

T. C. U. OUTCLASSES OKLAHOMA A. & M.--TAKES BOTH GAMES

Bassler Takes First Game 4-1---T. C. U. Pooled Their Hits When They Were Needed---Both Teams Are in the Classy Line

Bassler opposed the Oklahoma Farmers in the first game and held them to five hits, two of which were of the scratch variety. At no time was he in danger with the exception of the sixth inning, when he was touched for four of the five hits to their credit and scored their lonely run. Terry for A. & M. was not so effective, giving up ten hits, two of which were for extra bases. Rattan, who is playing first since Parks' injury, hit a double and single and fielded his position perfectly. Bassler showed an improved arm by whiffing batsmen in pinches and can be depended on to win the remainder of his games. How we scored:

In the first inning, with two down, Hopkins singled through short. Walton walked, forcing Hopkins to second. Rattan singled and scored Hopkins, but was caught at second for the third out.

In the third, Bassler lived on first's error, took second on McCowan's sacrifice and scored on Couch's triple. Hopkins and Walton struck out.

Rattan, first up in the fourth, hit for two bases. McFarland laid one down and beat it out, Terry throwing wide to first allowing Rattan to score. McCullom walked; Bussey fouled out to catcher, and Bassler flew out to second.

The last was added in the seventh, when Hopkins with one down singled and stole second. Walton singled, scoring Hopkins. Rattan struck out. McFarland lived on third's error but McCullom flew out to right.

In the second game T. C. U. showed superior form throughout, although the visitors played good ball. The pitching of Wright easily featured, the visitors garnering only two hits, both scratches from his offerings. Vaughn for the Farmers allowed five hits with as many passes and was not effective in pinches. T. C. U. hit when hits meant scores.

How we scored:
T. C. U. opened the fireworks in the fourth inning when Wright singled to right field. Hopkins, attempting to sacrifice, forced Wright at second, but Hopkins lived on fielder's choice. Walton then clouted one for three sacks, scoring Hopkins. Rattan flew out to center, Walton being held at second. McFarland singled through short, scoring Walton. McCullom flew out to right field. Three hits, two runs.

Two more were added in the fifth, when, with one down, Kirby was passed and advanced to second on McCowan's single. Wright lived on an error by the Oklahoma first baseman, Kirby scoring on the error. Hopkins hit a slow one down first base line, scoring McCowan, but was himself thrown out. Walton flew out to center. One hit, two runs.

With one out in the eighth, Walton walked, stole second, took third on Rattan's infield out and scored on McFarland's Texas leaguer over second. McCullom struck out. One hit, one run.

The Oklahomans threatened to score in the fifth when Irwin walked, Arrington singled past third and Murray struck out, and Smith walked, killing the bases, with one out. Wright, however, whiffed the two next batsmen and ruined their only opportunity for scoring. In only two other instances did a man reach second.

HUNTER SPEAKS IN CHAPEL.
Secretary Hunter of the Y. M. C. A. made a splendid address in Chapel last Tuesday morning. He took for his text, "I will make a man of more value than much fine gold." Mr. Hunter said that when he first read this statement from the Bible he could not see how a man could be made that was of more value than fine gold. But in later years he found out that the world needed men that were honest, upright and religious, more than it needed men who possessed much fine gold.

He spoke of dishonesty in school and showed how it would crop out in the individual after he left his university. The university needs men that think. He pleaded with the young men of today to have backbone that would make them stand up, and show the world that they were in the right and that they were proud of it. Any man can fall in line with the sinner, but it takes a good man to say "No" to the tempter of evil things.

T. C. U. BEATS TEXAS A. & M.

Bassler Pitches Great Ball and Wins from Aggies 3-0---Both Teams Play Classy Ball

In one of the prettiest games of the season Thursday afternoon T. C. U. defeated Texas A. & M. by the score of 3 to 0. At was easily Bassler's game from start to finish. Only twice did the Farmers come near scoring, and each time Bassler worked out with all ease by wriffing the batsmen or making of them easy outs. Fifteen of the Farmers went out Bassler to Hopkins, while Skeeler was whiffing six. Collins for A. & M. delivered two of the hits to their credit and Walton for the locals led with a single and home run. Parks first time up hit for a single but sprained his ankle sliding into third, and Rattan was sent in to play first, filling the position in perfect form.

