

1946
Fort Worth, Texas.

July 4th, 1938.

Mr. Wm. Holden,
Chamber Of Commerce,
City.

Dear Mr. Holden,

Next Sunday the Presidential Party with an army of newspaper reporters and secret service men will rest in Fort Worth.

Maybe some form of entertainment or amusement has been provided either by your organization or our entertaining genius Mr. Amon Carter, for the newspaper men and secret service.

Do you think a committee to meet the correspondents should meet the train at Gainesville and escort it here? Do you think if they go to the hotel local cars should meet train and motor them to their hotel? Do you think refreshments, usually newspaper men are thirsty, should be placed in their rooms for immediate consumption on their arrival with all necessary mixtures? All this Saturday night.

Do you think during Sunday an auto trip over the city would be welcome or had they rather play golf at or on some of our links?

The bases are loaded and a mighty good time to make a hit. I am sure you can select a good ~~one~~ the best pinch hitter. A good opportunity to get more than that $2500 worth of advertising at a nominal cost. "Jasper" can really go to town.

If it is permissible crack local police could relieve the secret service men required at the home of Elliott Roosevelt, and the whole "outfit" could participate in any or all of the entertainment program.

Arrangements could be announced by those boarding the train, as suggested, or by pamphlet delivered each representative. All this just merely suggestive.

J. C. Griffith