

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Special Collections
Box 32904

Vol. 62, No. ~~12~~¹³, Nov. 19, 1985

2

'WINTER'S TALE' OPENS TODAY

Theatre TCU's production of the Shakespearean romance "The Winter's Tale" opens today (Tuesday) in University Theatre and continues through Sunday, playing at 8 p.m. nightly through Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free with TCU ID, and seat reservations may be made by calling Ext. 7626.

"The Winter's Tale" is the dramatic story of King Leontes of Sicilia, played by senior Barry Rowell of Fort Worth, who is visited by his longtime friend King Polixenes of Bohemia, performed by Fort Worth senior Andrew Boyer. When Polixenes talks of returning home, Leontes urges his wife Hermione (Megan Burnett of Oklahoma City) to insist on his staying longer.

Her kindness to their guest, however, rouses Leontes' jealousy, and he becomes convinced Polixenes is the father of her unborn child. Lord Camillo (Danny Tamez of Garland) reluctantly agrees to poison Polixenes provided Leontes will restore Hermione to favor. When Polixenes hurriedly leaves for home, Leontes' belief in his guilt is confirmed. Hermione is arrested on her husband's orders, and her baby daughter is born in prison, but Leontes has the infant removed to a desert and left to the mercy of the elements. Hermione collapses at her adultery trial, and Leontes is told she is dead.

The baby princess, Perdita (Guin Thelin of Omaha, NE), is found and raised by a shepherd. At 16, she wins the love of Prince Florizel (Matthew Guidry of Houston), son of Polixenes, who threatens his son with disinheritance if he carries on the unsuitable courtship of a shepherdess. Leontes learns she is his daughter and welcomes her joyously to the Sicilian court. Finally, Leontes is shown a "statue" of Hermione which descends from the pedestal, embraces him and prays to the gods to rain blessings on her daughter. The finale is charged with joy and hope.

"The Winter's Tale" is directed by Hank Hammack and has been designed in unconventional Art Nouveau style by seniors Lorie Grandclair of Sweetwater and Karen Price of Midland. The smooth flowing lines of Art Nouveau, they say, seem to communicate emotion in their grace.

WEINBERGER AGREES TO LATER DISCUSSION

Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger has agreed to a re-scheduling of the discussion of U.S./Soviet trade relations following the summit talks in Geneva. Requirements for his participation in presidential briefings for those talks and on-going Congressional budget hearings were reasons for his not being able to take part in the Nov. 13 symposium on campus that was canceled the day before.

In a late afternoon call Nov. 12 to Chancellor Bill Tucker, Weinberger expressed his apologies and his willingness to reschedule an appearance here. No other plans have been made at this time.

*** **

COMPUTER CENTER SETS AESOP CLASS

A class in Advanced Electronic Spreadsheet-Oriented Package (AESOP) will be offered by the Computer Center on Dec. 5. The 2-4 p.m. study will focus on features of the new spreadsheet available under MUSIC SP and its uses for such functions as budgets, student grade analysis and balance sheet analysis.

Atul Kuman will be instructor for the class, set for Room 143 of Sid W. Richardson Building. Enrollments are being taken by Vicki Vick at Ext. 7695.

*** **

BAD WEATHER POLICY IS REVISED

The University's bad weather policy has been revised following a review by Chancellor Bill Tucker and the vice chancellors. The recently released statement notes that, as general policy, offices and facilities will remain open at all times and that all members of the faculty, University staff and general staff are expected to make every reasonable effort to maintain regular attendance.

"In the event an individual feels that it would be either impossible or unwise to report for normal duty, he or she may count the missed time as vacation time," the policy states.

A copy of the revised policy, now in effect, is attached on a colored sheet to this bulletin. Supervisory personnel may wish to post copies in central office areas and/or call additional attention to the general procedures to be followed.

ASTRONAUT TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Astronaut Robert L. Stewart, one of the first two men to take part in untethered operations from a spacecraft in flight, will be on campus Nov. 22 to discuss the space shuttle program and its future. The Army colonel will lecture at 2 p.m. that day in Moudy Building 141. He also will be guest speaker for the Army ROTC Dining-In at Colonial Country Club that evening.

