

For Five Class Offices

Candidates for five freshman class offices should file their names with Miss Mary Claude Scott or Miss Bobby Rheinlander in The Skiff office before noon Thursday, according to the Student Council election committee.

The election of freshman president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and two Council members will be held on October 12.

Students (if they have been in T. C. U. before this trimester.) There are no other requirements for candidacy.

The student's name and the office he is running for is the only information needed on the petition sheet.

V-12 Plans To Dance 'Farewell'

When the Navy does something, they do it up right! So the Navy V-12 "Farewell Dance" will be given tomorrow night in the Venetian Ballroom of the Blackstone Hotel.

"This is an exclusive Navy V-12 affair," says Jim Jones. Consequently only V-12ers and their dates will attend. The time is set for 7 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. with 'late permission' for all.

Dinner will be served from 7 till 9:30 p. m. and from then on to 12:30 a. m. will be dancing to the music of Ken Vaughan's orchestra.

According to Lt. C. H. Schmidt, commanding officer of the Unit, "This dance will cost around one thousand dollars and is really going to be one to be remembered."

It will be formal, of course, with corsages for the coeds. No stags will be admitted and invitations will be required for admittance.

Lt. Schmidt will be the honor guest.

WBAP Will Air Gillis' Symphony

The first performance of Don Gillis' "Symphony No. 5" will be given at 4 p. m. Sunday by the NBC Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Frank Black. The broadcast may be heard over WBAP.

Gillis is a former member of the music faculty and director of the Horned Frog Band.

"For this occasion the School of Fine Arts is inviting anyone who cares to do so to come at 3 p. m. Sunday to the Recital Hall for a special program before the broadcast," says Dr. T. Smith McCorkle.

E. Clyde Whitlock will give a brief review of Gillis' career, and Prof. Donald Tweedy, musicologist of the School of Fine Arts, will analyze the score of the symphony to be played. At 4 p. m., the broadcast will be heard.

Organ, Flute To Play Solos On Program

A concert by the University Choral Club, under the direction of Prof. William J. Marsh, will be presented at 8:15 p. m. Monday in the auditorium.

The program will include three organ numbers played by Mrs. Q'Zella Oliver Jeffus—"Fantasia in C Minor," by Bach; "Le Coucou," by Daquin; and "Rondo a la Turque," by Mozart. Miss Charlotte June Stevenson will play a flute solo, Handel's "Sonata No. 5."

Numbers by the Choral Club will include "Regina Coeli," by Gregor Aichinger; "Tenebrae Factae Sunt," by Palestrina; "Emite Spiritum Tuum," by Joseph Schuetky; "Wake, Awake for Night Is Flying," by Nicolai Bach; "Dearest Lord Jesus, Oh Why Dost Thou Tarry," by Bach-Buszin; "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty," by Strausund-Bach; "Nature Ornant la Dame," by Clement Janquin; "Festa," by Emilio dei Cavalieri; and "When Allen-A-Dale Went A-Hunting," by Robert de Pearsall.

A concert by the Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. T. Smith McCorkle, was presented Monday evening. It was the first formal orchestra program of the fall season.

"On Getting Along" to Be Walker's Sermon Topic

"On Getting Along With Those With Whom We Disagree" will be the subject of the Rev. Granville Walker at the University Christian Church Sunday. The prelude will be "Cavatina," by Bohm, and the offertory will be "Intermezzo," by Mascagni. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Arthur Faguy-Cote, will sing "Seek Ye the Lord," by Bridges.

Evangelism will be at 7:15 p. m. The Rev. Walker will bring the message and the Rev. Don Ver Duin will give the interpretative reading. Jim Davis will sing "The Lord's Prayer," by Mallotte.

Things to Come Are Previewed In Student Council

Though plans are yet strictly in the formative stage, the Student Council has been considering reconversion problems arising from the Navy-less campus, come November.

Top idea on the list of things to come is a super-lounge in the Navy's half of the Cafeteria—with tables, chairs, a soft-drink bar, student waiters and the juke box (plus a new motor).

To take the place of the juke for campus dances, a new portable public address system is being eagle-eyed by the Council. The system can also be used to announce yells at football games and to "broadcast" the annual Ranch Week rodeo.

