

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 64, No. 16, Dec. 1, 1987

READERS THEATRE PRESENTS "CHRISTMAS PAGEANT"

A popular Christmas play, "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever," will be presented by speech communication's readers theatre class tonight (Tuesday). The public performance will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Room 141N of the Moudy Building.

The third annual Christmas performance by speech communication students is becoming a traditional holiday event. "It's just a good way to get the Christmas spirit," said Donna Hall, who teaches the readers theatre course.

In readers theatre, seated performers read from a script and use their voices to convey imagery as well as the emotion and drama of the play, she explained. "Through suggestion, we are creating an image in the audience's mind," she said. "It's very demanding; you have to pull that audience in and hold them."

To do so requires a thorough understanding of the text and a mastery of facial expression, gesture and speech. "You can do so much with your voice; you can paint a picture in the mind of the audience if you understand the material," she said. "In the class, students learn to convey the meaning to the audience so the audience can visualize. I always tell the students 'You've got you and your voice and the script.'"

Before enrolling in readers theatre, students are required to take oral interpretation, which teaches analytical skills applied in interpreting drama, prose and poetry as well as presentation skills. The readers theatre course concentrates on children's literature and makes frequent storytelling performances to the children at Starpoint School, both as a treat for the children and to benefit the students by exposing them to a different audience.

In storytelling, the students sometimes incorporate music, costumes and a few props and now even have their own theatre--an inflatable plastic bubble, constructed by former graduate student Patrice Wheeler to seat 25. "You step into it and it's just a completely different environment, enclosed space," Donna said. "You can see people moving on the outside, and yet you're mostly unaware, so it works really well for storytelling."

The students' performance of "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever" is their final project for the semester. It is the story of a school Christmas pageant whose success is threatened by the participation of a notorious family of misbehaving, mischievous children. Eight class members will perform the 55-minute reading, while four others will present prose and poetry readings.

FACULTY, STAFF INCLUDE 224 ALUMNI

A total 224 alumni are included in the listing of the University's faculty and staff members. In conjunction with this fall's Annual Fund campaign, these persons are being reminded of the $500,000 Alumni Trustee Challenge as a special incentive for giving or increasing their gifts, according to an announcement by curriculum/instruction chairperson Cherie Lohr, who heads the faculty/staff division for the fall fund drive.

Though it is lengthy, a listing may reveal that alumni whose collegiate affiliations were unknown previously are working nearby.

Perhaps the No. 1 "Frog" is Chancellor Bill Tucker, who earned the B.D. degree here in 1956. Others who are administrators at their alma mater include Larry Adams, Edd Bivin, Dave Edmondson, Joe Enochs, Ann Gee, Don Mills and Jim Orsund.

Audrey Abron of admissions is the first person on the listing. She is followed by Louis Adams, Dave Addis, Ernest Allen, Judy Alter, Billie Sue Anderson, Bernice Arvin, Jack Arvin, James Atwood, Ross Bailey, Emma Baker, Lois Banta, Joseph Baptiste, Susy Batchelor, George Beck, Buck Beneze, Sally Bohon, Bettye Boisselier, Kerry Bouchard, Amy Brigance, Joe Britton, Marjorie Broman, Laura Brooks, Lance Brown, Linda Brown, Marla Buckles, Marian Bumpas, John Butler, Larry Calloway, Mary Cantu-Crouch, Annie Chambers, Betsy Colquitt, Landon Colquitt and Betty Conkling.

Others are Lois Cook, Jim Corder, Roberta Corder, Janice Corthay, Diane Crane, Laura Lee Crane, Glenn Crouch, Peggy D'Acosta, Jane Daniel, Gilbert Davis, Laura Davis, Lynda Davis, Robin Davis, Maylene Dingler, Carolyn Dixon, Martha Douglas, Rosalie Dowdey, Rosemary Drollinger, Laura Dubiel, Floyd Durham, Ambrose Edens, Jon Eidson, Craig Elders, Chris Ellertson, Bettye Elrod, Jill Estes, Selby Evans, Jim Farrar, Leah Flowers, Ron Flowers, Frank Forney, Bert Franks, Ellen Garrison, Bob Gartman, John Giordano, Barbara Glassford, David Graham, David Green, Beverly Griffith, Mary Haefeli and Billye Halkias.

