

Frogs Bag Title, Bowl Game, Holiday

Juniors Set For Tamales, Hay Tonight

"Oh, Lulabelle! Would you care to go for a moonlit ride tonight?" "Why, Ebenezzar, I've always loved to go on hayrides."

Thus, Junior John and Junior Jane are making arrangements to take an old fashioned ride on a horse drawn wagon piled high with sweet smelling hay. The occasion is the junior class hayride scheduled for tonight — barring rain.

All Junior Ebenezzars and Lulabellas will meet at the Arch at 8 o'clock this afternoon and proceed in cars to the Foley Farm about 12 miles out of town. Class Proxy Tuppy Lee has made arrangements for transportation. Each car will receive a number and the juniors will draw corresponding numbers out of a big hat. In that way, each sailor or civilian will find a cute little snootie all ready and waiting to be a datin'.

Betsy Jean Schmuck will have charge of filling the feed bags, but the juniors will be responsible for emptying them.

Then comes the big event of the evening. Yeah, the hayride. Farmer Foley promises horses with a wagon big enough to hold 60 amateur farmers and farmerettes. And if the space gets a little crowded, then it's all the more fun. You can't be an anti-socialist on this ride, bub!

Near and dear to the hearts of the Navy is the fact that special liberty has been extended for tonight's fun making. (That's providing the guy didn't use up his leave at the dance last night.) Of course, there's an 11 o'clock deadline, but after eating tamales, etc., and basking in party moonlight, a fellow's bound to be a little tired.

The price situation is right hand, too, only 35 cents per person. There's no use in taking a date, you'll just get mixed up in the swivling, anyhow.

V-12 Unit to Give Christmas Party

An all-campus Christmas party will be given by the V-12 unit from 7:30 to 11 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 14. Jim Davis and Dave Hibbard are in charge of the arrangements.

"It will be an informal no-date affair," Dave says, "and everyone is supposed to come and have fun."

Dancing will be one part of the program. Dave says he will welcome novel ideas from any club or individual who would like to help. The party will be in the Gymnasium.

Debate Team to Meet Pepperdine College

The T. C. U. debate team is scheduled to meet George Pepperdine College here on the evening of Dec. 12. The subject will be the Pi Kappa Delta question: "Resolved: That the federal government should enact legislation requiring the settlement of all labor disputes by compulsory arbitration when voluntary means of settlement have failed, constitutionality considered."

One-Act Play Set for Dec. 5

Two Clubs Will See Miss Rose Million's Own 'Pretty Maiden'

The words, "Tell me, pretty maiden," are not necessarily followed by "Are there any more at home like you?" as students who attend the presentation of Miss Rose Million's original one-act play will find out.

The play, "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden," is to be given before a joint open meeting of the Dramatic Club and Sigma Tau at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Recital Hall. The play is the story of the professor's daughter with a new twist and is clever enough to warrant more than only club members attending.

Miss Peggy Faught, as the 14-year-old Chessy Bradford, has the leading role, and the burden of the play rests on her shoulders, but the person that the audience will remember is V-12er Richard

Presentation Ball Set for Dec. 9

"White Christmas" will be the theme of the Presentation Ball for the 1945 Horned Frog beauties. The ball will be from 9 to 12 o'clock next Saturday night in the Basketball Gymnasium.

The dance will be formal with an orchestra. The favorites will be presented individually during the early part of the evening.

Advance bids go on sale today. The price is $1.25 for a couple or stag. Those selling the bids are Misses Shirley Glasscock, Elizabeth Glasscock, Janie Coffin, Mary Lou Slay and Janet Kroll and Dave Hibbard, C. A. Fagan and Bob Matthey.

The twelve class beauties who will be presented are Misses Joan Gardner, Wilma Faye McGlothlin, Shirley Glasscock, Betty Jean Schmuck, Elizabeth Glasscock, Elaine Henderson, Peggy Shamburger, Janet Kroll, Peggy Glover, Judy Evans, Mary Evelyn Shepherd and Barbara McPherson.

