

Annual Beauties Will Be Belles of Ball

3-Way Christmas Party Planned

Dancing in Gymnasium,
Refreshments in Cafeteria,
Carols in Auditorium

Big plans are cooking for the all-campus Christmas party Thursday night. It started out to be a Navy affair, but now a little bit of everybody has a finger in the pie.

It will start in the Gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. For the first hour, Clyde Foltz and Jim Davis will direct a mixer, to get everyone in a gay mood.

The next hour will be devoted to "dim lights, soft music and dancing," as Dave Hibbard puts it.

Then everyone will be chased off the dance floor and started in the direction of the Cafeteria, where doughnuts and cider will be served.

About 10 o'clock, the students will gather in the Auditorium to sing Christmas songs (if anyone can sing on a full stomach). The faculty has been invited to come over from their party in Foster Hall to join in the singing. Melioris Club will have charge of the program in the Auditorium.

A call for volunteers to help decorate the Gymnasium has been made by Dave. The big tree to be used at the party will be bedecked with fancy decorations furnished by the town students. Miss Mary Claude Scott is in charge of the decorating.

Campus Drive
Brings In $778

Sale of War Bonds and Stamps on the campus, to the faculty, other employees and students, totaled $778 as of Dec. 1, reports B. A. Couch, in charge of the campaign for the University. Campus quota is $850.

Noise of Selfish Strife'
To Be Walker's Sermon

"Above the Noise of Selfish Strife" will be the subject of the Rev. Granville Walker's sermon Sunday morning at the University Christian Church. For the prelude, Mrs. Q'Zella Oliver Jeffus will play "Elevation," by Guilman, and for the offertory, "Noel Ecossais," by Guilman.

The choir will sing "How Lovely Are Thy Messengers," by Mendelssohn.

At Evensong, the message will be delivered by the Rev. Roy Holt. Miss Betty Easley will sing "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," by Harker.

History Professors to Go
To Dallas Conference

Prof. Ralph Garrett and Dr. W. J. Hammond will attend the Texas Institute on World Peace Problems at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas Tuesday and Wednesday. The title of the discussion is "Win the War, Win the Peace."

Town Student Car Pool
Sought for Bowl Game

Town students met yesterday at noon to arrange for cars to take students to the Cotton Bowl game. This was done at the request of the Student Council, in order to keep busses and trains free for military personnel.

"Off With Caps,"
Peggy's Decree,
To Frosh's Joy

"Freshmen may remove their caps," was the text of the edict issued by Peggy Shamburger, Leti president, Tuesday noon. This decision was reached after discussions with Leti members at a meeting Sunday night in the Mexican Lounge of Foster Hall.

Joy reigned throughout the freshman class. "It is nice to be allowed to take off my cap at last, but I feel practically undressed," commented Miss Wanda Campbell.

Tradition sets the wearing of the green caps until after T. C. U. defeats S. M. U., but if a loss is suffered, Leti sets the date for unveiling.

Drive Launched
For Memorial

The Frog War Memorial Fund was officially opened at 10 o'clock today during a scheduled assembly in which student body President Joan Gardner received T. C. U.'s new service flag from Miss Betty Jo Gamble, who gave the dedicatory statement.

Presenting the Horace Carswell Fund was Jimmy Farrar. Dave Hibbard gave the dedication invocation. Bob Matheny presided.

Jim Davis sang "Danny Boy," and Misses Max Helen Pickens, Dorothy Forrester and Mona Moore sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The winter trimester campaign on the campus will be known as the "Maj. Horace Carswell Fund." Contributions to the fund will be used in erecting a memorial to those ex-students who die in the present conflict, according to Matheny.

A general campaign will be undertaken later by the Ex-Students' and Alumni Association.

Sadler to Attend Panel
On Post-War Education

President M. E. Sadler will participate in a panel discussion on post-war education in Dallas Wednesday. The discussion will be part of a general conference on post-war planning. Among others at the conference will be Senator Tom Connally.