Included, too, are Christopher Hall, Donna Hall, Karen Hall, LLisa Hannah, Joyce Harden, Michael Harmon, Kathy Harris, Andy Haskett, Leanne Hedges, Janet Herald, Ronald Hieronymus, Kay Higgins, Billie Hightower, Susan Holland, Pam Horton, Judy House, Esther Huckaby, Dolores Humphries, Charlise Huntsberry, Sharon Iverson, Joey Jeter, Jim Johnson, Lisa Johnson, Rod Johnson, Kristi Johnston, Allene Jones, Deborah Jones, Jack Jones, Mary Ruth Jones, Joann Karges, Rhonda Keen-Payne, Layton Keith, Marvin Keith, Mary Kincannon, Madge King, Paul King, Larry Kissinger, Larry Kitchens, Ted Klein, Patty Knowles, Betty Knox, Judith Lambiotte, Kenneth Lawrence, Lalonnie Lehman, Karen Lind, Jim Link, Julia Livesay, Janet Lysaght, Richard Lysiak, Sheila Madden, Claudine Marion, Donna Jean Marston, Peggy Mayfield and Jim Mayne.

Also with Purple "roots" are Gene McCluney, Tom McGaha, Charleen McGilvray, Ken McIntosh, John McKenzie, Jim Moore, Miller Moseley, Steven Moser, Harrell Moten, Deana Muirheid, Walter Naff, Katy Nichols, Miriam Nitschke, Marylee Norris, Mary Alice Oatman, John Ohendalski, Sid Padgett, Howard Payne, Mildred Payne, Gerald Peoples, Charles Peveler, Don Pittman, Ray Pool, C.A. Quarles, Jennifer Reddy, Ted Rhodes, Frances Richardson, Karl Richter, Hal Roach, Becky Roach, Evelyn Roberts, Kathie Robinson, Joan Rogers, Marilyn Ross, Ruth Ross, David Rubinson, Vicki Scarse, Cameron Schoepp, Belinda Scholl, Jack Scott and Sue Scurlock.

(continued)

224 ALUMNI (continued)

Others are Bill Senter, Frank Sherwood, Jo Anna Shipe, Darla Smith, Emmet Smith, Frank Smith, Durward Smith, Judy Smith, Phyllis Sparks, Barbara Standlee, Oscar Stewart, Danna Strength, Jo Ann Studdard, Suzanne Studdard, Jack Suggs, Ruth Suggs, Joan Swaim, Wilma Tade, Priscilla Tate, Ken Teegarden, Anna Thompson, Margaret Thompson, Shannon Thompson, Charles Thornton, Kaye Thornton, Sandra Tobias, Eugenia Trinkle, Alan Umholtz, Audrey Vanderhoof, Spencer Wertz, Mildred Williams, Jim Williams, Willadean Williams, Curt Wilson, Frank Windegger, Jim Woodson, John Wortham, Peggy Wyrick, Dick Yantis, Penny Yost, Al Young, Dale Young and Malinda Young.

*** **

ECOLOGIST TO ADDRESS AIR POLLUTION, FORESTS

Dr. Herbert Bormann, a renowned ecologist who conducted a now classic forest study by chopping down the trees in one valley, will present two public lectures as the biology department's Visiting Green Professor this week.

Oastler Professor of Forest Ecology at Yale University since 1966, Dr. Bormann has studied the effects of air pollution, acid rain and ozone on hardwood forests, as well as the nature of ecosystems and the effects of deforestation. The first of his two public sessions will be a lecture entitled "Air Pollution Stress on Forests: Decision Making in an Uncertain Environment" tomorrow (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall 4 of the Sid Richardson Building.