'Twas Honeymoon for Lees—

Houston Trek "Wonderful" Despite Rain, "Bull Frog"

An all-night trip on the train, cars full of T. C. U. students, everyone holding their breath for about the last three minutes of the ball game, the band playing the fight song over and over as the Frogs held Rice on the one-yard line, a pep rally on the street in Houston, T. C. U. pennants with "Bull Frogs" on them and a mighty happy bunch of football players, as well as a mighty happy Dutchman all went to make up a wonderful week-end that made T. C. U. the "Southwest Conference Champions."

Among the passengers on the Zephyr Friday afternoon were the newlyweds, Dorothy Anderson and Bill Lee, who didn't seem to mind having a "Just Married" sign on the back of their seats. Bridge games were going fast and furious on the train where most of the

Sug Herds Cows, Roy Rogers Sings For Rodeo Debut

From sweating a biology exam to riding with Roy Rogers, cowboy singing star, in Madison Square Garden is quite a jump, but the distance did not frighten Sug Owens, ex '44, native of Ozona.

Sug joined the Madison Square Garden Rodeo in New York City after being selected by representatives at a Midland Rodeo last June to share the sponsorship with five other Texas cowgirls.

The Rodeo played to New York and Boston audiences for eight weeks during September and October. Sug's performance consisted of being introduced by Rogers and of herding Longhorn cattle in and out of the arena while Rogers sang.

The most thrilling highlight of her stay in New York, Sug reports, was being introduced to and photographed with Frank Sinatra. Sug appeared on several radio programs and was once interviewed by Babe Ruth.

Only unpleasant experience Sug remembers was the strict ruling by the Rodeo committee that the girls must at all times appear in their Western costumes. Sug declared that she was glad to return to Texas and to skirts.

Becker, McKee, Manly Sworn In By Council

Miss Ellen Becker from Foster Hall and Miss Bonna McKee from Jarvis Hall have been named Student Council representatives from the two girls' dormitories. The two girls were sworn in at the Council meeting Tuesday. Hollis Manly, new Clark Hall representative, was also sworn in.

Sophomores Plan Social For Early Part of Year

A social will be given by the sophomore class soon after the first of the year. President C. A. Fagan reports. This was decided at a meeting this week, at which time the class also decided to lend full support to the New Year's holiday plan.

Campus to Close Up Jan. 1 For Trek to Dallas to View TCU-Oklahoma A&M Contest

All this and a holiday too! Classes will be dismissed for New Year's Day so that students, both civilian and V-12, and faculty members can attend the T. C. U.-Oklahoma A. & M. Cotton Bowl contest. The Horned Frogs won the Southwest Conference title and the right to play in the Cotton Bowl by defeating Rice 9 to 0 in Houston Saturday (details on Page 3). The 1945 Cotton Bowl appearance will make the fifth bowl game for Coach Dutch Meyer's teams in 11 seasons. The Frogs won the 1936 Sugar Bowl contest from

Service Flag At Assembly To Be Presented Next Friday, With Plans for War Memorial Fund

The new service flag will be presented to the student body at a general assembly at 10 a. m. next Friday. Only students will be on the program. After the flag is presented, the fund for a memorial to T. C. U. exes killed in service will be inaugurated.

The regular drive for the fund will not begin until Jan. 1, but it will be explained to the students at the assembly.

It will be called the "Major Horace Carswell Fund," in honor of an ex who recently gave his life trying to save a crew member on his bomber. Although the fund is named for one man, the memorial will be erected in honor of all those T. C. U. exes who gave their lives.

Miss Williams Is Band Sweetheart

Miss Frances Williams was elected "Band Sweetheart" at a secret election held Wednesday night, reports Leon Breeden, band director.

Miss Williams will be presented during half time activities at the T. C. U.-S. M. U. game Saturday afternoon. The band will march over to the T. C. U. student section, and take Miss Williams out on the field after the Alma Mater has been played. "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" will be played during the formal presentation, at which time, Director Breeden will present her with the traditional bouquet of flowers. After the Fight Song is played, Miss Williams will march off the field with the band. She will march with the band at the Cotton Bowl game, too.