Play Contest Is
Tuesday Night

Miss Mahon Will Direct
Freshman Cast, Tinkle
Will Coach Sophomores

The Freshman-Sophomore Play Contest has been scheduled for 8:15 p. m. Tuesday, according to Miss Doris Mahon, Dramatic Club president. Admission will be 35 cents.

The freshman group, directed by Miss Mahon, will present Rachel Reynolds' "Until Charlot Comes Home," a story dealing with German-occupied France. Jimmy Tinkle will direct his sophomore group in Robert Kasper's "Echo."

Members of the freshman cast are Miss Jimmie Shields as the grandmother, Miss Barbara McPherson as the mother, Miss Dorothy Smith as the neighbor, Miss Katherine Allred as Francine, and Roy Joe Cates will portray a German.

The sophomore play casts Nolan Weimaker as "Henry," Miss Bonnie Osborn as "Mary," Miss Nancy McKinney as "Lillian," and Jake Swinford as "David."

Prof. Titterington Speaks
On Air Speed Indicators

Prof. George Titterington was the speaker at the Parabola Club meeting last night on the subject: "Physical and Mathematical Principles of Air Speed Indicators." The meeting, a Christmas party, was at the home of Miss Ina Bramblett.

Frogs "Do" Dallas—

Frigid Day, Wrong Score,
But Good Time Is Reported

Who cares if those Ponies did run away from the Frogs last Saturday? It didn't alter the conference standing, it was a thrilling game to watch, and everyone had a wonderful time (except James Cooper who came home with a mighty sore neck after a Pony sat on it.)

The weather couldn't make up its mind. There are some who claimed it snowed, but no one argues the question when rain and sun are mentioned.

Jimmie Shields, Peggy Faught, Bobby Crutehfield and Ernest Parrott had a long blanket to keep their knees warm, but it kept them busy pulling it up, and throwing it back on the floor.

Poor Jimmie was having a terrible time keeping Gordon Johnson from yelling for S. M. U. Jean Cheverton ruined a brand new manicure biting her nails every time the ball was snapped back. Eddie Simpson had a look of utter amazement on his face when Randy Rogers broke out on that 85-yard dash. In fact, the whole cheering section went wild.

Winter Wonderland to Be Setting, "White Christmas"
Theme at 8 o'Clock Tonight

Tonight is the night of the most important ball of the winter trimester—that's right, the Presentation Ball. "White Christmas" will be the theme and a winter wonderland will be the setting.

The beauties selected by the student body to represent the four classes in the 1945 Horned Frog will be presented at 8 p. m. As the girls walk out on the dance floor, one at a time, they will be met by their escorts and start off the dance to the ball's theme song, "White Christmas."

Two Named
For Institute

Ministers Will Hear
Drs. Van Kirk and
Carpenter Feb. 12-16

Dr. Walter Van Kirk of New York City, associated with the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and recognized as one of the world's foremost Christian statesmen, will give the Wells' Lectures at the Ministers' Institute to be held on the campus, Feb. 12-16. Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, Amarillo, is state president.

President M. E. Sadler is program chairman for the institute, and Dean Colby D. Hall has charge of reservations. Ministers from all over Texas will attend.

Dr. Homer Carpenter, pastor of the First Christian Church, Louisville, Ky., has been secured for the meeting. He will deliver a series of four addresses sponsored by the McFadden Foundation of Dallas.

Dr. Kirk will give three evening addresses and one morning address.

A special program is being prepared for ministers' wives, through the leadership of their state officers, Mrs. G. C. Schurman, Waxahatchie, president, and Mrs. Bayne Driskill, Fort Worth, secretary.

Half-Price Bowl Tickets
To Go to Students, Profs

Tickets to the Cotton Bowl game will be sold to faculty members and students for half price—$2.40.

Dr. Gayle Scott, chairman of the faculty athletic committee, reports. The tickets may be obtained at the stadium. Athletic books must be presented when the tickets are bought, and again at the Cotton Bowl gate for identification. "These tickets are for favorably located grandstand seats selling to the public at $4.40," Dr. Scott adds.

Faculty Will Discuss
TCU's Future Schedule

President M. E. Sadler will make a general statement about the educational situation immediately ahead for T. C. U. at a faculty meeting at 4 p. m. today in the Amphitheater.