On Friday he will present "Effect of Disturbance on Structure and Function of a Northern Hardwood Ecosystem" at noon, also in Lecture Hall 4 of the Richardson building. While in Fort Worth, Dr. Bormann will make field trips to Cross Timbers Forest on Wednesday and to Glen Rose State Park on Thursday, escorted by biology faculty members. He also will meet with Honors students for a Fireside Chat Thursday evening in the Faculty Center.

In more than three decades of study, Dr. Bormann has published 140 articles and is co-author of several books, including "Pattern and Process of a Forested System." A member of the National Academy of Sciences, Dr. Bormann served as president of the Ecological Society of America in 1970-71. His studies have been funded by the National Science Foundation, Andrew Mellon Foundation, Rockefeller Foundation and the Mary Flagler Cary Charitable Trust.

Visiting Green Professor is a position endowed by Dr. Cecil H. Green and his late wife, Dr. Ida Green, of Dallas. Included in the appointments are public events as well as class lectures and seminars drawing on the guests' varied talents and fields of expertise.

*** **

CAMPUS TREE LIGHTS UP TOMORROW

Order of Omega will present its annual Christmas tree-lighting ceremony 10 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) on the Sadler Hall porch. The lighting and carol singing is open to all.

BEATLES TRIBUTE RECREATES AN ERA

Featuring original cast members of the Broadway production of "Beatlemania," A Tribute to the Beatles will recreate the astonishing era of the Sixties with a Thursday performance at 8 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom. Admission is $2 with TCU ID and $5 for the public.

The musical show retraces the evolution of one of rock's greatest groups from their early mop-top days through Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band, the white album and beyond. As their music reflected the time they lived in, the show is also a look at the controversial Sixties. Four actors portray John, Paul, George and Ringo as they grew and changed during their decade together.

A Tribute to the Beatles is sponsored by Programming Council's Concerts Committee.

*** **

OIS SEEKS ORDERS FOR SPRING

The Office of Instructional Services, appreciative of those who took advantage of its offerings this semester, is ready to receive orders for the spring semester. A wide variety of services is available from the media, graphic and telecommunications departments, which include such instructional equipment as projectors, VCRs, audio/video tape duplication and film rental in addition to computer graphics, desk-top publishing and video production, both in the studio and in the field.

Additional information is available from the office, located in Room B16 of the library, at Ext. 7121. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

*** **

BREYER LEADS IN CAGE TOURNEY

Geologist John Breyer sank the last shot of the Intramural 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament to give his team, The Rocks, the championship over a much younger Lambda Chi Alpha team. He was the only faculty member entered in the tournament.

In another faculty sports event, the All-Campus Faculty/Staff Volleyball Championship has been slated for today (Tuesday) at 5:30 p.m. in the Rickel Building, and spectators are welcome.

Teams competing include:

- Business
- Curriculum and Instruction
- Housing/Rec Sports
- Info Services/Financial Aid
- The PE People
- The Psychotics
- Student Activities
- University Relations and Development

JAZZ CONCERT IS FRIDAY

Two Metroplex jazzmen--one a high school prodigy discovered by Wynton Marsalis, the other a veteran who has played with such stars as Bobby Sherwood and Lena Horne--will be guest soloists with Curt Wilson's Jazz Ensembles in concert at 8 p.m. Dec. 4 in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Admission is free with TCU ID, $3 for all others.

At the concert Phil Aikman, director of bands for the Castleberry Independent School District, will be honored with the first TCU Jazz Alumni Award. Aikman graduated in 1965 and earned the Master of Music Education degree in 1972.

Soloist on the first set, including Frank Mantooth's "Scam and Eggs" and "Doin' Basie's Thing" by Sammy Nestico, will be tenor saxophonist Max Stanaland, a native East Texan who played with U.S. Armed Forces bands from 1943 to 1946. In the mid-1940s he played in New York, on tour with Bobby Sherwood and Lena Horne and in the Midwest with the Jon Greer Band. Returning to Texas, he was band director at Burkburnett High School, taught saxophone and led the stage band at Midwestern University and wrote arrangements for Jim Jacobsen's Horned Frog Band in the 1950s. Since retiring from a U.S. Air Force civilian position in 1980, he has played with Mal Fitch.