The game by innings was as follows:
First, A. & M.—Wright and Parr struck out; Bruton survived on Miller's error, but was caught stealing second. No hit, no runs.

First Inning, T. C. U.—Kirby struck out; McCowan hit one too fast for the Farmer second sacker and survived, but later was caught between first and second; Couch out, second to first.

Second Inning, A. & M.—Collins hit for two bases; Russell sacrificed in to third; McCullom attempted to sacrifice and Collins was caught at the plate; McCullom struck out. One hit, no runs.

Second Inning, T. C. U.—Hopkins out, second to first; Walton hit to center for one base, then stole second; Parks singled, advancing Walton to third, then stole second; McFarland sacrificed to center, scoring Walton; Miller struck out. Two hits one run.

Third Inning, A. & M.—Garrety struck out; Berringer out unassisted to first; Skeeler out, second to first. No hits, no runs.

Third, T. C. U.—Bassler flew out to second; Kirby whiffed; McCowan out, short to first.

Fourth, A. & M.—Wright singled and stole second; Parr sacrificed him to second; Bruton attempted to sacrifice but popped up to Bassler; Collins out, second to first. One hit no runs.

Fourth, T. C. U.—Couch struck out; Hopkins flew out to left; Walton hit for four bases over deep center; Rattan out, second to first. One hit, one run.

Fourth, A. & M.—Russell out, Bassler to Rattan; McCullom and Garrety struck out. No hit, no runs.

Fifth, T. C. U.—McFarland survived on first's error; Miller whiffed; Bassler out, unassisted to first; Kirby out, second to first. No hits, no runs.

Sixth, A. & M.—Berringer struck out; Skeeler flew out to right; Wright popped to short. No hits, no runs.

Sixth, T. C. U.—McCowan lived on first's error and stole second; advanced to third on Couch's out, short to first; Hopkins sacrificed to first, scoring McCowan; Walton out, pitcher to first. No hits, one run.

Seventh, A. & M.—Parr struck out; Bruton out, Bassler to Rattan; Collins singled over short; Russell flew out to center.

Seventh, T. C. U.—Rattan struck out; McFarland singled but was caught stealing second; Miller out, second to first.

Eighth, A. & M.—McCullom struck out; Garrety lived on Miller's error; Berringer struck out; Skeeler singled, advancing Garrety to third; Wright out, Bassler to Rattan. One hit, no run.

Eighth, T. C. U.—Bassler out, pitcher to first; Kirby, second to first; McCowan, short to first.

Ninth, A. & M.—Parr struck out;

ROBERTS OPEN SESSION PROGRAM

Annual Event Is a Decided Success---
The Society Shows Much
Fine Material

Last Monday night the Roberts Literary Society gave their annual open session program. The program opened with the welcome address by Willis Stoveall. Stoveall's address was well rendered and full of good thought. In a very unique way he rapped out the ideas and intentions of his society. Following the welcome address Harry Stoveall read a paper on the "Americanizing of Panama." This number was good. His thought was excellent and he read his paper well. "How Paty Played" was read by Clyde Grissom. Regardless of the fact that Clyde has not been seen on the T. C. U. platform before, he seemed to feel perfectly at home and read as never a Roberts did read. His interpretation of Jud Brownin's comical reading was fine. One could almost hear "Paty" as he played his classical music. This number was a real treat. The Roberts Quartette sang the old sweet ballad, "Ben Bolt." They rendered this selection well. The music took well with the audience and as a result they had to give an encore. This was also a musical treat. The members of the quartette were Irvin Hefner, Anna McLendon, Noland Williams and George Mabree. Following the quartette Anderson Cagle delivered a declamation, "The Alamo and the New South." Cagle shows the best of material. The society that gets his name on its roll will be proud of him in the near future. The Journal read by Anna McLendon was good but a little long.

The program, as a whole, was good and the Roberts are to be complimented on their success. This society is doing some fine work and are really advancing rapidly.