The first signs of post-war T. C. U. will be the official student body cards to be issued at registration for the winter trimester and the reappearance of the freshman guide book, "The Frog Horn," also to be given out in November.

308 Frogs Vote For Amendments

Three hundred and eight students voted in the amendment election last week to pass the four changes to the provisional constitution.

The amendment concerning the division of money in the Frog War Fund passed by 281 votes to 20. Seven students did not vote on the amendment.

The proposed change as to the number of hours needed to fulfill requirements for election to sophomore and junior class officers was voted for by 273 students and against by 30. Five students cast no vote.

The amendment concerning the number of freshman class representatives received 279 votes for its adoption and 29 votes against.

Two hundred and fourteen votes were cast for the amendment to abolish petitions. Ninety-four votes were against the amendment.

Benefit for World Student Service Sponsored by "Y" And T. C. U. Dramatics Club

The back-stage antics of George Kelly's "The Torch-Bearers" will be presented in a benefit performance Wednesday evening by the Dramatics Club in co-operation with the campus-wide World Student Service Fund drive. Tickets are 50 cents before opening night, or 65 cents if they are bought at the door.

The play which is a satire on the little theater movement abounds with patrons of "the arts," stage managers and hammy actors who trip over the props and are misled by the prompter's wrong cues.

1 Student Post Is Petitioned

Juniors, Sophomores Still Lack 3 Candidates—Frosh To Have Special Election

The only new petition turned in so far for the unpetitioned student body and class offices was Miss Nancy Shackelford's for treasurer of the student body.

Offices that are still open for petitions are junior class vice-president, secretary-treasurer and one junior council representative; and sophomore president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Freshman class offices must be voted on in a special election in November after the new freshmen have enrolled in the winter trimester, says Norman Hoffman.

Miss Nel Epperson is president of the junior class and Miss Smokey Moore is one of the sophomore Council representatives, by virtue of their being the only petitioners for the office.

A general student assembly to introduce the candidates for the winter trimester's student body and class offices will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the Auditorium if permission is given by President M. E. Sadler on his return to the campus today, says Norman Hoffman.

Inter-American Winner Is Polytechnic Grad

Miss Raquel Rios will enter T. C. U. Nov. 1 on an Inter-American Scholarship, under the program of Inter-American fellowships and scholarships adopted by the Board of Trustees last year.

Miss Rios is a graduate of Polytechnic High School, Fort Worth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Rios of 3101 Burchill Rd.

Dr. McCorkle to Talk To City Art Teachers

Dr. T. Smith McCorkle will speak on "The Psychology of Beauty" Wednesday for the Fort Worth Art Teachers' Association.

He will talk on "The Role of Fine Arts in the Post-War World" Saturday, Oct. 20, for the American Association of University Women.

Camp Show to Perform For Officers at Walters

The Officers' Club of Camp Walters will be the destination of the Special Service Camp Show tomorrow. Organized and directed by Mrs. H. S. Gillette, the show will leave Saturday at 3 p. m. and will feature acts made up of student talent.

Bob Matheny should give a fine performance of Bob Matheny, which is just what the role of Spindler, art-lover de luxe, calls for.

Miss Hannah Groginski plays the role of Mrs. Pampinelli, which, incidentally, is the biggest part in the play. As the typical small-town director of a theater company, Miss Groginski will have the audience literally in stitches if she will let down her hair and tilt her head skyward.

Polly Terrill Provides Laughs

Mrs. Nelly Fell, as played by Miss Polly Terrill, is the Billie Burke type of widow, who, at the age of 60, has run through three husbands. As the play's on-stage prompter, Miss Terrill has some of the funnier lines in the production, and if the audience doesn't laugh, it won't be her fault.

Jimmy Paschal in the role of Frederick Ritter, husband of the town's new dramatic star, Mrs. Paula Ritter (Miss Bettye June Thompson), looks and sounds like

Juniors, Seniors To Picnic Today

The junior-senior wiener roast will be held at Rockwood Park today. "All of those attending should meet at the Arch at 5 p. m.," says Lanette Butterfield.

The wiener roast is open to juniors, seniors and their dates. Transportation will be furnished to the site.

Tickets will be 50 cents.

Mark Bushnell to Give Aquatic Demonstration

Mark Bushnell will give an aquatic demonstration to Boy Scout and Red Cross executives Friday evening, Oct. 26, in the swimming pool in the Gymnasium.