Roy Hargrove, a senior at Dallas' Arts Magnet High School, has played his trumpet in The Netherlands, France and Italy since he was discovered last spring by Marsalis. A student of TCU trumpet instructor Kerry Hughes, Hargrove has won two DownBeat Student Awards, the National Association of Jazz Educators' Young Talent Award and was recently chosen first trumpet in the Texas All-State Jazz Ensemble. Playing a new trumpet, a gift from Tonight Show bandleader Doc Severinsen, Hargrove will solo with the TCU group on "Midnight Run," "Tribute to Art Fern" and "There Will Never Be Another You," and he and Stanaland will join the group on "Intermission Riff," part of a tribute to Stan Kenton. The Kenton tribute will include "Eager Beaver" and "September Song."

*** ** *

WOMAN'S CLUB DEADLINE TODAY

Today (Tuesday) is the deadline for reservations for the Dec. 8 Christmas luncheon of the TCU Woman's Club. The 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. event will be held in the Student Center's Woodson Room. The program of songs and stories, poems and legends will be presented by Joyce Gibson Roach. It will be based on the book entitled "Texas and Christmas" by Joyce and TCU Press director Judy Alter.

The $6-per-person reservations should be sent by check, payable to the TCU Woman's Club, to Box 32533. For those who wish to park at Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, Ranch Management vans will transport guests to and from the Student Center beginning at 11:15 a.m.

*** ** *

UNIVERSITY COUNCIL MEETS DEC. 7

The proposed revision of the final exam policy will be discussed at the Dec. 7 meeting of the University Council, beginning at 3:30 p.m. in Reed Hall 109. Those unable to attend are asked to call Ext. 7101 to notify the secretary.

DIETETICS PROGRAM IMPACTS THOUSANDS

Who determines what Metroplex residents eat? For thousands of hospital patients and schoolchildren, the answer is graduates of TCU's dietetics program.

One of only five in the state, the University's Coordinated Program in Dietetics--the first and now the only one at a private institution in the state--trains students to safeguard the nutritional welfare of others. Graduates now work in at least 12 area hospitals and seven independent school districts helping make dietary decisions that affect thousands of persons daily.

A recent survey of where the TCU graduates are employed emphasized "the impact the program is having in the community," explained nutrition and dietetics chairperson Nell Robinson, who led in initiating the program on campus in 1975. Then the fourth such program in Texas, it is now one of five in the state.

Texas is the first state and one of only a few to license dietitians. "With this level of recognition, these professionals can set up private practices and conduct their own programs," Nell added. To date, 108 persons have earned their degrees through TCU's dietetics program, which is accredited by the American Dietetic Association. Leading to a B.S. degree and membership in ADA, its completion gives participants eligibility to take the national examination to become Registered Dietitians.

The largest group of alumnae is found at Harris Methodist Hospital. They are Dr. Kathy Stephens '72, Jana Rankin Zimmer '77, Janet Johnson Jorns '78, Rebecca Ann Billings '85 and Christy Banasik Craig '85. Robin Brown '86 and April Stuth '87 are both at Walls Regional Hospital in Cleburne.

Ai Lan Le '82 and Teresa Ramirez '86 are dietitians at Fort Worth Osteopathic Hospital, while Dr. Ann Blankenship '75 is at Fort Worth Osteopathic Medical School. Laurie Burzlaff Anderson '84 is TCU's representative at Cook-Fort Worth Children's Hospital, and Lori Tate '84 is at Medical Plaza.

Other local hospital dietitians are Pam Kleine Carter and Kathy Herpale Brummet, both of the Class of 1982, at John Peter Smith; Charlotte Mitchem '81 and Mary Hoffman '74 at St. Joseph; and Diane Sanders Stoltman '86 and Cathee Paniszczyn Tweedell '85 at All Saints.