Carl Tomlinson has just returned from quite an extensive visit. He represented T. C. U. in the State Peace Oratorical Contest. There were only three schools represented in this contest. These were Southwestern, State, and T. C. U. Southwestern's representative won first place by only four points. The second place, which was dangerously close, was taken by Carl Tomlinson. Roy G. Tomlinson, who represented the State, was a raduate of T. C. U. in '12. The contest was a success from every standpoint of view. The delegates were well treated and enjoyed the trip. From the contest Carl visited San Antonio and had "some time" seeing the sights there. Carl reports a splendid trip.

Margaret Gibson spent the weekend with Miss Hallie McPherson.

A PECULIAR IDEA.

Not long ago the editor received an article from a party whose ideas were strange indeed. It was the theory of this party that our yells should be cut out entirely. He also stated that he thought that it was intruding on the rights of the student body to ask them to yell when they did not want to.

If there is a student that goes to the "pep" meetings and to a college game and does not want to yell, then there is something seriously wrong with him, and his case should be looked into by some brain specialist. As for cutting our the college yell, that is absolutely absurd.

THE HOME COMING.

There is nothing that would please the students of Texas Christian University more than to have a real old-fashioned "home coming" of the Alumni. There is much to be gained by this plan of showing the spirit of loyalty for your Alma Mater. You will come to a new home of your old family, mingle with old-time companions, sing the good old songs that used to make you feel that you would never leave the dear old school that you seemed a part of and feel the new life of a college boy once again. There has not been a genuine home coming in T. C. U. for some time. The removal of T. C. U. from its home in Waco did not mean that we wanted to leave behind all of our older Alumni; far from that, we love and need every one that bears the name of Dear Old T. C. U. A great "home coming" is expected for this year. Fall in line and lay your plans to come home for commencement. The doors of Main building, the Dormitories, and even our own rooms are open to you. Come! We will all sing our college songs and be companions together. You will meet the Varsity men, your class-mates and companions that you have not seen in years.

MAKE A SMILE BANISH A FROWN.

Life on earth is what our surroundings are. If we have pleasant surroundings we say that our life is pleasant. If in turn we are surrounded by sad things our lives are sad. Are you making the lives of your companions full of pleasures and ease by saying nice things and looking pleasant? It is easier on both parties to say nice things and to wear a smile. We sometimes forget that there is any pleasure in life except that of downing the other fellow. This selfish spirit has ruined the happiness of more people than any other one thing. Did you ever notice that the happiest person in your acquaintance is one that is always jolly and greets you with a smile or at least a pleasant look. They do not live in themselves alone but are looking out for the welfare of the other parties in their social reach. Miserable is the miser that stores about him all of the gold that he can possibly lay hands on. This is just as true with the miser of pleasantness. Don't be a grouch, but try to make the other fellow happy, and it will surprise you how much better your whole system will work. A knocker is disposed by even his closest associates because he makes everything around him seem bad and not worth while. The gossip is a dangerous companion because the truth is not known to them and they will say the same things about you that they do to you about other people. The person that is always welcome is he who greets you in a pleasant manner and makes even the shadows give light. If you want to be happy, make other people happy.

IDEALS.

The ideal is the self-elected model of the individual. It is an evolution. Ideals were not always what they are now. They have risen like coral islands, built of the multitudinous upstrivings of humanity. The element of the human temperament which has brought about our present ideals is Restlessness, the eternal desire for something better. Of such is Progress.

The functions of the ideal are numerous. It sets a standard for development, stimulates self-improvement and comforts the individual in time of disappointment. It is their last office which I wish most to stress. Let a man have noble ideals and he himself will in time become noble. The ideal is always ready to aid. It climbs toward the heavens like an Alpine guide and pulls the individual after it. The sooner men see in ideals the comforters and friends which they really are the better it will be for their advancement, for ideals are the product of experience and are therefore apt to be wise. Let us then join in an effort to build more concisely these comforters, these peculiar pilots of civilization—these ideals—and attempt to engrave the best of them upon each human heart. Thus would the world be bettered.

CLARK MEMORIAL HALL.

Work Begun Again—Enough Money on Hand to Put on Roof.