'The Color Is Gray' To Be Sunday Sermon

"The Color Is Gray" will be the subject of Rev. Granville Walker's sermon Sunday morning at the University Christian Church. For the prelude, Miss Q'Zella Oliver Jeffus will play "Melodie" by Rachmaninoff, and for the offertory, "Consolation," by Mendelssohn.

The choir will sing "Adoremus Te Christe," by Mozart. At Evensong, the message will be delivered by Clinton Henderson. Miss Phala Davis will give the interpretative reading.

L. S. U. 3 to 2. They defeated Marquette 16 to 6, in the first Cotton Bowl game, Jan. 1, 1937. Carnegie Tech was defeated 15 to 7 in the 1939 Sugar Bowl game. The Frogs lost to the University of Georgia, 26 to 49, when they appeared in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1, 1942.

4th Title for T. C. U. Winning of this year's conference title marks the fourth time T. C. U. has copped the conference championship. The 1922 eleven, captained by Line Coach Mike Brumbelow, now a Navy lieutenant, won T. C. U.'s first grid title.

The 1932 team, led by All-American Johnny Vaught, not only won the flag, but was the first team in conference history to defeat all six of the other elevens.

The 1938 Horned Frogs were T. C. U.'s best. They were undefeated, untied and unextended during the regular season of 10 games, and were victors over Carnegie Tech in the Sugar Bowl. All-American I. B. Hale was captain of that great eleven, which was ranked No. 1 in the nation by most handicappers. But there were two other all-Americans on the team—Davey O'Brien, passer de luxe, and Ki Aldrich, center extraordinary.

Robert Callahan Heads V-12 Welfare Committee

Robert Callahan has been named new chairman of the Navy V-12 welfare committee. Those serving with him are Jim Davis, Dave Hibbard, James Jones, Randall Kerstein, Ed Mugge, John Pace and James Turner.

This committee takes care of the "Modified Ship Service" which is composed of the coke, candy and cigarette machines. It budgets and spends the net profits from these machines for the welfare of the unit. It also arranges the social calendar and gives at least one major party for the student body each trimester.

Jack De Forest to Speak, Show Slides on Colombia

Jack De Forest, ex '32, will give a lecture and show slides on life in Colombia before an open meeting of Los Hijalgos at 4:30 Monday afternoon in Room 8, Administration Building. That room has recently been equipped to show motion pictures.

De Forest has been employed with an oil company in Colombia for the past six years. He is visiting in Fort Worth while on his vacation.

The Fighting Frogs

An Army lieutenant in Italy, an ensign in the WAVES in San Diego, a sergeant in France, an apprentice seaman in Louisiana and a Marine lieutenant in the South Pacific are all happy this week, or they will be when the news reaches them. Because those service men and women are T. C. U. exes and they know that their Alma Mater has won the Southwest Conference Championship.

You see, it's not just the football players, the coaches and students in school now who are happy about the victory.

Sports announcers and writers called the Frogs an inspired ball team this year, and well they should. They have fought with more spirit than any Horned Frog team has had in many years. Those boys may not everyone be all-conference and they may not be the best players T. C. U. ever had, but ask anybody and they will tell you that T. C. U. never had a football team to fight harder and win against more odds.

An ex wrote from overseas: "There's going to be one red-faced lieutenant in Africa if T. C. U. doesn't win the conference." Another wrote from California and said "To save my reputation, T. C. U.

has to win Saturday, so holler loud for me too."

A lot of G. I.'s are proud to say, "That's where I went to school."

Leadership is a quality which few persons possess, but many would like to possess. But, since it takes less effort to be a follower, many campus activities center around a few students. These are the real T. C. U. leaders who organize the clubs and plan activities for the others, many of whom never participate.

Indifference, rather than lack of opportunity, is the key reason some students on this campus do not belong to even one organization. Those who are dissatisfied with college are the very ones who attend classes and nothing else.