TCU Gets Honorable Discharge

V-12 Shoves Off Nov. 1 After 2-Year Duty

The V-12 Unit will terminate Nov. 1 after a two-year "hitch" at England. With the sailors will go memories of the school on the Hill. Behind them will remain reminders of their campus daze—the "USS Clark Hall," "decks" in the Administration Building and "mudding up" at the Drug.

The men in Navy blue will be remembered for their part in campus activities—Cheerleaders Bob Crow, Bill Bassett and Norman Hoffman (who'll be back as civilian student body prexy in November); Footballers Joe Kucera, Ransom Jackson, Joe Ryan and Monroe Harrelson; Student Presidents Ken Womack and Dave Hibbard (also due to return in civies next trimester); Dance Manager Jim Jones.

Navy dances, at the Woman's Club, in the Basketball Gymnasium, and tomorrow's hop at the Blackstone Hotel, have added to the color of social affairs, not to mention the V-12 picnics and the open house which celebrated the opening of Clark's "Rec Room."

The unit has brought some interesting individuals to the campus, too—Richard Chu, American-born Chinese whose greatest ambition is to visit China; "Chief" Bob Sanders whose seven years in the Navy have given him enough points for a 40-pound steak and a discharge as well; Lt. George C. Decker, former "C. O."; and Lt. C. H. Schmidt, present commanding officer.

Perhaps the person who will be missed most in the present group of V-12 men on the Hill will be Bob ("Oakie") Smith, bugle-boy of the unit.

"It's going to be mighty unusual to get off that bus at 8 o'clock every morning and not hear Bob strike up as the flag is raised," says Bonnie Osburn. But the girls in Jarvis Hall are wondering what they'll do without Bob's bugle as an alarm clock!

Better Late?

"Better late than never" is the slogan of the "Turtles" who poke into class 20 minutes after the bell has rung. They make their belated entrance with all the finesse of a celebrity, for their classmates must forget the professor while proper greetings are exchanged. And if he's the right sort of a professor, he will stop his lecture, and mark off the absence, thereby lessening the offense.

Then there's "Whirlwind Willie," who is habitually racing into class, banging the door and panting from his cross-campus dash. He never fails to scrape his chair or drop his books, in his haste to get settled. Too, he must collect all the notes of his neighbors, just to make sure he hasn't missed anything. The professor loves Willie too, but in such a way that absence would make the heart grow fonder.

The classic excuses such as "The alarm didn't go off this morning" or "The bus broke down" are worn with age, but are still favorites. Fifty years from now, somebody's mother will still be oversleeping and the clock in the Drug will be as slow as it is today.

But listen to the howl of the Turtles and the Whirlwind Willies, when the professor is one minute late!

Weep No More, My Coed!

Here's good news. College women needn't turn grey any more at the prospect of being old maids.

A survey made by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company proves that the smarter a woman becomes the more likely are her chances to make a so-called "good-match."

The study shows both men and women are likely to choose mates with schooling similar to their own. Almost half the college men interviewed had married college women, and only one in sixteen had married a woman whose education had stopped with grade school.

The fair sex did even better. More than half stated that they had married college men.

The survey didn't go into the details on how to catch the male. Undoubtedly they feel that college women know the hows and wherefores of the chase.

Letter from Gershwin
Modern Art???
By Bus—Or Thumb

Jimmy Paschal attended "Rhapsody in Blue," the Worth show about the life of George Gershwin, by special recommendation—nothing less than a letter from Ira Gershwin himself. And along with his letter Ira sent a photograph of Brother George, with George's signature on it, cut from a receipted bank check. Jimmy has sat through the show four times so far—and at last report was still going strong.

"Have you ever been followed?" Well, Jean Ann Wade was followed by an M. P. all over the T. & P. Station recently. She went down there between trains to see a friend. But this friend was on a troop train and the M. P. was very worried. It was either that he thought Jean Ann might try to board the train, or that her friend would not board it. At any rate he kept close watch on both.

Wonder picture of the week is the piece d' modern art in the Foster Hall room of Fran Clapp and her roommate, Mary Anee Abell. The owner of the painting, and also the originator of the nightmare tangle of blue, black and a couple of other unidentified colors, says the picture was a result of an evening of coffee drinking and term theme writing. Mary Anee thinks it looks more like a typewriter that has given up the struggle, but Ann Meacham says that it looks like Fran was scared by a couple of slide rules. The picture, painted on a square of white cloth, is hanging in their room despite the comments. Drop in and take a look, but don't say we didn't warn you!