We are pleased to announce that, though work has been stopped on Clark Hall for some time for lack of funds, the builders are again at work and will not stop until the roof is on, at least. The building, which is to be four stories high, now has two stories up; and the $10,000 in cash now on hand will be enough to put on the roof. By that time it is hoped that the subscription will be completed and that work will not stop again until the hall is finished before September. Those who have never been here can scarcely realize the great necessity for the completion of Clark Hall. A failure to finish it by the opening of the next session would amount to a calamity, not only because the Reed and Jarvis gifts are conditioned upon its completion, but because of the cramped condition of the student body for lack of suitable rooming places. It is estimated that the completion of Clark Hall by September 1 will mean an increase of $10,000 annually to the revenue of the institution, from room rents, fees and interest on endowment gifts which will thus become available. ment campaign the following sub-	Denton	250.00

"A MONUMENTAL BONEHEAD."

In one of the late dailies there was an "elaborate" article in which the "author" made himself a very nice little schedule and then blamed some one else with it. Just where the "bonehead" lies is not a question in the minds of those that fully know the case. The two "hard games" with Poly were only the dream of a sporting editor. The game with Baylor was well in this class, for only one game will be played with Baylor. Just what dope the "author" of this piece had on the trip is not known, but he did not seem to know the facts, at least. The article closed with the announcement of the hard games with Poly and the climax was "good-night." Just whether this good-night was meant for Poly or not will be seen when the season closes. T. C. U. still has a good chance for the pennant, and there are no "rocks" ahead of us. The "monumental bonehead" was pulled by the man that wrote the article and not the men that arranged the T. C. U. schedule.

The correct schedule is as follows:
May 1—Baylor.
May 2, 3—Southwestern at Georgetown.
May 5, 6—Texas U. at Austin.
May 7, 8—Trinity at Waxahachie.

Wilber Brown, an old T. C. U. student, was here visiting his friends this week. Wilber has the T. C. U. spirit and says that he is coming back next year to help make a winning football team.

A LINE FROM IOTA.

I sat on the bank of the river, my fishing pole in my hand;
I unwrapped the cord from around it, and dug my toes in the sand.
And now as I think about it, I was the happiest boy in the land.

I put on a worm in a hurry, threw my hook in sorter light,
I had hardly gotten fixed before my cork was out o' sight.
And now as I remember, it gave me an awful fright.

I sat there for a second, I suppose, as white as a sheet.
I then let a whoop and a holler, and sprang upon my feet.
And now as I think about it, prepared for a whale to meet.

I tugged and strained for a moment, my brain all in a curdle,
I ganged the wire fence behind me, and wondered if it I could hurdle.
But now as I remember, the monster was—only a tiny turtle.

And such is our everyday life, as in our minds we often ponder,
We seem to think we're a genius, or destined to be a wonder,
But if we'll only stop and think, it's just like the thing back yonder.
—Iota.

A MESSAGE FROM PROF FARIS.

In a letter to a friend in T. C. U. Prof. Faris says:

"I am very busy and very happy in my work here. There are so many features about a great university that people misunderstand unless they are able to stay long enough to get into the very heart of the matter. I think no one ever knows the real joys of study till one is an accepted candidate for the doctor's degree in a great university. I had always thought that, in a great university the students find it impossible to get into close contact with the professors, and that is true with the undergraduates and the people who are not in line for advanced degrees, but no student in T. C. U. is quite so closely associated with the members of the faculty as I am with my teachers here. To be sure, there are more than 400 teachers in this institution and I do not know them all equally well, and many of them I do not know at all, but the two departments in which I do my work have seven men in their faculties and the fellowship is as delightful as you could imagine.

"You see, there are only a small number of students in any one department who are in direct line for the doctor's degree, and therefore it is not a difficult matter to be accessible to us all.

"We have weekly meetings of the Psychological Club and there is always a representative of the faculty with us and sometimes the whole psychological faculty. We all get around a big table and talk over the problems of mutual interest. The Philosophical Club does not meet quite so frequently, every two weeks in fact, but the professors are usually all there and we have great times.

In addition to these meetings of a regular and formal character, we are supposed to go to them and tell them our troubles, whenever we can find a convenient opportunity. And they are all great men, great in their sympathies, their scholarship and their desire to be helpful."