It is true that it takes a greater effort on the part of the town student than the dorm student to participate in campus activities. Yet both the town and dorm student have the same opportunity to lead and to take part in school affairs. That is, if the desire is strong enough. There's plenty of room for more leaders and new faces in T. C. U. activities. A little Frog now could be a big Frog later. How soon can you make the jump?

Rabbit Chaser
Town Girls Take Over

Ed Gorum, graduate ministerial student, became a blood donor this week. Now he's wondering if the step has damaged his reputation to the extent that his career as a parson might be affected. Just after preparations for the transfusion had started, the attending physician noted Ed's hepped-up pulse rate (you'd be scared too!), halted the procedure and asked quite bluntly: "Young man, have you been drinking?" Ed says he had had a Dr. Pepper.

Frequent visitor to third-floor speech classes is "Woody," perky red-headed woodpecker who perches on the window sill and attempts to knock his way into an education. His pecking, which can be heard over the voice of Speech Profs. Katherine Norton and L. D. Fallis, often causes the teachers to pause in their lectures and shush the wood-thirsty bird. No one knows whence or why he comes. Some say that he is a reincarnated speech major. Others insist that he is just a jealous relative of "Woody Woodpecker" of the movies.

Elaine Dybvig, sophomore from Dayton, O., has issued a challenge to all campus fashion plates. Elaine claims to have the longest blonde tresses, longest fingernails, and the sloppiest sweaters on the campus. Besides these assets, she is a ballet dancer, poetess and an expert on chocolate cakes. Her latest interest is ice skating, but she makes no claims in this field. She would trade her longest sweater for 10 easy lessons!

Chasing rabbits has been lots of fun for Beatrice Bukowski. It all started when a cottontail bobbed up in front of her on the campus late one evening and she tried to catch it. The pursuit ended by her running into one of the V-12 sailors. Now she is always on the look-out!

"Spot," the pooch that holds forth around the Drug, is one of the shrewdest canines in the business. A rubber ball, or even a block of wood, and strong throwing arm is all that Spot asks of his opponent. After his adversary has tossed the ball in any direction, Spot is off with a flash. He always snares the pawn by the second bounce, and usually has the situation in hand on the first bounce. By resorting to sleight of hand and other unethical tactics, a few opponents have managed to finesse Spot, but only momentarily. And never will the same skullduggery work a second time.

Seems as though Fort Worth girls have about taken over Jarvis Hall. There are 13 currently living there (Jarvisites can't decide whether they're lucky or unlucky!). Transportation being what it is in war time (these ration boards ARE tough!) the girls probably found that they couldn't make an 8 o'clock class and live at home. Then there's another advantage — you really get in on campus activity and fun when you live in the dorm. "Home was never like this!" is the verdict of one of the Cowtown coeds.

by President M. E. Sadler on behalf of a committee, composed of himself, Dean Jerome Moore, Prof. Charles R. Sherer, Prof. W. M. Winton and Lieut. George C. Decker, involves making up a part of the work that will be missed.

Morning Classes Dismissed
Monday afternoon classes and laboratories will be held from 12 noon to 4:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 30. Monday morning classes will be dismissed.

"With the students' co-operation, this plan can be worked out, thus making it unnecessary to change the Christmas holiday period in order to have New Year's off," President Sadler comments.

The Council and the faculty committee ask that as many students as possible provide their own transportation to the Cotton Bowl, to avoid overcrowding trains and busses.

guard for the band. His home is in Houston, and he made arrangements for trucks to carry the instruments to Ownby Stadium. Then he had to run around and get the horns covered up when the Houston skies opened up, and the rains came.

James Barber was the luckless band member who, when drilling between halves on the field, slipped in the mud and came up with black trousers.

It was practically a second homecoming for exes Jane Morrison, Ruth Ball, Genevieve and Floppy Blackmon, Bebe Latham Bagley and Mabel and Marnel Wright.

Everyone got wet, most everyone (especially the yell leaders) got muddy, everyone was tired and sleepy and everyone got a little behind in their work by missing a few classes, but no one cared, because the Frogs had won the conference title and they were already making plans to go to the T. C. U.-S. M. U. game and to the Cotton Bowl.

