GRADUATING RECITALS.

rendition of "The Other Wise Man" by Mr. Dean.

Mr. Dean has rare ability to make his audience feel and interpret that subtlety which is found in all of Van Dyke's works. Mr. Dean held the close attention of his audience, and his reading was much appreciated.

The Second Recital.

The second recital was rendered Monday evening, beginning at 8:15, by Miss Glenn and Mr. Wood. The high standard previously set for the department was certainly upheld upon this occasion.

In her reading of "Mollie Make Believe," Miss Glenn was truly master of the element of surprise. The story was easily clear. The reader knew her characters well, even to the very feeling of the invalid sweating away the long evenings while he waited for his love letters.

She held control of her voice and centered her own attention upon the task for the moment admirably throughout the reading, which lasted some twenty-five or thirty minutes.

The crowning success of Mr. Wood for the year's work and a fitting conclusion to the excellent program for the evening was his reading of "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." It took away all feeling of fear that one sometimes has that a couple will not be appreciative of each other after the first few years of married life.
Mr. Wood was also at home with his humorous number. In "A Man Without a Country" Wood showed his abilities not only of a reader but of an orator, both in voice and sympathetic feeling.

PERSONALS

Let Lines rope your trunk, then take it to the depot on time.

Leron Gough spent a few days at the University.

Miss Bess McNeil is at home in Valley Mills for a short visit.

Picnicking and dinner parties are very numerous these beautiful evenings.

Dean W. B. Parks and family are moving into their new home across the street east from the Girls' Home.

Mrs. Jesse Lewis, wife of our Professor of History and Political Science, is reported to be seriously ill.

Mr. Exley, to illustrate moral responsibility in ethics class, said: "We say, 'I know I did wrong last night, but no one will find it out.'" Lela blushed, the class laughed, but Bingo only grinned. And last night was Junior soiree, too.

Dr. O. B. Sears departed last Saturday for his old home in Missouri, where his mother lies at the point of death. Dr. Sears hopes that his mother may regain her strength soon, in which case he will return for examination week.

The editors of the Horned Frog report that they expect to have the annual ready to deliver to the students next Monday morning. The Frog has been gotten up very carefully indeed, and it is expected to set the high water mark for the stream of annuals that have been issued.

Ferg and Bert talking about the Junior class credits.

Bert to Ferg—Is Prof. Alexander for us or against us?

Ferg—He is for us and had better remain that way; if he doesn't I won't milk his old cow any more.

Misses Mabel Baldwin, Lela Odell, Grace Mason and Beatrice Houston enjoyed the experience of assisting Miss Willie Thetford in keeping house during the absence of the Alexander family.

Leron B. Gough of the class of '11 is visiting with us. Leron expects to be with us through commencement.
His work for the past year has been that of a pedagogue. He was Professor of English in the Orange High School, and it is reported that he made a "pretty good sort of Prof."