Prof. Faris was asked to teach in the University before he received his doctor's degree, something that had never been asked before. Also, a Summer Bulletin of the University of Chicago has been received by the University, and Prof. Faris will teach elementary ethics and will be assistant in psychology. A copy is on file in the library.

We have all missed Prof. Faris but are glad to know he has had such splendid success in his work. We will accord him a very hearty welcome in September, when he returns to T. C. U. to take up his work.

THIS SUMMER?

Yes, beginning June 16 and ending August 3.

Very hot there?
No, it will be held on the hill-top where it is breezy.

Do I need it?
Sure, everybody does.
Will it increase my salary?
Yes. Ask any business man for his opinion.

How much will it cost?
$12.50 for either, or both for $17.50.
All right. Put me down for both Bookkeeping and Shorthand for the Summer Term.

For further information write to L. A. Eubanks, care Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

A number of T. C. U. students were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Odem at their home on East Edwards. The occasion was a surprise birthday dinner, which was given Mr. Odem by his wife. The evening was a very enjoyable one. The dinner was extraordinarily well prepared. Mr. Odem is a student in the Medical College and is well liked by his classmates and acquaintances. Those present were L. L. Livsey, C. M. Livsey, Roy Scroggins, Shelly Watson, W. R. Lines and Dr. Allen.

Are you getting in line for the summer school? It is almost time for the end of this term. That means that summer school will soon be here.

ORATORY NOTES.

Miss Florine Bradford read for the annual Confederation Day services. Her reading was highly appreciated.

A program will be given at the Byers Opera House for the purpose of raising funds to send Confederate troops to the reunion in Chattanooga, Tenn. The T. C. U. students who will read are Miss Florine Bradford, Miss Roberta Scott and Miss Juanita Kinsey.

J. Lindley Wood read for the state meeting of the I. O. O. F. His artistic reading was highly appreciated by the audience.

Miss Juanita Kinsey and J. Lindley Wood gave readings for the Polytechnic Civic Club which met at Mrs. Allison's.

On April 10th Miss Clyde B. Reeves, principal of the School of Oratory, read "Madam Butterfly," with a setting of the Puccini music, in Sherman. Miss Reeves gave the same program for a private musical comedy given by Mrs. Bomar in her beautiful Fort Worth home, Cobble Crest. This program was highly appreciated by these lovers of truly artistic readings.

Miss Toner is a new matriculate in this department.

Miss Sadie Gainer has been appointed sponsor for the Fifth Brigade, Confederate Veterans Convention, which is to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn. She will read several poems from Father Ryan.

Miss Reeves read "Hiawatha," with a musical setting selected from Coe's Indian themes, before the Wednesday Club. This is the third program that she has rendered for this club. Miss Reeves first read Ibsen's "Peer Gynt." The second time she read Burnett's "Dawn of a Tomorrow." To a T. C. U. audience Miss Reeves is perfection, but when people like those who compose the Wednesday club indorse her so heartily it makes us think still more of her.

T. C. U. LOSES IN TENNIS.

Last Friday on the T. & P. Reservation courts, Poly won from Tomlinson and Chancy of T. C. U. in the deciding games of the tennis series between these two schols.

In the doubles, Tomlinson didn't play up to his usual form, consequently our boys didn't put up the game they are capable of playing. After the first set, which we lost 6 to 1, he began to get back to his usual form. We won the second set 6 to 4, but Doty and Barber, the Poly boys, came back strong and won the deciding set. Both of these boys are good tennis players, especially Barber.

The singles furnished a hotly contested fight. Barber and Tomlinson are about equal, but Tomlinson was not at his best that day so Barber took the first two sets by a score of 6 to 4 and 8 to 6.

Take your "mysterious rags" to Alen Freeman and have them pressed.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT.

Herbert Bozeman has the old-time pep. He is a loyal supporter of every college ball game where T. C. U. plays a part. That is the pep, "Bo."

Austin, Texas.

W. R. Lines, Editor Skiff.

I have just read your last issue of The Skiff, ads and all (you know I used to sweat blood in the "Skiff ad relm" myself, and still have fond recollections thereof), and as usual enjoyed it immensely.