Stewart, who holds the bachelor's degree in mathematics from the University of Southern Mississippi and a master's in aerospace engineering from the University of Texas, entered the Army in 1964 and has been an experimental test pilot at Edwards Air Force Base, CA. He took part in engineering flight tests of both helicopters and fixed wing aircraft at Edwards, where he was chief of the integrated systems test division. The colonel has military and civilian experience in 38 types of airplanes and helicopters and has logged some 5,400 hours total flight time.

Selected as an astronaut candidate by NASA in January 1978, Stewart was involved in testing and evaluation of the entry light control system for the first space shuttle orbital mission. He was a mission specialist on shuttle mission 41-B, which was launched from Kennedy Space Center Feb. 3, 1984, and landed eight days later. He and Capt. Bruce McCandless participated in two extravehicular activities to conduct first flight evaluations of the Manned Maneuvering Units. Colonel Stewart has logged a total of 191 hours in space.

*** **

NEW WHO'S WHO WILL LIST 47 FROM TCU

Forty-seven TCU students are among those from 1,400 institutions in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations chosen for listing in the 1986 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They will be honored at a Nov. 26 dinner hosted by Chancellor Bill Tucker.

Chosen on the basis of demonstrated scholastic ability, with at least a 3.0 overall grade-point average through the spring semester, and service to the University through departmental programs and extra-curricular activities the 47 include seven juniors. They are David Scott Adams, Michelle Patricia Cook, Catherine Ann Craft, Hiram Jackson, John Thomas McKeefery, Heather Ann Steinle and Katherine Urevig.

Senior honorees are Lori Ann Baltzley, Stephen Bernstein, Leslie Lynn Blue, Katherine Boyle, Lydia Brown, Susan Daniels, Daniel Detrick, Lisabeth Drollinger, Brenda Frye, Linda Gatlin, John Gessert, Sandra Gore, Laurence Grummer, Cheryl Gwynn, Laura Hartman, Mary Jane Helme, Elliott Hill, Lanetta Hollis, Karen Long, Grant McGinnis, James Maase, William Mahoney, Dawn Muszynski, Andrea Mysen, Shari Nelson, Susanne O'Leary, Scott Palermo, Carol Palmer, Pylar Pinkston, Elisa Ross, Andrew Samms, Mary Evelyn Schatzman, Salli Shields, Lisa Sloan, Jayne Steils, Charles Stiles, David Stutts, Heatherly Vermillion, Kristy Wilbois and Erin Young.

WACKER IS HONORARY CHAIRMAN OF FOOD DRIVE

Coach Jim Wacker is honorary chairman for this year's Canned Food Drive, sponsored by the Food Bank of Tarrant County. With the theme of "We CAN End Hunger at Home," the 1985 effort has a goal of collecting 60,000 pounds of cans during the Nov. 26-Dec. 6 drive.

Co-chaired by Elizabeth Ray and Paul R. Ray Jr., the drive will begin Nov. 26 at 11:30 a.m. at the Main Street Plaza, between the Christmas tree and the Convention Center. More than 20 teams from businesses, organizations and TCU will be pitted against each other in "Kick the Can" races, judged by County Judge Mike Moncrief and announced by Scott Murray of KXAS-TV.

The Food Bank of Greater Tarrant County is a private, non-profit organization which has distributed more than 6.5 million pounds of food since it was started in 1982. According to the recent Needs Assessment Survey, 20,000 households in Fort Worth experience recurring hunger. Because of its long shelf life, canned food is especially appropriate for donations to needy people.

Canned food drop-off points will be all 7-Eleven and Safeway stores as well as all Long John Silver's restaurants, YMCAs, the YWCA and all fire stations and public libraries in Fort Worth. More than 1,100 businesses, schools, churches and organizations have been asked to organize in-house canned food drives.