Seven graduates are with Dallas hospitals. They include Ardena Topham '77 and Mori Dittimore Watson '82 at St. Paul; Suzanne Worth '81, Kelli Burkett '84, Amelia Halter and Paula Freeze Nyman, both '81, at Baylor. Tracy Pursell '78 is associated with Parkland Hospital.

Class of '78 member Janis Harp Sharp is with Standard Meat Co. of Fort Worth. Graduates employed as dietitians with food services are Kelli Scrima Gragg '81, Arlington Independent School District; Judy Sullivan '81, Birdville ISD; Patti Cooper, '83, Burleson ISD; Rhonda White '83, Crowley ISD; Molly Tuttle Hyde '81, Keller ISD; Kathleen Johnson Huey '83, White Settlement ISD; Amy Weiss '84, TCU Marriott; and Sharron Wright Turner '78, Highland Park ISD.

WHIDDEN RECEIVES 'CHRISTMAS CARD' AWARD

Joel Whidden of Cleburne, a second-semester freshman, received the second award from the TCU Scholarship Fund supported by faculty and staff contributions made in lieu of Christmas greetings to campus friends. The announcement was made last week of the selection of the business pre-major.

Joel formerly lived in Spencer, IA, where he was graduated from high school. A football and wrestling letterman, he was active in the Student Council and Spanish Club.

Contributions to the scholarship fund, from which the initial award toward tuition was made last fall, can be made through the Financial Aid Office, Sadler Hall 108, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays or mailed to Box 30787.

Designations to specific scholarships can be made by donors, according to financial aid counselor Emma Baker. This designation should be noted along with the contribution. Names of those contributing to the fund will be listed in the Dec. 8 Bulletin issue.

*** **

FAIR BRINGS GIFT SHOPPING TO CAMPUS

For students, faculty and staff who appreciate an opportunity to do Christmas gift shopping without leaving campus, Programming Council hosts a gift fair that has become an attraction for the general public as well.

Scheduled for tomorrow (Wednesday) through Friday of this week in the Student Center lounge, the fair will be open 10 a.m.-5 p.m. The handmade gifts offered by 20 local craftspeople will include ceramics, jewelry, needlework, wood carvings, art work, dolls, toys and holiday decorations.

*** **

CONCERTO CONCERT IS SATURDAY

Winners of the University's 1987-88 Concerto Competition will be soloists with the University Symphony in its concerto concert in Ed Landreth Auditorium at 8 p.m. Dec. 5. Guest conductor will be Samuel Talamantes, orchestra chair of the McAllen School District.

The program will include Mozart's "Per Pieta, Non Ricercate" sung by tenor Randall Gremillion, graduate student from Fort Worth; Concerto for Oboe in C major by Haydn, with oboe soloist Shanon McCreless, senior from Terrell; Handel's Concerto for Trumpet, with Todd King, freshman from Burleson, as trumpet soloist and Michael Rogers, senior from Arlington, guest conductor; Il Mio Tesoro from Mozart's "Don Giovanni," with tenor Ray Herman, Fort Worth graduate student.

Other works will be Concerto for Flute in G major by Johann Joachim Quantz, with Robyn Lewis, senior from Kemah, as flute soloist and Todd Burrer, senior from Cypress, conducting; Vivaldi's Concerto for Trumpet in B-flat, with trumpeter John Morgan, junior from DeSoto; The Winter's Passed, for Oboe and Strings by Wayne Barlow, oboe soloist Chris Batchelor, Houston junior; and Non Piu Mesta from Rossini's "La Cenerentola," solo by mezzo-soprano Loretta Crosthwait of Fort Worth.

TCU IN THE NEWS

"His volumes of histories keep coming" was the Star-Telegram headline for the Nov. 15 Mike Price feature on PAUL BOLLER (emeritus, history), whose book "Hollywood Anecdotes," written in collaboration with SMU's Ronald Davis, has just been released.