One-Act Play

Molony, who plays Prof. David Bradford, Chessy's father. His part is not particularly outstanding, but his delivery is enough to make some of T. C. U.'s veteran leading men look to their laurels.

Some of the funniest lines in the play are dead-panned by Miss Alice Loudon, who is cast as the maid Agatha. If she can keep a straight face and not rush her lines, Miss Loudon should have the audience in perpetual giggles.

Miss Katherine Alfred as Donna, Miss Dorothy Nuss as Marion Fraizer, V-12er Harold Sims as Blair Fraizer and Roy Jo Cates as William Fraizer complete the cast.

Miss Million's play won the 1944 William P. Baker Drama Prize, and it is the second time within recent years that a student's original play has been produced on the campus, says Miss Mable Major. In 1943, Franklin Adkins wrote and produced "The Jazzarine," a poetic drama, for Sigma Tau and the Poetry Club.

An initiation of new members to Sigma Tau will precede the play. The initiation will be at 7 p. m. in Room 304.

Pfe. David S. Handy, ex '41, will graduate in December from radio gunner's school in Hawaii. He has recently returned from service on Tarawa and Kwajelin with the Army Air Forces.

Frogs Champs By 3 Points and 1 Yard

Frog Flashes

The Horned Frogs are again conference champs! This year's triumph makes the fourth one for T. C. U.—two by Schmidt-coached teams (1929 and 1932) and two by Meyer-coached elevens (1938 and 1944). Since T. C. U. was admitted to the conference, S. M. U. & M. have won 4½ titles, T. C. U. and Texas 4, Rice 2, and Baylor and Arkansas 1 each. Another year (1933) Arkansas made the best record but was disqualified for the title because an ineligible player had been used.

TCU Beats Rice 9-6 By Desperate Stand In Closing Seconds

Maybe it would be a good idea if the rules were changed so that football games would last but 59 minutes! Certainly it would take a great strain off the hearts of T. C. U. supporters.

The Horned Frogs beat the Owls 9 to 6 in Houston Saturday, but during the final seconds the Christians were subjected to tortures the like of which the old Roman emperors never thought of.

Capt. Clyde Flowers & Co. scored nine points quite readily in the first half, in spite of a driving rain during much of the 30 minutes.

The game was only 10 plays old when Harry Mullins kicked a perfect 3-pointer from the 10-yard line. The Frogs had kicked off, but Jim Copper intercepted an Owl pass on the third play of the game and ran it back 10 yards to the Rice 32. From there, the Frogs drove to the 2-yard marker, when, with fourth down and goal to go, they elected to try the field goal.

Shortly after this came the rains. There must have been more than one. There was too much water for a mere rain.

Long Pass Scores

Early in the second quarter, Merle Gibson recovered a fumble by Rice's Jess Mason on the Owl 16. But two penalties set the Frogs back to the Rice 35, wiping out good gains. So Red Hadaway grabbed the wet, slick ball and let fire. Gibson made a perfect catch on the 5 and went on over with the Rice defender hanging on. Harry Mullins missed the extra point try.

Some great punting by Bill Scruggs gave the Owls possession on the Frog 20 after several kicks had been exchanged. They made a first on the 9, but in four tries could advance only to the 3, where the ball went over to the Frogs. The half ended as Jesse Mason carried into the middle of the line.

The Owls, having found such merit in a punting game, started it again when the second half opened, and it paid off this time. Several exchanges gave the Owls possession on the Frog 34. Again they drove to a first on the 9-yard stripe but could make it only to the 3 in the allotted four plays.

Lawrence Scores for Owls

Ransom Jackson's kick went only 12 yards and the Owls had the ball again, on the T. C. U. 15. This time they got across in five plays, Frank Lawrence carrying the last yard on a quarterback sneak. Lawrence missed the extra point.

The Frogs had everything under control, driving to the Owl 9-yard line early in the fourth, until a Rice punt accidentally touched Norman Cox on the Frog 44, giving the Owls possession at that point.

