Dear Sir:

I am truthfully agitated that I do not hear from you about the Murchison meteorites. I appreciate your concern about the large one that seems to be cracking, but I ~~think~~ ^{think} the time has come for a decision and a settlement.

After all, you have had a substantial sum of my money ($460.00) since about Feb. 8th, and even at a nominal rate of 6% interest you have had about a $5.00 advantage.

I am giving ^{you} the benefit of the doubt about the absence during Easter holidays, but I spent good money in writing, telegraphing and phoning you, and I don't feel I should be delayed further.

So please send at once, well packed and insured, the specimens you think would be acceptable and make a refund of the rest of the money; or, if I owe you a small balance, I will pay it.

Yours sincerely,

Orin E. Morning