The Oct. 19 edition of the Dallas Times-Herald spotlighted a photograph of Paul and Davis along with a lengthy review of their book. Wrote Marcia Smith: "The professors brought to their project a kind of serious scholarship rarely seen in quickie star biographies and photo-filled movie histories...Boller makes no apology for going Hollywood. The book was a worthy project for the pair of historians, he says. 'Anything that had as major an impact on America and the world for several decades has to be taken seriously by a historian.'" The Times-Herald also reprinted a sampling of such anecdotes as this: "At one hard-nosed movie mogul's funeral, someone asked Red Skelton, 'How come so many people are here?' Said Skelton, 'Give the people what they want, and they'll show up.'"

Political scientist JIM RIDDLESPERGER was interviewed Nov. 2 by KXAS-TV regarding the following day's vote with particular emphasis on the issue of pari-mutuel racing. He also was interviewed on Channel 5's 6 p.m. news Nov. 7 on Judge Douglas H. Ginsburg's withdrawal as a Supreme Court nominee.

Skiff cartoonist TODD CAMP and BARRY PERLMUTTER (family studies and home economics) were subjects of feature stories in the Dallas Morning News Nov. 1. Todd was interviewed regarding the recent publication of his volume of cartoons from his series "The Campus Underground." After noticing that his children were frightened by some nursery rhymes, Barry rewrote a number of them for better understanding by children. The feature included several of his verses.

"Apple Enjoys the Fruits of Her Labor" was the title of the story about alumna SUSAN APPLE that appeared in a fall issue of Dallas Apparel News. The Class of '83 member is a "nationally represented designer who sells creations to updated, traditional stores across the nation." Her initial design was in cooperation with Margaret McWhorter, chairperson of design and fashion.

"Crash Course: College Investment Funds Teach Student Managers a Hard Lesson" was the headline in the Nov. 2 issue of the Wall Street Journal that focused on the EDUCATIONAL INVESTMENT FUND and its managers' good showing when the stock market dropped dramatically last month.

"Pot in past might not hurt your future in Texas" was the Star-Telegram headline for a Nov. 9-10 story looking at reactions to institutions and businesses in the area regarding use of marijuana. Following a Gallup poll story on the public's views of the seriousness of Douglas Ginsburg's former actions, the local story quoted Dean of Students LIBBY PROFFER and Student House president JOE JORDAN.

Among persons interviewed in conjunction with the series on honesty by KXAS-TV was HAP KLINEFELTER (Counseling Center).

MORE TCU IN THE NEWS

The November issue of FORT WORTH Magazine includes a feature entitled "Santa's New Clothes." Attention is given in the story to KIM SCHRADER, senior design student of FRED OBERKIRCHER. The former teacher of English as a second language at TWC re-entered school to embark on a second career. The feature also talks about alumna JULIENNE BALLANTYNE, who earned the master's degree and has been teaching here for a decade in addition to designing rugs, ranging from "bathroom throws to rugs for King Hussein's yacht."

DAVID KIBBE, B.F.A. '76, was featured in an article in People Magazine Oct. 26. Kibbe's Metamorphosis salon is a Manhattan make-over studio where women "go to be beautiful." His beauty advice is unusual--"I believe there's not one thing about your appearance that isn't absolutely perfect for the individual you are." The problem, he believes, is that people don't recognize what they look like and capitalize on it. He has appeared on Today and Good Morning America and is checking locations for a string of salons in Beverly Hills, Dallas and Miami.

Basketball coach MOE IBA was among the area coaches featured in a Star-Telegram story on Nov. 19 about programs under new leadership. Complementing the story was a photo of Moe and his father, Henry Iba, whose 36 years of building powerhouse teams at Oklahoma A&M are legendary. The elder Iba was a campus visitor recently.

Senior MARK CANMER and sophomore ASHLEY LEBKUECHER were featured in a Star-Telegram color photo on Nov. 17 as they took "advantage of a break in the clouds...to talk through her dormitory window."