This break fired the Owls to the point where they almost won the game. With about a minute to play, Rice drove to a first down on the T. C. U. 1-yard line. A quarterback sneak failed to gain an inch.

Here the Owls got a 5-yard penalty for too many times out, pushing the ball back to the 6, and T. C. U. fans quit holding their breath. The last Owl play was thrown for a 3-yard loss, placing the ball on the 9-yard line and putting T. C. U. in the champion's seat for 1944.

Lester, Hale, Roach, Vaught, Brumelow, Alford and other great captains of other years.

First Cage Tilt Monday Night

Coch Hub's Boys Will Meet Grand Prairie Navy on T. C. U. Court

The Horned Frogs open their 1944-45 basketball season here Monday night when they face one of the stronger North Texas service clubs, Grand Prairie Naval Air Station, in the Basketball Gymnasium, starting at 8 p. m.

Coach Hub McQuillan will use two separate teams, one composed of civilians and the other of Naval trainees. This plan was adopted when it was disclosed that the V-12's would not be permitted to go on the Eastern tour.

The civilians will probably take the court first, with a starting five including Keith Hensley and Leroy Paseo, forwards; Gene Schmidt, center, and George Sauer and Jordan Rothbart, guards. Max Mohrke and R. G. Pearson, forwards; Bob Peacock, center, and Howard Overbeck and Bob Crow, guards, make up the Navy starting quintet.

Hensley will be the tallest boy on the starting five at 6 feet, 3 inches. His running mate, Paseo, has come up from the substitute ranks and has developed into one of the better boys on the squad. Schmidt is living up to pre-season expectations and has shown championship form throughout the work-outs. Sauer and Rothbart are both steady ball players and unusually adept at hitting the bucket.

On the civilian reserve list are such worthies as Tom Gatzek, T. L. Griffin, Virgil Thornburg and M. J. Baker, all experienced boys. Those to play behind the Navy starters include Eddie Riddle, R. E. Jones, Richard Chu and C. D. Smith.

McQuillan also reports the scheduling of another game. The Frogs will meet Hamline University of St. Paul, Minn., in Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 20. The Frogs now have a 29-game schedule confronting them.

The cagers will sorely miss the services of Footballers Merle Gibson and Norman Cox, who will remain with the grid squad through Jan. 1, when they meet Oklahoma A. & M. in the Cotton Bowl.

V-12 Unit Ranks Third In Physical Fitness

The T. C. U. V-12 unit ranked third in recent physical fitness tests in the Eighth Naval District. The results of the V-12 strength tests were: Maintenance group, 62.8 per cent; basic group, 59.6 per cent. A rating of 50 per cent is considered standard for Navy requirements.

Can Frogs Ride Mustangs? Is Big Question Tomorrow At Ownby Stadium Rodeo

The Horned Frogs got half the bacon, plowed the Farmers under, dined on Steer steak and gave the Owls the bird. Now can they ride the Mustangs?

Accumulated evidence says they can. But tomorrow afternoon presents one of those occasions where the enemy has everything to gain and nothing to lose—and anything might happen.

T. C. U. and S. M. U. have almost always been unpredictable when they met on the gridiron. This year is no exception.

Will the Frogs, having the championship safely in their possession, experience a let-down? Will the Mustangs, now resting in the cellar, rise to the heights of a victory over the champs, and thus wind up a bad season in a blaze of glory?

There's no certain answer to such questions, but those who have been closest to the Frogs all season refuse to believe that the boys will give any less than their best against the Mustangs, even if the championship is in the bag.

Frogs Are Fighters

"Those kids don't know anything else but fight," Coach Dutch Meyer comments.

"I have coached teams with a lot more experience, and I've coached teams that played a smoother game of football, but I've never coached a team with a greater fighting spirit.

"I'm not sticking my neck out to the extent of predicting a victory, but I'll guarantee that those Frogs will put out, and don't you forget it!"

T. C. U. fans are hoping for a dry field for a change. They know the Frogs have a potent passing attack. If they can have a chance to use this, it will pay off not only on its own, but it will also loosen up the defense so that the running game, which has gone pretty well all season, will have a still better chance to succeed.