Presenting POLLY TERRILL

One of the "leading ladies" in the Dramatics Club's forthcoming production of George Kelly's "The Torch-Bearer" is Miss Polly Terrill who plays "Mrs. Nelly Fell," a 60-year-old widow who has already vanquished three husbands. Mrs. Fell is the play's on-stage prompter.

She will be remembered as the leading lady in "Brief Music" as well as the first place winner in the poetry reading contest at the Pi Kappa Delta speech meet at Lafayette, La., where she read "The Murder of Lidice."

Among the things that keep the 5-foot-5 brunette Polly busy is her work with the Dramatics Club and the Choral Club—and just now her campaign for vice-president of the student body.

November will be Polly's one-year anniversary on the campus. She transferred to T. C. U. from North Texas State Teachers' College last November.

A speech major who plans to do radio work after graduation, Polly has already had a taste of work in her favorite field. She was on College Capers of the Air in a dramatic monolog last year.

Charles Malotte to Be Brite Chapel Speaker

Charles Malotte, V-12 chaplain candidate, will be the speaker in chapel Wednesday. He will give the same address he delivered at the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ held at Columbia, O., last year.

Malotte will receive his B. D. degree in the October class.

Registrar S. W. Hutton gave an interview of "Evenings with the Sacred Poets," by Saunders, in this week's chapel.

There will be no chapel Oct. 24.

Mrs. N. H. Managan, Jr., ex '26, from Lake Charles, La., is visiting Registrar and Mrs. S. W. Hutton at their home this week.

WSSF Goal Is $1 Each Student

The all-campus World Student Service Fund drive began yesterday, its goal $1 for every student.

A booth in the main hall, sponsored by members of the "Y," the Inter-Club Council, the Student Council and the Dramatics Club, will take student contributions, says Don Sellstrom.

Tuesday morning during 9 o'clock classes announcements will be made concerning the fund, and donations may also be made then. The purpose of the W. S. S. F. is to provide for the rehabilitation of students all over the world, Sellstrom adds.

The drive closes officially Wednesday evening with the Dramatics Club's benefit presentation of George Kelly's "The Torch-Bearers."

Dr. Seamans to Speak At Education Conference

Dr. Herbert L. Seamans, national director of the commission on educational organizations of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will speak at 10 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 20, in the Brite College Auditorium. This lecture is open to faculty members and other invited guests from colleges, public schools, Catholic schools and Jewish schools of Fort Worth.

Miss Jean Cole Is Added To October Graduate List

Another candidate, Miss Jean Cole, has been added to the list of October graduates, according to Registrar S. W. Hutton. Miss Cole will receive an A. B. degree with a major in biology and a minor in chemistry.

Mrs. Adams to Speak To Frog Vets Tuesday

Mrs. C. S. Adams will speak at a meeting of the Frog Vets at 6 p. m. Tuesday in the Amphitheater, says President Larry Farmer. A vice-president will be elected and plans for a social will be made.

Frog Flashes

It's probably a fine thing that the Frogs are idle tomorrow afternoon. It doesn't seem possible that the squad has yet recovered from two huge eating feasts on the Arkansas trip—one going up, the other returning.

Thursday night the 31 players, plus all hangers-on, were treated, at Atoka, Okla., to a family-style fish fry with all the trimmings. Nobody kept count, but the number of fish stewed away was 10 or 15 times as great as the number of points the Frogs tallied against Arkansas. Then, coming back, the squad was turned loose on a spaghetti dinner, plus heaping platters of fried chicken as an added attraction. Most of the players voted this the best meal they ever ate. By counting the wings left on the platters, and dividing by two, it was found that they devoured 24 fryers! And the boys may have eaten a few wings!

Look out for those Texas Aggies here Oct. 20. If Joslin, Hudgins and Chiles can pass against those Farmers they'll be good—and now! The Cadets have held their three opponents to only 2 pass completions in 22 attempts. And A. & M. intercepted 9 of the 22!