The schedule to be used by the University next year, the possibility of a permanent NROTC unit on the campus and a practical plan for the counseling of veterans will also be considered at the meeting.

Sadler to Address "Y"
On Post-War Problems

"Post-War Problems" will be discussed by President M. E. Sadler at the "Y" meeting at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, reports Miss Peggy Shamburger.

Leon Breeden and his orchestra will furnish the music for the dance, which will last from 8 until 11 p. m. Those persons who want to come just to get "an eyeful of beauty" and not to dance will be charged 25 cents. All those who intend to do a little rug-cutting will pay $1.25, couple or stag. It will all take place in the Basketball Gymnasium. The Navy men have been given a special 11:30 o'clock liberty.

The 12 girls who will make their "debut" are Misses Wilma Faye McGlothlin, Joan Gardner, Sherley Glascock, Betty Jean Schmuck, Elaine Henderson, Elizabeth Glascock, Janet Kroll, Peggy Glover, Peggy Shamburger, Judy Evans, Mary Eveyn Shepherd and Barbara McPherson.

'Damask Cheek'
Tryouts Tonight

Try-outs for "The Damask Cheek," a three-act play chosen for the winter production of the Dramatic Club, have been scheduled for 1 p. m. today in Room 394, according to Mrs. Katherine Norton, speech professor.

The play, written by John Van Druten and Lloyd Morris, is a three-act comedy of 19th century manners. Its presentation date has been tentatively set for early January.

"Students wishing to try out for parts in this play may obtain a copy in the speech office," says Mrs. Norton.

Harvard Man to Speak
On Geology Wednesday

Dr. Kirk Bryan, professor of geology at Harvard University, will speak in the Auditorium at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. His lecture will be on "The Geological Antiquity of Man in America." The talk will be illustrated and the program will be open to the public.

Dr. Bryan will appear under the auspices of the distinguished lectures committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

T. C. U. Group Attending
Social Welfare Meet

Prof. C. R. Sherer, Dr. A. L. Porterfield and Jimmy Farrar are attending the Texas Social Welfare Association in Austin this week-end. Farrar will take part in a youth panel on inter-racial problems tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. Porterfield is chairman of the Texas Commission on Inter-Racial Co-operation and Prof. Sherer is a member of the board. The commission is affiliated with the welfare association.

Flag of Faith

Today in the auditorium, a new service flag was presented to the student body. The flag, composed of two stars on a white background, has two separate purposes. The number on the blue star represents the ex students who are serving with the armed forces. The number on the gold star represents those who have given their lives in this struggle for freedom.

It is fitting and proper that this flag should be flown. America is entering her fourth year of war today. T. C. U. exes have taken a large part in American exploits and heroism. Soldier, sailor and marine ex-Frogs are still on the Hill in spirit, even if military duties keep them thousands of miles away.

The service flag is a tribute to those men and women who have sacrificed for the benefit of the world as a whole. Battles all over the world are being fought for the right of American youth to return to college life, and exchange that G. I. Joe and Jane title to Collegiate Joe and Jane. T. C. U. is keeping faith with them.

For 71 years, in war or peace, T. C. U.

has remained one of the greatest schools of the Southwest. But post-war T. C. U. will be even greater. A campaign is under way for $1,500,000 for new buildings, to be erected when materials are available.

The Science Building will be erected first, in the same block with the Library. Next to it will be the new Administration Building, the present structure being converted as a Student Union. The Student Union is the most popular spot of any campus and is a center of social activities, club meetings and student gatherings.

The proposed Fine Arts Building and Men's Dormitory will be erected on the main campus and the modern Field House near the Stadium. The dormitory will be similar to Foster Hall, which is one of the finest in the Southwest. The Fieldhouse will give the Frog basketball team a new home they have long needed.

Post-war T. C. U. will soon be a reality, and not just an architect's drawing. The same spirit of friendliness will prevail as the University continues to grow, for it will be a campus of opportunity for future Frogs.

Post-War T. C. U.