T. C. U. Likes Mud

But Frog followers have no cause to fear a muddy game. The champs have given too good an account of themselves in the mud the last two Saturdays against Texas and Rice.

Better get over to the Ownby Stadium Rodeo tomorrow and watch the Frogs ride the Mustangs.

A. R. Moore Transfers To New Orleans Station

Classes, Fun, Do Mix For Campus 'Leaders'

Some students have a finger in every pie, some study most of the time and some strike a happy medium and try to mix their pleasure with their work. But it's the student with lots of irons in the fire that really gets around. A few try to take all the honors, and they do a pretty good job of it, such as JOAN GARDNER, who is president of the student body, president of Bryson Club, class beauty and a student assistant in the Library. SHERLEY GLASSCOCK is an important "character" on the campus too. She is editor of the Horned Frog, member of the Student Council, senior beauty and she was also Homecoming "Queen" this year.

The three girl yell leaders, BOMBER McGLOTHLIN, ELAINE Henderson and BETTY JEAN SCHMUCK, are all class beauties too, and Schmuckie is secretary of the Student Council. Boy Yell Leaders BOB CROW and BILL BASSETT come in for their share of glory too. Bob is also sophomore class vice-president.

Other presidents on the campus are PEGGY SHAMBURGER, head of both the "Y" and the Leti Club; C. A. FAGAN, head man for the sophomore class and third string halfback on the football team; AVIS HADDEN of the Poetry Club; and GLADYS CAIN, who is not only president of Parabola, but also a student assistant in the math department and member of the band.

DOLORES LAFFERTY holds all kinds of club offices. She is president of Alpha Chi, vice-president of the French club and secretary-treasurer of Phi Sigma Iota. Please note, two of those clubs are honor societies, smart girl! Speaking of the French club, which is called Les Grenouilles, NANCY BARNARD is its president.

DORIS MAHON, president of the Dramatic Club, has her hands full now directing the freshman production for the "Freshman-Sophomore Play Contest."

Another student who gets a large share of jobs is ELIZABETH GLASSCOCK. She is business manager of the 1945 Horned Frog, junior representative to the Student Council and junior class beauty.

Goode Hall has its own student leaders in the form of a council. The members are DEARL RICHARDSON, LOU WAGGONER and ED HENSON.

ALICE LOUDEN is secretary of both Brushes and the Dramatic Club and BOBBYE LEE RHEINLANDER is secretary-treasurer of the Poetry Club.

Last and probably the biggest student leaders (in size anyway) are Football Captains CLYDE FLOWERS and ZEKE CHRONISTER.

Kids Give Out With Jive At Freshman Vice Versa

Everyone agrees that the Gymnasium was really cooking with gas last night.

For that's where the freshman sponsored vice versa dance held forth from 7:30 p. m. until the wee hour of 10:30 p. m. Frosh Prexy Mary Claude ("Scotty") Scott met each couple at the door, and shook hands with the gal what brung the man. The gals all helped the guys off with their coats. Smokey Moore gave Dick Geib the signal to turn on "Old Man Juke Box," and thafun was on the fry. Sandy Hallman's date, Charlotte Childress, deserted him for the coke concession. (Which made the gal stags happy.) Norman Cox played bouncer, backing up his date, who had the job officially.

Sweaters and skirts were the vogue, and gals outnumbered the guys about 2-to-1. (Oh, Happy Day!)

Eugene Works On (Don't Know) At (Mustn't Tell)

Just after Eugene Slawson, A. B. '44, graduated from T. C. U. he went to work as a junior physicist in a Tennessee defense plant. Such secrecy prevailed that for several months he didn't know just what he was working on. But now, after 10 months, he has received a promotion and has been told a little more about what he is doing.

Currently visiting the campus, Slawson finds himself up a stump when his friends ask questions. He isn't turning loose any military secrets, and about all he can say is that he is near Nashville. The town in which his work is located has a name, but the government isn't giving it out for publication. The town grew up as a boom town because of the defense plant. It will appear on maps only after the war.