*** **

DANCE WILL HOST TWO DECEMBER GUESTS

Two nationally known dance authorities will be on campus in December--one to teach dancing, the other to teach dance criticism. Visitors are welcome at both sessions in Ballet Building Studio I.

Noted dance critic Marcia Siegel of New York will present a seminar, "How to Look at Dance," from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday. She will divide a dance class in half, present one group a movement problem, then work with the other half of the class on what to look for in the movement performance. Siegel, longtime lead critic for the now defunct Soho Weekly, is the author of three well-known dance books, "At the Vanishing Point," "Watching the Dance Go By" and "The Shapes of Change."

On Dec. 8 modern dancer/teacher/choreographer Lynda Davis will teach a modern dance class from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Davis, who has danced with Bella Lewitzky and has taught at The Place in London, currently is on the faculty at Florida State University and heads the choreographic workshop for the American Dance Festival.

*** **

RICKEL SETS SCHEDULE CHANGES

The Rickel Building pool will close at 5 p.m. Friday and remain closed all day Saturday for a swim meet, announced building director Steve Kintigh. Also the gyms will close at 8 p.m. Friday and remained closed Saturday for a Disciples of Christ volleyball tournament.

NOTES ON FOLKS

DON COERVER (history) spent Nov. 14-18 in Washington as one of three persons selected by the U.S. Department of Education to evaluate Fulbright grant proposals in Latin American history.

DIAN CLOUGH WEST (adjunct, ballet and modern dance) recently was honored by the Dupree Dance Academy of Los Angeles with a first-place choreographic award for her dance "Race Is On." Dian also received a scholarship to study in Los Angeles on the basis of choreography and the high technical level of students from her private school.

Five TCU-related artists, including faculty members RON WATSON and CAMERON SCHOEPP, have works in a showing of Icons: Non-denominational Votive Objects at AION Fine Art, 4242 Travis in Dallas. Others showing free-standing sculptures and painted wall constructions include TCU graduates JOE GUY and KENT MATRICARDI and graduate student LAURA NOLAN.

A paper by DON FRISCHMANN (modern languages and literatures) was read in his absence Nov. 7 in Muna, Yucatan, at the Third Festival of Mayan Culture, sponsored by Mexico's Secretariat of Public Education. The paper was titled "Toward an Authentically Popular Theatre and Culture."

DAVID KRAJEC (theatre/fine arts) was adjudicator for the Wisconsin High School Forensics Association Sectional Finals held at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside Nov. 21. He judged 14 one-act plays.

Sympathy is extended to ANDY FORT (religion-studies), whose father, Osmun Fort of Old Saybrook, CT, died Nov. 18 in Middletown, CT. Memorial services were held Saturday in Old Saybrook Congregational Church and also will be held Dec. 12 at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church in Plainfield, NJ.

*** **

CADETS TO SHOW SKILLS IN CEREMONY

The Army ROTC cadet battalion will demonstrate its proficiency at drill and ceremony Thursday when it is reviewed by Texas Brigade Commander Col. Jim Bendele at 4:30 p.m. at the north end of the stadium parking lot.

The 30-minute ceremony will include the review and a parade with martial music provided by the 1st Cavalry Division from Fort Hood. Seating is available on a limited basis and can be reserved by contacting Lt. Paul Hains at Ext. 7455.