*** **

RICHARDSON STUDY BEING UNVEILED

At a reception today (Tuesday) at the Worthington Hotel, the Sid W. Richardson Foundation will present "Educating Able Learners: Programs and Promising Practices," written by Neil Daniel of English along with June Cox and Bruce Boston.

The work, published by the University of Texas Press, is the culmination of the foundation's four-year study of current programming for able learners. The book presents the most complete examination of educational practices for the gifted yet attempted, Neil says. It argues in favor of comprehensive programming for able learners and calls for coordinated schooling and cooperation among all segments of society.

*** **

WEDNESDAY'S COFFEE WILL BE LAST OF SEASON

Tomorrow morning will be the last occasion of this football season to have a leisurely cup of coffee and donut with the coaches. The informal bi-weekly fall events are held from 7:30 to 8:15 a.m. in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum. See you there!

BULLETIN DEADLINE WILL BE EARLIER

Because of Thanksgiving holidays Nov. 28-29, the TCU Bulletin for Dec. 3 must be completed earlier than usual. For this reason, material for that issue will be due by noon on Nov. 26 in the News Service office, Sadler Hall 321.

*** **

NORDAN APPLICATIONS DUE DEC. 1

Applications from incoming freshmen for Nordan Young Artist Awards are due to the School of Fine Arts by Dec. 1. The awards, established at TCU 20 years ago by the late Dr. L. A. Nordan of San Antonio and Mrs. Nordan, range from $2,000 to $3,000 annually and are given to entering freshmen with superior talent in art, ballet, modern dance, music or theatre.

Students who satisfy criteria for renewal will be designated Nordan Scholars and will receive $2,000 to $3,000 per year for the remainder of their undergraduate program, not exceeding three years.

Auditions will be held on campus Jan. 18 for music, theatre and dance awards. Art applicants must submit transparencies or slides of about a dozen original works with their applications. Application forms are available in the School of Fine Arts.

*** **

RESEARCH DATA AVAILABLE

TCU is an affiliate member of the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research. With that membership comes access to a large number of data sets encompassing many research fields in the social and behavioral sciences. Anyone associated with TCU as faculty, staff or student is entitled to access to this data. For more information, call Jim Riddlesperger in political science, Ext. 7395.

*** **

DOWNTOWN DANCE PROGRAM SET

TCU dancers will perform "The Image Makers" at 8:15 p.m. Friday at the Caravan of Dreams. The program will feature a variety of student-choreographed ballet, jazz and modern dance numbers. Tickets at $4 for general admission, $3 for students, may be reserved by calling 877-3000.

*** **

CHAMBER WINDS PLAY MONDAY

Music for small wind ensembles will be presented as the TCU Music Department Concert Series performance at 8 p.m. Monday at Ed Landreth Auditorium. The program will include Mozart's Serenade for Eleven Winds, Strauss' Serenade for Thirteen Winds and compositions by Poulenc, Jacob, Ewald and Schumann.

TCU IN THE NEWS

Alumna SHEILA MCGINNIS, fifth-grade teacher at White Settlement Liberty Elementary School, was the subject of a Living section feature in the Nov. 4 Star-Telegram. Recipient of the $1,000 laureate scholarship from Kappa Delta Pi Educational Foundation, she holds two degrees from TCU and currently is working on certification program for education administration.

CBS newsman BOB SCHIEFFER, who began his reporting career while a TCU undergraduate, was the subject of the Dallas Morning News' High Profile section in the Nov. 3 issue.

An interview on hostages with criminal justice director BILL HEAD aired twice on Nov. 1 on Sammons Cable.

The Earl of Sandwich and the edible legacy he left us was the subject of a news feature on KXAS-TV on Nov. 4. Commenting on various types of sandwiches and their nutritional value was EVELYN ROBERTS (nutrition and dietetics).

NELL ROBINSON (nutrition and dietetics) was the spokesperson noting the Nov. 3 anniversary of the birth of John Montagu, who was the fourth Earl of Sandwich and created his first "edible" in 1762, for the Star-Telegram feature that appeared Nov. 7.

