept the Frogs off their feet. Two touchdowns were made before the purple and white warriors woke up to what it was all about. Gaddis passed twice to Nicholson for a total of 65 yards, each being the play before a touchdown, and passed twice to Hasbrook for a total of 39 yards. Each time Hasbrook ran the remaining distance for a counter.

Camp stopped the Aggies' rush when he intercepted the last pass of the game ended shortly after. The Frogs showed much class in their line, which outshone the backfield collectively. Ogan and McConnell were the stellar linemen, with Green and Cantrill showing up well also on the defense. The Frog ends got down the field under punts much better than did the Aggies, although two or three kicks were returned for long gains. Adams was the premier Frog ground-gainer.

The Aggies' backfield was brilliant. Hasbrook gained much ground, while Gaddis, in the short time which he played, exhibited tremendous driving power. He could not go over, however, in the last quarter and the Frogs recovered a fumble which saved the day for them. Mason piloted his team well, but Hillard Camp stood out equally as brilliant under the new change in the lineup.

Ogan played a great game, going road for teams that cross their path from here on out!

Here's the winners for next week, as the Kommenter sees them. T. C. U., Texas, Kansas, Texas A. & M., Daniel Baker, Kansas, Missouri, Kansas Aggies, A. C. C., Clarendon, Kansas Aggies Beat Missouri U.

The Kansas Aggies won a very important victory in the Missouri Valley race when they defeated the strong University of Missouri eleven at Columbia, last Saturday.

The Aggies faced the Missourians in full strength after being crippled for two weeks by injuries to star players.

The week before, with three star backfield men out of the game the Aggies held Kansas U. to a 7-7 tie. Both teams scored in the first quarter. Captain Hahn of the Aggies intercepted a pass and dashed 65 yards for a touchdown, and a few minutes later Kansas completed a pass over the goal for their only score.

Five times during the game the Kansas team was within five yards of a touchdown, but the Aggie line dug in and held like a stone wall at these crucial moments, and the game ended a tie.

The Aggies are looking forward to their game with T. C. U. on Thanksgiving and are expecting the Frogs to give them a real battle.
