

BASCOM N. TIMMONS
CORRESPONDENT
1253-55 NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C.

April 22, 1939.

Mr. Amon G. Carter, President,
Fort Worth Star-Telegram,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Carter:

Jim North and I were up to visit Mr. Garner at his office off the Senate Chamber Wednesday. When we were ready to leave he asked Mr. North to go over to the other office to see the portraits of himself and Mrs. Garner. The V.P. asked Mr. North to tell you that he thought the likeness of both he and Mrs. Garner were the best that had been painted.

He told Mr. North that he had had seven or eight painted and liked the one of him by Stone the best. When we got over to the other office we saw Stone and Mrs. Garner. Mrs. Garner was very proud of both portraits. She said the one of Mr. Garner was a speaking likeness. Both of them said a lot more about it as Mr. North will tell you.

I had Miss Deakins' letter today and was glad to hear that you are getting along so well.

Lots of things are happening here as you see by the newspapers.

With all best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

B. N. Timmons