"Return the meaning of 'collegiate' to college sports" was the headline on philosopher SPENCER WERTZ's article on the Op-Ed page of the Nov. 7 Star-Telegram. In it he called for a return to the guidelines of ethics and educational values in athletics.

"Visiting ballet master helped new company get on its feet" was the headline in the Cedar Rapids Gazette on Sept. 8 for a story about FERNANDO SCHAFFENBERG, who spent a week with the new Cedar Rapids company to set its premiere performance of "Graduation Ball." Fernando performed in the original Ballet Russe production of "Graduation Ball."

The November issue of presstime carried a story about research of journalists RITA WOLF and GERALD GROTTA that showed that the use of a related photo helped readership of a story it went with. They found, however, that a portrait helped readership more than an animated action photo. Their study was reported in the Winter 1985 issue of the Newspaper Research Journal.

"Reality: hunger amid plenty" was the title of the article by ANDY FORT (religion studies), chairman of the 1985 Hunger Week, that appeared on the Expressions page of the Nov. 13 Star-Telegram.

Regarding the Star-Telegram's Expressions page, faculty and staff members have been invited to submit their ideas for consideration for the forum for a wide range of viewpoints. The effort is being coordinated by the NEWS SERVICE. Interested persons should contact the office at Ext. 7810.

CLASSIFIED:

FOR SALE: Santana 22, five sails, spinnaker, many extras, Harbor One Marina, must sell. Contact Ext. 7955 (8-noon only) or 246-5216.

FOR SALE: Sparingly used IBM PC Jr. microcomputer. 256k emmory, Microsoft mouse and booster with battery clock/calendar, 300 baud internal modem, Amdek professional monitor and lots of software. Call 292-9753.

OFFICIAL ABSENCES:

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professors for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Students playing in a Jazz Ensemble Concert at 1 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 1:

Allibon, Rob	Emmons, John	Rogers, Mike
Beasley, Tammie	Eskew, Chuck	Ruiz, Drew
Bramlett, Paul	Head, Jim	Schulte, Steve
Burrer, Todd	Lara, Adam	Shultz, Ron
Coover, Steve	Ozuna, Rene	Taylor, Rhonda
Deets, Jeff	Pena, William	Tschoerner, Harry
Dolt, Skipper	Rockey, Pat	Wilson, John

Football team members leaving after 10 a.m. on Fri., Nov., for Texas Tech game:

Ackroyd, Scott	Gooch, Dennis	Nickelson, Ron
Allen, Tony	Haberstick, Frank	Nix, W.C.
Ankrom, Scott	Harris, Scott	Ozee, Ken
Becker, Chris	Hawkins, Frank	Palmer, Tommy
Benson, Mitchell	Hebert, Mike	Petry, Stanley
Bradford, Pat	Higgs, Rodney	Pitts, Andy
Brazil, Brian	Jeffrey, Tony	Rascoe, David
Brooks, Tony	Jiles, R. J.	Rougely, Ricky
Brown, Hal	Johnson, Joe	Sharp, Tommy
Burnett, Keith	Jones, Billy	Shaw, Chris
Caldwell, David	Jones, Greg	Shehan, Tommy
Cooke, Jim	Kennedy, James R.	Simien, Tracy
Daily, Jeff	Laswell, Ed	Sinclair, Ben
Davis, Bobby	Lewis, Ron	Smith, Brad
Davis, Darryl	Loosier, Keith	Spradlin, David
Davis, Reggie	Littles, Garland	Stone, Ricky
Dean, Devin	Miller, Virgil (Wren)	Terrell, Floyd
Delaney, Jarrod	Millsap, Sean	Tipps, Mark
Dickenson, Chas.	Montgomery, Paul	Tommaney, Bill
Edwards, Trent	Moore, Greg	Tramel, Kent
Ford, Gary	Newman, Lee	Williams, Jess
Gantt, Cliff	Newton, Falanda

Students will be out of classes on Nov. 14 and 15 to participate in the National Association of Teachers of Singing Texoma Regional Conference and Students Auditions at SW Texas State University in San Marcos, TX, on Nov. 14 and 15:

