

AMERICAN AIRLINES

918 SIXTEENTH STREET, N. W.

WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

February 10, 1955

Dear Mr. Carter:

Since dictating the attached Miss Roberts has telephoned about your communication today. She asked me to tell you that we will supply additional data tomorrow on the Northwest-Pan American problem and will send you additional copies of the Charlie Willis article.

She asked me to tell you today in this letter that from all appearances the last attempt on the part of Weeks to get Oswald Ryan a job on the Renegotiation Board has failed. It is unclear why, but it may be for perfectly understandable reasons. Someone has indicated that this particular job must be filled upon the recommendation of the Army and that they had already selected someone. At the moment nothing seems to be moving about a job for Ryan.

Sincerely,

Morris Shipley