*** **

TURKEYWALK RAISES MONEY FOR HEART RESEARCH

Some 15 students and faculty participated in the 10-kilometer Turkeywalk fundraiser for the American Heart Association Nov. 7. Students, organizations and faculty have contributed more than $1,500 to the association this year. Participating student groups include Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, Clark Hall, Delta Sigma Pi, Foster Hall, Kappa Kappa Gamma, MBA Association, Pi Phi, Student Nurse Bible Study, Tau Chi Upsilon, Waits Hall and Zeta Tau Alpha.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Dec. 1
- Bachelor of Fine Arts senior exhibition, Moudy Building Exhibition Hall, through Dec. 11, open 11 a.m.-4 p.m. weekdays, 1 to 4 p.m. weekends.
 - Opening reception 4-6 p.m. in Brown-Lupton Gallery for Christmas show, through Dec. 11, 11 a.m.-4 p.m. weekdays, 1-4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.
- Dec. 2
- Christmas Fair, with arts and crafts by Metroplex artisans, Student Center, through Dec. 4, open 10 a.m.-5 p.m.
 - Men's and women's swimming and diving, TCU vs. NTSU, Rickel Building, 7 p.m.
 - Basketball, TCU vs. Idaho State, Daniel-Meyer, 7:30 p.m.
 - Dr. Herbert Bormann, Oastler Professor of Forest Ecology at Yale, lecturing on "Air Pollution Stress on Forests: Decision-Making in an Uncertain Environment," Sid Richardson Lecture Hall 4, 7:30 p.m.
- Dec. 3
- Seminar, "How to Look at Dance," New York critic Marcia Siegel, Ballet Building Studio I, 3-5 p.m.
 - Faculty Senate meeting, Sid Richardson Board Room, 3:30 p.m.
 - Army ROTC Cadet Battalion fall review, north stadium parking lot, 4:30 p.m.
 - "A Tribute to the Beatles," featuring original cast members of "Beatlemania," Student Center Ballroom, 8 p.m. $2 with TCU ID ($5 for all others).
- Dec. 4
- TCU Invitational Swim Meet, Rickel Building, through Dec. 5. Call (817) 921-7963 for times.
 - Biology Seminar: "Effect of Disturbance on Structure and Function of a Northern Hardwood Eco-system," Dr. Herbert Bormann, Yale, Sid Richardson Lecture Hall 4, noon.
 - TCU Jazz Ensembles concert, featuring Metroplex musicians Roy Hargrove and Max Stanaland, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m. Free with TCU ID ($3 for others).
- Dec. 5
- TCU concerto concert by University Symphony, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- Dec. 6
- TCU Choral Union concert of Christmas music, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- Dec. 7
- Monday at TCU.
- Dec. 8
- Modern dance master class by Lynda Davis, faculty member at Florida State and head of the choreographic workshop for the American Dance Festival, Ballet Building Studio I, 9:30-11 a.m.
 - TCU Woman's Club Christmas luncheon, with alumna Joyce Roach presenting the program on "Texas and Christmas," Student Center Woodson room, 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.

CLASSIFIED

FOR RENT: Efficiency, one- and two-bedroom apartments, close to campus; $250 and up. Call 921-7957.

FOR SALE: Schwinn stationary exercise bicycle, excellent condition, $100. Call Linda Guy, 927-5174.

*** **

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

November 25, 1987

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Students who participated in a golf tournament at Palm Springs, CA, on November 23, 24 and 25, and in another tournament at Key Biscayne, FL, November 30 and December 1:

Ellie Gibson	Melanie Warmath	Chris Miller
Lois W. Kolkhorst	Barbara Pestana

Students who participated in a golf tournament at Miami, FL, on November 16 and 17:

Mark Massengale	Eric Ankerson	Chris Daniels
James Spurlock	Chris Rieves

Ad/PR students who attended a Professional Career Guidance Day Wednesday, November 18, with the Advertising Club of Fort Worth:

Matt Carnes	Leslie Hutchinson	Lisa Newsom
Amy Dick	Diane Loudon	Machi Sanagi
Denise Flack	Zoe Lundy	Leslie Senevy
Vivian Gray	Laura Manning	Elizabeth Woods
Cynthia Hairston	Elizabeth McRae	David Yacullo

Students who participated in the Pre-Law Association trip to Baylor Law School who left at noon, Friday, November 20th:

Chris Parks	Kyle Knapp	Rebecca Neil
Charlene Stuhr-Ricardo	CiCi Cunningham	Jerry Collins
Robert Simpson		