PICKED UP PASSING BY

Turtle Goes Under "T"
Hero Frank Slack
Soup for Breakfast

Bands may come and bands may go, but you can depend upon the Horned Frog Band to steal the show. While the Mustang Band played its marches with great gusto, the T. C. U. Swingsters, a la Breeden, were stomping it out with a jazz beat at the game in Dallas Saturday. Seen sitting with open mouths, feet tapping, were the members of the Mustang Band as they took in every note of "String of Pearls."

The Library's card catalog suffered recently when a group of freshmen were thwarted in their good intentions. These students came upon a small turtle during a rest period in a mechanical drawing lab and turned him on his back while they debated his fate. They finally decided to file the creature under "T" in the card index, but the victim escaped before the lab was over. "We just wanted to broaden the Library's collection," explains one of the group. In view of the all-inclusive scope of the Library's index, workers there have determined to exercise caution in future reference work.

Most lonesome spot on the campus last week-end was Foster Hall, which was inhabited by only 32 girls and a few miscellaneous mice. Most of the girls tripped off to Dallas to see the football game. The few who remained behind report that a solitary time was had by all.

Hero of the hour is Frank Slack, V-12er, who, assisted by Avis Hadden and a fire extinguisher, saved the room of Lancelle Brannon and Kathleen Scott from flames recently. Hearing cries for help, and seeing the smoke pouring from the window, Slack rushed into Jarvis Hall and performed his daring deed. When the smoke cleared, damage was discovered to include one mattress and one radio table.

Bob Matheny has been unable to sleep nights since the disappearance of a poster which announced in vivid letters, "Glee Club Today, 4 P. M." Bob had a special interest in the poster and keeps returning to the scene of the crime for a clue. Most of the Glee Club members have been accused of sign snatching, but no arrests have been made. The poster, when last seen, is reported as having been in the process of removal by an unidentified coed. Bob declares that the work of art cost a dollar. Prof. Billy Marsh announces that the one who has it can keep it for a dime!

Bill Craft, who spent Saturday night in Dallas following the football game, walked briskly into a downtown cafe early Sunday, sat down at a table and smiled at the waitress. The waitress returned the smile and asked for his order. "I want a bowl of chili," Bill said. "We don't have any chili, but I can give you a bowl of soup," she replied. At that Bill exploded. "Soup! Now who ever heard of a guy eating soup for breakfast!"

Frigid Day

er" McGlothlin and Elayne Henderson were surprised, but pleasantly, when the Pony leaders brought over one of those "pauses that refreshes" for each of them. The fun and merry making lasted far into the night. Many of the dorm students stayed with friends overnight, and those who came back to Fort Worth met the milk man. "Louanne's," the "Centennial Room," "The Century Room," and "Sammy's" were loaded with T. C. U. Frogs out on a fun spree. Most disappointed fans were Band Director Leon Breeden and Drummer-Boy Bryce Davis. Both had to be back in Fort Worth in time to play for a dance at the Blackstone. Tired, but happy, the Frogs now say: "Let us at those Sooner Aggies."

Cortell K. Holsapple, V-12 ex '44, is continuing with his pre-medic work at Tulane University in New Orleans, La. Ensign Scott Mooring, B. S. in Commerce '43, is in Fort Worth on leave, after being stationed on an LCM in the Mediterranean.

Chronister Off For Cage Job

Co-Capt. Zeke Chronister may not be with the Horned Frogs in their Cotton Bowl game. He left Monday night for Midland, Mich., where he will work and play basketball for the Dow Chemical Company.

Zeke signed the contract for this position early in the fall, long before it appeared that the Frogs were going places. He is attempting to make arrangements to re-join the Frog squad Dec. 26 and to play New Year's Day, but it is not yet known whether he will be able to do this.

Miss Betty Phillips had as her house guests in Dallas last week-end Misses Phala Davis, Peggy Glover, Leora Pate, Callie Bowers and Frances Wingfield.

V-12er D. T. Farris had an appendectomy Tuesday afternoon.

V-12er W. V. Roberson is back on duty after an appendectomy.