And the Aggies are no slouches at ground defense. They have held their three opponents to a total of 166 yards gained rushing—and to an over-all gain, rushing and passing, of 200 yards. That's only 67 yards a game. The Farmers themselves have averaged slightly better than 300 yards on offense in their three contests.

The Razorbacks won, and that's that. But those who made the long trek to Fayetteville by bus will always believe that it might have been different had it been possible to travel by Pullman—or even in a modern Greyhound bus. The boys were more than a little tired Friday night when they went to bed at the Mountain Inn.

Then, along about 3 a. m., the steam heat was turned on in the hotel. And, brother, you ain't never heard no radiators knock until you hear those in the Mountain Inn. For an hour the din sounded something like a busy day in a boiler factory. If anybody slept it was a miracle. And if you think it helped put the boys in shape for the game, then—!

What looks like the No. 1 upset of the season to date was Missouri's 10-to-7 victory over S. M. U. And it was no fluke. The Tigers simply outplayed the Mustangs! Missouri gained 222 yards to S. M. U.'s 102; made 14 first downs to the Methodists' 7.

Just where are the Rice Owls going to salvage a victory out of their '45 schedule? They've already lost to the Corpus Christi NAS, L. S. U. and Southwestern. On the record, it would seem to be a big order for them to win one from any of their six conference opponents, plus Tulane and Texas Tech.

Charles Schroeder and Bob Willoughby, V-12 exes '45, visited the campus this week. Bob is stationed at Baylor Medical School, Houston. Harold Karges, ex '44, is in San Diego in the Navy.

Accent Is on Defense In Work for Aggies Team at Near Full Strength For Opening Home Contest

The Frogs won't lose a game tomorrow. Of course, they won't win one either. For they don't play!

Two weeks between the Arkansas contest and the Texas Aggie affair here Oct. 20 is just what the doctor ordered, according to Coach Dutch Meyer.

"We need the time to get in shape physically, and we need the time to work on ways and means of handling those Aggies," Meyer explains.

Barring injuries in practice sessions, the Frogs should have every hand, with the possible exception of Capt. Merle Gibson, in top form when the Cadets of College Station come to Cowtown.

Gibson's knee injury is responding to treatment, but is still improving rather on the slow side. He should be able to play some, but it seems quite doubtful that he will be at his best unless the injury responds to treatment faster next week than it has been doing.

Defense Gets Attention

Defense has been the No. 1 item in the Frog camp this week and will continue to be next week. The Aggies have picked up an average of a little more than 300 yards each game—one of the best offensive records in the conference. The Frogs have allowed an average of 155 yards to each opponent—one of the poorest defensive records in the league.

Moving of big I. B. Bryan to the right tackle spot has been one of the most important measures to date in building defensive strength. And Frog fans may see a lot of little George Mitcham too. George really tackles 'em hard and has been one of the best defensive assets in the Frog secondary.

Record Crowd Indicated

Bossmen Meyer was well pleased with the chunking of Tom Hudgins against the Razorbacks, and Tom will probably be given an opportunity to see if he can continue in the groove against the Cadets.

Indications are that the game will be a sell-out, as far as attendance is concerned. The crowd could easily pass the 20,000-mark if the weather is favorable.

When the Aggies played here two years ago, they pulled in some 16,000 customers, and improved travel conditions should easily up this figure by 5000.

Meliorist Club to Hear Dr. Elliott on "Strikes"

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, Southwest regional director of the National Relations Board, will speak to the Meliorist Club at 7:15 p. m. Sunday. His topic will be "What About These Strikes?" The meeting will be held in the upper room at the University Christian Church immediately following Evensong.

Lt. John H. ("Billie") Halliday, Jr., ex '40, was home on a delay in route last week. He has been assigned to the Bureau of Personnel, Washington, D. C. He was formerly aboard a transport in the Pacific.

Ensign Ernie Dunning, ex '44, has been stationed on Yerba Buena Island, San Francisco.

Pfc. Sam H. Gann, ex '43, is in Germany with the army of occupation.

Frogs Lose 14 to 27 On Arkansas Passing

Bacon is scarce in Arkansas too! At least T. C. U. didn't dine on any Razorback meat, but, instead, the Horned Frogs found themselves on the scarce end of a 27-to-14 score when the final gun shot in Fayetteville Saturday afternoon.