Detrick, Amy	Johnson, Steve	Theilengerdes, Jason
Herman, Ray	Norman, Michelle	Walker, John

Two officers of the Public Relations Student Society of America who will be in Detroit, Michigan Nov. 11-13 for the annual meeting of the association:

Caddell, Christine	Michaud, Michele
--------------------	------------------

Student attending admissions interview at the University of Nebraska Medical School Nov. 26 and 27:

Scott R. Palermo

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Nov. 19
- "Music for the Millions," Concert Chorale and Jazz Ensembles Concert, Student Center Ballroom, 11:30 a.m. Free will offering will be taken for Hunger Week.
 - Career Planning and Placement Center Interview Workshop, Student Center 218, 3:30 p.m.
 - Forum on Hunger, Bill Reese, Jarvis Hall, 7 p.m.
 - Lecture by Dr. Ronald Carson of UT Medical Branch, Galveston, "How to Care for Handicapped Newborns: A Moral Dilemma," Moudy Building 141N, 7:30 p.m.
 - Theatre TCU production of "The Winter's Tale," University Theatre, 8 p.m. nightly through Nov. 23, 2 p.m. Nov. 24.
- Nov. 20
- Coffee with the Coaches, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 7:30-8:15 a.m.
 - Hunger Week Chapel, Emeritus Vice Chancellor Howard Wible, Robert Carr Chapel, noon.
 - "How the Worlds Eat," Hunger Week Banquet, Student Center ballroom, 6 p.m. $3.50 at the door.
 - Ending Hunger Auction, Student Center ballroom, 6:45 p.m.
- Nov. 21
- Mid-semester rolls and unsatisfactory reports due in registrar's office.
 - Career Planning and Placement Center Interview Training Workshop, Student Center 218, 2 p.m.
- Nov. 22
- Astronaut Robert L. Stewart lecturing on the future of the space shuttle program, Moudy Building 141N, 2 p.m.
 - Pep rally, front of Student Center, 6 p.m.
 - TCU Film Series: "Ghostbusters," Student Center ballroom, 6 p.m., 9 p.m., midnight. $1.
 - Hunger Week ecumenical prayer service, Student Center lounge, 7 p.m.
 - Prayer Vigil for the Hungry, Robert Carr Chapel, 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. Nov. 23.
- Nov. 23
- Frogs Care, Hunger Week pre-game activities, Amon Carter Stadium.
 - Football, TCU vs. A&M, Amon Carter Stadium, 2 p.m.
 - TCU Film Series: "Excalibur," Student Center ballroom, 7 & 10 p.m. $1.
 - Basketball, TCU vs. McMurry, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 7:30 p.m.

Effective June 1, 1985

BAD WEATHER POLICY

General Policy

The University's general plan is to remain open and to provide educational and related services despite bad weather, with students and personnel making their plans accordingly.

All members of the faculty, university staff and general staff are expected to make every reasonable effort to maintain regular attendance. In the event an individual feels that it would be either impossible or unwise to report for normal duty, he or she may count the missed time as vacation time.

If weather conditions become so severe that it is necessary to cancel classes, efforts will be made to notify students and faculty at the earliest possible time. Make-up opportunities for classes or work missed by students will be arranged.

Decisions, Announcement of Closings

- As a matter of general policy, university offices and facilities will remain open at all times except for official holiday periods.
- The decision to cancel classes will be made through the office of the chancellor or his representative...usually by 6 a.m. for day classes and 3 p.m. for evening and special courses. Even if classes are cancelled, offices and facilities will remain open.
- The News Service will be responsible for making all public announcements to radio, television and newspapers regarding changes because of weather conditions.
- Outlets to which this information will be given and which should be monitored for any campus announcements include:

Radio stations--KRLD, KPLX, WBAP, KMEZ,
KVIL, KERA, KEGE

Television stations--KXAS-TV, WFAA-TV, KTVT-TV,
KDFW-TV

Newspapers--Star-Telegram, Dallas Morning News,
Dallas Times-Herald