Frog Five to Play Home Game Monday

Frog Flashes

One of the best good-will gestures in this section will be made tomorrow night when the Frog basketball team plays before the wounded war veterans at McCloskey General Hospital in Temple. Coach Hub is taking his boys there without any expense to the hospital so that the Frogs may contribute something to the entertainment of the men recuperating from their battle wounds.

Coach of the year in these football United States is T. C. U.'s own Dutch Meyer — or, for that matter, THE coach of any and all years. With smaller squads, fewer high school stars and less coaching help than any school in the league, the Dutchman consistently turns out one of the better teams in the loop. For the 14 seasons he has coached the Frog, he has the best winning percentage of any conference school. He has the loyalty of his boys year in and year out. The nationwide reputation of the Fighting Frogs is the evidence of a job well done by T. C. U.'s own Coach Meyer.

Football has come to be almost a year around sport. This year's season started competition in September and will not finish up until January. That's five months everybody's language. If you add spring practice in March and summer practice in July that makes seven months in which football is given major attention.

Texas prides itself on being a cosmopolitan state, and T. C. U. is known far and wide as a friendly campus. Latest evidence of this is the current basketball team, which numbers not a single Texan among the starting five. Four of the quintet are from Indiana and the fifth hails from Illinois. Forwards Keith Tensley and Leroy ("Mutt") Pasco are from Evansville and Richmond, Ind., respectively. Center Gene Schmidt is also from Evansville. Guards are Jordan Rothbart, from Chicago, and George Sauer, from Richmond.

First player to serve twice as captain of the football team since Pete Wright and a 7 (1942 and 1943) the leader of the year's champions — Clyde Flowers.

FLOWERS

Clayde entered the 1943 entry that tied with Arkansas for the cellar, so it is really a pleasure for him, in his last season, to head up a team that finished in the top spot. The "Old Man" was named on the N. E. A. all-American team, picked by Red Grange. And he made just about every all-conference selection, just as he did last year.

The football players were given a lot of praise by Coach Meyer when he introduced each individual at the annual Lion's Club "Frog Day Luncheon" Tuesday. "The fightingest bunch of kids I ever

Squad at Waco AAF Tonight, To Visit Temple Saturday, For Diet of Service Teams

Two more games this week-end will round out a full slate for Hub McQuillan's basketball squad who already have two games under their belts. The cagers journey to Waco tonight to battle the Waco Army Air Field and will go from there to McCloskey General Hospital in Temple for a Saturday night game.

The Waco eleven boasts one of the better service fives in the state and from past performances should give the Frogs plenty of trouble. Little is known of the team besides the fact that several former top names in basketball are listed on their roster.

McQuillan's charges will remain overnight in Waco and leave the next morning for Temple.

This coming Monday finds the Frogs playing host to the strong Fort Worth AAF quintet, members of the major city many league. The Fliers have another good club this year with such stars as J. C. Phillips and Clifton McNeely. The two clubs will play a return match Wednesday night at the field.

The Frogs played a two game series with Grand Prairie Naval Air Station this past week and were set-back both times. The first game was played at the Basketball Gymnasium and the Frogs were edged out, 45-39, on free throws. Both clubs made the same number of field goals, 16 apiece, but the Sailors cashed in on the gratis tosses.

Going to Grand Prairie for the return tilt Wednesday night, the Froggies met a somewhat better club and went down, 58-46. The NAS five presented an entirely new combination and the Frogs were utterly helpless from the start.

McQuillan has been using three different team combinations in the early games but plans to mix in both civilian and V-12 material in the coming contests.

A starting five of Leroy Pasco and Howard Overbeek at forwards; Gene Schmidt, center; and Tom Gatzek and Max Mohrke at guards will probably open up against the Waco club tonight.

A leaky defense has been the blame for the Frogs' two successive defeats to date and McQuillan is spending plenty of the daily workouts drilling his cagers on both a man-for-man and zone defense, the latter to combat against the usually taller opposition.

Flowers Makes NEA All-American

Capt. Clyde Flowers heads the list of Frog footballers to gain national and sectional recognition on the all-American and all-conference selections now being issued around the nation.

