

GENERAL INFORMATION BULLETIN DELAYED

Publication of our small "General Information Bulletin" which has come out in December for the last two years and has been used extensively for student recruitment, will be delayed until after the trustees' meeting next spring. So many decisions and changes are made during the board session at that time, the Bulletin has not been entirely accurate nor up-to-date. In fact, there was a good possibility that it could be downright embarrassing.

To replace it in our student recruitment work in early spring, a new Bulletin is being prepared by Information Services. It is tentatively entitled "YOU and TCU" and will try to answer any question a prospective student might ask. It will also have lots of pictures and maybe some color. December is publication date.

The small Information Bulletin will also be published (in the spring) and will make up Part I of the general catalogue. However, it will be more formal in its new role.

SCHEDULE OF OTHER CATALOGS

The Deans Council has approved the schedule of our other catalogs for the year. They will come as follows:

- | | | | |
|----------|---------------------------|--------|--------------------------|
| January | -- Harris College | May | -- Business and Brite |
| February | -- Summer School | July | -- Evening College |
| March | -- AddRan and Fine Arts | August | -- Full General Catalog. |
| April | -- Education and Graduate | | |

All schools and colleges might keep these dates in mind.

POLGAR ON CAMPUS

Thursday night at 8 o'clock in Ed Landreth, the Activity Council of Student Congress will present the famous Dr. Polgar, mental telepathist and hypnotist. He has appeared in these parts before and almost always draws a full house. They say he's outstanding in his field. 'Tis said he can put folks to sleep quicker than some professors (that's a joke, son).

Anyhow, the faculty is most cordially invited to the fun. Students will be admitted free, faculty for 50¢, and outsiders for $1. From reports in national magazines, the show is worth many times that. So don't forget.

FIRST SADLER LECTURE FRIDAY

Palmer Hoyt, one of the country's most outspoken newspaper publishers, will deliver the first M. E. Sadler Freedom Lecture in Weatherly Hall on Friday night at 8 o'clock. His talk almost certainly will be one of the year's highlights on campus. He pulls no punches.

The lecture series, of course, was set up last year by the B'nai B'rith chapter here honoring Dr. Sadler. It will be an annual event. Tickets for the first lecture have been sent to most faculty folks but if yours failed to arrive or if you need more, just call at the Office of Information Services and they will be supplied.

Right after the lecture, the faculty will honor Mr. Hoyt at a reception in the Cloisters of Religion Center. It should be a most enjoyable evening and everybody is cordially invited.

AROUND CAMPUS

The mother of LIBBY YOUNGBLOOD is seriously ill and in a hospital. The best wishes of us all are with you, Lib.

Recently an erroneous address was given here for GLENN ROUTT in New York. The right one: 537 West 121st Street, New York 27, N. Y.

JEROME MOORE is serving on a state committee to select four nominees from Texas schools as candidates for Fullbright Fellowships. He attended a meeting in Austin last week.

IKE HARRISON and AUGUST SPAIN took part in a meeting of the Association of Personnel and Employee Security here last week.

E. L. PROSS will give a series of lectures to the Fort Worth Women's Club this month. Started Monday.

JIM CROSS, Lt. Col. that is, attended a four-day meeting of PMST's at Fourth Army Headquarters in San Antonio last week.

PRESIDENT SADLER really put in a day last Friday. It started with a breakfast at 7 a. m., ran through the Board meeting at 10 and on through five major meetings in one day.

GENTRY SHELTON can tell you what happened to the Kentucky football team last week -- if you have several hours.

MID-SEMESTER "F's" DUE NOV. 14.

Calvin Cumbie calls attention of all to the fact that mid-semester failing grades are due in Registrar's Office at 9 a. m. , Nov. 14. Forms for reporting grades are now available in the same office.

PETE WRIGHT HALL

The whole campus was happy last week when the trustees named the new boys' dorm for L. C. (Pete) Wright. After Dr. Sadler's recommendation, every member of the Board wanted to make the motion and all seconded it. Walter Humphrey, editor of the Press, also had a fine editorial on the action in Sunday's paper. Just seems that everybody was happy.

Incidentally, Dr. Sadler pointed out to the Board that Mr. Pete had no idea such a move was being planned. "If Pete knew about it," Dr. Sadler grinned, "he would already have a campaign underway to name it for somebody else!"

The consensus seems to be that the dorm should be called "Pete Wright Hall" and not L. C. Wright. "Nobody would know L. C. Wright," said Mr. Dees. "Everybody knows Pete." So be it.

ALL SET FOR HOMECOMING

Final plans have been made, some student groups are already busy and everything is set for the biggest homecoming in our history. The fun begins next Friday, November 18, and things will be happening right through Saturday night.

It is hoped that just as many faculty folks as possible will take part in the major events. They include the pep rally Friday night on the library steps, followed by a snake dance; the big bonfire at 9:15 p. m. , the student-exes dance in the ballroom at 9:30, open houses and coffees Saturday morning and the big game with Rice at 2 o'clock. There's also an after-game get-together in Student Center.

NO APPLE POLISHERS' PARTY

Despite the report which you may have heard, the Student-Faculty Relations Committee says there will be NO Apple Polisers' Party this Thursday. The next one will be in December.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENT

Our Chapel Speaker Tuesday, November 15 will be Rev. E. C. Rowand, Jr., minister of Central Christian Church in Dallas. Rev. Rowand will be remembered by many of our students as one of the speakers during Religious Emphasis Week last spring. His message entitled "If I Were The Devil" should be very thought-provoking.