Say, I like your idea of reviving the Alumni news column. It is a greater thing for us than you might think. Those of us who have experienced four or more years of never-to-be-forgotten association quite naturally read with interest the message of former companions. And, too, it is a great thing for T. C. U., in that, to a marked extent, the University must look to its Alumni for largest loyalty and boosting. Closer interest binds us closer together. And better still do I like the idea of a '13 "home coming," as suggested by Howell G. Knight. Half of my four years in T. C. U. were spent in Waco. We have never had in Fort Worth, in the two years, the crowds of Alumni and old students back for commencement as we had in Waco. We have made no effort to bring them back, and unless we make them feel that we want them, and that T. C. U. is the same "old peppery" T. C. U. as she was in Waco, we can never expect the greatest loyalty from the older Alumni. Let us get together—a "home coming" this commencement will be the greatest of revivals. Encourage it; push it through The Skiff—that part is up to you, we will do the rest. As Knight says, so I shall say: "Count on me to be muchly at our 'home coming' commencement, '13." Yours for T. C. U.,

ROY G. TOMLINSON, '12.

Robert Abernathy, '11, of Dallas, spent the week-end with his many friends in dear old T. C. U. Come over often Abernathy, we are always glad to see you.

BARACA-PHILATHEA PICNIC.

At 4 o'clock the two classes gathered in front of Jarvis Hall and strolled down to the park, reaching there about 4:45. The first part of the evening was taken up in enjoying the swings, benches and so forth in the park. The evening was a splendid one and reminded us all of the good old-fashioned country picnics that we used to attend in our earlier days. In the early evening the sun was rather warm but there was plenty of good shade trees and a nice cool breeze. In the later evening the sun being gone the park was cool and delightful. The supper was spread on a large table cloth which lay on the grass. The table was loaded with good things to eat and the hungry crowd did justice to the spread. After the ice cream was finished the jolly crowd gathered for a few games, "Three Deep" being the most popular of the evening. The remainder of the evening was taken up in the stroll home in the cool refreshing eventide. The picnic was indeed a success and every one seemed to enjoy themselves. We are looking forward to another one of these pleasant evenings before school is out.

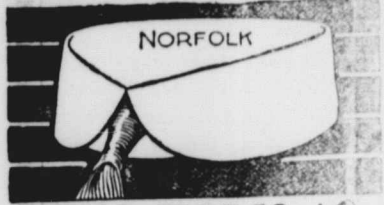

Mr. Reaugh, of Dallas, gave an out-of-door sketching lesson for the benefit of the students in the art class. Mr. Reaugh painted a beautiful landscape before the class and donated it to the art rooms. He is much pleased with the beautiful scenery that lies around the University. Mr. Reaugh is well known throughout the state and this lesson was indeed a treat to the art students. There were several artists from town that came out and took advantage of this lesson from the much-skilled painter.

Libbie Wade is visiting in Waco this week.

Effie Floyd of the city spent Saturday night in Jarvis Hall.

All are glad to have Edith Easley and Willie Walker back again, if only for a few days.

President F. O. Kershner will be the president of the Texas Missionary Convention, which will be held in San Angelo. This meeting will be held from May 12th to 15th.

HUNTER MEETS WITH Y. M. C. A.

At a late meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Hunter gave a splendid talk on the benefits that a Students' Summer Conference would be to both the students that went and the university that sent them. The representatives will meet with students from all over the world and will have the advantage of coming in contact with men of untold worth as leaders and organizers. No young man can afford to miss this rare treat. See Gordon McFarland and get the full particulars.

The Scrummage Club of '12 held a reunion the first of this week. This club is composed of girls that have the "old-time pep" and are genuine good friends to T. C. U. They are enjoying themselves while here by having a jolly good time and mixing with the old-time friends. The members are as follows: Miss Edith Easley, Miss Willie Walker, Miss Catherine Dodd and Miss Nell Andrews.

Allen Freeman has returned to school and has taken up work. Allen has been teaching near Longview. We are indeed glad to have him with us and hope that his stay in our midst is a pleasant one. Welcome home, Freeman.

John Allen Rawlen's father and mother visited him the latter part of the week.

Roy Scroggins spent the latter part of the week at his home in Rogers.