Clyde was named on the first all-American team picked by Red Grange for the N. E. A. service, and received honorable mention on Bill Stern's all-American list in Look magazine.

Clyde was named for the second year on the Associated Press all-conference team, and also on selections made by several individual newspapers in the state.

Jim Cooper and Norman Cox both made the A. P.'s first all-conference team and received honorable mention on the association's all-American list.

Others getting mention as all-conference material are Merle Gibson, John Cooke and Joe Kucera.

coached" is the high compliment the Dutchman paid to his 1944 Cinderella champions.

2-Week Rest For Gridsters

Coach Meyer on Deer Hunt but Will Resume Work Monday, Dec. 18

"We're going to forget football for a week or two," reports Coach Dutch Meyer. "More than anything else, our boys need rest—and that's what we're going to give them."

He has dismissed his Fifteen Fighting Frogs, who have carried all the load in the last four games of the season, until Monday, Dec. 18. He also ordered a week's holiday for the rest of the squad, calling them to report back for work Dec. 11.

Meyer himself is this week hunting for deer instead of touchdowns. He and a group of friends are staking the woods of San Saba County for venison. It is agreed among them that the word "football" and "Cotton Bowl" shall not be mentioned.

Second and third squads will report back to the practice field a week earlier than the FFF because Coaches Meyer and Hub McQuillan are going to try desperately to develop a few reserves for that T. C. U. line.

"I believe we can better our chances in the Cotton Bowl considerably if we can build some replacements and thus give our top hands a rest, if only for a few minutes here and there," Meyer says.

"It's just too much to expect seven or eight players to carry the load in the forward wall for the full 60 minutes against such a powerhouse as the Oklahoma Aztecs."

Brite College students will be dismissed for the holidays Friday, Dec. 22. School work will be resumed Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Mustangs Kick Frogs 9 to 6; Rogers Runs 85 for TCU's Points

The Mustangs had everything to gain and nothing to lose, so they gained it, and the Horned Frogs lost. Final score was 9 to 6.

T. C. U. didn't even look good in the first half. The Mustangs had possession about two-thirds of the time and marched to the T. C. U. 31 late in the quarter. But Ralph Ruthstrom, who otherwise was the offensive star of the day, fumbled and Clyde Flowers covered the ball on his own 34.

An exchange of punts gave the Mustangs possession on their own 42 early in the second. From that point, they drove to the Frog 19, where they were held.

S. M. U. gained in another punt exchange, getting possession on the Frog 20 when Ransom Jackson's punt to midfield was toted back 26 yards by Ruthstrom. The Methodists got a first on the Frog 5. Then a penalty and a loss set them back to the 14. From here the Mustangs scored 3 points on Pete Kotlarich's field goal from the 22.

Frogs Gain Lead

That lead was wiped out on the next play. Red Hudaway took the kick-off on his own 15, took off down field, turned on about the 25 and intersled to Randy Rogers, who had breezed over at full speed from the right side of the field. Rogers, with the help of some total blocking about midfield, raced down the west sidelines all the way for a touchdown. Mullins' try for point was blocked, and the Frogs led 6 to 3.

T. C. U.'s lead was likewise short-lived. Purple supporters enjoyed the between-halves demonstrations because of the score, but their headache returned shortly after the second half opened.

Cooke's kick-off went to the S. M. U. 17 and Jimmy Kendrick returned it to his 39. From that point, the Mustangs scored a touchdown in eight plays, Ivan Cunningham's 39-yard jaunt to the Frog 6 accounting for most of the distance. Kotlarich missed the extra point, and the Mustangs again led, 9 to 6, still by the margin of that field goal.

T. C. U. Is Outplayed

That's the way the game ended. The Frogs several times looked as though they were about to go. They drove to the S. M. U. 37, to the 31 and to the 19, but never was a Frog able to get that double stripe behind him.

The Frogs, with the championship in the bag and a Cotton Bowl appearance booked, let the cellar Mustangs outplay them. That about sums up what happened in Dallas Saturday.

Joe Roddy, ex '43, is with the Army Air Forces special material division at McCook Army Air Field, Neb.