The Frogs played a pretty fair brand of football—except in spots! But you can't afford any such spots when you're playing those Porkers. You can't let opponent receivers get behind you on deep passes—especially when that receiver is 6-foot, 4-inch Alton Baldwin, who scored twice in just that manner. And it's a bad idea to lay one in the hands of Harold Henson, who chased his interception back 49 yards, unmolested, to scoring territory.

55 Yards for Touch

For the other touchdown, the Razorbacks marched 55 yards, all on the ground except one 9-yard pass. The Frogs kicked off to the Porkers to open the third quarter (with the score then 13-7, Arkansas) and Baldwin and John Hoffman divided the job of raising the home team's total to 20 points. Hoffman it was, too, who booted three of the four tries for point after touchdown, to make the total 27.

The Frogs kicked off to open the game and held the 'Backs to eight yards in three tries. Following Arkansas' punt, the Frogs took the ball on their own 32 and ran it to the Porkers' 23. Then they switched to the air—but unsuccessfully. The ball went over to Arkansas on its own 43—a gain of 20 yards on defense!

Late in the first quarter and early in the second Arkansas got off those two long touchdown passes, one for 34 yards and the other for 25.

Frogs Pass for 6 Points

Following the second, the Frogs moved to midfield, where they were forced to punt. Arkansas got a 15-yard penalty for holding; then, on the next play, fumbled the ball, Ryan recovering for the Frogs on the enemy 11-yard stripe. Three plays picked up seven; then Joslin passed to Mason for the 6 points. Mullins' kick was perfect.

The Frogs were on the Razorback 15 when the half ended. They got to the 1-yard line as the third quarter ended, but lost possession on Mason's fumble.

With about two minutes to play, Hudgins tossed to Mitcham, the latter doing a swell job of eluding three defenders to cross the double-stripe. Mullins again converted.

Three plays later the game ended. Arkansas 27, T. C. U. 14.

Ensign Earl McCain, ex '44, is now aboard the USS Louisville somewhere in the Pacific.

"Play Is the Thing" At Play's Rehearsal

"Staging a play is just a breeze," says Jimmie Shields. A brief visit to a rehearsal of "The Torch-Bearers" bears out her statement, but, honestly, it must be added that at times the breeze takes on cyclonic proportions.

Like all rehearsals, this one started promptly 15 minutes late. Jimmy Paschal proved his versatility once again by turning property man and setting the stage—which merely means he shoved one chair forward and one chair back. He quickly whipped imaginary scenery into place, stepped off stage where he could not be seen by anyone except the people in the Auditorium, rang up the curtain which wasn't down, and the show was "on."

The way that new maid breezed on and off the stage gives a cue to what Jimmie Shields meant in that statement above. It also makes one wonder if her talents aren't wasted in the registrar's office—good maids are hard to find!

Offstage (in plain view, understand) Bob Matheny stalked madly back and forth, and forth and back, mumbling his lines in his beard. It wasn't possible to hear what he said, but his facial expressions were eloquent enough to make up for his silence. He alternated, glowered like a northerner on a big blow and glowed like a ray of genuine California sunshine. His cue, of course, found him so absorbed in a glower that he scarcely had time to turn it off, dash madly two steps forward, register embarrassment, turn on a look of sweetness and light and speak his speech.

Down on the front row, three prospective stars, Polly Terrill, Morton Walker and Jimmy Tinkle could be seen in a huddle talking over the more serious aspects of the play—no doubt. The sage considerations of the group were rudely interrupted when Polly's cue brought a startled, "Oh, am I on already?" followed by a mad rush up the steps.

The sinister atmosphere exuded around the stage by Marylou ("The Look") Miller was more than offset by the comic antics of Hannah Groginski, who always ad libbed to the extent of prefacing her speeches with, "Don't laugh now."

Meanwhile, Prof. Lew Fallis dashed about correcting inflections and vainly attempting to save the furniture from destruction by poor tired students who couldn't seem to find anything else to lean on.

The only real tragedy of the day occurred when Bettye June Thompson, who was knitting an imaginary sweater on imaginary knitting needles, dropped a stitch and couldn't pick it up again before she went offstage.

In spite of all the sound and fury engendered at rehearsal, all evidence points to that fact that the cast of "The Torch-Bearers" will carry the torch in first-class style on the night of production.
